Approximately 1000 Spectators Turn Out For Snowmobile Championship

A total of 152 snowmobiles competed in and approximately 1000 persons witnessed the annual Maryland State Championship Snowmobile races held Sunday at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry. The event was sponsored by the Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Company.

Bill Tanger, of Johnstown, Pa., and riding a Mercury sled, emerged as the high point man of the race, winning a total of 132 points. Tanger placed first in the Class B and Modified III divisions, third in Super Stock, and third in Class A.

Class F winner was George Glatfelter, of Oakland, riding a Yamaha. He was followed by Tom Lewis and Charlie Clary, also on Yamahas.

Jim and Jeff Bernard, brothers of Deep Creek Lake, took first places in the Junior I and Junior II classes, respectively. Both were driving Arctic Cats.

lowed by Debbie Bowman. In division II, Joy Field, riding a Cat, and Jobi Corse, driving a Ski-Doo, finished second and third.

Race coordinator was Chuck Thomas, of McHenry.

Deep Creek firefighters reportedly flooded the race track with approximately 20,000 gallons of water Saturday in preparation for the race. Some observers estimated that the crowd would have been larger if temperatures were warmer. Temperatures reached near 20 Sunday, but there was a cold wind prevailing, making outdoor spectator sports a rather uncomfortable activity.

Southern Finishes Fifth In PVC Tourney; Barnes Is Top Performer

The Southern High Wrestling team could manage only a fifth place out of seven positions in the Potomac Valley Conference wrestling championship Saturday night at Petersburg, however, three of the Rams finished with first place trophies and one of the three was named the tournament's outstanding performer.

Jim Barnes, in the 155-pound class, decided Brian Jenkins of Frankfort, 13-0, to win first place in his division and be named the outstanding performer. Barnes is undefeated on the season. Teammates Ted Wolf and Jeff Paolucci also won their championship rounds. Wolf won by default over Ed Parrish of Keyser in the 138-pound class and Paolucci decided Richard Brooks of Berkeley Springs in the 112-pound class, 4-0.

The overall championship went to the defending champions, the Vikings of Petersburg, as they amassed a total of 158½ points, just edging out the Golden Tornado of Keyser, which recorded 155½ points. Frankfort finished in third place with 124½ points. Berkeley Springs was fourth, with 99 points, followed by the Rams with 74 points. Musselman with 55 and Tucker County with 22 points.

In gaining the win, the Vikings had only two finalists emerge victorious, but they managed to record enough points in earlier rounds. Keyser wrestlers took home the most first place trophies, as Joe DeLonges, Tom Allamong, Jeff Martin and Tim Nield all recorded championship round wins.

Another Southern Ram, Rex McRobie, finished fourth in the competition, losing in the consolation round to Don Oates of Keyser in the 119-pound class.

Rams Blast Stags, Vikes; Improve Slate To 12-6

Southern Ram coach Tom Bosley stresses defense to his players, and his philosophy was very much in evidence last Friday against Elk Garden. The Rams held the Stags to just 13 points in the second half as they rolled to a 50-37 win, snapping Elk Garden's nine game winning streak.

Jeff Ryscavage scored 18 of his game high 29 points in the second half to key a surge that saw Southern outscore the Stags 30-13 over the final two periods.

The stiff Ram defense limited the Stags to just four field goals in 23 attempts in the second half.

Fro Selders added 14 points to the Ram attack, while Don Marple paced Elk Garden with 12. Southern outshot the Stags from the floor by a 22 to 14 margin, however, the losers converted nine of 20 foul shots compared to a six for 14 effort by the Rams.

Coast By Vikings

Paced by Jeff Ryscavage's 20 points, the Southern High Rams captured their third consecutive victory last night by thrashing Potomac Valley Conference foe Petersburg in Oakland, 72-59. The win was the fourth in PVC competition for the Rams against no defeats.

The Rams maintained a comfortable lead throughout the contest, allowing Coach Tom Bosley to empty his bench midway through the third period when the Rams were up by 20 points. The victory upped Southern overall record to 12-6. Ryscavage, one of the area's leading scorers, netted his 20 points on ten buckets, while teammates Dave Hershman and Doug Devlin added 14 apiece.

Southern outshot the Vikings from the floor by a 33-20 margin, although the losers managed to convert 19 of 22 free throw attempts to only six of six by the Rams. Southern shot off to a 15-9 lead in the first period and held a 29-18 edge at the half. They increased that lead to 50-32 going into the final stanza.

John Koontz paced the losers with 16 points. John Wimer hit 12 and Scott Van Meter netted 11.

In the jayvee contest, Gary Heginbotham hit a long jumper at the buzzer to give the junior Rams a 37-35 win over Petersburg jayvees. Heginbotham led the Rams scoring with 17 points.

The Rams will face Bishop Walsh at home Friday evening and attempt to avenge a 75-46 loss suffered against the Spartans earlier in the season.

Huskies Rip Oldtown As Bender Nets 30 Points

The Northern Huskies opened an 18-10 lead after one period, and their lead was never threatened as they recorded a convincing 63-45 win over the Oldtown Indians last Friday at Oldtown.

Bill Bender led the Huskie onslaught with 30 points, his total coming on 12 field goals and six of 16 free throws. Freshman Brad Yoder also reached double figures as he netted 15 points.

Oldtown's only double figure player was Randy Lattea with 10.

Northern held a 26-20 field goal advantage over the Indians. The final margin would have been larger had the Huskies had a better night at the foul line. They converted only 11 of 32 charity tosses. Oldtown fared even worse, hitting only five of 16.

Coach Harv Speicher's

Huskies had a 37-25 advantage at intermission and increased that lead to 49-31 going into the final eight minutes.

Northern, now 7-3, plays tonight at Bruceton Mills and tomorrow night at Salisbury.

Hazardous Roads Cause Numerous Auto Accidents

The Maryland State Police in McHenry have responded to numerous calls involving weather-related traffic accidents. Sick road conditions, however, have caused few serious injury-related mishaps. Icy roads were apparently the cause of a single car accident which occurred Thursday, January 24 at 6:10 a.m., resulting in one injury.

Margaret Elizabeth Beitzel, 38, Grantsville, was reportedly northbound on Amish Road 1.2 miles south of U. S. Route 40, when her vehicle skidded on the ice while she was negotiating a left-hand curve. The vehicle slid off the right side of the road and struck a tree.

Garrett County Central Alarm handled communications as Grantsville Fire Department and the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded out of Grantsville with an equipment truck.

Ms. Beitzel was reportedly taken to Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland. The 1971 Plymouth Fury II suffered front damage.

In a separate accident, Archie Elwood McMannis, 36, Cumberland, was eastbound on U. S. Route 40, 2 miles west of U. S. Route 219, Monday at 4 p.m. The operator was reportedly traveling too fast for conditions and lost control of the vehicle on the snow-covered highway, struck the guardrail with the left side of the car, flipped around and struck it finally with the right side.

McMannis and passenger Robert Edward Wilson, 18, Cumberland, were administered first aid by ambulance personnel.

The 1973 Chrysler Newport was disabled and damaged in the front. The guard-rails were destroyed. The operator was charged with speeding.

On January 29 at 5:40 a.m. Mary Alice Delaney, 37, Horse Shoe Run, W. Va., escaped serious injury when her vehicle overturned on U. S. Route 219 one mile north of Silver Knob Road.

Driving conditions were dark and snowy as Ms. Delaney was northbound on U. S. Route 219. The vehicle went off the right berm and when the driver attempted to bring the car back onto the roadway it went out of control, spun around on the snow-covered road and turned onto its left side in the south-bound lane.

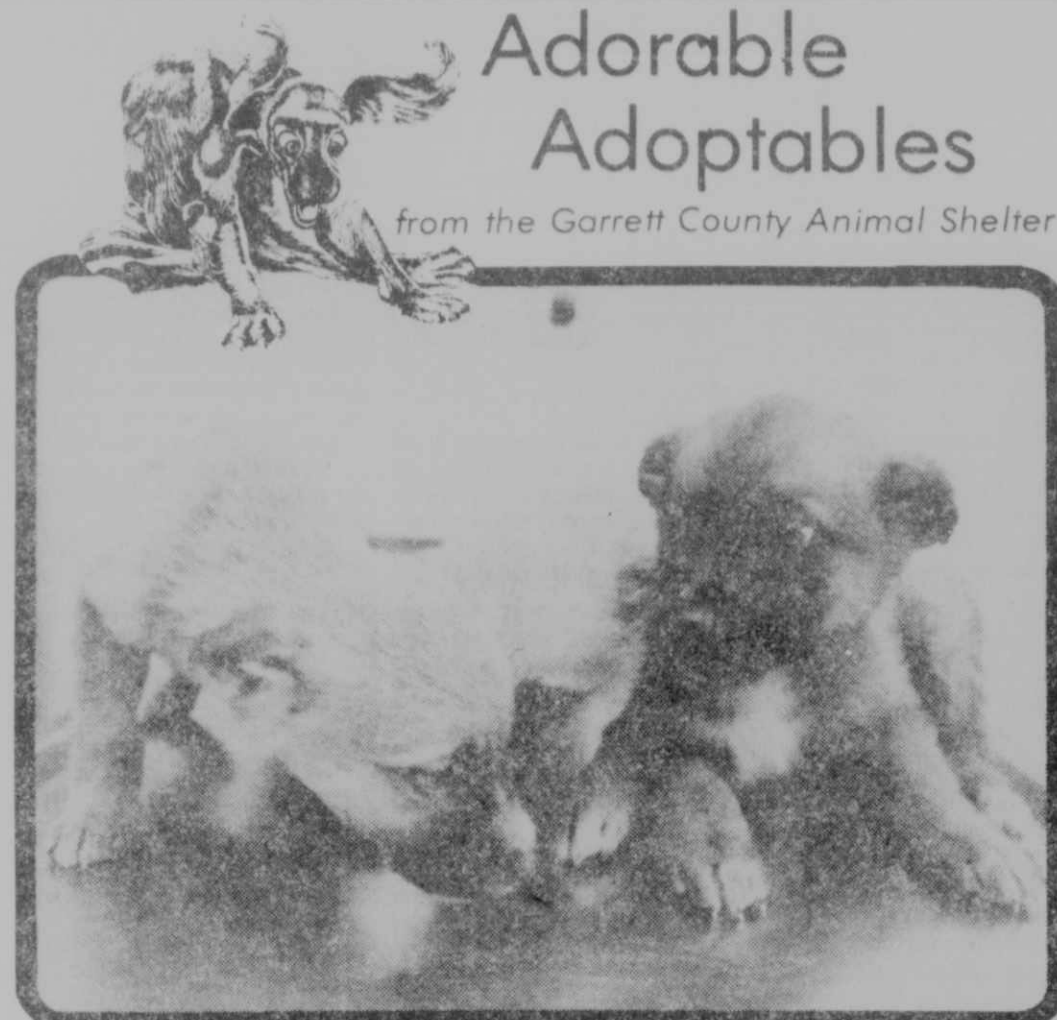

The driver was apparently injured slightly and the 1970 AMC Hornet was disabled with left front and side damage.

A two-car mishap involving possible injury occurred January 28 at 3:55 p.m. on U. S. Route 40, 2 mile east of River Road.

Dora Elizabeth Edgar, 74, Grantsville, was proceeding east on U. S. Route 40 at a slow speed following a school bus. A vehicle operated by Silven Darrell Stein, 21, Boynton, Pa., approached the Edgar vehicle, was unable to reduce its speed and struck the car in the rear.

Ms. Edgar was apparently slightly injured but refused medical treatment.

Stein was charged with speed greater than reasonable. His 1974 Chevrolet Nova was disabled due to front damage. The Edgar 1974 Dodge Dart was damaged in the rear portion.

In a separate incident Saturday at 9:15 p.m. Sherry Ellen Riggelman, 26, Shanks, W. Va., suffered possible injury resulting from a tire blow-out.

Ms. Riggelman was eastbound on U. S. Route 48 one mile east of U. S. Route 219, when the operator stated that her right rear tire blew out. When this occurred the vehicle went out of control, striking the median guardrails and coming to final rest on the eastbound shoulder.

The operator was charged with failure to produce registration plates. Her 1973 Dodge Dart was disabled due to left side damage.

Four persons escaped injury during a single-car accident Sunday at 2:05 p.m. on Maryland Route 42, 100 feet north of Gap Run Road.

Steven Gregg Myers, 20, Friendsville, was reportedly northbound on Route 42 at a high rate of speed, when he lost control of the car on the icy roadway. The vehicle then ran off the right side of the highway, struck a tree and then crossed the highway and came to rest in a field on the left side of the road.

Passengers in the vehicle were Michael Myers, 22, Eric Scott Myers, 18, both of Friendsville, and James Blank, 22, Rawlings. No injuries were reported in the mishap.

Myers was charged with speed greater than reasonable and failure to obey speed limits. The 1972 Mercury Marquis was totaled.

Two persons escaped unharmed in a separate accident yesterday at 4:40 a.m., on Maryland Route 42, .5 mile south of Kiser Road.

Nova Lawrence Andrews, Jr., 19, Elkins, W. Va., was northbound on Route 42 while attempting to clear ice from his windshield. At this time he drove off the right roadside, went down an embankment, struck a fence and overturned.

Educator's Poll Findings Listed

Teacher effectiveness — how to measure it and how to improve it — is the top concern of Maryland school principals and other education administrators, according to a study by the State Department of Education.

That response came to a question about suggested topics for a team approach to work out school-based problems. It was put to 118 educators, mostly principals, who attended the state agency's professional development academy last summer.

Second concern of the educators is how best to maintain classroom discipline. Number three choice in the needs assessment survey is programs for the gifted and talented. Fourth concern is time and stress management.

In a separate series of questions for school principals interested in a summer institute in special education, two areas stood out: state/federal law and programs for handicapped students.

The state's "principals' academy" was organized in 1977 after a state study showed that the school principal is the single most important factor governing the quality of education in a school. Summer programs in 1978 and 1979 gained wide support among principals as practical and useful in helping improve their professional skills. Some 271 school administrators from 23 school systems have now attended the academy.

Goho, Ashby Exchange Vows

Miss Dawn Elizabeth Goho and Mark Richard Ashby exchanged marriage vows on Friday, December 28 at 6:30 p.m. at the church of the Heavenly Rest in Princeton, W. Va.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. T. Roger McGuire in a candlelight ceremony. Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Shirley Fleming.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis D. Goho of Quail Valley, Princeton, W. Va. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold C. Ashby of Oakland.

Escorted by her father, the bride was attired in a white gown of polyester Silasta Chiffon styled with an old fashioned neckline of shirred lace trim, long fitted sleeves with gathered lace bell cuffs. The hi-rise bodice was attached to a sunburst pleated skirt with shirred lace hemline falling softly to a chapel train. Her cap headpiece was adorned with a lace flowerlet design with an attached elbow length veil of illusion and overlaid with lace that had been on her mother's veil. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of yellow roses, baby's breath and greens, centered with a white gladiolus.

Miss Laurie Gatchell of Princeton was maid of honor. She wore a wine coat and dress ensemble of Lustraglo knit of formal length, the coat having an attached hood. She carried a smaller version of the bride's bouquet.

was Mrs. Billie Baria.

The bridal table was centered with a bouquet in the wedding colors of white, yellow and wine. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom used by the bride's mother and grandmother.

Miss Susan Byrd attended the guest book. Following the traditional cake cutting, Miss Barbara Roberts assumed serving. Music was provided by the Sassyfras Band, local Blue Grass musicians.

Mrs. Ashby is a 1979 graduate of West Virginia University where she majored in special education. Mr. Ashby is a 1978 graduate of West Virginia University where he majored in electrical engineering. He is employed by Boeing-Witchita, Seattle, Washington. The couple will reside in Seattle following a trip west.

Unafraid of the Future

This is our Ernie. Ernie has no qualms about growing up in this complex world — he is unafraid of the future. Know why? Because he trusts US! Ernie leaves to Jean and me — his parents — all those vital decisions that will have an indelible effect on his future. That trust brings our family to church every Sunday. It has made religious faith an important part of our home life. When you are responsible for the future of a child of God... you need HIS help!

Background Scripture: John 5:1-24
Devotional Reading: Psalm 40:1-8

The ruins of the Pool of Bethesda for Bethzatha are impressive. Adjacent to the lovely Church of St. Anne honoring the Virgin Mary's mother, the ruins even today testify to the grand scale of the pool and its five porticoes. Nevertheless, each time I have stood there, my mind has been dominated by the one recorded historical event that took place there: Jesus' healing of the paralytic. What makes this event so striking to me is not simply that a man was healed there, for Jesus healed many people... but the seemingly strange question Jesus asked him: "Do you want to be healed?" (John 5:6).

Belaboring The Obvious

It almost seems a cruel question. Didn't Jesus know that this man had been lame for thirty-eight years, a lifetime for many in that day? Crippled, helpless and dependent solely upon others, of course he wanted to be healed! What a ridiculous question!

The very fact that Jesus encountered him by the pool

Oakland Citizens To Tie Ribbons Around Pine Tree

The Oakland Mayor and Town Council, January 24, approved an Oakland woman's idea to request Oakland residents to tie a yellow ribbon around a tree on their property as a "silent prayer" for the United States' hostages in Iran.

In a letter to the council, Sara Wine of 108 S. 4th Street suggested that along with individuals hanging ribbons, a pine tree in the front lawn of the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland be adorned by yellow ribbons from individuals, school children, churches and organizations. She further mentioned that if the council supported her idea, she would handle all publicity and contact local organizations, churches, schools, and residents.

The ribbons, she stated, would signify the concern and interest in the freedom and safety of the hostages by the townspeople. It would be a way, she stated, "our little town could show its support outwardly for the freedom of the hostages."

Mrs. Wine expects to complete her campaign to encourage people to hang the ribbons in a month.

Her idea came from reading about other towns, such as Cumberland, that have chosen the yellow ribbon around a tree as a way to signify concern for the hostages. She hopes to see other towns in the county adopt the idea.

Area Natives Are OSM Inspectors

The Department of Interior's Office of Surface Mining has opened a field office in Cumberland to serve the people living in Allegany and Garrett Counties in Maryland and Grant, Mineral and Tucker Counties in West Virginia.

The office on the second floor of the Allegany County Building, No. 3 Pershing Street, is staffed by two inspectors — both natives of the area.

They are Peter Hartman, born in Allegany County, Jackie L. Nelson, born in Grant County.

"I am pleased we have inspectors like Pete and Jackie at Cumberland," said Robert Markey, Chief of OSM's Region I Division of Inspection and Enforcement. "They know the people and they know the region well."

Hartman is a graduate of the University of Maryland with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Agronomy. He is a former Peace Corps volunteer with more than two years of service in India. Prior to joining OSM, he was with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Virginia. He also was with Hittman Associates of Columbia, and co-authored "Erosion and Sediment Control During Surface Mining in the Eastern United States." Hartman has completed mine safety and deep and surface mine courses at local colleges and Penn State University. He joined OSM last January.

Woodburning Stove Warning Issued By Government

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government issued a second warning Sunday about a potential fire hazard in 200,000 woodburning stoves sold by Montgomery Ward and Co.

The Federal Trade Commission said consumers who have one of the stoves in their home should contact Wards immediately to correct improper installation which could result in a fire.

The problem involves installation instructions which the FTC said could result in the stoves being placed too close to walls or other surfaces.

Under an agreement with the agency, Wards will install heat shields on models which need them or — in the case of most of the models involved — will remove the stove and make repairs and a refund if the customer desires.

The FTC originally revealed the problem last summer when it reached a tentative settlement with the Chicago-based retailer. In the meantime, Wards published notices about the problem in its October clearance catalog and its January general catalog.

In announcing Sunday that the settlement had been made final, the FTC said only 1,400 stove owners have contacted the company so far. In addition, it said seven model numbers not mentioned in the earlier FTC announcement are now included among the stoves which may have a problem.

The seven are woodburning heaters with model numbers 5718, 7326, 7338, 7366, 7386 and 7396, plus one Franklin fireplace, model No. 21021. Also involved and listed in the original announcement are woodburning heaters 5722, 7377, 7387 and Franklin fireplaces 21015, 21017, 21335, 21336 and 21337. The last three of those were sold by Wards as Hearth Craft models 220, 260 and 300.

The FTC said Wards added the seven models after conducting tests which indicated the installation instructions could create a hazard.

On two models — 21015 and 21017 — the company will install heat shields but the replacement and refund option is not available, the FTC said.

The FTC said some 200,000 families may own one of the affected stoves and "should contact Wards immediately to have the hazard removed."

In addition, the Consumer Product Safety Commission is accepting inquiries about the problem at its toll-free hotline: (800) 638-6326 in all states except Maryland, where it is (800) 492-6363, and Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, (800) 638-6333.

ANTIMATTER

Instruments carried in a balloon 60 stories tall, floating 36 kilometers (22 miles) above the southwestern United States detected 29 antimatter particles. Antimatter particles have the same mass or weight as the matter we find around us, but they have the opposite electrical charge. The detected particles were probably formed when cosmic rays collided with clouds of hydrogen in outer space. A very strong magnet deflected the particles so their momentum and charge could be measured. The magnet was a major component of the instrumentation carried by the balloon. The team of scientists searched 9 years for antimatter they thought should be a part of the material raining on Earth from outer space.

Advanced Studies Program Again Offered By FSC

The Advanced Studies Program for area high school students will be offered again this year by Frostburg State College and the FSC Foundation, according to College President Dr. Nelson P. Guild.

Classes in the program will begin February 23 and will run for eight consecutive Saturdays through April 12. Courses in business, history, mathematics, and speech will be offered, Dr. Guild said.

The program, initiated in 1974, is designed to provide additional study opportunities to superior high school students and to give such students an advanced look at the demands of college-level work. Courses are not meant to duplicate or be a substitute for any high school program of study. The courses are taught by selected members of the College's faculty.

Major costs of the program will be covered by the Frostburg State College Foundation and a gift from the Kiwanis of Western Allegany. Students enrolling in the program will be responsible only for payment of a nominal registration fee, textbooks and transportation.

Students will become eligible to enter the program upon the recommendation of their home school and such recommendation will be made upon the basis of demonstrated academic ability or reasonably suspected promise. Additionally, provision is made for self-nomination by students.

No college credit or letter grade will be given in the program. However, each student who completes a course will receive a personal evaluation from the instructor, a copy of which will remain on file at the College which may be used by the student when seeking admission to a college or university. Students who successfully complete a course in the program will also receive a certificate from the College.

Students interested in enrolling in one of the courses should contact the principal at their respective schools. The Public Relations and Institutional Development offices at the College also have applications. All applications must be received by the College no later than February 15.

The courses are:

An Introduction To American Enterprise, by Richard E. Pesta, Business Administration Department;

War In The Modern Age, by Dr. Harry I. Stegmaier, Jr., History Department;

Introduction To Statistical Thought, by Dr. Richard C. Weimer, Mathematics Department;

Talking About Talking, by Dr. Marc E. Routhier, Speech Communication and Theatre Department.

CLEANING YOUR CARPET (Part 1)

After a time, an accumulation of soil not readily removed by vacuuming will cause your carpet to dull. When this occurs, home cleaning will brighten the carpet and greatly improve its appearance. Home cleaning methods, however, are not a substitute for professional cleaning. We suggest cleaning by a professional every two to three years. Although, the vacuum cleaner you select has a great deal to do with the necessity for cleaning your carpets. Adequate suction power prevents build up of fine sandy soils making you less cleaning.

First, let's discuss the "wet" method of cleaning your carpet. This is suitable for almost every type of carpeting. When using this method, it's best to remove all furniture from the room. If that's impossible, place aluminum foil, plastic film, or cardboard squares under chair legs and table.

Use a solution of two heaping tablespoons of very mild detergent to a gallon of water, or use a commercial rug shampoo. Don't use soap. Apply the solution with a sponge, brush, or carpet shampoo machine. Wet only the surface of the carpet, not the backing. Dry the carpet as quickly as possible with forced air from a fan or vacuum cleaner attachment. When its thoroughly dry, brush pile gently in one direction. Since this method may leave a residue which will hasten resoiling, avoid frequent cleanings. In the meantime, if you're looking for carpeting, you'll find an excellent selection at Roderick's.

See Part 2 next week. Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

VISIT RESCUE SQUAD — Local Girl Scouts and Brownies were recent visitors of the Southern Rescue Squad building on Oak Street in Oakland as part of their work towards earning badges in Health Aid, Home Health and Safety. Squad members Linda Hauser and Linda Naezler conducted tours of the squad building and demonstrated various first aid techniques, pictured above. The girls then got some "hands on" experience. Troops involved were Loch Lynn Brownie Troop 5569, Loch Lynn Junior Girl Scout Troop 5537 and Oakland Junior Girl Scout Troop 5522. The Loch Lynn troops are under the leadership of Linda White, Donna Steadman, Shirley Bernard, Carolyn Wilson and Betty Wolford. The Oakland troop is under the leadership of Lois Martin, leader, and Rita Grimm, assistant leader.

Judge Determines Grantsville Youth To Be Delinquent

A 17-year-old Grantsville youth was found to be delinquent by Judge Fred A. Thayer in the Garrett County Circuit Court Wednesday. The youth faced charges of assault and battery, and carrying a deadly weapon on school property.

The charges resulted from the November 9 incident at the Northern Garrett High School parking lot during the Northern-Southern football game. Deputies of the Sheriff's Department, who were attending the game, were informed that an unknown person had threatened the life of a 20-year-old Oakland male.

Upon investigation, the deputies discovered a .22 caliber revolver on the pavement under a nearby vehicle which had been apparently tossed by the Grantsville youth.

The Judge Thayer placed the youth on supervised probation for an indeterminate time period, fined him $100, and forbade him to go hunting for two years.

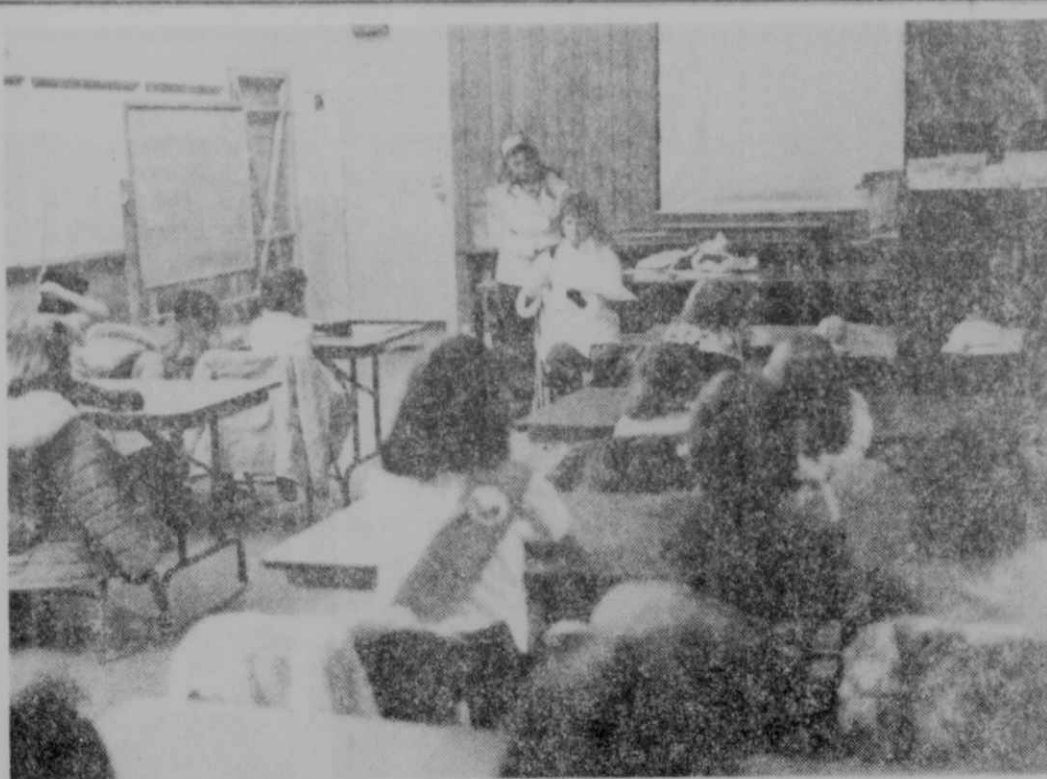

Admissions Amusement Tax Revenues Divided

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said today that admissions and amusement tax revenue totaling $2,971,504 has been distributed to Maryland's 23 counties, Baltimore City, and the state's cities and towns. "This distribution covers the period October, November and December 1979, and is larger than the $2,401,827 distributed for October, November and December of 1978," Mr. Goldstein said.

Garrett County received $7,616, compared to $7,347 for the same period in Fiscal Year 1979.

Admissions and amusement tax revenue for the first six months of Fiscal Year 1980 amounted to $5,659,931 compared to $5,012,912 for the first six months of Fiscal Year 1979.

The State Comptroller's Office collects the admissions and amusement tax at rates set by local governments.

Goldstein Notes Extra Hours Of Income Tax Help

The upcoming weekend and holidays present Marylanders with a good opportunity to begin work on their state income tax returns, since all offices of the Maryland Income Tax Division will be offering additional hours of taxpayer assistance, according to State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein.

All twelve offices of the income tax division will be open from 9:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, February 9, offering both telephone and walk-in assistance.

All offices will also be open on Tuesday, February 12th and Monday, February 18th, when most state offices will be closed observing the Lincoln and Washington birthday holidays. The offices will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. on these two dates.

All tax assistance offered is free of charge. State income taxpayers who would like to have their state returns completed free of charge should bring with them a completed copy of their federal tax return and all W-2 statements.

"I would like to remind retired and disabled individuals who received taxable pensions of less than $5,700 during 1979, that the Maryland General Assembly is considering emergency legislation which may benefit them. You have the choice of filing your return immediately

Census For '80 Launched In State

The 1980 Census has begun in Maryland and Delaware with the announcement of office locations and district office managers by Porter S. Rickley, Director of the U. S. Bureau of the Census Regional Office in Philadelphia, Pa. Six managers and three two-person management teams were named to administer 1980 Census districts in the two states.

District office managers are responsible for hiring local 1980 Census staff, reviewing the progress of the Census on a county basis and supervising all local decennial activities such as Local Review and Complete Count Committees.

According to Rickley, the areas grouped together by district office were determined on population estimates and geographic accessibility. Each district office manager will supervise the complete count of a census district averaging 500,000 people. Offices are classified as centralized or decentralized according to population density.

Although the offices have begun some preliminary activities, formal office openings will not occur until February. Census Day is April 1, 1980.

At peak, the offices will employ from 300 to 800 persons depending on the response to the mailed out questionnaires. The bulk of the positions will not begin until Census follow-up activities start in April and May. "Every community in Maryland and Delaware has a stake in the 1980 Census," Rickley said. He noted that the Census is the basis for federal funding allocations and for political reapportionment.

Charles Rouzer is the District Office Manager for the Hagerstown office, located at Hagerstown Armory, Hagerstown. The district covers the counties of Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick, Carroll and Howard.

Hughes' Budgetary Program Called "Stroke Of Genius"

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Gov. Harry Hughes pulled sort of a fast one on the legislature last week. He gave them most of what they wanted.

"The governor has come up with what appears to be a stroke of genius," said Sen. Harry J. McGuirk, D-Baltimore, one of the most powerful members of the legislature. "He seems to have satisfied everybody in the state."

Well, not quite — but close. A gubernatorial task force had recommended that Hughes raise the tax on gasoline to make up for a shortfall in transportation revenue.

But with the state expecting a tax surplus of about $300 million, the legislators were in no mood to raise the tax on gas or on anything else.

So, Hughes dropped the idea. The governor briefly considered diverting sales tax revenue for transportation, but that, too, would have prompted a pitched political battle, so Hughes scuttled the idea.

What he did do was suggest that revenue from corporate and excise taxes be transferred from the general fund to the transportation fund, and that the loss to the general fund be made up with money from the surplus.

And he completed his plan by asking the assembly to approve a modest, $5 to $8 per vehicle, increase in the cost of auto license plates. That bothered some lawmakers, including one who called the increase — the first since 1968 — "an outrage."

Most, however, took it in stride, knowing the full transportation package included money for other projects, particularly subways, too important to lose by quibbling over the cost of car tags.

"As bitter a pill as it is, it is a lot sweeter than the gasoline tax," said Sen. Edward Conroy, D-Prince George's.

Hughes said the key to his plan was balance. He would have been closer to the mark had he said "political balance."

He first appeased the lawmakers from Maryland's Washington suburbs by precluding any cutoff of federal funds for the Metro subway system by dedicating a "stable and reliable" tax source to cover future Metro operating deficits.

He then scored with the Baltimore delegation by keeping intact the state commitment to finance 100 percent of that city's future subway operating deficits, compared with the 75 percent share the state will pay for Metro.

He also agreed with a city-sponsored move to require that half of the operating deficits for both subway systems be paid for from subway fares.

Montgomery and Prince George's legislators, fearing unpopularity high subway fares, complained. But Hughes made it more palatable by agreeing in exchange that the state will pay three-fourths of the Metro system's annual debt service.

Next, the governor moved to avert a separate, but potentially bitter, fight with Baltimore by agreeing to give the city more state aid for police protection — something he had previously said he would not do.

Finally, he appeased the third world of Maryland lawmakers, the rural legislators, by sending them increases in state aid for local transportation projects, as well as for education and other programs.

Hughes tied it all together by claiming the package was balanced, and by warning that legislators who tamper with it will throw it all out of kilter.

The penalty for that, he said, would be the loss of some other program, such as aid to localities for education, or possibly police protection.

What Hughes appears to have done was to strike the type of political balance that makes each part of his budgetary program contingent upon another.

The governor knows none of the legislators will ever be completely happy with his plan, but he seems to be saying that lawmakers or legislative delegations who dare to change his plan may pay for it by losing other programs they desperately want.

If there is a soft point in Hughes' plan, it's that it is not and does not look like direct tax relief. Faced with another huge budget surplus, lawmakers find that hard to explain.

But Hughes contends his budget provides so much aid to localities for education, police, highways, subways and other programs and projects that localities will be better able to use their own money for other costs, such as the skyrocketing expense of school heating fuel.

That, the governor said, is tax relief in the sense that local governments should be dissuaded from raising their property tax rates.

MVA Sets Dates For New Tags

The Motor Vehicle Administration will begin mailing 1980 license tag renewal applications to Maryland's 2.2 million passenger car and motorcycle owners on Friday, February 8.

"This year new black-on-white tags are replacing the red and white ones issued in 1975," said William T. S. Bricker, MVA Administrator. "The new ones are also five-year plates, to be validated annually with registration stickers."

"Beginning Wednesday, February 13," Bricker continued, "the new plates will be available at MVA offices throughout the state. However, under state law, the new plates are not valid until March 1. On that day, the new ones can be put on and the old ones can be discarded."

License plates will also be available at the Garrett County Treasurer's Office, Courthouse, Oakland, beginning Tuesday, February 19 during regular business hours. The county office will be closed Tuesday, March 25 in observance of Maryland Day.

Bricker added that under the state's compulsory insurance law, every motor vehicle registered in the state must be insured in the minimum amounts of $20,000/$40,000 for bodily injury, $10,000 for property damage, uninsured motorist coverage in the same amounts, and $2500 for economic loss. For motorcycles, however, economic loss coverage is not compulsory.

"Motorists who have had their policies cancelled or whose insurance applications have been rejected by at least two private companies may apply to the Maryland Automobile Insurance Fund (MAIF), but in any case, they must have the necessary insurance coverage before they can receive their tags."

Noting that the vast majority of Maryland motorists return their tag renewal applications and receive their license plates by mail, Bricker pointed out that many others fail to heed this advice and find themselves standing in line at an MVA office as the tag expiration deadline approaches.

"Motorists," he said, "need only complete the application form and return it by mail with the required fee and insurance information to receive their tags within a week or two, and without inconvenience."

But he cautioned that applications received later than March 20 may not be processed in time to meet the March 31 deadline.

Vehicle owners who do not receive their tag applications by the end of February should contact the MVA immediately, giving their present tag number, the vehicle title and vehicle identification number (serial number), full name, and present address.

This information is necessary to enable the computer-printer to print correct applications. For further information motorists should contact the MVA branch office in their vicinity or call the Glen Burnie tag renewal information number ... 768-1800.

License plates may be purchased from MVA Headquarters in Glen Burnie or at any MVA branch office from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays. Motorists are reminded, however, that most state offices, including the MVA, will be closed in observance of Lincoln's Birthday, Tuesday, February 12; Washington's Birthday, Monday, February 18; and Maryland Day, Tuesday, March 25.

The MVA branch office nearest Garrett County is located on Route 53, Winchester Road, Cumberland.

Motorists are cautioned against displaying the new license plates before March 1 and reminded that the plates must be displayed on all passenger vehicles and motorcycles by midnight, March 31.

4-H Art Show Set For March 15

The Fifth Annual BPS 4-H/Open Art Show will be held at the Garrett Community College Library on Saturday, March 15, from 11:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m.

Entries will be accepted from youth, age 13 and under, and adults who desire to display their artwork. Membership in 4-H is not necessary.

An entry fee of fifty cents for youth and $1.00 for adults will be charged. A trophy and ribbons will be awarded in eleven classes: painting, sculpture, drawings, ceramics, photography, kits, needle craft, woodworking, water colors, macramé, as well as a miscellaneous general category.

Persons or businesses interested in sponsoring a class for $10.00 should contact show manager Karen Dishong at 689-5770, or call the Extension Office at 334-2145.

Soybeans, Corn Show Record Yields In '79

Record production for soybeans and record yields for corn, highlight 1979 Maryland crop production, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service.

The 1979 corn crop is estimated at 58.9 million bushels, 3 percent greater than last year's crop. This makes it the largest crop on record followed by the 58.0 million bushels harvested in 1976. Acreage harvested for grain, at 595,000, is up 1 percent from last year, a record yield of 99 bushels per acre, exceeding the previous record of 1978 by 2 bushels per acre.

Soybean production is estimated at a record 11.6 million bushels, 5 percent above last year. A record harvested acreage of 385,000 more than offset a decrease in yield and pushed production past the previous record set in 1978.

Crops with increased production include wheat, barley and Irish potatoes. Production declined for corn for silage, oats, rye, tobacco, hay, peaches and sweet potatoes.

PLUMBING ECONOMICS

Installing an additional bathroom or even a sink can be an expensive proposition if there are not existing pipes, drains and vents in the location you have selected. Why?

Putting in long new runs of pipe, knocking out and later patching holes in walls and ceilings, involves considerable work. You can make life easier - and less costly - if you locate new outlets so the fixtures can be tied into existing supply pipes, drains and vents.

The ideal way to do this is to place a new bathroom or sink back-to-back with an existing bathroom.

This way, both sets of fixtures can be connected to the same pipes by short spurs. The next best solution is to place the new bathroom beside an old one or directly above or below it.

Wait! This expansionist thinking indicates your family is outgrowing its present home. It might be wiser to consider buying a larger home and save yourself the money and inconvenience.

Claim Deadline For HUD Rent Refunds Extended

Persons who lived in Bradley Manor in Oakland, between February 1, 1975, and September 30, 1977, may be eligible for refunds of up to $500.00, according to Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., attorneys Tom Gorak and Robert Rhudy. To assure their eligibility to obtain such refunds, however, they must file claims not later than Friday, February 22. The previous deadline was January 31, however it was extended by Judge Harry Pregerson of the U.S. District Court, after a recent surge in the number of responses from tenants who may be eligible for a refund.

Anyone living at Bradley Manor during this period may be eligible for a refund and it is not necessary to have continued living in the housing project since that time.

Official claim forms should be available in the Bradley Manor manager's office, the attorneys said. In addition, persons should be able to get further information on the refund program by contacting the Housing Division, Garrett County Community Action, phone number 334-9431, in Oakland; or Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., at 334-8832.

Bradley Manor is operated under a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Section 236 Program to assist in providing housing for lower-income persons. Tenants of such projects across the country are now filing their claims against a $60 Million reserve as a result of the largest class action settlement on behalf of low-income people in the nation's history. The landmark settlement resolved eleven law suits brought by Legal Aid attorneys across the country against HUD, among which is Underwood vs. Harris, a nationwide class action law suit. In settlement of the suits, HUD has turned over the $60 million for refunds for rent overcharges to persons who are tenants of any Section 236 housing for anytime during the February 1975 to September 1977 period, and who paid more than 25 to 30 per cent of their adjusted monthly income for rent.

It is estimated that eligible claimants may number as many as 750,000 nationwide. Gorak and Rhudy, Legal Aid Attorneys in the Cumberland office, which serves Garrett and Allegany Counties, acknowledge that they cannot estimate how many, if any, former and current tenants of Bradley Manor may be eligible for the refund. But they urged any person who was a resident for the affected period to file before January 31, 1980, to maintain their claim.

Human Resources Office To Observe February Holidays

All offices of the Maryland Department of Human Resources, including the Department of Social Services and Employment Security, will be closed Tuesday, February 12, 1980 (Lincoln's Birthday) and Monday, February 18, 1980 (Washington's Birthday).

Claimants who regularly report on Tuesdays, should report on Wednesday, February 13, 1980 and the ones that report on Mondays, should report on Tuesday, February 19, 1980 at the exact time assigned.

CUTTING THE COST OF LIVING

Many times we can save money by using what we have on hand, by using our own skills, and by not spending unnecessary dollars. Here are some suggestions to help you save.

•Don't discard plastic cups that have developed a leak. Heat the end of a small screwdriver and run it lightly over the split area to reseal.

•Before throwing away old pairs of trousers, cut out and keep the back pockets. They are handy when holes appear in the side pockets of trousers. To repair, cut out the worn lower half of each side pocket and sew on the spare back pocket. Also, cut out the zippers and keep them for later use.

•Cut old nylon curtains in one-yard squares, fold in fourths, and sew the edges together for excellent polishing cloths.

•Recover an ironing board by slipping the leg of an old pair of pajamas over it.

•Repair worn pillowcases by taking a large white handkerchief and stitching it diagonally over the worn part of the pillowcase.

•Save on clothes by making alterations. Also, before going shopping, examine last year's clothes and see what you can do to renovate or update slightly out-of-style items.

•Save on transportation by owning a small car, by using public transportation, or by carpooling. Save on travel mileage by planning shopping in logical sequences — this prevents doubling back to places you have already been.

•Save on dry cleaning by spot cleaning on clothing, furniture, and rugs or carpets as soon as possible after spill or stain occurs. Buy washable clothing.

•Stay on a cash basis and if you do have debts, pay them off as quickly as possible.

FOOD NOTES

Do you ever end up throwing out left over mashed potatoes and meat because you can't think of anything to do with them? Here is a solution I think your family will enjoy trying.

POTATO-MEAT PATTIES

6 servings, 1 patty each 175 Calories per serving.

2 cups Leftover mashed potatoes, seasoned
1 cup Leftover meat, finely chopped
2 T. Onion, finely chopped
2 Egg yolks
2 T. Milk
1/8 tsp. Pepper
2 T. Oil

1. Mix potatoes, meat, onion, egg yolks, milk, and pepper.
2. Shape into 6 patties, using about 1/2 cup potato mixture for each.

3. Heat fat in frypan over moderate heat.
4. Cook patties until lightly browned on one side; turn and brown the other side.
5. Serve hot.

Mr. Selby said that the percentage of deaths in Garrett County due to heart disease is 57.6%, which is significantly higher than the 51% national average, "which is why the residents and businesses of the county should support the work of their local Heart Association."

Mr. Selby is president of the Friendsville Rotary Club, is a high school graduate, and is married to Pauline Selby. They have three children.

Farmers Warned Of Telephone Sales

David Shriver, Chief of the Maryland Department of Agriculture's Pesticide Applicator Law Section, says farmers should be leery of salesmen who offer pesticide deals over the telephone.

"Every year at this time we seem to have a few high pressure salesmen who get on the telephone offering special deals and bargain basement prices on pesticides. These salesmen, working from out-of-state offices, make many promises, and those unfortunate enough to buy the materials often find the products to be highly diluted and therefore not too much of a bargain," Mr. Shriver says.

Farmers are urged to beware of calls from strangers offering such deals. "It is far better for a farmer making such an outlay for pesticide materials to purchase them through a local supplier who is known in the community," Mr. Shriver added.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Pvt. Delmas D. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Harris, Route 2, Swanton, recently completed training as an armor crewman at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

The training was conducted under the One Station Unit Training (OSUT) Program, which combines basic combat training with advanced individual training into one 13-week period.

During the course, students received training in the duties of a tank crewman, including firing the tank's armament and small weapons. Instruction also was given in field radio operations, map reading, and tank maintenance and repair.

Harris, who entered the Army last October, is a 1979 graduate of Southern High School.

SSG Joseph Ash, who is currently stationed with White House Communications Agency, Washington, D.C., re-enlisted on January 7 for three more years service. He joined the armed services in January of 1973. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ash, Sr., Oakland.

In loving memory of my husband, Woodrow Hone, on our 43rd Wedding Anniversary, Jan. 26, 1980.

In memory of someone so dear, who was not here with me this year.

As the days of this New Year pass, and each day brings something new.

Many memories of the past, will always be with you.

Sheriff's Office Receives Several Theft Complaints

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office received complaints of breaking and entering, theft and destruction of property last week.

A breaking and entering and larceny reportedly occurred at the Silver Knob Sand Company, Route 219, Oakland, during the night of January 31 or the early morning hours of February 1.

Entry was gained through a window and the subjects ransacked the offices and cabinets. A 12-inch, black and white Admiral portable TV was taken from the establishment, valued at $100. No other items were found missing.

The window was destroyed, amounting to a loss value in damages of $103. The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is continuing its investigation of the incident.

In a separate incident James Smith, Kitzmiller, reported that sometime between January 25 and February 3 a .22 caliber revolver was taken from his home. The revolver had been mounted on a gun rack in the victim's living room.

There were no signs of forced entry to the doors or windows and investigation continues. An approximate loss value is $50.

A destruction of property was reported to have occurred at the Kitzmiller Elementary School during the night of January 19 or the early morning hours of January 20. Numerous windows were broken out when unknown subjects threw beer bottles through the panes of glass.

A theft of skis and poles reportedly occurred at the Wisp

Ski Resort, McHenry, on January 25 between 8:30 and 9 p.m.

Linda J. Merrill, Cumberland, reported that some unknown person had removed her skis and poles from the outside of the lodge when she had gone inside.

The skis are Head Skis, red in color, and valued at $250. The poles are gold with black plastic tips and are valued at $25.

Maryland State Police in McHenry reported approximately seven incidents involving ski thefts at the Wisp in the past week.

The Sheriff's Department arrested an Oakland man last week at C. P. Martin's Store in Mt. Lake Park.

Charles Clarence Gregory, 32, was incarcerated on Friday and charged with assault and disturbing the peace after he pointed a rifle at a customer inside the store. The incident occurred at 10:46 p.m.

Gregory appeared before Garrett County District Court Monday for a bond review. Judge Lewis R. Jones ruled his release on personal recognizance.

Deputy Van Evans transported Thomas Joseph Walsh, 31, New York, from the Keyser Detention Center, where he was being held on an auto theft charge, to the Garrett County Jail Saturday.

Walsh will await trial in Garrett County District Court for an October offense at the Montgomery Wards Store in Mt. Lake Park. He is charged with breaking and entering and larceny.

Walsh is being held on $2500 bond.

Three Local Men Attend ASCS Training Seminar

Cecil L. Kight, Claude W. Wagner, Jr., and Harry W. Hummel of the Garrett County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee participated last week in a two-day training seminar at the Sheraton Inn in Frederick, Maryland. Along with 30 other County Committeemen from the Western Maryland counties, the Garrett County Committeemen discussed the responsibilities of the County Committee in the administration of ASCS programs.

Instructors for the training seminar were Willma Reeves, a State Committee Member from St. Mary's County; Melvin Baile, Chairperson of the Carroll County ASC Committee; and J. Thomas Kelley, Vice Chairperson of the Montgomery County Committee. The three instructors took part in a training workshop in Hershey, Pa., with other instructors from the Northeast Area prior to last week's seminar.

"Seminars of this kind will improve the effectiveness of the committee system," stated Mrs. Reeves.

Highlights of the meeting included an evening banquet with James M. Voss, Maryland State Executive Director speaking on the effects of the current grain embargo and the actions taken by ASCS to stabilize the grain market.

Committeemen from the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland counties took part in a similar training session in Easton on January 24-25.

Housing Assistance Available To Low Income Families

On January 25, 1980, the Baltimore Area Office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development invited applications for 527 units or up to $1,730,000 of housing assistance payments to low and moderate income families in Baltimore City, Baltimore County, Carroll County, Cecil County, Western Maryland (including Allegany, Garrett, Frederick and Washington Counties) and Eastern Shore/Southern Maryland. The assistance is to be used for existing housing units. Specific invitations for applications were extended to Governor Harry Hughes, James O. Roberson, Secretary of the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development, and the appropriate public housing agencies (PHAs).

The program of Housing Assistance Payments was authorized under Title II, Section 8 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 and differs significantly from previous federal housing subsidy programs. Tenants will pay between 15 and 25 percent of their monthly income, based on family size and other factors, toward the rent. The housing assistance payment is the difference between what the tenant pays and market rent, and is paid directly to the owner of the dwelling by the public housing agency.

The Baltimore Area Office of HUD is presently accepting applications from interested PHAs for these additional existing units. Upon final approval of an application, HUD will agree to enter into an Annual Contributions Contract. Upon receiving the Annual Contributions Contract, the PHA will enter into a contract with the landlord(s) for making Housing Assistance Payments. The PHA will make the housing assistance payments with respect to units occupied by eligible families. An eligible family has an income which does not exceed 80 percent of median income for the locality. In connection with the selection of families, the PHA is responsible for issuing certificates for at least 30 percent of the units to very low income families (i.e., families whose income does not exceed 50 percent of the median income for the locality).

Applications, in response to invitations, for the Section 8 Housing Assistance Payments

Program must be received by the HUD Area Office from an eligible applicant agency by 4:45 on February 29, 1980. Garrett County families interested in receiving housing assistance under this program should do so through the Garrett County Housing Office at 334-4443.

The same students had departed GCC with a combined and cumulative G.P.A. of 3.15. Twenty-three of the students re-enrolled at FSC in the Spring of 1979 semester and earned a combined G.P.A. of 2.84, just below a B average. FIRE CUTS HOME — The residence of the Edward Lewis family, located on the Pysell Crosscut Road, was totally gutted by fire Sunday evening. The blaze is thought to have originated near a woodburning stove.

Lewis Residence Guttered By Fire

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lewis, located on the Pysell Crosscut Road near Deer Park, was totally gutted by fire Sunday evening. The family lost nearly all their possessions and the loss was not covered by insurance.

Robert Shiner, fire investigator for the State Fire Marshal's Office, stated that it appeared the blaze originated around a wood burning stove in the rear of the single story modular structure.

The fire was reported to Garrett Central Alarm at 5:21 p.m. by a neighbor, Robert Collins. The Lewis family was out at home at the time of the fire, having left the residence at 1:15 p.m. to visit Mrs. Lewis' mother in Corbin. Shiner and Bob Thresher, chief of the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department, said the fire apparently had been burning some time before being discovered.

Garrett Central Alarm dispatched firefighters from Deer Park and Oakland to the scene and sent one unit from the Bittling Fire Department to stand by at Deer Park station. The Garrett County air cascade truck and the Southern Rescue Squad were also on the scene.

Thresher stated that when fire personnel arrived on the scene, the blaze had already broken through the rear of the structure. The woodburning stove was located in a rear room which had been added on to the modular home. Shiner said he has not yet been able to determine if the cause of the fire was related to the chimney connector or installation design.

Shiner said the Lewis family moved into the house about three weeks ago and had no insurance. The home is reportedly owned by Adrian "Back" Martin, of Westport. Thresher said a few of the family's possessions located in the garage and basement were salvaged.

Movie Theatres At Mid-Towns To Open Friday

It has been since October 8, 1963, that a wide screen movie has been shown or seen in Oakland, for it was at 6:30 p.m., on October 8, 1963, that fire broke out in the Plymian building on Third Street and destroyed the building, which housed Oakland's only movie theatre.

The 16½-year movie drought in Oakland will come to an end when Mid-Town Cinemas at the Mid-Towns Plaza will open its doors this Friday evening. The dual theatres, which each have a 224 seating capacity, are owned by B&L Theatres, Inc., which is affiliated with 13 other screens in Maryland.

The theatres will offer two regular shows daily, with Saturday and Sunday afternoon matinees. There will also be a late show on Friday and Saturday nights, featuring a different film.

The manager, who is also part owner, is Larry L. Holter, Oakland. The other owners are Berlin C. Holter, Oakland, and Robert L. Goldhammer, Bethesda, who is also affiliated with the Berkeley County and Frederick County Theatre corporations.

Larry Holter stated that Mid-Town Cinemas are among the most ultra modern movie operations, with almost total automation. He said the new theatres have been selected as model theatres which will be used in producing a film for the industry and prospective owners.

League Of Women Voters Voices Fiscal Concerns To Commissioners

The Garrett County League of Women Voters met with the Garrett County Commissioners Monday to pose questions regarding the group's concern about the fiscal condition of the county. The meeting was reportedly scheduled before the commissioners announced the borrowing of $250,000 last week.

Dorothy Leighton, League president, acted as spokeswoman for the group of approximately 11 women, who came prepared with a list of questions regarding the county budget.

The commissioners stated that revenues have fallen considerably below estimates, and some of the major shortages for the county include a $30,000 shortfall from the Coal Severance Tax, and approximate $200,000 shortfall from gasoline taxes and an $85,000 shortage in alcoholic beverage taxes. Commissioner Ernest Gregg, Jr. stated that "one of the hardest hit areas was revenue from gasoline taxes."

When asked how much the county is now working with, the commissioners could not give a definite figure, stating that these figures must be calculated in advance and are constantly changing due to shortfalls. Turney said the commissioners are hindered by the resignation of the county's administrator-clerk and financial advisor, Marshall Rickert, and are working without a fiscal specialist.

Hunter said, "we need someone who knows finance to run a $10,000,000 business." The board stated they have received six applications for the position. Hunter stated that next year's budget requests have been sent, and when returned, are bound to be higher, due to inflation. He said the teachers have already asked for a six percent increase in salary and the Roads Department requested an 11 percent increase in its budget. The board stated that a tax increase will be necessary for the next fiscal year.

In other commissioners' business, Mayor Russell Alexander, Mt. Lake Park, requested a loan to help bring the Sanitary Commission under direct control and make certain they conform to all legal regulations regarding water and sewage.

The commissioners also received a proposal from Community Action Committee requesting their support for a pre-application for a grant amounting to $100,000 in funds for technical and supervisory assistants. The grant would come from the Farmers Home Administration for the objective of providing an out-reach to people with housing needs. The group hopes to provide information and counseling on housing up-grading for people who have needs in this area.

Tim Dugan requested the Maryland State Energy Administration, has determined that there are no barriers to the development of a synthetic fuel industry based on Western Maryland coal. Mathias and State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein have been spearheading efforts to promote synthetic fuel development in Western Maryland. Mathias and Goldstein met on the question in Cumberland last November 30 with representatives of the federal, state and local governments, industry officials, Western Maryland coal operators and coal research experts from the University of Maryland. They established a working committee and requested the State Energy Administration to conduct a preliminary study.

According to the study, three synthetic technologies could be implemented in Western Maryland with locally mined coal. The three are the Koppers-Totzek and Texaco processes for gasification and the Koppers-Totzek - ICI process for producing methanol from coal.

Coal reserves in seven commercially exploitable seams in the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac basins stand at approximately 250 million tons and could provide feed stock for a coal gasification plant in tandem with a 300 megawatt combined-cycle power plant would require some 300,000 tons of coal a year, or approximately one million tons over the 30-year lifetime of the combination plant.

The study noted that, as of January 31, they had $1,001,600 still to be collected in piggyback income tax.

Mathias Visits County; Releases Study Which Indicates Potential For Synfuel Industry In Western Maryland

SENATOR "MAC" MATHIAS, pictured right, paid a visit to the county early this week to observe coal mining operations as part of his efforts towards creation of a synthetic fuel plant in Western Maryland. Second from right is Carl Desjardins, owner of the Buffalo Coal Company.

U. S. Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) was in Garrett County this week, primarily to tour Western Maryland mining and industrial facilities. Mathias has called for the development of a synthetic fuels program in Western Maryland which will utilize the rich coal reserves of the region.

Senator Mathias arrived in Garrett County at approximately 11 a.m. Monday. Following some private visits in Oakland and lunch with senior citizens at the Oakland Senior Citizens Center on Center Street, he motored to the Buffalo Coal Company strip mine near Table Rock and the Mettiki deep mine near Kempton.

On Tuesday, the State's senior Republican senator had breakfast with the Garrett County Republican Central Committee at the Starlite Motel and Restaurant before leaving for Lake to tour the Westvaco Plant. The Senator received a briefing by Westvaco officials on the plant's air quality monitoring system. Mathias and members of his staff later toured the Calumet Company plant at Cresaptown, and were given a briefing on its coal system.

Senator Mathias concluded his two-day visit to Western Maryland yesterday with a press conference at his Cumberland office, where he discussed the progress of his synfuel proposal, based on a recent feasibility study conducted by the Maryland Energy Office.

The study, conducted by the Maryland State Energy Administration, has determined that there are no barriers to the development of a synthetic fuel industry based on Western Maryland coal. Mathias and State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein have been spearheading efforts to promote synthetic fuel development in Western Maryland. Mathias and Goldstein met on the question in Cumberland last November 30 with representatives of the federal, state and local governments, industry officials, Western Maryland coal operators and coal research experts from the University of Maryland. Control of waste material from the plant would not appear to pose any insurmountable environmental problems, the study points out, because technologies for both coal gasification and indirect coal liquefaction processes have proven environmentally safe in California and in South Africa.

Availability of adequate water supplies, the study concluded, would limit a synfuels plant to water drawn from the Potomac River. Neither the Voughtschoen nor the Savage rivers provide sufficient annual flow to yield the five cubic feet of water per second required by a synthetic fuel plant which uses 3 million tons of coal a year. The report noted, however, that smaller plants could be located on other rivers and streams in Western Maryland.

The Synfuels Feasibility Study drew five major conclusions:

1. There is a large technically feasible market potential in industry for commercially available equipment exceeding three quadrillion BTU per year.
2. Early adopters of synthetic fuels will be principally steel, chemical and brick companies.
3. With no additional Federal initiatives, industry commitments to liquefaction and gasification will increase moderately.
4. The major barriers to synthetic fuels market penetration are lack of economic advantage, an absence of significant operating experience and limited credible engineering data for retrofitting industrial plants.
5. Selected government action can be a principal factor in accelerating market penetration of synthetic fuels.

In presenting the findings of the study, Senator Mathias commented that the feasibility report "presents a promising beginning for addressing both our national and regional energy needs." He said the development of a synthetic fuels industry in Maryland still requires a long-term commitment by government, universities and private industry which may have significant payoff within the next decade.

U. S. Senator Paul S. Sarbanes announced this week that the Appalachian Regional Commission has approved a $47,200 grant to purchase a mobile vehicle which will extend health assessment and education services of the Garrett County Health Department to remote populations in the county which do not now have access to public health services.

The Garrett County Commissioners are the recipients of the grant and county government will contribute $11,000 to the project.

Sarbanes stated, "I am very pleased that the Commission has approved this grant, which will enable the Garrett County Health Department to take health services directly to the people, reaching children and adults with very important and necessary physical screening and health counseling programs."

Charles O. Ross, Jr., defeated Carl Lettens in the race for mayor by a margin of 91 to 48 votes.

Wayne A. Anderson received 119 votes, Roger Sims, 118, and James Linsinger, 86 votes, to win the seats on the town council. John Garner received 46 votes in the council race, while Russ Selby received two write-in votes, and Charley Miller received one.

Mrs. Pearl Bittner, chairman of the elections, stated that the mayor and councilmen will serve two-year terms, along with holdover councilmen for one more year. Hold-over councilmen are Albert Fauber, George Grimes, and John Letz.

Several Garrett County students were among those receiving degrees. They were: David Mark Evans and Alta Marie Hinebaugh, both of Deer Park, Bachelor of Science; Julie Dianne Hasenbuehler, Grantsville, Bachelor of Science; Nancy Jean Meyers, Oakland, Bachelor of Science; James Roger Hart, Oakland, Master of Education; Linda Kay Bernard and Robin Lynn Harvey, both of Swanton, Bachelor of Science.

The graduates will be recognized by the College at its commencement on May 18.

Snow Drifters Await Decision — O.R.V. Trails Provide Outlet

by Kathy Bailey
The Deep Creek Lake Snow Drifters, Inc., are continuing a battle to pass a proposition to the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks, Annapolis, to designate Deep Creek Lake State Park as a state snowmobile recreation area. If approved, this will be the first Maryland state park to obtain such a designation for park land.

Representatives of the group stated this week that Garrett County Commissioners H. Lester Hunter, Truman E. Paugh and Ernest J. Gregg, Jr., unanimously voted to support the proposal. A decision is expected to be reached by the end of this month.

In response to the article regarding this matter in last week's edition, it has been learned that certain sections of Savage River and Potomac - Garrett State Forests have official trails for "off-road vehicles," designated under Title 88.01.03 of the Adopted Rules and Regulations of the Department of Natural Resources. These Garrett County trails, having an approximate total mileage of 4.7, may be used by snowmobilers, and some are specifically marked for this purpose.

They are official and they are maintained. However, they are not widely known.

According to Warren Groves, Forest Manager for Savage River State Forest, the legislature was passed in 1972 when certain trails on public land were designated for use by four-wheel drive vehicles, trail bikes, etc., due to increased interest in these and other sports, and due to increased private property abuse. The trails were set up for safety and environmental reasons.

Some of the trails are found within state park boundaries, but are not considered part of the state parks, sources say, as they are on state forest property. Various individual snowmobilers were told by Annapolis officials that these trails are not to be publicized. However, they are marked trails and could provide an avenue of partial relief for the current snowmobiling problem that the county is facing.

Joe Stevens, of Herrington Manor State Park, stated that "there are no snowmobile trails at all" which are represented and maintained by state parks. All of those trails, he said, are cross-country ski trails. He added that people are unaware of the differences between state park and state forest land.

Taking into account the state forest O.R.V. designated trails, the snowmobile situation in the county is still a problem. Tourists should be made aware of these trails and the rules and regulations connected with their use. This procedure would include the distribution of maps and the patrolling of the trails. State forest management does not have the personnel or the time to provide this type of surveillance, Groves said, due to the massive stretch of land requiring various duties. If a state park were designated as a snowmobile recreation area with trails specifically for snowmobilers, part of the package deal would be regular maintenance and regular patrolling, said Gene Smith, vice president of Snow Drifters, Inc. In addition, if the proposal is passed for Deep Creek Lake State Park, Snow Drifters, Inc., hopes to initiate legislation whereby revenue collected from snowmobilers' registration fees might go back into a specified fund for maintenance, up-keep and safety for the trails, and perhaps for the construction of extensions, thereby moving the traffic from private property to public property at the expense of the snowmobilers and tourists, not the local taxpayers.

This type of legislation is part of the state forest designation for O.R.V. trails. Groves stated that "the demand becomes greater with increased use, and we will either have to change the legislature or design more trails." He pointed out a clause in the DNR rules stating that possible additional trails may be proposed by a public or private concern, but must go before legislature to be approved. He is anxious to solve the problem we now face, and encourages snowmobilers to use the designated trails and make the necessary proposals.

Only trails mentioned in the DNR Rules and Regulations packet may be used. This excludes unmarked logging roads and fire tower roads, which may be good possibilities, Groves said, but which may be protected for environmental or wildlife reasons, such as the sheltering of areas with large deer populations. Unmarked roads are illegal.

Other regulations regarding state forest O.R.V. trails include a $5 registration fee and the acquiring and display, by law, of an identification tag. These stickers may only be obtained at Regional Service Centers located in Annapolis and Cumberland, and at participating dealers. Mail applications are available, but Snow Drifters president, Floyd Ellis, brought a good point to light, saying that tourists, who make up the majority of present county snowmobilers, here for a weekend, are probably not going to drive to Cumberland or wait for mail registration to ride on O.R.V. trails. This is another reason why the information booth should be open and registration could be provided here for the benefit, safety and protection of all concerned, landowners and out-of-state snowmobilers alike.

Another regulation stated by Warren Groves is that "there must be four inches of snow on the trails before they can legally be utilized by snowmobilers."

Entrances to O.R.V. trails for public snowmobile use are located in Swallow Falls State Park, which includes Piney Mountain Trail, Herrington Trail, Northbranch Trail and Laurel Run Trail can all be found in Potomac State Forest, Garrett County, totaling 20.5 miles. Meadow Mountain Trail is found in Savage River State Forest, along with Poplar Lick Trail, which is specifically designated for use by motorcycles and four-wheel drive vehicles, as the trail crosses a stream. Meadow Mountain Trail is 6.5 miles long. Deep Creek Lake Trail may be found in Deep Creek Lake State Park, is 5 miles in length, and snowmobiles may be unloaded in the Deep Creek Lake State Park parking lot if they are driven directly to the trail.

Additional information on state forest designated O.R.V. trails may be obtained at state parks, or persons may call Savage River State Forest at 895-5759, Warren Groves; or Potomac - Garrett State Forest at 334-2038, Joe Mechem. Snowmobilers are urged to obtain registrations and make use of this designated land. Packets of DNR Rules and Regulations, including maps of all county trails, are available at the state forest offices listed above.

Fifth Annual Lenten School Planned

Plans for the fifth annual Family Lenten School were announced this week by the seven Oakland-area churches which sponsor the ecumenical educational ministry. The school will again be held on Sunday evenings throughout Lent at St. Paul's United Methodist Church and St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church in Oakland, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The dates are February 24, March 2, 9, 16 and 23.

The adult courses offered this year, which are also open to high school students, are as follows:

"Making A Good Marriage Better" will be taught by Pastors Manning Smith and Verne Leininger. Books and resources dealing with enriching marriages will be reviewed, and a series of tapes, The Fun Family Forum, by Charlie W. Shedd, will cover such topics as "Fun and Romance in Marriage," "Openness and Trust," and "Marriage and Prayer." Discussion time will be included.

"The Life and Teaching of Jesus" will be taught by Pastor Curtis Saville. The study will touch on the Early Life, Galilean Ministry, Crisis, Judean Ministry, the Crucifixion and Resurrection. The course will examine Jesus as teacher, the nature of God, the Kingdom, the Man and Reconciliation, Man and the New Life and Messiah, and conclude with the Uniqueness of Jesus.

"Fundamentals for Christian Unity" will be taught by Pastors Martin Feild and Richard Seaks. Using scriptural and historical documents, this class will consider issues of doctrine and tradition that can divide Christ's church. Participants should gain a new viewpoint of ecumenical strivings and issues.

"Islam: A Faith in the News" will be taught by Pastor John Grant. This study of the Moslem religion will explore areas of doctrine, ethics, politics and social guidelines. The course is meant to give participants a better understanding of Middle East issues.

"A Closer Walk with God in the '80s" will be taught by Pastor Sylvus Flora. Using selections from the Gospels, participants will seek to deepen their spiritual powers for living in the 1980s. Strengthening personal prayer experience will be a prime objective.

The middle school program will be conducted by Mrs. Kathie Smith and will deal with communication. In the five sessions, participants will look at ways persons talk to and listen to others.

The class for children of grades four and five will be taught by Mrs. Nancy Shanklin and include Bible lessons and crafts.

Chuck and Pam Trautwein will lead grades two and three. Mrs. Sharon Flora will teach kindergarten and grade one children and Mrs. Joan Thomas will instruct children ages 3-5.

The school's expenses will be met with a free-will offering at the opening service on February 24. Pre-registration is encouraged and may be done by obtaining a registration form from any of the sponsoring churches. Persons need not be members of the sponsoring churches to attend the school. Pre-registration deadline is February 17.

Sponsoring churches are Bethel United Methodist Church, Oak Park Church of the Brethren, St. John's Episcopal Church, St. Mark's Lutheran Church, St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, St. Paul's United Methodist Church and St.

Peter's Roman Catholic Church. Sales, Use Tax Revenues Reported

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced today that retail sales and use tax revenues for January 1980 totaled $77,970,569, a 2.4 percent increase over the $76,113,644 collected during January 1979. January sales tax collections represent purchases made in December.

For the first six months of Fiscal Year 1980, sales tax collections amount to $374,424,719, a 4.2 percent increase over the $359,294,002 collected for the same period of Fiscal Year 1979.

Women's Rights Vs. Responsibilities . . .

Moves toward revitalization of draft registration have brought forth the usual varied and extreme reactions one would expect. A new twist has been added, though, by the proposed addition of female registration.

Approximately 80,000 women in Louisiana recently signed a petition against female registration. A spokesman (spokeswoman, sorry) for those signing the petition said they were not against draft registration. They were simply against women being a part of that registration.

Something about this viewpoint seems to us to be horribly unfair. After nearly two decades of screaming for women's rights and equality, how can many of these same women who did the screaming, feel they should be omitted from the draft? The defense of our country should not rest entirely upon the male shoulders. Most men do not particularly want to be drafted either.

They say that mothers should not be drafted, and we agree. But, using that same argument, fathers should not be drafted either, unless as a last resort.

Congress is expected to battle over the issue for weeks, but to us it seems clear. Women should certainly have equal rights and opportunities, but they should have an equal responsibility to defend those rights against aggression.

Another incident involving the draft which caused patriotic blood to boil was reported with a photo in a recent Cumberland newspaper. The picture showed demonstrators against the draft burning an American flag in New York City. Perhaps these individuals should be put on the quickest boat out of here. But, then again, it's a free country, and will remain so unless too many shirk the responsibility of defending it.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It seems that with the pushing of the ERA or women's lib comes a problem that women have to face and that is President Carter's draft bill for women. As we women have had the right in the past to choose civilian life or military. I believe it should stand as it has in the past, it will still let those who want to go, go and those who don't choose what they want.

It seems that if we choose ERA we will lose that very important right. They say they will put women in safe jobs, but in war just how safe is it behind the lines?

As women we will have to stand on our own two feet and fight our own right to choose.

I find it a shame that women don't appreciate being women, it's a God given right to be a woman. And to do men's work just for the high pay is indeed absurd. I would rather take less pay and do women's work than to do men's and suffer for it in later life. But for such jobs as secretary etc. then I believe in equal pay. If you go into the armed forces and you find it's a mistake you can't quit it for another job.

Someday President Carter may live to regret the draft of women. I don't believe that he is thinking of his own daughter and how she might feel about it when she becomes of age.

If you want the right to choose in the future I suggest that you write to your Congressman and Senators. Let's hear it for the right to choose!

Name Withheld by Request

Dear Sir:

A major drive is now under way to enact a national sales tax-the value-added tax-which has the support of the chairman of both congressional tax-writing committees. This tax is a long time favorite of those who want to lighten the burden of federal income taxes on corporations and wealthy individuals at the expense of taxpayers whose incomes are more modest.

Local 334 of the ILGWU opposes the value-added tax which is simply a national sales tax hidden under another name.

Rep. Al Ullman (D-Oreg.), Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has proposed a national VAT of 5% on purchases of food, housing and medical care and 10% on all other goods and services.

The impact of such an increase, when inflation levels are already at their highest point in U.S. history, would be devastating.

The committee is expected to act on the bill early in 1980. Local 334 urges other residents of Garrett County to let your senators and other representatives in Washington know how you feel.

Yours truly,
Local 334
Deer Park, Md.
Leona Fike, Secy.

Sir:

Last month our County Commissioners discovered Dick Nace had pulled a fast one on the County. When the County's computer prints payroll checks for County employees, it also prints checks for Sanitary Commission employees. Nace wasn't supplying money to the County to cover the checks. He spent the money elsewhere. The Sanitary Commission was broke.

Read this paragraph twice: $37,600 was found to pay the county. It was money owed the county for other reasons. The Sanitary Commission paid this money back to the County Commissioners, who gave it back to the Sanitary Commission, who kept part of it, returning the remainder to the County Commissioners as part restitution for the computer caper. Read again.

Got it? Our County Commissioners blew it, caved in to the Sanitary Commissioners, wasting desperately needed county money to rescue the bungling Sanitary Commission from bankruptcy. Bankrupts saving bankrupts from bankruptcy. For how long until next time?

One simple legal action can tip the Sanitary Commission into bankruptcy. That action will prove their water rates and borrowing are illegal because they stupidly abolished Sanitary District No. 1. No squirming by Dick Nace and Jack Turney can prove otherwise. Over a million and a half dollars of Sanitary Commission debts will be dumped onto the County Commissioners and then onto the taxpayers.

Our County Commissioners can avert this calamity by assuming strict control over the Sanitary Commission, a moratorium on their borrowing and projects until solvent, send Nace and his staff on a ten-year vacation.

Do you mind a suggestion, Mr. Editor? Would your office call 334-3917, mornings and afternoons the next several days, asking which County Commissioners are there? Then give us your results?

Joseph B. Bowen

Dear Sir:

I have a son in Kindergarten. Last week, he brought home a newsletter from the teacher.

It says, during February they will be learning the letters of the alphabet. Fine, they've been working on them since school began.

It also included a sheet showing the correct way to make each letter and asks the parents to work with the child and see that they make them correctly, etc.

This is OK too, as we have been doing this because my son is very enthused about school.

My gripe is, what is the teacher being paid to do? I never learned any of that until first grade and then the teacher taught it all.

It seems to me that Kindergarten teachers are no more than glorified babysitters!

Unless they earn their pay, why does the Board of Education keep them on?

A Concerned Taxpayer and Parent

Dear Editor:

As we all remember, one of the main issues during the last campaign for the county commissioner's office was the elimination of the courthouse lawn and the defacement of the building itself.

At that time, the editorials in THE REPUBLICAN said to let bygones be in the past, look to the future instead, and quit saying "I told you so" in regard to the county's costs of this project.

Paraphrasing, the trio you defended created to some extent the financial difficulties faced by the present trio of commissioners.

In the February 6, 1980, issue of the same paper appears an editorial written around the theme of "I told you so."

A hypocrite, in my definition, is one who does the very thing for which he criticizes another for doing.

Sincerely,
Michael E. Martin
Swanton

Dear Mr. Martin,

Your definition of a hypocrite is correct. However, I don't recall making any of the points that you say I did in previous editorials.

Editor

Dear Editor:

The people of Garrett County have sure become passive to let their electric bills continue to rise at outrageous rates and take a back seat to it all. Our electric bills are going up 12%! It's hard to believe that in an area where coal is in abundance one must pay such notorious prices to use it to generate electric. I, for one, go for at least one week each winter and several other days without electricity. Who picks up the tab for my frozen water pipes, doctor bills, etc? And when you call on their one line a man from Hagerstown answers. Last year I had the operator assist me and the phone had been taken off the hook! Mad! You bet I was.

How many of you have small children and must stay home all day? How about our Senior Citizens? Our salaries aren't comparable to the rest of Maryland! Many of us fit into an area that cannot receive help from federal assistance and yet aren't making it on our income.

It's time the citizens of Garrett County wrote to Mr. Hamilton or Potomac Edison in protest. Move those meetings up here and in the evenings when the working class can attend. It's bad enough that we, the people of this county, voted Mr. Hamilton out as commissioner only to get him appointed to raise our electric bills.

West Virginia took off the fuel adjustment making it illegal, why can't Maryland?

As long as we take a back seat, don't blame the electric company when they continue to charge outrageous prices. We, the citizens can't do it alone though, we do need legislative help. Our phones never go out; how come the electric does? Our phone bills are fair; why not electric?

Lynne Dusic

Dear Sir:

Thanks for the excellent article by Kathy Bailey on our snowmobiling problems. Where are the development, planning and business promotion people in this issue and the Property owners' association since many of the lake properties are involved?

I personally have called attention to all the proper people for many years of the overrunning of my personal property by snowmobilers, motorcyclists, mini-bikers and dog owners. I had nothing but smiles for my efforts.

We are in need of more employment, business and income year around in this area. Do the proper people hibernate from November to May? I am told the "big business people" get enough business from the "summer people" and they don't need or want so much business all year.

Our county is in dire need of more income. Why have not the Promotion Council, the Development Corp., Zoning and Planning Commissions done anything about developing the snowmobilers business or skating, with all the ice we have here? As a winter resort area, other than skiing, nothing much is promoted.

Is the only thing we can think of tax assessments? You have many retired, poor and unemployed people here! Is tax assessment all there is?

Is it past time all the business people, all the councils, all the commissioners, all the associations, think in terms of capitalizing on our great year around resort area business potential?

We are not doing so now and whenever have.

Thank God for "Sno Track" and "Bill Glitz". Maybe, just maybe Bill will wake up the sleeping giant "Garrett County's Winter Tourist" potential. Could he have had that in mind?

Hang in there Bolden and Gregg! Many are with you!

Thanking you sincerely,
Citizen

Dear Editor:

This letter is concerning your story last Wednesday, February 6, about the County Commissioners borrowing money to meet its payroll.

To begin with, the headline was misleading. The Commissioners did borrow $500,000, but it was not all for teachers' salaries. The total salary package for classroom teachers for a month totals approximately $237,560.00. This is a far cry from the $500,000 mentioned in your headline.

Teachers, bus drivers, janitors, administrators, etc., were all paid from this loan. Why were only teachers mentioned in the headline? It makes it seem like the teachers are responsible for a large portion of the budgetary problems of the County Commissioners.

Next time, we suggest you check your figures before you make a statement about a certain large group of people.

Garrett County
Federation of Teachers
Name Withheld

Dear Federation,

The story to which you refer in no way implies that teachers are responsible for a large portion of the county's budgetary problems. The story also contained no inaccurate figures.

On the contrary, this newspaper has always been extremely supportive of school teachers through several editorials over the past few years. The editorial last week made it quite clear as to where we feel the county's financial problems originated.

Editor

Dear Sir:

On February 6, the Mountain Top Ministerial Association met with the Administration and a member of the Board of Governors of Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The purpose of the meeting was to inform the members of the Ministerial Association of the progress of the building and renovation project. We were shown a general overall plan of the expansion along with the proposed financial arrangements to fund the project. The Association was impressed with the overall scope of the plans and particularly the effort to bring various patient care service departments into better logistical position.

We learned that financing for the project will be through the sale of General Obligation Bonds, which will be on the Primary ballot of May 13, 1980. The Association learned of the unanimous backing of our County Commissioners for the project and this means of financing. We too support this cost-saving means of funding the construction costs. Therefore, a resolution was passed at the meeting which expressed the Association's full support of these plans, encouraging public endorsement on May 13.

The Hospital's Board of Governors openly expressed their desire to speak to groups and individuals concerning these plans. We recommend that all citizens make available to themselves the facts as presented by the Board of Governors and the Hospital Administration prior to the May 13 ballot.

Yours truly,

Snow And Ice Cause Several Auto Accidents

Maryland State Police, McHenry, responded to several recent injury-related accidents, along with county rescue squads.

Three persons were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a two-car head-on collision Sunday.

Frank Leonard Wilkins, 46, Chief of Police in Grantsville, was treated and released, and Edward Mason Roszell, 18, Oakland and Gary A. Beckman, 18, Mt. Lake Park, were admitted for injuries sustained in the accident.

The accident occurred at 12:55 a.m. on U. S. Route 219, 1 mile south of Sand Flat Road, when a southbound vehicle driven by Roszell began spinning on ice while going uphill, skidded across the center line and struck the northbound vehicle driven by Wilkins, head-on. Chief Wilkins was on duty at the time, using his personal vehicle as a police cruiser. The car operated by Roszell flipped around upon impact.

Garrett County Central Alarm handled communications as Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad sent two ambulances to the scene. The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded. First aid was administered by police officers and ambulance personnel. All three were transported to Garrett Memorial Hospital where Roszell remains in "satisfactory" condition. Beckman, a passenger in the vehicle, was treated, admitted and released.

Tic. W. W. Rice investigated the accident and reported conditions were icy and the roads were snow-covered. Roszell was charged with failure to drive right of center.

Roszell was operating a 1969 Rambler 290 and Chief Wilkins was driving a 1976 Chevy Nova. Both vehicles were totaled in the mishap.

A separate incident involving three injuries occurred Saturday, February 2 at 4:55 p.m. A vehicle driven by Kenneth Lester Crocco, 26, Oakland, was proceeding south on Herrington Manor Road. The vehicle had just topped a hill when the operator observed a disabled vehicle blocking the southbound lane. To avoid striking the disabled vehicle, Crocco swerved to the left, went into a skid, ran off the left side of the road and struck a tree, coming to rest 60 feet south of Leighton Drive.

Passengers in the car were Iva Crocco, 23, Erick Crocco, 2, and Angela Crocco, 5, all of Oakland. The Crocco family was reportedly taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by a private citizen, where Iva, Erick and Angela were treated and released.

The 1976 Ford F100 was disabled, suffering front damage.

A 15-year-old juvenile was charged with driving without a license and general misuse of the roadway, resulting from a mishap last Saturday at the intersection of Md. Route 135 and Sand Flat Road. The youth is scheduled to appear in court.

At 6:50 p.m. a tractor-trailer driven by Lewis Manuel Centuriaux, 39, Philipsburg, Pa., was eastbound on Route 135, and the car operated by the Deer Park juvenile was stopped northbound on Boiling Springs Road. The youth pulled into the intersection failing to yield right of way and was struck broadside by the truck. The juvenile was apparently injured slightly.

James Bond, 30, Philipsburg, Pa., was a passenger in the tractor-trailer which is owned by ATR Inc., Philipsburg. The truck was damaged in the front right and rear portions.

The juvenile was operating a 1972 Ford LTD which was disabled in the mishap and damaged in the left rear and left side. A separate mishap last Friday left one person slightly injured.

The accident occurred at the intersection of U. S. Route 219 and Bumble Bee Road at 12:55 p.m. Patricia Ann Lowdermilk, 18, Friendsville, was northbound on U. S. 219 attempting to make a left turn onto a spur to Old U. S. 219, when a car driven by Chris Edward Ratliff, 18, Mt. Lake Park, also northbound on U. S. 219, attempted to pass Ms. Lowdermilk, striking her vehicle. The car operated by Ratliff continued on striking the guardrails and going over them before coming to rest.

Ms. Lowdermilk was apparently injured slightly. Timothy Allen Kitzmiller, 18, Oakland, was a passenger in the Ratliff vehicle and no other injuries were suspected.

Investigating officer of the Maryland State Police reported that Ratliff had been drinking, but he refused a breathalyzer test. He was charged with driving while intoxicated and passing on the left without clear visibility of the situation. His vehicle, a 1979 Ford F-100, was disabled and damage was done to the undercarriage, front and right front portions.

No injuries were reported in a separate head-on collision yesterday at 9:50 a.m.

The mishap occurred on U. S. Route 219, 220 feet north of Lake Shore Drive at the entrance of the Deep Creek Bridge. A vehicle driven by Lillian Roberta Mitchell, 41, Oakland, was proceeding north on U. S. Route 219 and a truck driven by Michael N. Dixon, 23, Terra Alta, W. Va., was travelling south. State Police reported Ms. Mitchell failed to keep right of center and collided with the Dixon vehicle head-on.

Ms. Mitchell stated that she observed the southbound truck on the bridge and attempted to stop. When she applied her brakes the car reportedly went into a skid, crossed the center line and struck the on-coming vehicle as it left the bridge.

Passengers in the Mitchell vehicle were Susan Mitchell, 15, and Patrick Mitchell, 11, both of Oakland. There were no injuries.

Ms. Mitchell was charged with failure to drive on the right side of the roadway. Both her 1975 Jeep Wagoneer and the 1979 International 2500, owned by Giotfely Lumber Company, Oakland, suffered front damage.

One adult and three juveniles were arrested by Sgt. Graham, Maryland State Police, McHenry, last week in connection with two offenses.

Last Thursday Wilmer Margraff, Accident, reported a theft of gasoline from a school bus belonging to him. Upon investigation Ronnie Reed Miner, 18, and two juveniles were arrested in connection with the crime, following investigation.

Woman Injured In Collision Of Car, Tractor

Margaret "Peggy" DiSimone, 47, of RD 1, Box 37, Oakland, was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital in "satisfactory" condition yesterday following an accident at 2:15 p.m., on the Underwood Road, south of Oakland.

State Police said Mrs. DiSimone was headed north when her vehicle skidded, crossed the center line and struck a tractor pulling a wagon, driven by Noah Peachy, RD 1, Oakland. The vehicles struck head-on. Mr. Peachy was uninjured.

Garrett Central Alarm dispatched the Southern Rescue Squad and the Oakland Fire Department to the scene. Squad personnel used the Hurst tool to remove Mrs. DiSimone from behind the steering wheel. She reportedly suffered an upper leg fracture.

Mrs. DiSimone was on her way to the hospital when the accident occurred. She was going to visit her mother, who ironically had been transported to Garrett Memorial earlier in the day by Southern Rescue.

State Police are investigating the incident. No charges have been filed.

Reward Raised To $1000 In Log Skidder Larceny

A $500 reward offered for information leading to the recovery of a stolen 1975 Franklin log skidder and the apprehension and conviction of the persons responsible for the theft, has been raised to $1000.

The larceny, which occurred two weeks ago, is still under investigation by Tfe. William Rice and Tfe. Charles Hinnant, Maryland State Police, McHenry. The machinery, owned by Eugene Hanlin, of Keyser, was stolen two weeks ago from property owned by Potomac Lumber Company near Kitzmiller.

One lead that the officers have is that the skidder may have been hauled away on a 20-foot, red flatbed truck. It was taken sometime between 10 p.m., January 27, and 6:45 a.m., January 28.

Persons having any information concerning the case are asked to notify State Police officials at 387-5511.

Mt. Lake Park Woman Guilty In Check Case

Catherine Patricia Halterman, 306 Allegany Drive, Mt. Lake Park, pled guilty to 13 charges of writing bad checks in Garrett County District Court last week. Presiding Judge Lewis R. Jones ordered a pre-sentence investigation of the defendant.

Checks written in Garrett County were to Stuart's Store, Swanton, for $33.97; The Shoe Horn, Oakland, for $17.84; the T-Shirt Shack, Oakland, for $67.69; Proudfoot's Oakland Pharmacy for $62.47; Davidson's Army-Navy Store, Oakland, for $45.55; Dee Ann's Dress Shop, Oakland, for $85.05; Rudy's Department Store, Oakland, for $132.83; Clayton's, Oakland, for $115.05; Englander's Pharmacy, Inc., Oakland, for $35.47; Miller's Market, Oakland, for $36.43; Sandy's Levis and Lace, Oakland, for $115.19; Shaffer Ford, Inc., Oakland, for $130; and Heck's Shopping Center, Oakland, for $5.03 and $11.78, totaling $914.35 in checks written on a closed account. Checks were written to obtain goods, services and cash.

A fugitive warrant from Mineral County, W. Va., was presented at the trial by Deputy David L. Crossland and Deputy Charles P. Nolan, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, indicating that the felon is to be transported to that county, following proceedings in Garrett County, for similar charges.

Ms. Halterman was sentenced to 13 concurrent 90-day jail terms in the Allegany County Jail after pleading guilty to writing $740 in bad checks in Allegany County. That sentence was suspended Monday in Allegany County District Court. The Mt. Lake Park woman has written an estimated $3,000 worth of useless checks in various counties during the past several months. She was arrested in Garrett County by Deputy D. W. Tucker on December 11 and bail was set at $250.

Three persons were brought before Judge L. R. Jones for sentencing last week, following pre-sentence investigations.

William George Utis, Frostburg, who was found guilty of battery charges filed by Geraldine C. Utis, Frostburg, resulting from an August 1 incident, was sentenced to 60 days in jail, resulting from a pre-sentence investigation. The sentence was suspended by Judge Jones, and the accused was placed on 24 months supervised probation.

Donna Lee Hay, Salisbury, was found guilty of theft at a December 10 trial involving her part in aiding a juvenile in the November 10 theft of the Pizza Den in Grantsville. Ms. Hay had reportedly driven the youth to and from the scene of the crime, and had held $450 for the juvenile, knowing it had been stolen. Tfe. C. H. Hinnant, Maryland State Police, filed the charge, adding that the defendant readily admitted her part and cooperated in his investigation of the case.

Following the pre-sentence investigation, the sentence was changed to probation before judgement. Ms. Hay was placed on supervised probation for 24 months.

Elmer Roy Lee, Jr., Bloomington, was convicted of assault and battery charges filed by Leora Taylor, Oakland, resulting from a November 9 incident at Joe's Place and the complainant's residence. Sgt. Roger Lewis, Oakland Police Department, was the arresting officer in the case. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and Lee was sentenced to 3 months in jail, consecutive to a previous District Court suspended jail sentence, and a $100 fine. The jail sentence was suspended and the defendant was ordered to pay the fine and was placed on 24 months supervised probation.

Six other cases were tried in District Court last week. William Lee Guthrie, Oakland, was charged with unlawful possession of a controlled dangerous substance and possession of controlled paraphernalia by Cpl. Larry E. Gnegy, Oakland Police Department. The case was declared Nolle Prosequi by State's Attorney James L. Sherbin.

In a separate case, Larry William Kifer, Oakland, pled guilty to theft charges filed by Hobart Shillingburg, Chief of Police, Oakland, in connection with a December 31 auto theft. Kifer reportedly stole a 1979 Ford Futura, belonging to James E. Reckart, Oakland, valued between $300 and $500. The vehicle was stolen from Shaffer Ford Sales, Oakland, where it had been left for repairs. The value of the automobile was apparently reduced when it was found damaged after the defendant allegedly struck a deer. Damage to the vehicle was reportedly $1,000.

A charge of malicious destruction of the property of another was also filed and was declared Nolle Prosequi by the State's Attorney, due to insufficient evidence.

The defendant was apprehended by a W. Va. deputy in Grantsville, and was arrested by Chief Shillingburg on February 2. Bail was set at $2500.

Kifer was sentenced to five years in jail, receiving 34 days credit for time awaiting trial. The jail sentence was suspended when an opening became available at the Massey Unit at Finan Center. The accused was ordered by the court to accept treatment and restrictions at Finan Center. He was placed on 36 months supervised probation.

Arthur Junior Rounds and Charles L. Wilt, both of Grantsville, were found not guilty of theft charges filed by Tfe. Carl D. Skidmore, Maryland State Police, McHenry, resulting from an allegedly December 22 incident in the theft of four pigs.

Thomas Edward Bowman, Crelina, charged with a November 23 theft of a shotgun by arresting officer Deputy Martin Van Evans, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, failed to appear in court last week. Bowman was arrested on December 27, bail was set at $2500 and later reduced to $1000. He was apparently released on bond. A bench warrant was issued by the court.

FFA Officers Meet Governor At Conference

Officers of the North Garrett and Oakland chapters of the Future Farmers of America were in Annapolis February 5-6 to meet with Governor Harry Hughes for the FFA Chapter Presidents' Conference.

Lakers Suffer Losses To Catonsville And Essex

by Todd Liller

Garrett's most recent trip downstate was not a successful one as the Community College Lakers dropped two tough contests. They lost to Catonsville 80-75 in overtime Friday and 87-80 to Essex Saturday.

The Lakers rolled to a 37-28 halftime lead against Catonsville before the Cardinals battled back to tie the score at 68 at the end of regulation.

Charles Green's 26 points paced five Cardinals in double figures. Reggie Green and Boris Cheek had 17 each, while Cedric Davis and Dan Webster added 10 points apiece.

Garrett's skywalker, Charles Sawyer, emerged the game's top point producer with 28. Steve Liller added 19 and Clint Bradley 14.

The loss snapped the Lakers' three-game winning streak and dropped their record to 10-13.

Against Essex, the Lakers got 72 points from Steve Liller, Charles Sawyer, and George Hodge, but it wasn't enough as Garrett's record slipped to 10-14.

Garrett outscored Essex 15-2 in the final five minutes of the first half to take a 40-37 halftime lead.

Essex sizzled in the second half, though, as Danny Kable, who led the winners with 23 points, led the Essex comeback. Jeff Wise, who netted 18 points, sealed the Lakers' fate by hitting six of six foul shots late in the game.

Liller twirled the twine for 30 points, while Hodge and Sawyer, teammates at Bladensburg High two years ago, added 23 and 19 respectively.

Garrett hosts arch-rival ACC of Cumberland tonight at 8:00.

Lakers Rebound With Convincing Win Over Fayette

Steve Liller scored 33 points, his second straight game over the 30 point barrier, to lead the Garrett Lakers to an easy 91-64 win over Penn State-Fayette Monday night in Uniontown. The Lakers are now 11-14 for the season.

Liller, who hit for 30 points Saturday against Essex, bombed 13 field goals and a perfect seven of seven from the foul line; 25 of his points came in the second half when the Lakers outscored the Marquis 56-36. He also added 10 assists and seven steals to his sparkling performance.

Charles Sawyer added 23 for the Lakers, who hit 24 of 32 shots in the second half.

George Hodge turned in perhaps his best effort all year as he netted 17 points and pulled 17 rebounds. Jerome Hampton added 10 points and 10 rebounds.

Rams Nipped By Spartans, Sweep Flintstone Aggies

By Todd Liller

Ricardo Hunter netted 16 of his game high 28 points in the third period to lead a Bishop Walsh comeback that rocketed the Spartans to a 61-59 win over the Southern Rams Friday in Oakland.

Southern led 38-25 at halftime, but a pressure defense and Hunter's outstanding play helped the Spartans outscore the Rams 25-10 in the third period.

Hunter, a 6-4 junior, had 10 field goals and a perfect eight of eight at the foul line. Teammate Dorsey Thomas meshed 15 points, while Jody Latimer came off Coach Joe Carter's bench to net 11.

Southern, which outgained the Spartans 25-23, was led by Jeff Ryscavage's 21 points. Pro Selders and Dave Hershman added 10 each.

The game was decided at the foul line. Bishop Walsh converted 15 of 19 foul shots, while Southern managed only nine of 16.

STOP AGGIES, 63-51

The Southern Rams rebounded last evening with a 63-51 victory over Flintstone on the Aggie floor. The win gave Southern a sweep of the season series between the two schools.

Jeff Ryscavage once again led the Rams attack, hitting 16 field goals and two from the line for a total of 34 points. Brian Selders also reached double figures for the winners, netting

Legislative Aid To

by Kathy Bailey

A decision should be reached within the next few weeks by the House Ways and Means Committee regarding the recommendation to the state of a bill designed by Scott Geare, Oakland. The bill was introduced by Del. DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany-Garrett) and was presented before the committee at a January 24 hearing. If passed, it will enable volunteer workers in health care and emergency service organizations to receive compensation for their time and efforts through the state tax structure. Volunteer workers would be able to deduct up to $2,000 from their gross income in an attempt to alleviate individual tax burdens by lowering tax liability. Deductions would be determined by the amount of time put into volunteer work, times the value of the work, usually minimum wage. If a volunteer worked enough hours to reach the $2,000 gross income adjustment, his total estimated savings in taxes would range from $50 to $100 per year.

Geare, though not a volunteer himself, has for many years been sympathetic to the problems of volunteer and charitable organizations and feels they "not only perform a valuable service to the beneficiaries of their action, but also are the stuff and substance of a society that achieves its vitality because we take care of ourselves, through volunteer charitable organizations."

During a recent interview Geare revealed many aspects that went into the creation of his resolution, perhaps the most important being concern for the declining number of volunteer workers in many local state-wide organizations. One example of this problem was revealed when Del. Bolden pointed out in his own testimony for the bill that the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department has a paper status of 45 members and the group had planned to raise that figure to 55. However, actual membership of the Fire Department is 39, Bolden said.

Geare feels that this loss of volunteers is primarily due to inflation. He said in his testimony, "The cost of living is pushing people out of the voluntary labor force into the paid labor force." People have to take on extra jobs to be able to afford to live, he said. Geare feels that, by providing some compensation for time, people will perhaps be more eager to give time, which is so precious today, to volunteer efforts. "Our communities depend on these volunteer organizations for the delivery of essential community services, and they've got to be protected in some way," Geare said.

He is concerned with the needed appreciation of volunteer workers, and this bill would enable the public to say "thank you" in a small, but meaningful way. Bolden and Geare brought another good point to light, which that many volunteers today have rigid training requirements to meet which place considerable additional demands upon leisure time. Geare feels that these people should be given some "valid, measurable recognition" by the government. He also noted that we would be faced with a larger expense if the bill is not passed, as large amounts of revenue are needed for some volunteer training programs and that money is lost once we lose a volunteer.

But most significant, Geare said in his testimony, is "the loss of valuable community and social services... (which) must now be provided either by a profit-making enterprise or else by government. Either way, something which was once funded at low cost must be provided at a considerable expense." He added that many organizations "are very hard-pressed for reliable volunteer help. If you actually paid someone, this would be in violation of the volunteer spirit, but if you're working through the tax system, all you're doing is applying the same technique to volunteerism that the government applies to other things which are considered to be socially desirable."

Geare feels that his recognition of volunteers is directly related to a "spirit" in Garrett County. He said, "the kind of people who live up here, compared to the people in the rest of the state... exhibit the sort of spirit and self-reliance that I think is at the core and heart of the American way, so to speak, and that here, of all places, we really do rely on volunteers. They are an essential part of our life."

The idea first crystallized during a June, 1979 conversation between Geare and Del. Bolden. Bolden was interested in the idea and encouraged Geare to write a formal letter clearly stating the bill. When the Oakland man was notified of the hearing, having never had experience in the legislature, he obtained a list of the heads of various organizations and contacted such groups as the American Hospital Association, United Way, Associated Charities of the Catholic Church, Diocese of Maryland of the Episcopal Church, House of Hope, various other churches, fire departments, rescue squads, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, League of Women Voters, Business and Professional Women, Homemakers, Maryland Health Care Facilities Association, and others, seeking support and advice in the matter of the hearing. He also wrote to state legislators asking for their support of the bill.

Geare said, "people were marvelous," enthusiastic and supportive, providing him with "plenty of advice as to how the legislature works, and some of these people showed up at the hearing." Geare is grateful to this organizational and individual support, adding that, "The bill may never pass, but it won't be because of lack of interest by the folks I've talked to."

Both Geare and Bolden feel that the hearing went very well, receiving no negative testimony. "No one came to the hearing for the specific purpose of testifying against the bill," Geare said.

Senator Edward Mason (R-Allegany-Garrett) is planning to introduce the bill on the Senate side. Geare said it will have some added "credibility" in the Senate, as Senator Mason is a member of the committee which will hear the bill. The committee action, he added, is a "strong indication as to how the House of Delegates or the Senate as a whole can be expected to

Tax Assistance Offered Locally

"Western Maryland residents will be glad to know that courteous and trained tax experts will be visiting their region very soon to offer local taxpayer assistance free of charge," State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has announced.

Tax officials from the Maryland Income Tax Division will offer a wide range of taxpayer assistance Tuesday, February 19, at the Oakland Courthouse and Wednesday, February 20, at the Westernport City Building.

Assistance will be offered from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

"Our tax experts will answer any questions, and provide all the necessary forms," Mr. Goldstein added. "They'll even complete your Maryland income tax return free of charge, if you like. All you have to do is bring a completed copy of your federal return and all necessary W-2 statements."

Mr. Goldstein also reminded retired and disabled taxpayers that the Maryland General Assembly is considering emergency legislation which may benefit them this year.

"Those retired or disabled taxpayers who received taxable pensions of less than $5,700 during 1979 have a choice of either filing their returns immediately and then filing an amended return if the legislation passes, or they may wait to see what action is taken by the General Assembly," Mr. Goldstein said.

"In either case, returns must be filed by April 15th, the filing deadline."

Volunteers

vote." Del. William Byrnes (D-Allegany-Garrett) has asked to co-sponsor the bill with Del. Bolden. The house Ways and Means Committee has not yet voted on the bill. Del. Bolden feels this is a good sign, as the committee has already voted unfavorably toward all of the other bills presented on January 24. The fact that the committee has taken no action on this bill indicates it is apparently worthy of consideration.

"It has been typical government practice to protect valued aspects of our society by some kind of preferential tax treatment," Gears said, adding that, "There is a precedent for this because there is already a deduction allowed for cash donations made to volunteer or charitable organizations, and for the value of volunteer expenses, travel time and so on, so that we can simply extend this to include the value of time that's put in."

Gears explained that "the enabling legislation for the bill is found in the existing tax laws of the state. What we propose to do is to repeal on Article 81, Revenues and Taxes, Section 280-C of the Annotated Code of Maryland and to re-enact it with an amendment. That particular article," he said, "speaks to the various adjustments to gross income which are allowed under the current tax law. What we'd do is re-write the law as it exists and just insert the wording" of this bill. "It is mechanically easy to do," he added.

If passed, the bill, designed for emergency and health care service volunteers, would be the first in the U. S. to recognize time value through the tax structure. Gears said "there seems to be a rising sentiment nationally that something has to be done about this overall charitable volunteer situation," and he added that, "There are a number of kindred bills now pending before various legislatures." He feels "we have to realize that this segment of our life has to be preserved," and he encourages Garrett Countians to write to Annapolis and to invite friends down-state to write in favor of the bill, hopefully creating a "wave of acclamation." "It's going to save us money," he said, "and it's going to make us a more viable and strong and healthy society."

Our volunteers are invaluable and indispensable, and in this day and age, one needs recognition for such devoted community service. Thanks to the thoughtfulness of Scott Gears and the interest of Del. DeCorsey Bolden and others, this type of recognition in the state of Maryland may be a part of our society's future.

Comptroller Says Taxpayers Using Wrong Envelope

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported today that several thousand state income taxpayers have used the wrong envelope to send in their Maryland income tax return, resulting in delays in processing and sending out refund checks.

"There are two envelopes included in the Maryland tax packet this year. The gray envelope in the center of the tax packet is pre-addressed to the State Income Tax Division, and should be used to send in your tax return," Mr. Goldstein said. "The other envelope included in the tax packet should be used to mail your Homeowners' Property Tax Credit Application directly to the Maryland Department of Assessments and Taxation, which administers the property tax credit program."

Despite the fact that the second envelope contains a warning not to use it to mail tax returns, several thousand taxpayers have mistakenly used it. It's a mistake that causes delays in receiving and processing the tax return and in issuing refund checks.

"When you are preparing to mail your Maryland income tax return, please be sure that you are using the gray envelope addressed to the State Income Tax Division," Mr. Goldstein said. "And don't forget to double check your calculations and sign your return."

The bodice had fitted sleeves and a sheer yoke of English knit, accented with lace madonnas. The A-line skirt fell to a lace hemline sweeping to a chapel train. A camelot headpiece of matching lace held an elbow length mantilla of lace edged with bridal illusion. She carried a cascading bouquet of fall colored silk and dried flowers with multi-colored streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Cathy Paugh, friend of the bride. She wore a rust colored A-line dress of lutesong knit, accented with spaghetti straps. Covering the shoulders of the gown, she wore a matching capelet of sheer multi-colored print.

Cheryl Flanagan, cousin of the groom, Donna Paugh and Jenny Holler, both friends of the bride, were bridesmaids. They each wore gowns matching that of the maid of honor in orange, rust, and yellow respectively. Each girl also wore a sheer capelet of sheer floral print matching her gown. They each carried baskets of fall colored silk and dried flowers with streamers matching their gowns. They also wore one silk flower in their hair.

Misty Sanders, niece of the groom, was flowergirl. She wore a yellow dress topped by a sheer floral print pinafore. She carried a basket of fall leaves. She wore a ringlet of yellow silk flowers in her hair. The gowns were made by Mrs. Pauline Savage, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Arlene Paugh, friend of the bride.

Best man was Denny Skeweris, cousin of the groom. Ushers were Alan Cvetnick, friend of the groom, Jim Bosley, also a friend of the groom, and Roger Glotfelty, Jr., brother of the bride. Ring-bearer was Brent Sanders, nephew of the groom. They all wore brown tuxedos with dark brown lapels and white shirts. They each also wore a yellow silk carnation.

The mother of the bride chose a dusty rose print dress, that was accented by an accordion street length skirt. She wore a silk rose corsage of fall colors. The mother of the groom chose a dark floral print street length dress of sheer material. She also wore a silk rose corsage of fall colors.

The guestbook was attended by Kellie Meyers, cousin of the bride. Birdseed packets were passed out by Becky Meyers, also cousin of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Oakland firehall. A buffet meal, prepared by the bride's mother and Janice Wolf, was served and an open bar was offered.

The wedding cake was designed of two cakes connected by a bridge on which figurines of the bride and groom were placed. It was then decorated with fall leaves and flowers. The cake was baked by Mrs. Forrest Sanders and served by Naomi Flanagan, aunt of the groom and Barbara Meyers, aunt of the bride.

Those attending the buffet tables were, Janice Wolf, Ben and Betty Pook, Cookie Sharpless, and Becky Glotfelty, all friends of the bride. Coffee and punch was served by Marilyn Glotfelty, aunt of the bride. Attending the bar was Joseph Wolf and Bennie Dean Pook.

When it gets too much

A President of the United States in the middle of a war that nobody liked turned to prayer. Abraham Lincoln explained simply that he had been driven to his knees many times by the knowledge that his own strength, and that of all around him, was insufficient.

Sometimes we have to pray! It gets too much.

And don't feel awkward if you're not used to it. Folks before you have found that life gets too much. They have been driven to their knees—and turned to God—believing there was something better ahead.

Your worst day could become your best! Why not check it out in church? What Abe Lincoln was driven to may be what your soul needs, hungers for.

When it gets too much—there's a better way ahead.

THE ADULTRESS

Lesson for February 17, 1980

Background Scripture:

John 8:1-20

Devotional Reading:

Isaiah 4:25-32

The scribes and the Pharisees knew their man all right. This Jesus of Nazareth betrayed a compassionate streak which they could use to catch him on the horns of a dilemma. At last, they had him where they wanted him: he would have to choose between love and law.

They would spring their trap with a woman caught in the act of adultery. This time, they were certain the Nazarene would not be able to escape their trap with a few clever words as he had before.

What Do You Say?

It is interesting to speculate on how the scribes and Pharisees knew where to find an adulterous woman. That would seem to be an area of knowledge lying beyond their official expertise. Nevertheless, they found and brought her to Jesus in the outer precincts of the temple. Notice how craftily they bait him: "Teach us, this woman has been caught in the act of adultery. Now in the law Moses commanded us to stone such. What do you say about her?" (8:5) Yes, they knew their man all right. But Jesus knew them even better than they knew him. He knew that they wanted only to trap him, embarrass him. He also knew that they were convinced that they had him trapped. So, he did not answer them immediately. Instead, he bent down and began to write with his finger upon the ground. What did he write? We will never know, but it is obvious that his silence only made them even more anxious and confident. They were certain that he did not know how to answer!

When the tension had reached what must have seemed a breaking point, Jesus stood and devastated them, not with an argument, nor a recitation of the law, but with a challenge: "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her" (8:8).

Jesus knew his adversaries far better than they knew him. He knew what was in their hearts. He knew them, not as exalted religious leaders, but as human beings who are no less dependent upon the mercy of God than the most despised sinner. And because he knew them, he had shared the same stones at another time.

Notice

Distinguished Scholar Attends GCC

Daniel J. Beiler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald M. Beiler, Accident, is a recipient of the Distinguished Scholar Award issued by the Maryland State Scholarship Board.

Mr. Beiler was chosen from a group of 800 outstanding students in Maryland and placed in a group of 100 finalists. These top 100 students have earned a grade point average of at least 3.70 on a 4.00 scale for work in high school grades 9, 10 and 11.

In being named among the 100 finalists, Beiler will receive a $500 grant for each of his undergraduate years, provided he maintains at least a 3.00 average in his college work. The grant may be applied at any post-secondary school in Maryland.

The Distinguished Scholar program was signed into law by Governor Blair Lee on May 29, 1978. Funds for the program are provided through the State's sale of special license tags.

At Garrett Community College, Mr. Beiler is enrolled in the general studies program, with a dual emphasis in maintenance technology and business. His career goal is to enter business with his father, who owns and operates Beiler Machine and Tool Works in Bittinger.

On Dean's List

Diane M. Negy, of 835 E. High Street, Oakland, was named to the Dean's List for the fall semester of the 1979-80 academic year at Frostburg State College.

Diane finished the first semester with a 3.6 grade point average. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale S. Negy.

Motor Vehicle Tag Fees Same As Previous Years

Maryland motorists, now being mailed their 1980 tag renewal applications, should remember that registration (tag) fees have not changed.

Though recent news accounts have mentioned a possible increase in passenger vehicle tag fees, none of the changes, if enacted, would take effect until at least July 1 of this year.

Tag fees for the current tag renewal period, therefore, are the same as previous years: $20.00 for passenger vehicles weighing up to 3700 pounds, $30.00 for passenger vehicles weighing 3700 pounds and more.

A motorist in doubt about which tag fee applies to his vehicle will find the correct vehicle weight and tag fee printed side-by-side on the front side of his tag renewal application.

Motorists with questions about their tag fee or other aspects of tag renewal should call the Motor Vehicle Administration's tag renewal information number . . . 768-1800.

Are your health records yours? In Maryland the answer, by law, is "no."

The Consumer Council of Maryland, an advisory body to the Attorney General's Office, in its recently released Study: Patient Access to Medical Records in the State of Maryland concluded there is a valid need for access and that neither Maryland law nor proposed Federal legislation address the problem.

"People with multiple problems, taking multiple, possibly interacting drugs, may be treated by specialists who have not seen a complete record, Stanley Kaufman, Chairman, stressed. The health care record is the missing link. The patient must rely on memory, not records, to provide information to new providers. Important facts or faulty information can be included in new records. Even efficient organizations, can make record keeping errors, names confused or papers added to the wrong file.

"With 9% of the gross national product spent on health care," Mr. Kaufman noted, "we are all becoming more aware of the need to take a responsible interest in our own care."

Copies of the Study, which includes the practices of 18 Maryland hospitals, provision for access in other states, proposed federal legislation and concerns raised by the medical profession are available from: The Consumer Council, 26 S. Calvert Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202.

Hours will be 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., at which time Oakland City volunteers may bring their collections to the bank, where volunteers will help in tallying the collections.

AN INFLATION QUIZ

The American Council of Life Insurance has prepared the following questions to help consumers become aware of their contribution towards inflation. I thought this information would be interesting for my readers and hopefully help us all do more to fight inflation.

1. TRUE or FALSE: If salaries and wages kept pace with inflation, nobody really gets hurt. Answer: False — Even if they kept pace, other forms of income such as private pension payments would not.

2. If your family's current income is 60% higher than 10 years ago, you are: a) ahead of inflation; b) keeping up with it; c) losing ground. Answer: Since prices have approximately doubled in the last 10 years, a 60% increase in current income would leave you well behind inflation.

3. Suppose you had placed $10,000 in a savings account 10 years ago at 5% interest and allowed it to accumulate. Would the money in the account today, savings plus interest, equal the purchasing power of the original $10,000 10 years ago? Answer: The average annual rate of inflation in the past 10 years has been 7 percent. Hence, a savings account that paid 5% interest would not keep pace with inflation so the purchasing power will decline.

4. At the current rate of inflation, how much will a person earning $20,000 today have to earn five years from now to stay even: a) $24,000; b) $28,000; c) $32,000; d) $36,000. Answer: The current rate of inflation is about 13 percent. Even without compounding, the rate of interest for five years would be 65 percent. This increase in a $20,000 income would make it $33,000 and taking into account the fact that the 13 percent applies to each year's higher income, the total five year income would make it larger — in this case, $36,000.

5. If the American people were to increase their savings, this would tend to a) increase the rate of inflation; b) check it; c) make no difference. Answer: Increased savings would tend to reduce consumer expenditures and thereby check inflation. In the long run, also, increased saving provides funds for capital investment which will increase productivity and thus help to limit inflation.

6. Government regulations inflate the cost of the average new car by about a) $200; b) $400; c) $600; d) $800. Answer: They inflate the cost of the average new car by about $600.

7. Which statement comes closest to expressing your views: a) Inflation is so built into our system that it can't be controlled; b) It can be controlled but will require a willingness to accept sacrifices from all of us; c) It can be controlled without making any sacrifices. Answer: The most constructive and realistic response is b) Any efforts to successful — reduce the inflation will mean that many of us will have to make sacrifices.

8. If policies to control inflation were to cause segments of our population to lose their jobs through no fault of their own, would you be: a) willing to share their burden by allowing increased unemployment benefits; b) not be willing. Answer: This question measures your response to one hard choice. If we are able to fight inflation, we must look for ways to share the burden equitably across all segments of our population.

Kermit in special

"Emmett Otter's Jug-Band Christmas," a one-hour musical comedy, will air on ABC. Kermit the Frog and starring an all-new cast of Muppet characters, will air on ABC during the 1980 Christmas season. The show will introduce a new group of Muppets who bear only a slight familial resemblance to their cousins on "The Muppet Show." The story is of a boy and his mother who find themselves facing a gloomy Christmas without money to buy presents.

Time & money lethargy
Michael Landon, star and producer of NBC's "Little House on the Prairie," thinks that the multi-million-dollar budgets of some of today's movies actually hurt the final product. "They have tons of money, so they take the time to do it right over and over," he says. "The result is a product that has more energy level than the same scene over and over."

NBC begins captioning

Five hours of NBC's prime-time programming will be captioned for hearing-impaired viewers. The programs selected for captioning on a regular basis are "Disney's Wonderful World," "The Tonight Show," "Night at the Movies," and "NBC Friday Night at the Movies." Beginning in March, NBC will supply videotape cassettes of the programs to the National Captioning Institute. The tapes will be returned to NBC. When the programs are transmitted to NBC affiliates, screens of television sets equipped with a purpose will receive the programs with subtitles, or "captions." Sets not so equipped will not be affected.

Two of the entertainment world's brightest stars, Goldie Hawn and Liza Minnelli, join in a sparkling musical variety show, "Goldie and Liza Together," to be aired Tuesday, Feb. 19, on CBS. The two-woman special is in the form of a show within a show, spotlighting song, dance and dramatic bits, with the two stars linked by the friendly rivalry and hard work involved in putting the special together.

Lee Remick, Colleen Dewhurst and Liza Minnelli have been signed to a "ABC Theatre" presentation of "The Women's Room," based on Marilyn French's best-selling novel about how the lives of the 1950s became the women of the 70s.

Adrienne's for ERA

Adrienne Barbeau (formerly of TV's "Maude") is an ardent supporter of the Equal Rights Amendment, who sees no conflict with the circulation of her current evening program, "The Adrienne Barbeau Show." "The amendment that says women can't be sexy," says Ms. Barbeau, who appeared in the recent NBC movie, "Valentine's Day on Love Island."

Curse still at work

Is the legendary curse of King Tut that says disaster befalls all those who tamper with the tomb of the pharaoh? The company of "The Curse of King Tut's Tomb" might wonder. Three days into the first week of production in Egypt, the show's stars, including Miss Saint, who was injured, but the car was totaled and McShane suffered a broken leg. Additionally, a rainstorm hit the show's production manager in England, was hospitalized for an operation, Patrick Drummond, an executive, was placed in intensive care, and the show was assigned to a serious automobile accident. Meanwhile, the company returned to England and the show's production manager, McShane's role was recast.

Florida series goes national
"Arthur & Company," a children's hit for over 10 years from WFTL in Miami, Fla., will become a national series this spring. A Florida-based production company will distribute the weekly half-hour program, which has aired since 1969. Combining puppets and people, "Arthur & Company" is designed for an audience of 3 to 12 years. It has won every major award including two from Action

State's '79 Jobless Rate Approximates National Figure

Maryland's unemployment rate was 5.9 percent for 1979, a bit above the national unemployment rate of 5.8 percent, the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Friday. In issuing State-wide average annual unemployment rates from the Current Population Survey, Alvin I. Margulis, the Bureau's Regional Commissioner noted that this was the first time since the start of this series in 1974, that the State rate matched or exceeded the unemployment rate for the nation as a whole.

The Current Population Survey also presents unemployment rates by racial group and these showed a substantial difference between black and white rates in Maryland. The rate for black workers last year was 12.2 percent in the State, nearly three times the white rate of 4.2 percent. Nationally, the black unemployment rate was 11.3 percent, or a bit more than double the 5.1 percent rate for white workers.

Comparisons between Maryland unemployment rates in 1979 and the prior year showed the total unemployment rate and the white rate higher, while the black rate declined a bit. However, the over the year changes were too small to be considered significant. Nationally, unemployment rates for both racial groups declined.

Among the ten largest states, employment rates for all workers ranged from 4.2 percent in Texas to 7.8 percent in Michigan last year. Michigan also had the highest rates for both white workers (6.5 percent) and black workers (16.3 percent) among the largest states.

Most neighboring states had higher total unemployment rates than Maryland including Delaware, where 8.0 percent were unemployed — the second highest rate in the nation; Pennsylvania, with a 6.9 percent rate; West Virginia, 6.7 percent; and the District of Columbia, 7.5 percent. Nearby states with lower rates were Virginia, 4.7 percent, and North Carolina, 4.8 percent.

On Dean's List

A senior at FSC, he is a business administration major. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Livengood, Grantsville.

Summer Job Program Being Offered By IWL

The opportunity to work in a National Forest, National Park, wildlife refuge or research laboratory is being offered to high school seniors graduating in 1980 through an Izaak Walton League recruitment program to promote the interest of young people in conservation careers. The program, which began in 1963, is presented in cooperation with the U. S. Department of the Interior and the U. S. Forest Service. In 1979, some 96 positions were filled by the program. Jobs offered to students include employment as fire and brush crews, survey teams, and lab assistants.

Applicants should be interested in a career in natural resources and conservation, have demonstrated potential for leadership and scholastic ability, must be in good health, and, in most instances, be physically capable of field work. In addition, candidates must be high school seniors expecting to graduate in 1980. The program requires that applicants be 18 years of age by June 15, 1980. Applicants are reminded that travel and housing are not paid for by the agencies or the League, and that extensive travel may be required.

Applications are being accepted by Izaak Walton League Divisions all across the country. Interested Maryland students must apply by February 28, 1980, to Bruce Larson, Summer Academy Way #8, Rockville, Employment Program, 12201 MD 20852.

Environmental Trust Endorsing Beverage Deposits

The Maryland Environmental Trust, in a recent published report, claims that major waste reduction, litter reduction, and natural resource conservation — would occur if Maryland required a deposit on beer and soda containers.

With deposit legislation, the report concludes:

1. In energy alone, Maryland could save $4.3 trillion BTU's per year — the equivalent of the energy it takes to heat 30,500 Maryland homes, at a value of $10.2 million yearly in 1976 prices.
2. Municipal solid waste could be reduced by at least 6% (by weight) in Maryland. This 173,000 ton reduction would save $2.6 million per year.
3. Maryland would probably save $2.5 million in litter pickup costs.

"For problems of litter alone, deposit legislation is the most workable solution we've seen," claims David Miller, Director of the Trust. "The Trust's Keep Maryland Beautiful program has been in operation since 1964. We could multiply the funding of this program ten times and still not affect litter, solid wastes, and energy consumption the way deposits on beverage containers would."

The Environmental Trust's 100-page report emphasizes the problems of energy consumption, solid waste management, and litter and presents in detail the programs in ten other states: the anti-litter tax on litter-producing firms in Washington, Virginia, California, Kentucky, Colorado, and Connecticut, and the mandatory deposit-refund systems for beverage containers operating in seven states, most notably in Michigan, Maine, Vermont, and Oregon.

The Maryland Environmental Trust has joined with 57 other groups in Maryland including the League of Women Voters, Maryland Farm Bureau, Maryland Municipal League, Common Cause of Maryland, Maryland Conservation Council, Maryland State Teachers Association, Environmental Law Committee of the Maryland State Bar Association, and other civic and environmental groups to support HB-309 by Delegate Winegrad and others, and SB-134 by Senator Clark. Both bills would require a minimum deposit on beverage containers.

K. King Burnett, Chairman of the Trust, in releasing the report noted that Maryland could save 4.3 trillion BTU's per year with a mandatory deposit-refund system, and that this total exceeds the total savings accomplished by the State Energy Conservation Program for right-turn on red, the 55 mph speed limit, State purchase of

Smoke-Out

To discourage smoking, the student council has begun a campaign to emphasize the dangers involved. Each homeroom is encouraged to make a poster which will be judged on neatness, originality, color and trayal.

Toward the end of the campaign, fireballs will be handed out to suggest that if one needs a fire in his mouth, it should be a fireball instead of a cigarette.

Can Collection
A committee was formed in Student Council to organize a can collection to contribute money to the March of Dimes. Members are, Carol Wenger, Donna Davis, Chris Ferree, Diane Beiler, Kathy Carr, and Louise Springman.

Open Letter To The Energy Consuming Public

February 10, 1980

Dear Consumer,

Do you know that there is no energy shortage in this country? Just an oil shortage. Do you know that the production of coal in Maryland decreased almost 25% in 1979? Do you know that we have seventy-one (71) power plants in the Northeast United States that could be converted back from oil to coal almost immediately, and save importing over ONE MILLION BARRELS OF MIDDLE EAST OIL EVERY DAY?

When you drive up to the gasoline pumps and find that the price has risen another ten cents, and that you are paying a dollar per gallon for heating oil, don't blame it all on the oil companies. Put the blame where it really belongs—on the ENVIRONMENTALISTS—many of whom work for the state of Maryland or the Federal Government and most of whom are OVERPAID AND UNDERWORKED. All they can think of are ways in which to curtail or hinder industry to the point of which they cannot produce their product without raising the prices more every month.

Do you know that Germany made 75% of her gasoline and oil from COAL during World War II? Today after SIX YEARS of talking and making studies and giving federal grants, we are not making any gas or oil from COAL. We have in this country, UNLIMITED AMOUNTS OF COAL, the technology, and the ability to make the USA completely independent of foreign imported oil, WITHIN THE NEXT FIVE YEARS. Why then are the elected representatives of the country not pushing to undertake this method of extracting oil and gasoline?

Do you know that Congress enacts a law and the President signs it, comprising TEN PAGES. They in turn give it to the OVERPAID BUREAUCRATS who turn it into 700 PAGES of regulations no one can understand? These are the people who have done away with over TWO MILLION INDUSTRIAL JOBS in the name of environmental control, and allowed foreign materials to take over considerable amounts of our markets, that we can ill afford to lose.

If you are sick and tired of being ripped off, please take time to write to one or all of your elected representatives listed below.

REMEMBER WE HAVE A 500 YEAR SUPPLY OF COAL IN THE UNITED STATES.

Maryland-Delaware Vegetable Production Down Three Percent

Combined Maryland and Delaware acreage of vegetables and melons harvested in 1979 totaled 80,180 acres, 4,180 less than 1978, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop

Reporting Service. Total production of these commodities in the two States was 263,139 tons, down three percent from 1978. Value of the two-State production, at 35.1 million dollars, was two percent more than the comparable value for 1978.

Production of the six principal fresh market crops in Maryland during 1979 (excluding asparagus and spinach) totaled 913,000 hundredweight from 9,280 acres. Both figures are down from 1978. Value of the fresh market crop was 9.4 million dollars, 32 percent more than 1978.

Production of the eight principal vegetable crops for processing in 1979 totaled 147,639 tons, five percent more than a year ago. The combined value of these crops was 15.4 million dollars, up six percent from 1978.

PET POINTERS

By Robert L. Stear, DVM
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

Owing a pet is one of the most enjoyable and rewarding experiences you can have. It's also a great responsibility. Many veterinarians and humane movement officials say there has been a decline in the sense of responsibility of some pet owners in recent years, which has contributed to the present pet animal population explosion. Across the country, thousands of dogs and cats suffer needlessly each year because of the problems associated with pet overpopulation. Some strays roam city streets in constant danger of being injured or underfed. And they're a public nuisance, besides.

Responsibility for care of this ever-increasing number of stray animals rests, to a large extent, with the community's humane society. To give these animals the best possible care, community humane organizations and their cooperating veterinarians work closely together. This cooperation results in a system for dealing with the total animal population that is practical and ethical as well as humane and medically sound.

Since most of the pets in a humane shelter have an unknown or incomplete health history, the humane shelter veterinarian sees that incoming animals are carefully examined for parasites, bodily defects or signs of infectious disease. The pets are vaccinated to assure future protection against the major dog or cat diseases. All adoptable dogs under one year of age are vaccinated for canine distemper, and all adoptable cats are vaccinated for feline distemper.

In well-managed shelters, pets are fed a balanced diet, kept clean and comfortable and isolated until examined. The progressive shelter tries to avoid an "assembly line" approach to handling the pets. This helps both the medical and non-medical staff to recognize individual diseases, and minimizes the opportunity for an infected animal to leave the shelter undetected.

Pets suitable for adoption are quickly identified and isolated from animals not ready for adoption. No sick dog or cat finds its way to the adoption ward. A healthy pet that develops signs of disease is promptly removed from the adoption ward to assure that the pet you bring home from the shelter will be a healthy one. Diseased and suffering dogs unable to enjoy life, are peacefully and painlessly put to sleep.

Since the American Humane Association maintains that surgical sterilization is the best solution to the pet overpopulation problem, many pets "adopted out" from a humane shelter are spayed or neutered as a requirement for adoption. For very young animals, there may be a waiting period of several weeks before the operation can be performed.

The community humane shelter and the veterinarian share a common purpose in preserving the life, health, and general well-being of animals of all kinds. Each has his special task in the field of animal welfare: the veterinarian diagnosing and prescribing the treatment; the humane shelter working for the protection, relief and comfort of the animals.

Kindness, benevolence and compassion are important aspects of the humane movement. But equally important are the animal health care aspects provided by the humane shelter veterinarian and his trained assistants.

AURORA-EGILON NEWS

A correction: The Aurora Homemakers will meet February 19 at 1:00 p.m. in the home of their president, Mrs. Maynard Lantz.

February 5 was the meeting date for the Eglon Homemakers at the Eglon Memorial Building, with Barbara Heckert and Mildred Wilt serving as co-hostesses.

Ms. Heckert read scripture from Matthew and Mrs. Wilt read a meditation based on Samuel 16:7. Ms. Heckert concluded the devotions with prayer.

"Why We Wear What We Wear" was presented by Mrs. Avenell Parsons assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Mary Rembold. The reasons for wearing clothing and some of the history of dress were given. Small groups decided on wardrobes to suit various activities and a display of shoes gave another idea on a method for planning an outfit.

The March lesson will be "Finding Our Roots" and Ardis Teets is the hostess on March 4.

The date for serving the Lions Club is April 17, coinciding with the Pat Leimbach appearance at Kingwood. Tours were announced. President Linda Lewis called attention to the 4-H tickets for beef, lamb and pork.

Mrs. Mary Rembold conducted the recreation and following that, everyone adjourned to the kitchen where they viewed the latch hook cushions and wall hanging on display. Refreshments of ice cream and birthday cake were had by the above mentioned and Lela Roth, Nina Layman, Mergil Fike, LaDeana Teets, Florence Minnig, Lillian Knotts, Rebecca Teets, Lorraine Fike, Lettie Bonner, and Jean Winters.

Union District Ambulance Association will be sponsoring classes for Emergency Medical Technicians to begin later this month. Persons interested in taking this training should contact Nancy Meddings at 735-5401 to make arrangements. Trained EMTs are needed.

Sheriff Reports Assault, Theft At High School

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department, Oakland, received two complaints of larceny, one reported assault, and three reports involving destruction of property last week. The Department made six arrests in the past week involving various charges.

Calvin Stinson, 19, Mt. Lake Park, was arrested last Wednesday in connection with a larceny complaint filed at the Sheriff's Office by John Sharpless, Mt. Lake Park. Sharpless stated that his gold Trans Am had been wrecked in October and was towed to 135 Amoco Station, Oakland. Upon returning to the vehicle at a later date, Sharpless learned that someone had removed a hatch-roof sun panel from his vehicle while it was parked at the station.

Sharpless informed the Sheriff's Department that he noticed a subject of Mt. Lake Park driving a red Trans Am with a sun panel identical to the one taken from the victim's car. The Sheriff's Office reported that, upon investigation and questioning, Stinson admitted to the theft.

He was arrested by Deputy Larry Gnevy and released on his own recognizance pending trial.

A theft occurred at Southern High School in the girls' gym locker room on February 1. A female juvenile reported that $48 had been removed from her purse while she was in gym class that morning. School officials interviewed several girls in the class with her. The Sheriff's Office reports that the case is still under investigation.

An assault reportedly occurred at Southern High School last Friday. A female juvenile stated that she was on her way to the Guidance office during the afternoon, when a male subject jumped from behind a stairwell, grabbed her wrist and reportedly struck her in the face with his fist. He then apparently struck her several more times in the face.

The subject was wearing a ring and put several deep scratches and bruises on the girl's face. The Sheriff's Office reported she was not hospitalized. The parents of the juvenile victim notified the Sheriff's Office when their daughter returned from school Friday.

The Crellin Assembly of God Church was vandalized sometime between Sunday and Wednesday of last week. Officials reported that unknown persons had kicked the basement door of the building, breaking the lower half. Nothing is known to have been taken. Loss value due to damage to the door is $30.

A similar incident occurred at Garfield Apartments on Mosser Road near Garrett Community College. Shawn Raudenbush reported that he and his room-mate had been away while the incident occurred. When they returned to the apartment February 4, they found that unknown persons had kicked the bottom of their door, breaking the door casing. Nothing was reported missing. Damage to the door is estimated at $65.

Eugene Helbig, Oakland, reported a destruction of property incident which occurred at his hunting camp on Oakland-Sang Run Road sometime during late January or early February. Helbig reported that someone had broken out 10 windows of his hunting cabin, using a blunt instrument. Entry had not been made into the cabin and there are no suspects at this time. Loss value due to damage is approximately $25.

In addition to the incarceration of Calvin Stinson, five arrests were made by the Sheriff's Department last week.

Norman Minnick, 38, was arrested February 5 on a charge of writing bad checks. He was released on bond.

Kenneth Lee Stinson, 21, was incarcerated for failure to appear in court. The arrest was made last Thursday and Stinson was released on bond the same day.

Jonathan Orth, 27, was arrested Friday for battery charges. He was released on bond the same day.

Richard Duckworth, 22, was incarcerated on Sunday on a charge of assault. He was released the same day on bond.

Lora R. Haines was arrested Sunday for disturbing the peace. She was released on her own recognizance.

Nearly 10 million persons served in the armed forces during the 11-year Vietnam Era which began August 5, 1964. Some 583,000 veterans joined the military after the official end of that conflict, May 7, 1975.

New Plates To Be White With Black Lettering

The state's red and white motor vehicle license plates will be no more after March 31. Instead, Maryland motorists will drive around with more functional and drab black and white tags for the next five years.

State Motor Vehicle Administration officials said Monday said the new license plates will make it easier for police to identify numbers.

The choice of black and white was made during the administration of acting Gov. Blair Lee III, who decided it would be cheaper to produce the colorless plates, officials said.

Officials said the new plates, which will save the state $1 million, will be used for five years. The new plates will be available

February 13 but will not be effective until March 1.

Owners of passenger cars have until March 31 to replace their old tags with the black-and-white plates.

Adoptive Parents' Group To Meet

The Adoptive Parents' Group will meet Friday, February 15, 1980, at 7:00 p.m. in the basement of St. Mark's Lutheran Church (enter by side door).

Babysitters will care for children who accompany parents.

Dr. William Pope, Deputy State Health Officer, will be guest speaker. The adoptive parents will be questioning what kind of counseling is provided for pregnant, unwed mothers in Garrett County, what kind of choices they offer, and what kind of image adoption has in Garrett County. This program was originally scheduled for January, but cancelled due to inclement weather.

According to Planned Parenthood, 87% of the 235,000 teenagers who give birth out of wedlock choose to keep their babies in spite of the emotional, social, and financial problems of single parenthood. Added to this factor, an increasing use of the pill and abortions has made fewer infants available for adoption.

Sue Seaks (334-4282) is the telephone contact person for questions about adoption, the Adoptive Parents' Group, or if a meeting will be cancelled due to unfavorable weather.

Work-Experience Program Provides "Real World" Setting For Students

The following is an article written by Ron Kuhn, Cooperative Education Coordinator for Garrett County. It was written as part of the observance of National Vocational Week.

This week, February 10-16, has been designated as National Vocational Week. The purpose of this week is to increase public awareness and understanding of vocational programs in our high schools.

One of the ongoing programs that is available to Garrett County high school students is Diversified Cooperative Education. This program presently serves 83 students — 53 students at Southern High School and 30 students at Northern High School in 62 different work stations.

Work-experience education is a cooperative effort by the school and the community to provide opportunities for students to discover their career interests and aptitudes by doing "real" work. The business community becomes a learning laboratory. Professional and business men and women, craftsmen, and expert tradesmen serve as instructors.

The program intends to give the student the opportunity to "test" the work world, to provide the "reality" confrontation that gives relevance to all of education, and to expand their education beyond the school building. The student also receives academic credits for successful participation.

The work-experience program allows for an almost infinite diversification of occupational fields. The type of employment varies from farming to manufacturing, and includes auto mechanics, food service workers, carpenters, secretaries, restaurant workers, veterinarian's helper, TV repairman, and clerks. The student's on-the-job training experiences are complemented by classroom instruction directed toward the development of proper work attitudes, personal improvement, communication, human relations, personal finance, and continuing research pertaining to each student's career interest and on-the-job training.

While work-experience education is provided primarily for the benefit of the students, there are also benefits to the school in general, to the employer, and to the community.

They may be described as follows: Work-experience assists students in making career choices, in preparing for careers; in developing a vocation identity; and in making the transition to the world of work. Specifically, the work-experience program helps students to: learn responsibility; gain knowledge and attitudes necessary for job performance; acquire good work habits; earn money; relate education to job success; and broaden their knowledge of the occupational world and of working conditions in their communities.

Benefits to the school are: help to occupational guidance; utilization of many community facilities and resources for training purposes, thus making it possible for the schools to provide training in fields the school program could not otherwise serve; development of good community-school relations and acquainting employers with the work that can be performed by young people who are trained in the schools.

For the employer, the work-experience education program provides a pool of part-time workers from which he may select permanent employees at a later date; serves as a training program for prospective employees of small businesses or industries unable to conduct their own extensive training program; and provides locally trained personnel for local employment.

Benefits to the community are: a decrease in the number of young people who fail to make a successful transition from school to work, thus reducing the number who may become wards of society. (Last year, about 70% graduation); improvement in the pattern of job stability by giving local students job skills and civic competence; and potential economic growth through additional family earnings.

Obviously, the success of a Cooperative Education Program depends largely upon the willingness of the employer to invest time and energy in the students. It is by guidance and effort that the student has the opportunity to adjust to the world of work.

Local Households To Be Included In Census Survey

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of February 18-22, 1980, Porter S. Rickley, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Philadelphia, announced today.

The survey is conducted for the U. S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 84,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the Nation.

NOTICE

The Western Maryland Consortium (228 East Alder Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550) is now distributing Screening Application Forms for the 1980 Summer Youth Employment Program. Applicants interested in summer jobs must be 14-21 year old Garrett County residents and economically disadvantaged. For further information call

For example, in December the survey indicated that of the 104.0 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 97.9 million were employed. The jobless rate, at 5.9 percent in December, has fluctuated between 5.7 and 5.9 percent for more than a year.

Information supplied by people participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

THE ARTS

by Kathy Railey

A Latin-American Crafts Exhibit is on display at the Ruth Enlow Library for an indefinite period of time. Articles on display in two cases are owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Sharps, Oakland, and were collected from South and Central America by the couple during a recent freighter trip.

They sailed from New Orleans on November 6, 1979, and travelled to Columbia, Santa Marta, through the Panama Canal and on to Balboa. From the Caribbean side of Santa Marta the couple brought a clay whistle in the shape of a bird, called a "silbato."

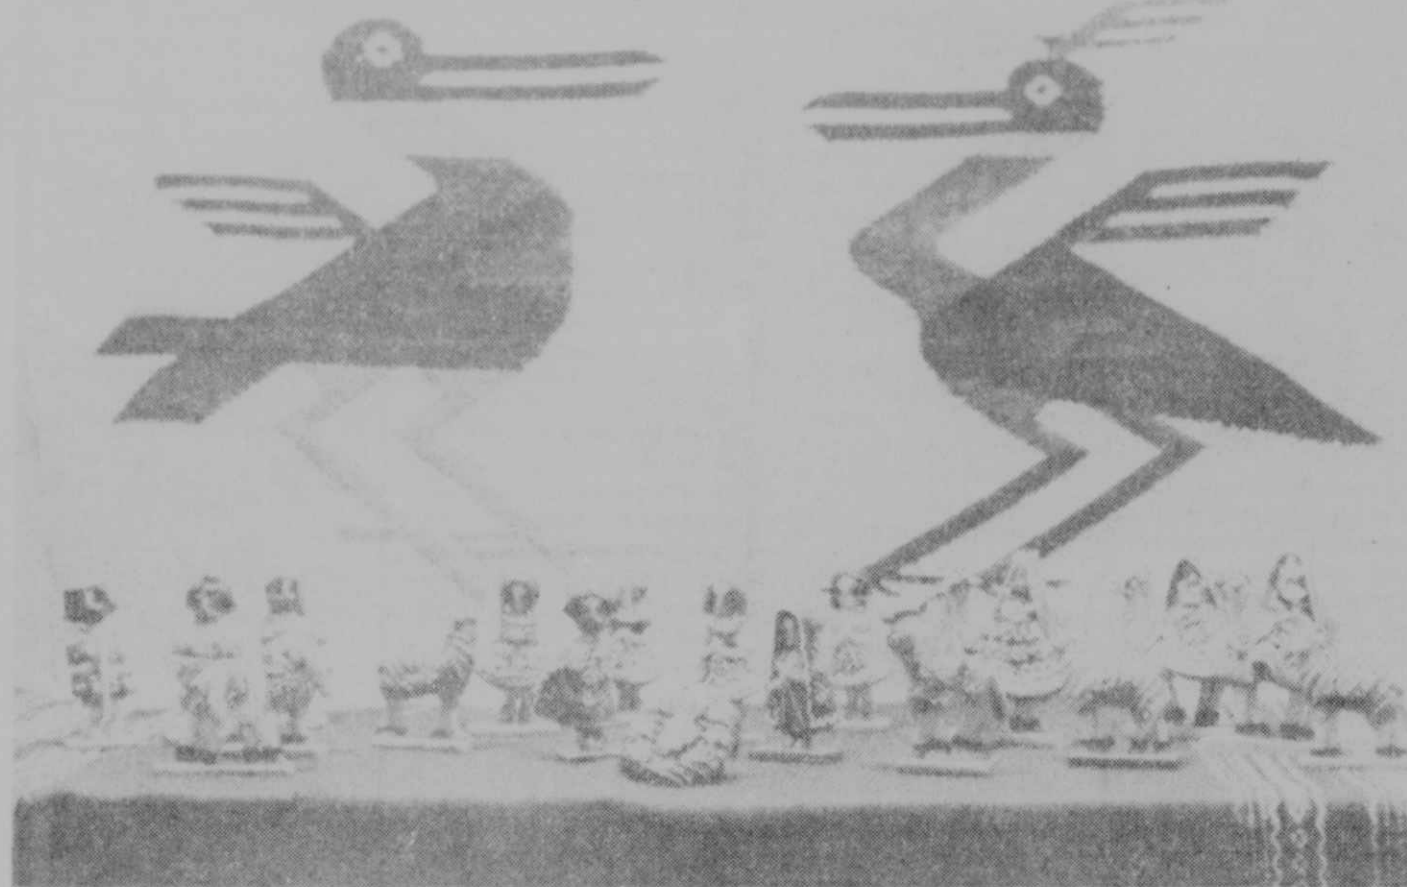

Mola, on display at the library, is a reverse applique sewn on Indian women's blouses and is done by the Kuni Indians who come into Balboa from the San Blas Islands, spread their wares out in a circle and sell to tourists, Mrs. Sharps said.

The next stop for Mr. and Mrs. Sharps was Ecuador. The port where the ship landed is called Guayaquil, and from there the couple flew into the Andes mountains to Quito for a few days. There they were taken out into the countryside to an Otavalo Indian village. Mrs. Sharps explained that each village of native Indians does a distinct folk-craft. The most famous crafts of the region are knitting and weaving. The villagers are also shepherds and they raise their own wool.

Bread dough figures on display at the library were brought from one of these villages. Bread dough art is fairly new in America, but in Ecuador it is a centuries-old custom, according to Mrs. Sharps. The practice originated as a custom on All Saint's Day when the villagers made figures of the dead of the village and then destroyed the figures. This custom changed over the years, however, as the Indians no longer wanted to destroy the figures due to the amount of work put into them. They now sell them to tourists.

Each village holds a fair in town each week to sell hand-crafts. Mrs. Sharps said one interesting item hung in a display circle is woven squares depicting various birds. Straw figures and panama hats are woven birds. Weaving is a well-known art of the Indians in Quito, located in the Andes mountain range. Bread dough figures, though fairly new in America, are part of a centuries-old custom observed by an Indian village in the Andes.

HANDCRAFTS collected from South and Central America lend a bit of ancient tradition and Indian culture to the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland, where they will be on display for an indefinite period of time. Pictured above, bread dough figures from a village in Ecuador are displayed against a background of

from Ecuador.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharps left Quito with some Indian friends on the way to town, by way of a train, or as Mrs. Sharps described it, "a bus put on a track which came careening down the steep mountains." She said the 12½ hour long train ride was the highlight of their trip, and the couple took in some beautiful scenery.

The freighter left Ecuador and went on to Al Parazo, Chile. The Oakland couple went into Santiago for a day and purchased a copper foil plaque and several woven belts. According to Mrs. Sharps, copper, iron and straw are the primary working materials of this region.

The couple visited two small towns in the northern part of Chile, where the land and climate present a contrast to the middle region. Northern Chile is barren and dry. The people who live there see no rain for sometimes 25 years, Mrs. Sharps said. Through a vast engineering device water reaches the towns of Arica and Antofagasta from the mountains over a period of four days, according to Mrs. Sharps. The region is rich in copper and iron ore mines, but the natives live in apparent poverty. Their homes are built with four walls made of cardboard and straw matting, Mrs. Sharps said.

Residents of the towns sleep on straw mats and families live without roofs until enough money can be saved to purchase tiles. Roofs are considered a luxury, not a necessity, Mrs. Sharps said, as it nearly never rains there.

Visitors may observe many abandoned roofless homes, and a guide explained to the Oakland couple that when a family relocates they always take the tile roofs with them, as tile is their most valuable possession.

Indians in the Chilean mountains are drawn by the progress of the cities. Mrs. Sharps said "they have a horrible time in the mountains, scratching away at dry land," and do not want to go back there. She said the streets of the cities are covered with Indians looking for work, living on welfare and selling their wares on sidewalks.

According to Mrs. Sharps,

Ecuador and Peru have a lot of poverty, but Chile is more advanced. It is also a very expensive country and "inflation is terrible," Mrs. Sharps said.

After leaving Chile the ship turned north and stopped at some unexpected ports such as Callao, which is a seaport for Lima, Peru, and the passengers were able to leave the boat.

The freighter then went back through the Panama Canal and arrived in Houston, Texas over one month after its departure at New Orleans.

Mrs. Sharps explained that the freighters are regulated by the cargo they are carrying.

When one boards a freighter one never knows the exact ports that the ship will visit, when the ship will return to America, or where it will arrive in America, Mrs. Sharps said.

The Oakland couple were on a waiting list for the "Lykes Line" for two years. Mrs. Sharps said the ships take on passengers when officers' quarters are vacant during a particular journey. There was a total of four passengers on the freighter carrying Mr. and Mrs. Sharps. The passengers stay in the officers' quarters and eat in the dining room with the officers, Mrs. Sharps said.

She said the majority of the time on ship was spent reading, as she and the other lady passenger studied travel books of the ports they expected to visit. From the ship the couple saw whales, dolphins, sea lions and several birds. They were never on ship more than three consecutive days, and when the freighter was in port the couple "took off on buses."

Mrs. Sharps has donated most of her Indian handicrafts to the library for display for an indefinite period of time. They are crafts which represent centuries-old customs, designs, and ways of life, brought from the villages of Indian craftsmen.

MORTGAGE INTEREST VS EQUITY

It is true that owning a home builds a dollar-value equity for you as you pay off the mortgage. How much of your monthly payment goes to paying off the principal and how much goes to pay off the interest is another story. The outcome depends on how long you have been making payments.

Inasmuch as most mortgages are self-liquidating loans, you will pay a level amount each month toward paying off the interest and reduction of principal. However, remember that the interest is first computed on the balance due and therefore the first payment is practically all interest and last payment is practically all principal. About mid-way during the term of the mortgage, the interest and principal payments are about equal.

The one saving grace in the early years of high interest payments, is that all of this interest is tax deductible which can be a hefty deduction indeed.

Winterfest To Feature Celebrities

Plans are being finalized for the seventh annual Winterfest celebration, to be held at the Wisp Ski Area March 6-9. The event is sponsored by the Deep Creek Lions Foundation, Inc., and co-sponsored by the Miller Brewing Corp., Wisp Ski Resort and the Village Inn. All proceeds from Winterfest go toward community projects, local charities and the Lions' blind skiers program.

A highlight of Winterfest VII will be appearances by a rising television and movie actor and by the starting defensive end of the World Champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

Ben Davidson, former All-Pro defensive end with the Oakland Raiders, will be the featured speaker and guest at the Winterfest Kickoff banquet and dance Thursday evening, March 6.

John Banaszak, current defensive end for the Steelers, will be on hand Saturday of the festivities and will drop the flag Sunday on snowmobile hill climb. Davidson who stands at 6' 8" and weighs in at 280 pounds may best be remembered by pro football fans as the Raider's awesome pass rusher with the red handclap mustache. While a Raider he was chosen to the American Football League all-league team in 1967 and a member of the AFL All-Star teams of 1967, 1968 and 1969.

Since his retirement from pro football in 1974, Davidson has become an accomplished actor appearing in movies such as M.A.S.H. and in such television programs as Fantasy Island, Happy Days and Elmer Fudd. He has also appeared in many Miller Lite Beer commercials.

Banaszak has been a Steeler since 1973 and the starting defensive end for the past two seasons. He can be remembered by his humble recovery which stopped an early Dallas Cowboy drive in last year's Super Bowl victory. He will hold two autograph sessions for children Saturday afternoon and will make all prize and trophy presentations Saturday and some additional presentations Sunday of the festival.

Davidson and Banaszak are

Dr. Buser Supports Opposition to Tax, Spending Limits

Dr. William H. Buser, superintendent of Garrett County public schools, recently added his support to actions of the Regional Education Service Agency of Western Maryland which opposed constitutional limitation on state taxes and spending.

Buser commented "Tax and spending limits in the form of legislation or a constitutional amendment is an experiment in legislating a level of service to the public which may or may not be in the best interests of that public." Buser added that such types of legislation has tended to hamper vital services.

He further stated that "In Maryland, I believe it is best that we use the tools for limiting spending that are currently available to us and let several other counties and states in the nation demonstrate the effectiveness of such legislation prior to our committing it to a constitutional amendment."

Buser's statements reinforced points made by RESA in its opposition to spending limits, in a statement which announced the support by the RESA Board of Directors for Governor Harry R. Hughes in his opposition to constitutional amendments on taxation and spending limitations, expressed a concern about the impact of spending limits on public education on the state and local levels.

"We are very much concerned about the impact of such proposed constitutional actions on public education, statewide and in this region particularly. These concerns are for all levels of public education. Already, current taxation practices are having severe impacts on local school systems. The proposals would exacerbate these problems and could have a devastating effect on higher education (four year colleges and university systems) which must rely on discretionary funding."

We are concerned about the potential impact on federal funding that could grow out of constitutional amendments on taxation and spending. There are indications that the house education committee may put

Board Rejects Rezoning Request

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners Tuesday unanimously voted to reject a request by George Brodak, Oakland, to rezone eight acres of land southwest from Mayhew Inn Road on U.S. 219, currently classified as lake residential, as lake commercial. Brodak's intention for the property was to build a cocktail lounge on the property to serve both county residents and tourists.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg noted the Board had "no choice" but to reject the request for legal reasons. The commissioners, who have indicated support for Brodak's request, based their decision on the reason that, legally, to grant the request would have constituted spot zoning.

The commissioners had been told by residents of the Mayhew Inn Road vicinity they would appeal any decision to grant Brodak's request. The commissioners realized that any such decision would be overturned by a court.

After their decision to reject Brodak's request, the commissioners agreed to recommend to the Garrett County Planning Commission that the strip of land along U.S. 219 near Mayhew Inn Road as a high priority item in their update of the county plan. The commissioners recommended the planning commission consider rezoning the strip to town center. Such a zone would allow cocktail lounge, but would require an application for a special exception.

Because his request was rejected, Brodak will have to wait one year before resubmitting a request, even if the strip of land is rezoned. The commissioners had hoped he would withdraw his request when informed it would constitute spot zoning; if he had, he would not have to wait a year before resubmitting a request.

In other commissioners' business, the commissioners withdrew the remaining $250,000 of the total $500,000 they recently borrowed from two local banks in order to help finance the county employee payroll and to pay other county expenses.

Gloria Urban of the U. S. Government Referral Service informed the commissioners of assistance available through the referral service. The service could provide most information needed by a county government, including financial aid information and economic development ideas.

Sheriff June Evans met with the commissioners to discuss ways to save money in the operation of the jail. He stated he would attempt to buy food supplies in bulk quantity through wholesale companies, noting that since the jail opened food had been bought as needed.

Dick Nace, administrator for the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., and his assistant Gerry Swenson reported the progress of the three phase Mt. Lake Park Water System rehabilitation project which is nearly completed. Nace noted that Phases I and II were almost completed and that Phase III had begun. The commissioners signed a $20,000 bond note for the District.

Two persons were hospitalized yesterday for injuries sustained in a single-vehicle accident on Route 36 entering Kitzmiller.

Hester Feathers, 70, Elk Garden, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital with head injuries and is reported to be in "stable" condition. Her son, Franklin, 44, was transported from Potomac Valley Hospital to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, with a broken leg. He is also listed in "stable" condition.

The W. W. Rice, investigating officer, Maryland State Police, McHenry, stated that John F. Feathers, 78, Elk Garden, was southbound downhill on Route 36 at approximately 4:30 p.m., traveling at a greater than reasonable speed, when he failed to negotiate a curve. Feathers hit a patch of sand, losing traction and control of the car. The vehicle struck a guardrail, crossed over the roadway, struck an embankment and overturned, resting on its roof.

Garrett County Central Alarm handled communications as Elk Garden Ambulance and Kitzmiller Volunteer Fire Department were dispatched to the scene. Southern Garrett County Rescue

Governor Makes Recommendations For Appointments

Governor Harry Hughes last week submitted to the General Assembly various appointments throughout the state, including three local appointments.

Mary Donna Thomas, McHenry, was recommended to be a member of the State Board for Community Colleges, and William E. Naylor, Oakland, was recommended to be a member of the Lower Control Board of Garrett County.

All appointments require confirmation by the Senate. Recommended terms for these appointments are for six years.

ONE THE WINTER, COME THE SPRING, as a drop of melted snow falls to the ground. Skiers, sled riders, ice skaters and snowmobilers are lamenting as Spring drives apparently near, complete with icicles crashing to the sidewalks, blizzing sun and anticipated 50 degree temperatures for this week. Two Hospitalized Following Auto Wreck Yesterday

Two persons were hospitalized yesterday for injuries sustained in a single-vehicle accident on Route 36 entering Kitzmiller.

Hester Feathers, 70, Elk Garden, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital with head injuries and is reported to be in "stable" condition. Her son, Franklin, 44, was transported from Potomac Valley Hospital to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, with a broken leg. He is also listed in "stable" condition.

The W. W. Rice, investigating officer, Maryland State Police, McHenry, stated that John F. Feathers, 78, Elk Garden, was southbound downhill on Route 36 at approximately 4:30 p.m., traveling at a greater than reasonable speed, when he failed to negotiate a curve. Feathers hit a patch of sand, losing traction and control of the car. The vehicle struck a guardrail, crossed over the roadway, struck an embankment and overturned, resting on its roof.

Garrett County Central Alarm handled communications as Elk Garden Ambulance and Kitzmiller Volunteer Fire Department were dispatched to the scene. Southern Garrett County Rescue

Warrant Issued By State Police

Maryland State Police, McHenry, have issued a warrant for the arrest of Everett Dale DeWitt, Deer Park, accused of the theft of a 1974 Chevy pickup truck and $525 in currency.

The incident occurred February 12 at 8:10 a.m. at the home of Betty Joan Madigan, Deer Park. Ms. Madigan apparently knows the accused and had granted him use of her truck for an alleged appointment, from which the accused did not return. At a later time, Ms. Madigan discovered that $525 in savings, belonging to her, was missing.

T.C. R. C. George, investigating officer, reports further investigation revealed that DeWitt was not scheduled for an appointment at the said date and time, and therefore left the accused under surveillance.

Total loss value of the truck and currency is estimated at $500. The warrant is on file, but to date the accused has not been arrested.

Miller Receives 21-Year Sentence For Sex Offenses

John Miller, 42, of Parsons, W. Va., received a 21-year sentence Wednesday in the Garrett County Circuit Court for the August rape of a 16 year old female.

Miller had been convicted by jury of second degree rape, second degree sex offense, and fourth degree sex offense in a trial January 11. Judge Fred Thayer had ordered a presentence investigation.

Wednesday, Miller was given 15 years for the second degree rape offense, a consecutive five year sentence for the second degree sexual offense and one year for the fourth degree sexual offense to be served concurrently.

Miller, currently incarcerated in the Garrett County jail, is awaiting transport to the Department of Corrections in Baltimore where he will be taken to the Diagnostic Center, Baltimore.

Charges were filed against Miller in August after a 16-year old girl, accompanied by her mother, reported the rape to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department. The offense was reported to have occurred on Shady Dell Road in the early

Visits Commissioners

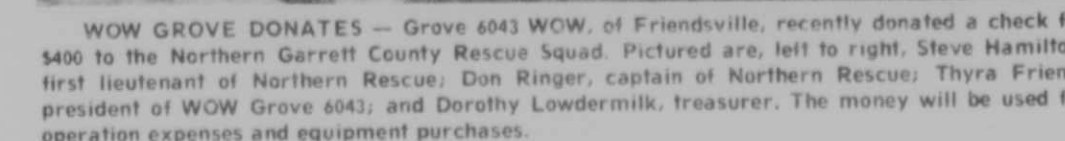

Rep. Beverly Byron (D-Md. Sixth) met Friday with the Garrett County Board of Commissioners in a routine annual meeting. Discussion included legislation proposed by Rep. Byron to give a tax credit on wood burning stoves. The commissioners were concerned about the legislation due to fires resulting from improper installation and inquired about the possibility of granting tax credits only to those who have received certificates verifying proper installation. Rep. Byron suggested such restrictions would have to be imposed at the local level. Other topics discussed were public service employment, future markets for coal, federal revenue sharing and the lack of a communication network linking Garrett County to the rest of the state. In the photo with Rep. Byron is Ernie Gregg, county commissioner.

Governor Makes Recommendations For Appointments

Governor Harry Hughes last week submitted to the General Assembly various appointments throughout the state, including three local appointments.

Mary Donna Thomas, McHenry, was recommended to be a member of the State Board for Community Colleges, and William E. Naylor, Oakland, was recommended to be a member of the Lower Control Board of Garrett County.

All appointments require confirmation by the Senate. Recommended terms for these appointments are for six years.

WOW GROVE DONATES — Grove 601 WOV, of Friendsville, recently donated a check for $400 to the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad. The money will be used for operation expenses and equipment purchases.

Citizen-Donated Campaign Dollars Not Being Spent

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — More than 268,000 Maryland taxpayers have voluntarily contributed $36,254 since 1975 to help finance state political campaigns, but not a dime of the money has ever been spent, state officials acknowledged Wednesday.

Instead, the money has been placed in a special interest-drawing account that has already earned $3,849 in the first seven months of the current fiscal year, and which has grown to a total of about $610,000, said officials in both the comptroller's and state treasurer's offices.

The money was collected as a result of a 1974 Fair Campaign Financing Act that permits individual taxpayers to voluntarily increase their own tax bill by $2, earmarking that contribution for publicly-financed elections.

The problem with the law was that publicly-financed elections would not be tainted by campaign donations from special interests, and that particularly wealthy candidates would not have an undue advantage.

The problem with the law is that only the contribution portion—not the part about publicly financing elections—was ever implemented by the General Assembly.

The law was passed by 76,438 Marylanders—nearly 4 percent of all state taxpayers—shelled out $132,876, presumably thinking the money would eventually go to the campaigns of candidates running for governor or other statewide offices, the General Assembly, or local offices.

Since then, the number of people who have voluntarily contributed under the add-on plan has steadily decreased each year, although 2.8 percent of all state taxpayers still participated in the program when filing their 1978 taxes.

"It is difficult for people to voluntarily increase their tax," explained George Spriggs of the state Income Tax Division.

Existence of the money came to light when four legislators held a news conference to announce plans to reform that 1974 campaign financing law, to restrict it to only the four statewide races, and to use the $610,000 as "seed money" to get the program underway.

"The most demeaning thing a politician has to do in the course of getting elected is to go ask for money," said Delegate Gerald Devlin, D-Prince George's, one of the bills' cosponsors.

Delegate Gerald J. Curran, D-Baltimore, another cosponsor, said of the $610,000 fund, "We've been collecting the money with the hope the legislature would make the contributions more meaningful."

The campaign bill would continue the voluntary $2 per taxpayer add-on, but would divert the money exclusively to candidates running for governor, lieutenant governor, comptroller and attorney general.

Candidates would be limited on how much money, both public and private, they may accept according to formulas based on state population.

Candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, for instance, would be permitted to raise funds equal to 12½ cents per Maryland resident, or about a $500,000 maximum. Those running for comptroller or attorney general would be limited to funds equal to 3½ cents per resident, or about $140,000.

Devlin and Curran said General Assembly races were not covered by the bill because the problem of special interest contributions were more acute in statewide races.

Devlin insisted General Assembly members would vote to include themselves under the law after the 1982 general election when they would more fully understand how powerful wealthy non-incumbent challengers can be.

To keep what Devlin called "fringe candidates" from obtaining the public funds, candidates would be required to raise at least 20 percent of their total contribution limit privately before being eligible for the public money.

The campaign reform measures have the support of both House Speaker Benjamin L. Cardin, D-Baltimore, and Senate President James Clark, Jr., D-Howard, as well as Common Cause, a public-interest lobbying group, and the AFL-CIO.

The House version of the bill has been cosponsored by 47 delegates, and the identical Senate version has been cosponsored by a majority of the members of the committee that will consider it.

BPW Hears Presentation From ACHC

The Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club met last Thursday for their monthly dinner meeting at the Will O' the Wisp.

Rev. Fred Illick, representing Accident Community Housing Corporation, spoke on the Accident Housing Project for the elderly. Slides were shown and Rev. Illick discussed the history of the project and the progress which has been made to date.

The idea of building a Retirement Village complex for Senior Citizens in the Accident area originated at a November, 1977 meeting of Zion's Board of Care & Concern. Following correspondence and direction through various channels, pursued by the board, a "Steering Committee" was formed in June, 1978. A Retirement Housing Survey was taken at this time, after which the Accident Community Housing Corporation was established as a non-profit organization. In July of 1978 a Land Site Committee was appointed to investigate possible locations for a Retirement Village in Accident. A second Retirement Housing Survey was taken in the area one month later, revealing more than 50 percent interest in living in such retirement housing, from returned responses.

In November, 1978, a 2.19 acre lot behind the Town Library was approved by the Board of Directors and Mr. Gus Bauman, owner, offered to donate a third acre to the project. In December of the same year ACHC became a legal corporation with 30 persons signing on as members, and six additional persons were elected to the corporation's Board of Directors. At this time the pre-application of 20 units, including kitchen, bath, living room, one bedroom plus storage, and a large social room for meetings and fellowship was approved by the Board of Directors and Mr. Drew Clendaniel, State Representative for Farmers Home Administration.

"Town View Village" was the name selected for the project in March, 1979, resulting from a "Name the Project" contest. The name was submitted by Ricky Kolb, 11, Solok-Minority of Pittsburgh, Pa., was selected as the architects for the project and a plan for one building was accepted by the ACHC. During the same month, Maryland Appalachian Housing Fund approved a loan for pre-construction costs. A final application was submitted to Farmers Home Administration, following an April meeting with George Boe, Retirement Housing Consultant.

A procedure for proper book-keeping, accounting and payment of bills was set up in May, 1979, after which the corporation launched several fund-raising projects, including a booth at Deep Creek Lion's Club Summerfest, a Benefit Auction sale, and Door to Door Fund raising drives.

In July, 1979, Farmers Home Administration approved a $651,000 loan for the project, and rental assistance was approved for all 20 units. In August the IRS granted approval for ACHC as a non-profit, charitable, tax-exempt organization.

Following Rev. Illick's presentation BPW voted to donate $100 at this time to the project, and to consider helping with the cost of furnishings at a later date.

Other speakers at the meeting were Esther Yoder, Sue Hillen and Clara Kirk.

Guest speaker Esther Yoder is a recipient of two Business & Professional Women's Club Foundation scholarships. She was granted the scholarships in 1971 and 1972. Her topic of discussion was "What it means to be a recipient of a Foundation scholarship."

Mrs. Yoder attended Allegheny Community College and has taken extension classes at the University of Maryland. She graduated from Frostburg State Teachers' College in 1973 in the top six percentile of her class. Prior to graduation she worked as an aid and teacher in the Head Start Program, and later obtained her certification as a teacher. She has continued her education and has yet six credit hours to complete her Masters Degree in elementary education, and certification as a reading specialist.

Mrs. Yoder taught in Friendsville for three years and is presently teaching first grade in Grantsville.

Sue Hillen is Director of "Homemaker Career Opportunities Program" offices located in the Oakland Center. She stated that the purpose of the program is to reach both men and women and assist them in qualifying for employment, through additional education and training as needed.

Mrs. Hillen works with area business and personnel offices in placing qualified candidates in jobs.

Clara Kirk, Financial Aid Officer at Garrett Community College, spoke on the types of financial aid available to all students of all ages at GCC. Types of aid covered during her presentation include grants, loans, scholarships and part-time employment, funded by both state and federal agencies.

The group discussed plans to have a hamburger, hot dog, French fries and hot chocolate booth at Winterfest at the Wisp, March 8 and 9.

Next month's meeting is scheduled for March 13. The

Cuppett-Weeks Kicks Off Rock 'N Roll Jamboree

The residents of Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, Oakland, are joining with nursing homes throughout the United States in an effort to raise funds to combat heart disease and strokes, through fund-raising activities with proceeds going to the American Heart Association.

In conjunction with this effort Cuppett-Weeks will hold a Rock 'N Roll Jamboree on March 29 when residents will rock in rocking chairs and roll in wheelchairs for time sponsored by individuals in the county, amounting to one cent per minute or $1 per hour. An Open House will be held the same day and entertainment provided, and the nursing home residents extend an invitation to the community to attend the event and pledge donations. The Jamboree will begin at 10 a.m. An estimated 75 percent of contributions will go to the Garrett County Heart Association fund. Cuppett-Weeks has set a goal of $500 for the day.

Terry Waskiefield, Activities Director for Cuppett-Weeks, is confident that this event will spark public interest in nursing home patients. Terry feels that "the image of nursing homes is changing. They are no longer custodial facilities or shelters where the aged spend their last years waiting." He goes on to say, "the nursing home is a place where physical, social, emotional and spiritual needs are considered and the program of care emphasizes rehabilitation, independence, identity and self-respect."

Waskiefield stated that generally the word "nursing home" brings to mind a place which houses people who are not capable of doing anything for themselves, but must be taken care of completely. He stresses the fact that nursing home patients are often forgotten by families and friends, but "possess the same feelings and needs as you or I," and he added that the nursing home's responsibility is to provide not only the best medical care possible, but also love and attention for its residents.

An additional fund-raising event scheduled by Cuppett-Weeks is a March 14 talent show at 7:30 p.m. at Southern High School. Judges will be present and prizes ranging from $10 to $25 will be awarded in various classes. Sponsors for the event are Wood Products, Meadow Mt. Homes and Stewart Funeral Home, all of Oakland. Proceeds will go to the American Heart Association, Western Maryland Chapter. A $2 fee is required for submitting applications to participate in the talent show. Applications are available at Northern and Southern High Schools and Proudfoot's Oakland Pharmacy.

Several Injured Slightly In Auto Wrecks

Maryland State Police, McHenry, report several slight injuries resulting from recent auto accidents.

Jeffrey Chandler Bell, 26, Rockville, was seen and discharged at Garrett County Memorial Hospital for injuries sustained in a February 5 accident on Maryland Route 496, one mile south of Shade Hollow Road.

Bell was southbound on Route 496 at 7:10 p.m. when his vehicle ran off the right side of the roadway, struck several guardrails, then crossed the roadway and struck a C&P Telephone utility pole, coming to rest on the left side of the roadway.

Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to the scene and transported Bell to the hospital.

State Police reported the operator had been drinking, but refused a breathalyzer test. Bell was charged with driving while intoxicated and failure to drive on the right side of the roadway.

His 1976 Subaru was disabled and damaged in the front part. The telephone pole was destroyed.

In a similar one car accident Carl Edwin Miller, 44, of St. George, W. Va., was apparently slightly injured.

The accident occurred February 6 at 11:30 p.m. on Ben DeWitt Road, 100 feet west of U. S. Route 219. Miller was traveling east on Ben DeWitt Road when he ran off the left roadside, striking a ditch and overturning. The vehicle then crossed back over the road, coming to rest on the right roadside.

State Police administered a breathalyzer test to the operator who had been drinking. Miller was charged with driving while intoxicated and failure to drive on the right side of the roadway.

The 1970 Ford F-250 was disabled.

A single vehicle accident involving possible injury was investigated by the State Police on February 13. William Austin Green, 36, Salisbury, Pa., travelling east on U. S. Route 48 at 3:30 a.m. when he apparently fell asleep and ran off the roadway 30 feet east of Maryland Route 496. The vehicle ran onto the shoulder of the roadway and overturned, disabling the 1976 Mercury Capri.

The operator was charged with negligent driving.

No injuries were reported during an accident which occurred Monday on U. S. Route 219, .1 mile south of Fourth Street.

Jacquelyn Lee Mayberry, 26, of Centerville, Va., was driving north on Route 219 at 9:50 a.m. when she attempted to pass a vehicle as that vehicle attempted a left turn. Her car ran off

Donna Kay Rutherford, 25, Springfield, Va., was a passenger in the vehicle. Both escaped unharmed.

Ms. Mayberry was charged with failure to maintain clear visibility while passing on the left. Her vehicle, a 1977 Volkswagen Rabbit, was disabled and damaged in the front portion.

The telephone pole was destroyed and the modular home suffered superficial damage.

More Than Skill . . .

One must observe with nothing but utmost admiration the athletes competing in the 1980 Winter Olympic games, for they display far more than just skill and talent.

Their dedication to their sport and commitment to themselves is unsurpassed. We, the observers, see only the end result of years of grueling work, often times accompanied by injury and pain. The true definition of determination is made crystal clear to those of us on the sidelines.

While winning is their ultimate goal, most of the athletes have shown sincere humbleness, even those who have captured a gold medal. They have also displayed great respect and kindness to each other, regardless of nationality. They have kept all politics out of the games, even in the midst of a probable boycott at the summer games.

For some unfortunate athletes, the end of a chance for a medal comes within seconds, such as for the Canadian skier who was highly ranked, but fell at the second gate in the race. The point is, it is not winning that makes these people so special. What makes them special is their total dedication to their sport and their striving to be the best at what they do, and there is absolutely nothing wrong with that philosophy.

If all persons sought to be the best at what they do, whether it be skiing through gates, managing a multi-million dollar business or packing candy on an assembly line, and at the same time maintained a respect for others' rights, just think how much better life would be for everyone.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I and other drivers need to be informed on how to use the 135 intersection at the Mid-Town Plaza Traffic Lights. When I started driving many years ago I thought it was illegal to pass on the right hand side of an intersection when the car in front of you was going to cross traffic. Since these stoplights have been installed, I wondered why this law was not being enforced until I witnessed State and Local Police passing on the right also. Have the laws been changed or am I remembering wrong? I am confused.

When I pull up to this intersection I wait behind him to take my turn through the light. The next thing I know, when I start moving, there on my right is a car ZOOMING around me trying to get back into the lane of traffic in front of me. This makes me mad! I thought that lane was for drivers turning right, not for racing!

Also, God help the person at the right side of the intersection who thinks he might be able to use his privilege of turning right on red after stop — he'll get killed if he tries it.

Apparently there haven't been enough accidents, or maybe it will take a few fatalities, before the State Highway Administration will put up traffic signs or use road arrows to give directions. If that is what they are waiting for I'm sure it won't take long. This intersection is much more dangerous now than what it was before the traffic lights were installed.

I think we should be informed before something tragic does happen. Can you publish the laws that apply to this?

Sincerely,
Marsha Callis

Dear Mrs. Callis,
According to Tte. Ernest J. Upole, of the Maryland State Police, McHenry, the laws regarding passing on the right are vague. In effect, one may pass on the right on an approved surface (not gravel or dirt). If due caution is used. Tte. Upole added that if a vehicle passing on the right at that particular intersection would be involved in an accident, the driver of the passing vehicle would probably be at fault.

We agree with you. It is absolutely absurd that nothing has been done at that intersection to designate which lanes are for which purposes. As you stated, in many respects the intersection is more dangerous now than before installation of signals. As it is, drivers must play a hazardous guessing game every time they approach this intersection.

Dear Editor:

Well a year or so ago we finally got two wheelchair parking spaces at the hospital. But nine times out of ten other cars are parked there, plus most of the snow and dirt from the rest of the parking lot is pushed into these spaces. By the time you get your chair through this extra snow and into the hospital your clothes and hands are dirty and you can track the chair right to the room. The last time I went to visit I took wet paper towels from home to clean the wheels.

Oh yes has anyone tried taking a wheelchair up that ramp? It can't be done unless you have someone to push you up. That ramp has holes big enough to put a cat in and when you get a little wheel in one of those holes you are stuck. Hope this ramp will be fixed someday soon.

Just wanted to add my two cents worth.
Like to read letters to the Editor. Thank you.

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to a letter that appeared in last week's Republican. The writer of the letter expressed concern regarding a newsletter sent home by his/her son's kindergarten teacher.

As a parent serving on Garrett County's Kindergarten Advisory Committee, I would like to clarify a few points.

Last February, the Kindergarten Advisory Committee recommended to the local Board of Education that the following be implemented in every kindergarten program in Garrett County schools:

1. Group parent orientation. This would be held in the spring and would involve parents of all children entering kindergarten the following fall. This orientation would explain the goals, curriculum, etc., of the kindergarten program.

2. Parent-child visitation. Each spring, every child entering kindergarten the following fall would be invited with his/her parents to spend a full morning including lunch, in the kindergarten classroom the child will be assigned to in the fall.

3. Monthly parent meetings.
4. A monthly newsletter.

The purpose of the monthly meetings and/or the newsletter is to inform parents about classroom activities.

Most schools in the county have followed most of these recommendations and have found them helpful.

The newsletter to which "A Concerned Taxpayer and Parent" referred is a result of the above recommendations. The newsletter is in no way meant to replace classroom teaching. It is meant only to supplement and enrich the child's kindergarten experience.

Writing the newsletter requires time in the teacher's already busy schedule. Many teachers are writing this letter on their own time in an effort to improve communication and to enrich the child's learning experience.

Effective teaching at any level requires the cooperation of parents and teachers. Parental support is essential to a good school system. Children, too, need parent enrichment for a meaningful school career.

Lynne Emlinger

Dear Editor:

We would like an opportunity to reply to the "Concerned Taxpayer" from last week.

Most kindergarten parents are concerned with what their children are doing in school and are willing to help them in whatever way they can. Therefore, kindergarten teachers like to let parents know how they can go about it.

It's good that you work with your child at home showing him how to write his letters. But, if you are going to do so, it is a lot easier on the child to be shown the correct way in the first place, rather than one way at home and another way at school.

In reply to your "gripe", it is the job of the kindergarten teacher to prepare each child socially and academically for the transition to first grade.

Please know that your child's teacher is doing what is expected and probably more. She deserves to be commended!

Kindergarten Teachers

Dear Sir:

If the lady is upset about the kindergarten teachers, maybe she should also take a look at the aides. I know a school where the aides and custodian assemble in the cafeteria at 8:00, perch their rear ends on a table and drink coffee until about 9:00. If teachers begin work at 8:30, shouldn't aides also? Are aides another taxpayer ripoff?

Another Concerned Taxpayer

Dear Sir:

In response to the editorial in the Republican of February 13, 1980, Women's Rights vs. Responsibilities, let me say this—until this country starts treating women in the same manner as men, in regard to jobs, pay, etc., (the opening of doors and lighting of cigarettes being hogwash), how can women be expected to welcome the draft with open arms? Frankly, I think the president and the legislators have a lot of gall even suggesting it when they cannot or will not ratify ERA. This is just another humiliating slap in the face of women.

You also state in your article that the responsibility of defending our country should not fall entirely on the shoulders of men. It will not, nor has it in the past, unless you want to forget the women during WW II who gave their efforts, and indeed their lives, for this country. This is just one example. I have not, up to this point, been greatly involved with the ERA movement, but editorials of this sort could certainly convert me.

Thank you,
Mrs. Phyllis White
Oakland

"YES, I AGREE YOUR HUSBAND COULD USE HELP BUT I'M AFRAID A SOUL TRANSPLANT IS OUT OF THE QUESTION."

Dear Editor:

I am writing in regard to an unsigned letter published last week about women in the draft and the E.R.A. If I had written that letter, I would not have signed my name to it either.

The author of the letter seemed to get a few facts wrong.

1. President Carter has not proposed a draft bill. 2. Carter is not planning to draft women, or men, for that matter, and 3. all Carter is suggesting is that we be ready in case of an emergency.

I also disagree with the drafting of women. But then, I disagree with the drafting of men, even though I know it is necessary. As yet, I have not come up with a better way.

The author of the letter contradicted herself when she said, "And to do men's work just for the high pay is indeed absurd. I would rather take less pay and do women's work than to do men's work and suffer for it in later life. But for such jobs as secretary, etc., then I believe in equal pay." This quote is absurd. If the work really is equal, then it is only common sense for the pay to be equal.

What is men's work? What is women's work? Who can say? E.R.A. could get you your "equal pay for equal work", and much more. Also, if E.R.A. is passed, women could be drafted.

That's nothing new—women could have been drafted all along if someone would have put the wheels in motion.

I appreciate being a woman, but God wanted no one to be punished because of sex. And that is what's happening. E.R.A. could stop this "cruel and unusual punishment".

It is a shame that the E.R.A. might be dragged through ratification on the heels of an over-exaggerated draft scare.

Dear Editor,

I am getting fed up — and so are a lot of other Garrett County residents. At a time when our county government should be practicing fiscal restraint and making an effort to set an example of energy conservation, it is going "hog wild" to do just the opposite. It is spending as if the county were made up solely of Morgans, Mellons, Rockefellers and Vanderbilts. Unfortunately we can't all be bankers and financiers.

Already, the results of the county "park barrel project" are beginning to show up, as exemplified in the manifold increase in the use of electric energy alone, at a time when citizenry has been asked to conserve.

At a time when we need to put a rein on inflationary spending and increasing taxation, our county government is succumbing to inevitable ruin of our fiscal resources. Pretty soon, we'll all be re-purchasing our properties, each year, just paying our taxes. By killing the goose, the golden egg will never get laid. Let's go back to a few conservative basics and some common sense. A lot of us have to live on small, fixed incomes.

Sincerely,
Wayne Wolfe

Dear Mr. Editor:

When chlorine was added to the Deer Park Spring Water, it ceased to be pure Deer Park Mountain Spring Water. The days the chlorine was added, you could smell it, and it was offensive to drink.

The company ran the water through five farms to get to their plant, and when it was suggested to give each farmer a percentage per gallon for this privilege, they were ignored. It wasn't long after that, they closed down and the Golden Egg with it.

There's Coal In Them Hills

by Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr.

Many of the problems confronting Americans these days relate to petroleum — the price of oil. They relate to the inadequate and insecure supply of oil and to the distribution of oil in the world.

There is a certain irony in our dependence on oil when, in fact, we are sitting on top of the world's greatest reserves of energy, the supply of coal in the United States.

I recently had the opportunity to look into Maryland's coal resources, particularly the production and consumption of coal by modern techniques and methods.

I was enormously encouraged by what I saw.

In the first place, we are now mining coal in Western Maryland by the most modern methods. The methods are compatible with high environmental standards, and they allow us to mine coal and return the landscape to its previous natural condition.

In Maryland we now have both modern deep mines and modern strip mines. Both types are extremely large-scale projects, which require enormous amounts of capital, because modern coal mining and processing is far more expensive today than in earlier times. This means that the coal we mine will cost more than in the past.

But the big thing is that coal is there. It is in our hills and we don't have to bring it to Maryland or to the United States in a ship. More importantly Maryland's coal is of very high quality. In fact, at the Mettiki mine in Garrett County, a high grade of metallurgical coal with a higher BTU value than anthracite is being mined.

The question then arises, can we use that coal without going back to the old days when there was soot all over the windows in the winter time, when curtains went from white to gray in a few hours, when there was a pervasive grittiness because of coal dust and soot?

Several large Western Maryland industrial enterprises have converted from oil to coal. People living near these enterprises were skeptical about the conversions because they did not want to return to the gritty days when factory chimneys belched out clouds of black smoke.

But at progressive industries such as Westvaco in Luke, Md. and the Celanese Corporation in Cumberland, the reconversion to coal has been accomplished without the attendant soot and dirt. I watched the smoke stack at the Celanese plant for an extended period of time and found only a light plume of white steam coming out. The particles of dust, dirt and soot had been completely removed. Moreover, stack gases are carefully monitored at both plants by advanced electronic equipment.

As a result, I believe Maryland coal can be burned safely and without detriment to the environment or to the public health, and that is good news.

Buser Clarifies

County Liability

Policy For Buses

Dr. William Buser, Superintendent of Garrett County Public Schools, recently issued a statement to clarify the liability insurance policy on all contractor-owned and county-owned buses.

The Garrett County Board of Education carries a liability policy on all contractor-owned and county-owned buses. The policy is limited in scope in that it covers only those activities that are under the sponsorship of the Garrett County Board of Education such as transportation to and from school, athletic-music events of the schools, and field trips such as those to the planetarium, Camp Hickory, or other Board of Education approved field trips.

The Board of Education blanket insurance policy does not cover county-owned or contractor-owned buses for use by pre-school groups, senior citizens trips, 4-H groups, church organizations, and other groups that sometimes request bus transportation of contractors or the county. Insurance generally can be obtained to cover such trips by non-school sponsored groups.

Dr. Buser further indicated, however, that such arrangements are not made by the Board of Education and such special insurance must remain the responsibility of the contractor providing the transportation and the specific group making the transportation arrangements.

Career Education Bridges Gap Between School And Job World

By Matthew Novak
Career Education Coordinator

The Career Education program of the Garrett County School System has two broad goals. The first is to make classroom learning more meaningful to students by showing how reading, mathematics, and other school subjects are used on the job and in every day life. The second is to encourage students to develop habits of punctuality, cooperation, acceptance of responsibility, and other work related values that are needed for success in school, work, or day to day living.

Elementary students study various community workers. The learning taking place in most subject areas, especially in social studies, is related to work done by friends, relatives, and neighbors that the children may know or see at work in the community. Many schools, such as Red House Elementary, have developed community resource programs in which many community workers are invited into the school to explain to the students some of the things that they do on their job. They also explain some of the interests and skills they need to do their jobs well. For instance, when the students are studying science they may be visited by a nurse or x-ray technician.

Dorothy W. Spaid, Principal of Red House Elementary School, comments:

"A student's best resource for learning about work and careers is to talk and listen to people who have succeeded at a chosen vocation. The students at Red House Elementary School look forward to these opportunities."

In the middle schools, students are encouraged to explore jobs in greater depth and to start to identify their interests and abilities and the corresponding jobs that might be available. They are told about the various training courses available to them in high school and encouraged to develop a tentative plan on the type of career they would like to have, and the training that is needed to be successful in that field.

Shirley Spiker, teacher at Southern Middle School noted: "Our unit has proven to be pupils. They were responsible for working on a monthly budget of expenses for a family of four. Many were very surprised that they did not have enough money to meet expenses."

Eighth grade students at Southern Middle School participated in a Career Day held this year. The students made lists of occupations they would like to know more about. Workers from these occupations were then invited to speak to the students about their jobs and how they chose them. This year's speakers included:

Army Recruiter, S.S.G. Robert C. Lippold, National Guard;

Banker, Ben Ridder, Marketing Director, First National Bank of Oakland; Bank Secretary, Carol Parsons, First National Bank of Oakland; Broadcaster, Burt Morris, WXIE Radio Station; Builder-Contractor, Richard A. Morris, Oakland; Dietician, Wendy Norris, Garrett County Memorial Hospital; Educators, Dr. William H. Ninth grade high school students face an important decision. They must commit themselves to a high school program. This is necessary if they wish to take a vocational program such as building trades or auto mechanics. These are three-year programs designed to give the students entry level job skills or to prepare them for further education or training. It is difficult for the student who changes his mind to make up work missed in the first year. Also, full enrollment in that year's class generally means that there is not room for additional students.

A two week unit in the ninth grade Civics class is offered to assist students in making this choice. Themes covered in previous years, such as the need for good work habits and basic skills are reviewed. Then students must investigate several jobs of their choice in depth. This program is supplemented through the year by various speakers from the community. Nurse Charlotte Bock, from Garrett County Memorial Hospital, recently addressed the Southern High School Health Careers Club. Her topic was "Careers in Nursing," and Lewis Domenick, Director of Personnel/Instructional Supervisor of Garrett County Board of Education, advised the seniors at Northern High School on preparing for job interviews.

The community resources program draws on the skills and knowledge of the workers of Garrett County and tries to bring the school and community closer together. It also makes school subjects more interesting and relevant to the students and encourages them to make more realistic plans for their future.

Estate Planning?...

What do I need to know about estate planning?

Plenty!

If you were to total up the value of your farm, your house, your livestock, machinery and your life insurance, you'd probably discover that your estate is much larger than you thought.

And, unless you've done some careful planning, the estate taxes on your property could be very burdensome on your heirs. In fact, they may even have to sell a portion of what should rightfully be theirs in order to pay the estate taxes.

Our trust officers can work with you and your attorney in preparing an estate plan that will honor your wishes, make certain that your family is properly provided for, and save unnecessary estate taxes as well.

Call us today to arrange for a confidential chat. Phone 334-9471. No obligation, of course.

Theft, Destruction Of Property Head Complaint List

Two theft cases and one case involving destruction of property and trespassing were reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department last week. Case investigations resulted in one arrest.

Irma Determan, Westernport, and Sally Welsh, Bloomington, reported a theft from a vehicle while the vehicle was parked at Wynlyn's Edge parking lot, Deep Creek Lake, last Friday night. The complainants were inside Wynlyn's when unknown subjects entered the locked vehicle by breaking the vent window on the driver's side.

A brown suede coat belonging to Ms. Determan was removed from the vehicle, valued at $80. Stolen articles belonged to Ms. Welsh were six 8-track tapes, a waist-length tan coat and $10 in cash from her wallet which was under the front seat of the vehicle. Loss value of the tapes, coat and cash amounts to approximately $90.

Total loss value in stolen goods is approximately $170.

A similar incident occurred at Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop sometime between Thursday of last week and Monday of this week. Unknown persons removed six 12-foot chains, seven binders and one six-foot tow chain from two trucks belonging to M&M Trucking Company, Ridgeley, W. Va. The trucks were parked unattended during the four-day span, and the articles were noticed missing when the drivers returned to the vehicles.

Loss value is estimated at $230.

In a separate incident, Richard Allen Smith, 19, Mt. Lake Park, was arrested and charged with destruction of property and trespassing, resulting from the Department's investigation of three reports of a prowler last Friday at approximately 2:30 a.m. The reports came from residents on Oakland Sang Run Road, the first from Mr. Metheny who reported a subject attempting to enter his basement door. Mrs. Riffe, a nearby neighbor, also reported an unknown person at the rear of her residence trying to enter her home. At about 2:45 a.m. Mr. Ramon Zeender, Oakland Sang Run Road, advised the department that a subject had broken out the glass in a sliding glass door at the rear of his residence.

The three complainants advised the Sheriff's Office that they had seen the subject run from the rear of their residences, and upon checking the area, officers located a subject fitting the description given by the victims.

Smith was read his rights and transported to the Sheriff's Office. Upon questioning the accused, police discovered he had wrecked his van and it apparently overturned. Investigation confirmed the statement and Smith was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the investigating officer, where he was treated and released for hand injuries.

Smith was released from the county jail on $100 bond pending trial.

Seven additional arrests were made by the department last week.

Kenneth Broadwater was arrested last Wednesday on a battery charge, and was released on $75 bond.

Caroline Hook, 34, was incarcerated Friday for disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace. She was released on her own recognizance.

John Hain, 36, was arrested for driving while intoxicated last Saturday. He was released Sunday on his own recognizance.

Richard Dale Ward, 28, was incarcerated Saturday on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was released the next day on his own recognizance.

Harold Ray Criss, 35, was arrested Sunday for battery charges. Criss posted bond Monday and was released.

Jack Lee Shaffer, 20, was incarcerated Monday on an AWOL charge. He was placed in the custody of military authorities yesterday.

Walter Lee Paugh, 26, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was tried yesterday in Garrett County District Court and sentenced to two years in jail. A recommendation was made for the sentence to be served in the Garrett County Jail, where he is presently incarcerated.

Mothers Matter Group Formed In Accident

Ann Abrahamson, co-ordinator of the Garrett County Team on Child Abuse and Neglect, has recently announced that Pat Karbowski and Madeleine Collins have been named co-ordinators of the Mothers Matter Group in northern Garrett County. Since October, Pat has been holding weekly meetings in Accident with other mothers, discussing various topics of interest and concern to parents. Elaine Yoder has provided childcare services during the meetings.

The group meets Thursday mornings in Accident, where a variety of subjects pertaining to parenting is discussed, such as dealing with stress, disciplining children, sibling rivalry, coping with everyday problems and situations, and sharing feelings, ideas, and suggestions for improving communication skills. There is no charge to attend meetings.

Mothers Matter is essentially a parenting support group, whose aim is toward more aware, conscientious parenting. "Everyone has the potential to become better at whatever job he/she chooses to do," adds Pat, "and I feel this group offers the opportunity for parents to tap that potential through open, honest expression and clear-sighted awareness; ideally, producing happier, healthier families. I think this is a wonderful program which is vitally needed everywhere, and one in which any parent and child can benefit."

Madeleine adds, "I think the Mothers Matter 'rap sessions' provide an excellent means of sharing thoughts on mutual problems of parenting and perhaps avoiding many of them." Through the co-operation of Reverend Fred Illick of Accident, the group meets at Zion Lutheran Parish house in Accident on Thursday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30. For more information, persons should call Pat Karbowski at 826-8685, or Madeleine Collins at 387-5078.

Lakers Drop Two More, Wind Up Season At 11-17

Ed Major paced four players in double figures with 24 points to lead the CCAC Allegheny of Pittsburgh Cougars to an 82-57 win over the Garrett Lakers last Friday in Garrett.

The Cougars, ranked third in the nation in defense, also received 17 points from Bill Searles, 13 from Jeff Dean, and 11 from Tim Cuges.

Garrett, which saw its record slip to 11-16, placed Steve Liller

(20) and Charles Sawyer (19) in double figures.

CCAC outshot the Lakers 31-25, and they also held a 20-7 margin at the foul line.

The Lakers concluded their season Monday evening on a disappointing note, as they fell to Hagerstown Junior College, 89-79, on the winners' floor. The loss lowered Garrett's season ledger to 11-17 under first year coach Randy Hess.

No less than five Lakers managed to hit double figures, but Hagerstown maintained approximately a ten-point edge throughout the contest, leading at the half 46-37.

Charles Sawyer paced GCC's scoring with 18 points, while teammates Steve Liller, Clint Bradley, Jerome Hampton and George Hodge scored 17, 14, 13 and 11 markers, respectively.

Dave Thraikill led the way for Hagerstown with 15 points. Bob Sowell hit 14, Soni Brown, 12, and Roy Sandberg, ten, to round out the winners' double figure scorers.

Forest And Park Services Express Trail Interest

According to a news release from the Maryland Forest and Park Services, Director Donald MacLauchlan has responded "enthusiastically" to requests for additional snowmobile trails in Garrett County. Citing the public demand for more trails, MacLauchlan explained the procedure necessary to obtain additional trails in the State forests.

Snowmobile trails are mandated by regulations that are developed as a result of public hearings. After reviewing the available trails MacLauchlan stated, "While current regulations prohibit the use of park lands, it is clear that the State forests have the potential for more snowmobile trails. However, parking facilities at Herrington Manor and Deep Creek Lake parks can be used by snowmobilers who use State forest trails."

Department of Natural Resources Secretary James B. Coulter and Forest and Park Services Director MacLauchlan share in the concern generated by snowmobiling enthusiasts and view additional trails in the State forests as a legitimate recreational use of the forestland. MacLauchlan has stated his desire to work with snowmobilers to explore the development of additional trails and make arrangements for public hearings so to incorporate the trails in the off-road vehicle regulations. The Forest and Park Service is the unit of the Department of Natural Resources that will be involved in the development of future trails. Persons interested in additional trails should make their feelings known so that the current regulations can be amended through normal procedures. Ideally, with public support, snowmobilers will have additional trails in the future, according to the Forest and Park Services.

GCC Rally Falls Short, Topped By ACC Trojans

by Todd Liller

Garrett entered last Wednesday's final home game with the 14th ranked Allegheny Community College Trojans as heavy underdogs. But Garrett surprised more than a few people by trailing by only four points with just over two minutes remaining. ACC went to a delay game, though, and easy layups over the final two minutes resulted in an 83-68 win over the Lakers.

Behind the shooting of Adam

Bostick, ACC rolled to a 48-34 halftime lead. Garrett rallied behind the play of Steve Liller and Clint Bradley to cut the margin to four with less than three minutes to play.

A bucket by Bostick and a dunk by Anthony Martin gave the Trojans a 66-58 lead. They then went to their delay game to nail down the win.

Bostick led the winners with a career high 30 points. Martin and Mike McCroey added 18 each.

Liller, one of the top scorers in Region 20, paced Garrett with 23 points. Bradley had 21 and Jerome Hampton 13.

Appalachian Adult Activities Center Opens GCC Hot Lunch Facility

by Kathy Bailey

After several months of deliberation Garrett Community College has contracted the services of the Appalachian Adult Activities Center in providing a hot lunch program for the students. Previous dining facilities consisted solely of several Servomat machines and a micro-wave oven. Dr. Jan W. Janssen, Dean of Students, stated that the change in the Servomat resulted from student surveys and the student government reflecting the interests of the student body in obtaining some type of hot lunch program at the college. He said the AAAC was contacted last Fall and a formal contract was approved by the Board of Trustees of GCC and the AAAC Board of Directors.

The hot lunch program became effective last Wednesday and Dr. Janssen feels the students are "very receptive" to the type of program now available. A lunch menu has been prepared, offering one full course lunch per day. Dr. Janssen said the menu reflects the students' preferences as revealed in a survey last Fall. Serving hours are from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. The majority of costs to the students for each food item is under one dollar.

Constructive changes were made in the student dining area. Several machines were removed and full kitchen with a standing counter and register was installed. These new facilities will be financed by the money taken in from the operation, payable by the Country Oven Bakery, a food service blanketing organization designated by the AAAC Board of Directors as acting treasurer for the facility.

AAAC, originated in 1978, is a program set up to provide daily services, hot meals and competitive employment for the mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed and physically handicapped over the age of 18, said Maureen Switzer, Food Service Manager for the project. David Koontz is in charge of the operation. AAAC is a state-funded organization and handicapped clients receive job training on a daily basis at the activity center in the Healthland Building, Oakland, Ms. Switzer said. Clients are employed at the new GCC facility and are paid minimum wage from monies taken in by the operation, she said. According to David Koontz, client employment is competitive and all workers undergo considerable training and are employed according to qualifications and skills. AAAC creates employment for its clients, he said, through the establishment of businesses and offering aid to established employers. Other sources of employment for AAAC clients, Koontz said, are Triple A Cleaning, summer yard services, C&P Telephone assistance and private work on Deep Creek Lake. He added that clients involved in AAAC workshops are paid at least minimum wage for their time and efforts.

Ms. Switzer is "thankful to the college and all who made the project possible, for the opportunity to provide a service for the students." The GCC hot lunch facility is supervised by Ms. Switzer and Mary Humberston. It is separate from the college and is funded by a state grant and profits made by the facility. GCC will foot the bill for utilities, and has provided the space for the facility rent-free.

Some of the meals offered to students this month are steak and cheese hoagies, salad bars, chicken, chili dogs, lasagna, hamburgers, potato soup, spaghetti and fish, providing quite a change from the packaged food so long offered in the Servomat.

County Included In Western Maryland Book

Garrett County is one of six counties included in the newly published book "Western Maryland: A Profile," edited by Thomas H. Hattery, a political participant in Frederick and Carroll counties.

Separate chapters describe the economy, politics and historical background of each of the counties, and are written by residents of each area.

Tim Dugan, Garrett County planning director, wrote the chapter on Garrett.

Other counties included in the publication are Allegany, Howard, Carroll, Washington, and Frederick.

Thomas H. Hattery, editor of the book, says one of the purposes of the book is to show the unique characteristics of Western Maryland and to focus on the area, its history, and its political features.

There is also a section with quotations from various officials, ranging from Gov. Harry R. Hughes to office holders at the city and county levels.

Among officials and citizens commenting on the future of Western Maryland are U. S. Sen. Charles McC. Mathias (R-Md.), Rep. Beverly Byron (D-Md.), former U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr., former Garrett County Commissioner George C. Edwards, and Bradley A. Stewart, president of the Mountain Top Chamber of Commerce, Garrett County.

Hattery said the book is written so that a cross section of persons will benefit and derive enjoyment from it. He says the book is written so that high school students can understand it, but also at a level which is acceptable to college students, the business community, government officials, and community organizations.

United Methodist Ministers Plan Pulpit Exchange

Garrett County United Methodist ministers will be exchanging pulpits Sunday, February 24 as a part of the major funds campaign in the West Virginia Conference of the United Methodist Church.

The pulpit exchange is one of several activities planned in the next three months, the time set aside as the intensive phase period for all churches to work to obtain three year pledges from members to meet the overall conference goal of $5,500,000. The monies raised will benefit West Virginia Wesleyan College, the pension fund for ministers, and the West Virginia United Methodist Conference Camp and Educational Center.

The pulpit exchange is arranged by local parish groups. In the Friendsville Parish, in the northern portion of Garrett County, Rev. Sadie Triplett of the Grantsville Charge will travel to the Friendsville churches, Rev. Ellis Harvey of the Deep Creek Charge will go to the Grantsville churches, and Rev. Brian Schofield of the Friendsville Charge will go to the Deep Creek Charge. In the message is stewardship. Many of the churches will have lay persons conduct the morning services with the guest ministers bringing the message.

U. S. Will Boycott Moscow Olympics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will boycott the Moscow Summer Olympics because the Soviet Union has ignored today's deadline to withdraw its troops from Afghanistan, a White House official said today.

"President Carter told the United States Olympic Committee over the weekend that American athletes should not participate in the Moscow Olympics and the committee has said it would abide by the president's decision," White House Counsel Lloyd Cutler said.

"The president has made his decision — since the troops are not withdrawn, no U.S. team should be sent to Moscow."

"We're now waiting for the committee to take the formal steps. They have procedural problems, but all that will happen."

Carter told the American Legion Tuesday he is staying with his policy of setting today as the deadline for a boycott of the Moscow Olympics.

Cutler said some 50 governments are supporting Carter's position or "leaning toward it."

He said that the question of holding some type of alternate sports competitions is "under study along with other governments."

"We are not going to have a counter Olympics at the same time," he said. "But we will try to have sports competitions in other places this summer, such as swimming at one place other events at another site."

Cutler noted the Soviets have said they will send athletes to the Olympics in Los Angeles in 1984 even if the United States boycotts Moscow.

In Bonn, State Department spokesman Hodding Carter said today the United States will boycott Moscow this summer since there is "no sign whatsoever" of a Soviet withdrawal from Afghanistan.

"The president has made clear that our decision is irrevocable," Carter said. "We will not participate in the Olympics in Moscow this summer."

U.S. officials indicated willingness to talk with Moscow about withdrawal of Soviet troops from Afghanistan, but stressed Washington's response to the Soviet invasion was not a short term "public relations gimmick" composed of "Band-Aid action and quick fixes."

They stressed the response included holding firm to a boycott of the Moscow Olympic Games as Carter's Feb. 20 deadline for Soviet withdrawal from Afghanistan expired today.

Officials said a European proposal to declare Afghanistan an internationally recognized neutral zone — once Soviet troops pull out — could serve as a basis for talks with Moscow on troop withdrawal.

Hodding Carter welcomed that proposal, endorsed by a meeting of the nine foreign ministers of the European Economic Community in Rome Tuesday.

Soviet Withdrawal Not Evident By Carter's Deadline

Moslem rebels today claimed their forces in Afghanistan shot down a second Soviet helicopter in increased fighting with Russian-backed government troops around the strategic northeastern city of Jalalabad.

The rebel claim came on the day President Carter set as a deadline for Soviet forces to withdraw from Afghanistan or the United States would go ahead with a boycott of the summer Olympic Games in Moscow.

Carter said Tuesday the deadline "will not be changed." Reports from Afghanistan, however, indicated the estimated 90,000 Soviet troops in the country were being drawn deeper into the fighting.

The Pakistan newspaper Jang today reported 25 guerrillas and five Soviet advisers were killed recently in fierce fighting in the Afghan province of Takhar, which borders the Soviet Union.

The newspaper also said guerrilla forces had captured two police stations in the province.

Asian and Western diplomats in Islamabad, Pakistan, said the guerrillas apparently are having their greatest success against Soviet and Afghan forces in the area around Jalalabad, which has been without power since the Dec. 27 Russian invasion.

The diplomats confirmed rebel reports fighting in the area had intensified in the past week and there were no signs of a Russian withdrawal.

They said the heavy fighting has cut communication and transportation links between Jalalabad and the Afghan capital of Kabul, about 90 miles to the west.

U.S. intelligence sources estimate as many as 5,000 Soviet troops have been killed or wounded since the invasion began, mainly in hit-and-run rebel attacks on outposts or supply routes.

On the diplomatic front, U.S. Secretary of State Cyrus Vance was in Bonn, West Germany, today to begin the first round of talks in four European capitals on the Afghanistan crisis.

Before Vance arrived in Bonn, the nine nations of the European Common Market Tuesday proposed that once Russian troops pull out of Afghanistan, the Asian nation's neutrality should be internationally guaranteed as a means of keeping the Soviets out.

British Foreign Minister Lord Carrington, who drew up the proposal, said, "If the U.S.S.R. claim they had to occupy Afghanistan for fear of its stability, a guaranteed neutrality would remove their fears."

A British diplomat said the plan "gives them a way out without loss of face."

In Cairo, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat warned Tuesday unless the West stood up to Moscow, it would "eventually lose" the Persian Gulf and other strategic areas.

The West's role, he said, "is to tell the Soviets in clear-cut terms to stop because they only understand this language."

Colorado Teacher Voices Attitudes Of Soviet Schools

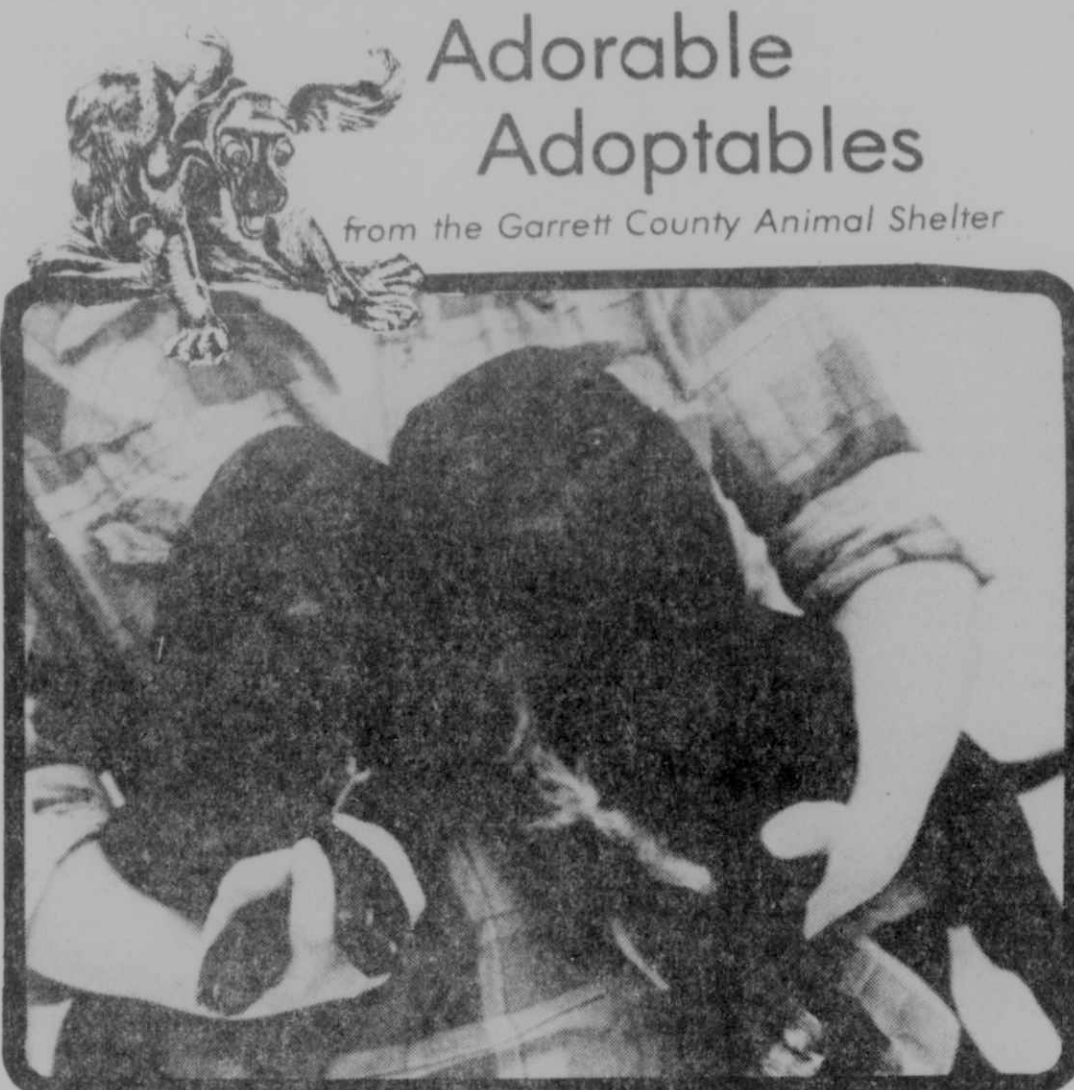

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (UPI) — Soviet students generally are fond of their American counterparts and reserve their hostilities for the Chinese, says a teacher who recently spent two months in Russia.

Ruth Warner, 29, of Grand Junction, Colo., and five other American teachers worked under a program sponsored by the American Field Service and Soviet Ministry of Education.

Miss Warner, who teaches German and Russian at Grand Junction High School, also said Russian students received a better education than their American counterparts.

She said while students in the Soviet Union are required to attend school for only 10 years, they generally receive a better education than do American students who attend classes for 12 years.

She noted that brighter students in the Soviet Union are provided with intensive, specialized studies starting with the second grade. Also, students attend school six days a week and by the fifth grade are required to have studied a foreign language.

Commission Approval Confirmed

By United Press International
Iranian President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr today officially approved a U.N. commission to investigate the regime of the deposed shah, clearing the way for the panel to fly to Iran.

The approval came in a cablegram to U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim, saying the five-member commission "may (now) come to Tehran."

It came as members of the commission, most of them distinguished lawyers, were in Geneva, Switzerland, awaiting word from Waldheim before boarding a U.N.-chartered flight to Tehran.

In New York, a U.N. spokesman confirmed Waldheim had received the cablegram from Bani-Sadr.

"We need some clarifications," the spokesman said, "but we hope to make the announcement (officially establishing the commission) shortly."

The Iranian approval prepared the way for the next crucial step toward the release of the 50 American hostages held at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran for 109 days.

Bani-Sadr told Waldheim the makeup of the commission had been approved by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and the Revolutionary Council and the panel "may (now) come to Iran."

The text of the cablegram was broadcast by Tehran Radio and monitored by the British Broadcasting Corp. in London.

As the commission members made ready to visit Tehran, the Iranian army denied reports it was planning to attack the rebellious Kurdish region of northwestern Iran.

Tehran Radio said that "with the approach of parliamentary elections, the counter-revolutionaries have spread rumors that the army is planning to attack Kurdistan. The broadcast said the reports were untrue and army movements were "a routine part of the annual training program."

ford, 19, is charged with cruelty to a juvenile — "bouncing the infant repeatedly on a hard surface." Her attorney has filed for a restraining order to stop attempts to have the plug pulled, which could result in a charge of second-degree murder against the mother.

Also today in Wichita, Kan., and on Thursday in Fort Collins, Colo., adults appear before judges in preliminary hearings involving the deaths of their children.

Kansas authorities argue that on Christmas Eve, Thomas Saad, 25, beat his 3-month-old stepson unconscious. Michael Saad was kept on life-support equipment until last month, when the courts finally ruled the equipment should be removed. Saad has been charged with second-degree murder.

The Fort Collins, Colo., court case involves the death of John Hernandez, a 4-month-old baby ordered removed from life-support machines last Wednesday when it was ruled his brain was dead.

His mother, Rita Hernandez, 19, has been charged. She maintains the boy's injuries were suffered in a fall Feb. 6, but doctors already have testified the child previously suffered two skull fractures, a broken left arm and a broken collarbone — apparently inflicted in beatings.

In another Colorado case, Denver authorities are investigating the death of 8-week-old James Michael Schultz last Friday, 30 minutes after he was removed from a life-support system. Catherine Schultz, who has not been charged, has admitted slapping the child but contends she placed him on a bed and while her back was turned the infant rolled off the bed, hitting his head on a carpeted concrete floor.

In Buffalo, N.Y., last Friday, authorities charged Vivian Walker, 28, with second-degree murder in the death of her 24-year-old daughter. Examiners found burn marks on the child's buttocks and several bruises.

AFL-CIO Teamsters Begin Negotiations For Reaffiliation

BAL HARBOR, Fla. (UPI) — After a 23-year breakup, the Teamsters Union and the AFL-CIO have started a negotiating process for the 2-million-member union to reaffiliate with the federation.

AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland said Tuesday special committees have been named to begin direct talks on such a move, which would bring the nation's largest union back to the organization that expelled it in 1957.

At that time, the federation took the action because the Teamsters would not answer questions about corrupt influence over the union. The two immediate past Teamsters' presidents, James Hoffa and Dave Beck, have served jail terms after holding their Teamsters' post.

Now, in Kirkland's effort to have a "regathering of the clan" in the AFL-CIO, he feels that law enforcement authorities, not the union movement, should monitor ethical standards of unions.

"I'm satisfied that the Teamsters are a bona fide trade union that has done fine work in representing its members and I am satisfied that it's in the best interest of the American trade union movement to bring about the consolidation of all of its legitimate elements," Kirkland told a news conference during the mid-winter meeting of the federation's executive council.

Asked if the Teamsters' ethical standards were not a concern, Kirkland said such jurisdiction belonged to "the constabulary forces of this country."

"There are ample laws which deal with the supervision of trade unions and the conduct of trade union officers far more so than any other element of our society," he said.

Reaffiliation of the Teamsters would provide the federation with a financial boon in an added $4.6 million annually in per capita dues.

Kirkland added, the federation also had contacted the United Auto Workers union and the United Mine Workers union about reaffiliation. The UAW bolted from the federation in a dispute between the late AFL-CIO President George Meany and Walter Reuther, who headed the UAW. The UMW left the old CIO during the days of John L. Lewis.

Kirkland said no such bid had been made to the National Education Association even though it is the nation's second largest union. He said there were particular difficulties in NEA affiliation because of a jurisdictional problem with the rival American Federation of Teachers, which is an AFL-CIO member.

In other action Tuesday, the council adopted policy statements backing President Carter's assertion the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan poses the greatest threat to the free world since World War II, and endorsed Carter's call for a boycott of the Moscow Olympics.

It also suggested if the International Olympic Committee goes ahead with the Moscow games, the United States should consider pulling out of the IOC.

Republicans To Debate Tonight

United Press International
Everything is set for tonight's debate of the Republican presidential candidates in New Hampshire, but another forum including just two of them is under heavy fire.

The Federal Election Commission has on its table protests by Senate Republican Leader Howard Baker, Sen. Robert Dole and Rep. John Anderson, saying the so-called front-runner debate Saturday in Nashua, N.H., would discriminate against them.

The complaints, filed Tuesday, are aimed at the Nashua Telegraph, which is sponsoring the one-on-one confrontation between former California Gov. Ronald Reagan and former U.N. Ambassador George Bush — the two GOP candidates generally believed to be leading in New Hampshire.

The three members of Congress are charging the newspaper's expenditure of money for the debate is discriminatory because it advances the candidacies of Bush and Reagan to the detriment of the other contenders.

Dole's Washington office said late Tuesday if the FEC turns down the complaint or fails to act soon, he will seek a court injunction to block the affair.

Common Cause, the national citizens lobby, also oppose the debate and is seeking to have it canceled.

A new CBS-New York Times national poll found Sen. Edward Kennedy's presidential campaign in serious trouble. CBS said that while 75 percent of the Democrats contacted in a poll last June said they had a favorable impression of Kennedy, the figure fell to 69 percent in November and plunged to 31 percent in the most recent survey.

On its evening news program, CBS also said for the first time since it started polling Democrats about the primary race, Kennedy received a negative rating by a 5-3 margin. The Massachusetts senator did even worse among Democrats who said they take a lot of interest in the campaign, CBS said, and he even got a negative response from Catholic Democrats.

The poll found that one in four of the Democrats surveyed said they would not vote for Kennedy under any circumstance.

On the Republican side, the poll found while Ronald Reagan was leading the race for his party's nomination by a wide margin before the Iowa caucuses, that gap has been closing.

The poll also found 86 percent of the Republicans could not think of anything they disliked about Reagan rival George Bush.

The poll was prepared through a random telephone survey of 1,336 adults.

"Having A Great Time" At Lake Placid Olympics

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (UPI) — The sweet, warm smell of jelly doughnuts envelopes the crowd sniffing at the counter of the Main Street bakery. Across the way, golden boy Eric Heiden skates around an icy oval on his way toward his third Olympic gold medal.

Reading the headlines about the bus and ticket snafus during the first week of the Winter Olympics, one loses sight of the other side of the games — the awesome athletic feats, the trading of pins from different countries and organizations, the camaraderie and making of new friends.

"I think the Olympics are the greatest idea in history," said luger Ty Danco of Pepper Pine, Ohio.

"We're having a great time!" chorused Alison Wyckoff and Carol Mierzwa, freshmen at Boston College. "Watching the events you get all tingly all over."

They spend their days on the slopes eyeing the Alpine skiers, at the speed skating oval taking pictures of Heiden, at the figure skating competitions, at the hockey games.

By night, they try out the tiny bars, getting approached "mostly by older guys." They joke about the lines guys hand them.

"Are you here for the Olympics?" is the favorite. A lot ask if you have pins to trade," said Alison, a Seattle, Wash., native. "The foreign guys say, 'Are you American? American looks good on you.'"

While the 21-year-old Heiden was winning his third gold medal across the street Tuesday, the 23-year-old pastry whiz David Brown was cleaning up from the morning rush — 30 dozen jelly doughnuts and 18 dozen plain doughnuts in a couple of hours.

"I like the excitement and the people," he said from his stance over a stack of icing-caked pots and pans. "I've met people from Finland, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, Yugoslavia. The Europeans always comment the bread's so soft."

On the other end of Main Street, Kim Duby was collecting tickets at the village's 53-year-old moviehouse, which is showing 24 classics ranging from "Downhill Racer" to "True Grit" during the Olympics. Popcorn smell permeates the air.

"The most popular shows are 'Slap Shot' with Paul Newman and all of Woody Allen's movies. The Russians come a lot. I tell you what — this is the nicest, friendliest group of people since I've been here — and that's 11 years," he said.

On Main Street outside, hundreds of spectators window-shop and pin trading is a favorite pastime. The pin from Taiwan, which withdrew rather than compete without its flag and anthem, is the most desired. The Russians love to trade for the Coca-Cola one but almost nobody else will.

Mirror Lake, in contrast, is quiet, a pristine snowy white. A handful of people are admiring snow-capped Whiteface Mountain in the distance. Others cut across the frozen lake in snowmobiles and dog sleds, laughing in pleasure.

Lawyer Says Shah Could Be Arrested

PANAMA — CITY, —Panama (UPI) — A prominent Panamanian lawyer representing Iran in extradition proceedings against the deposed shah of Iran says the exiled monarch could be arrested once papers are served.

Juan Materno Vasquez, former president of Panama's Supreme Court, said Tuesday the shah's right to go free on bail depends upon what charges are brought against him by Iran.

"Once the demand (for extradition) is made, he will not be able to move because he will be arrested," Vasquez said. "He may not necessarily go to jail because he could be granted bail."

Vasquez added, however, under Panamanian law the shah could demand the right of habeas corpus to safeguard him against illegal detention or obtain a judicial order granting him temporary immunity from prosecution.

"If Panama accepts Iranian charges demanding imprisonment, then the shah must be arrested and all the documents in his possession can be seized," he said.

The office of the presidency and the Ministry of Government and Justice would then decide whether to accept Iran's charges, Vasquez said.

Shah spokesman Mark Morse, reached by telephone on Contadora Island where Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi is staying, refused to comment on the lawyer's statements.

Vasquez said Panamanian law provides for extradition proceedings when no treaty exists, as in the case of Panama and Iran.

But, because Panama has no death penalty, authorities could refuse to extradite the shah if it were evident he would be executed once he returned to the Islamic Republic, Vasquez said.

Vasquez stressed the shah has the legal right to leave Panama before the extradition documents from Tehran arrive, but added the proceedings could continue even if the shah was no longer in the country.

The shah and his wife Empress Farah have lived on the Pacific resort island since they arrived from the United States Dec. 15.

Lois Mosser Elected Mayor Of Kitzmiller

Kitzmiller residents elected their first woman mayor, possibly the first to be elected in Garrett County, during recent elections of mayor and town council members.

Lois Mosser, a lifetime resident of Kitzmiller, says the major reason she ran for the office was she has "a lot of community pride." "I'm tired of big city newspapers running us down," she commented, "this is a nice little community."

Mrs. Mosser ran unopposed on the ballot, a fact she didn't discover until the day of election. She had been told there were to be six others on the ballot; all had been nominated by the town council to run for mayor.

In the town council election, James Barrick and Kenneth Knotts were voted to the council; Patricia Brady and Frank Reel were both re-elected.

Mrs. Mosser did not campaign to be elected but she did want the office. Her major goal while in office is to promote her town. "I am going in as an ordinary citizen," she stated, "with the idea of promoting the town as much as I can." If she can help build a sense of pride among all Kitzmiller residents she feels she will have made her goal. One way she will be able to tell will be the next election in four years. If more town residents turn out for the elections, she will be happy. Just 36 of the under 500 residents of the town participated in the elections.

Though she is probably the first woman ever elected as mayor of a town in Garrett County, Mrs. Mosser does not think her election is a significant event. She acknowledges that as a woman she "will see things differently," but what is more important is that she is a citizen and will give all she has to her work.

Her election as mayor of Kitzmiller is not the only "first." Mrs. Mosser has experienced. In 1959, she was the first woman in the tri-state elected and introduced as an elder in the Presbyterian Church.

She was also one of the first delegates to represent Garrett County at a National Convention for PTAs in 1974.

She has been an active woman over the years. She says her most important activity was raising her two daughters and one son. She is the widow of Carlton O. Mosser who died 21 years ago.

Professionally, Mrs. Mosser has been a school teacher and was a bookkeeper for the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company.

She is past president of the Allegany-Garrett Firefighters Auxiliary and now serves as a trustee. She is a past president of the Kitzmiller PTA; a past president of the Garrett County Council of PTAs; a past president of the Wilson Fiddler Unit 113 of the American Legion Auxiliary; and has held all offices in the Southern High

"You can have confidence in us."

"We are encouraging all personnel officers and others concerned with hiring throughout state government to use this productive group of our work force in Maryland," Secretary Thornton said.

The Secretary of Personnel further explained that persons age 70 or over may now compete in state service for all job classifications for which they qualify. This new hiring practice will remain in effect until late 1981, after which a complete report of the program's operation will be made to the 1982 Maryland General Assembly by the two agencies involved.

Program To Employ Persons Over 70 Begins Operation

A new program to employ persons over 70 years of age in state service for the first time has begun operation according to a joint announcement Friday by Dr. Matthew Tayback, State Director on Aging and Theodore Thornton, State Secretary of Personnel. The agency directors explained the innovative program is a result of a new law passed by the 1979 Maryland General Assembly which mandated a three-year demonstration project in such hiring practices.

"We are encouraging all personnel officers and others concerned with hiring throughout state government to use this productive group of our work force in Maryland," Secretary Thornton said.

The Secretary of Personnel further explained that persons age 70 or over may now compete in state service for all job classifications for which they qualify. This new hiring practice will remain in effect until late 1981, after which a complete report of the program's operation will be made to the 1982 Maryland General Assembly by the two agencies involved.

Actual deliveries during December averaged $13.20 per hundredweight, $7.70 above December 1978. The preliminary price for January is $13.20 at 3.80 percent butterfat.

Prices paid by farmers during January for feed were all above a year earlier.

Rinard Is Head Of Community Assistance Plan

G. Bradford Rinard, of the Garrett County Community Action Committee, was elected chairman of the Southeast Rural Community Assistance Project (SE/R-CAP) at its first regular meeting, December 11, in Atlanta, Ga.

The new component of the Virginia Water Project, Inc. is one of six regional centers in the nation funded by the Community Services Administration. SE/R-CAP will provide training and technical assistance to rural Community Action agencies, community based organizations, and local governments to help develop affordable water and wastewater facilities for low-income residents.

Rinard's program will serve 123 rural and urban/rural Community Action programs in Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

The need for such assistance is evidenced by the fact that there are nearly one million households within these seven states without complete plumbing, according to the 1970 census. This represents 24% of all the rural housing in the United States without such facilities. Four of the ten states of greatest need are among the seven states to be served by SE/R-CAP.

Rinard will be involved in training for 13 agencies throughout Maryland at the Quality Inn in Baltimore this week. Following training for the network of Community Action agencies, invitations will be extended to the county commissioners, mayors and town councils to discuss how the national R-CAP program can assist in meeting the sewer and water needs in Garrett County. Other agencies and individuals involved in sewer and water projects will also be contacted to solicit their involvement in the program prior to the next quarterly SE/R-CAP meeting which will be held in Panama City, Florida, on March 26. Local Government officials interested in the program should contact the Community Action Agency in their respective counties.

Rinard expressed his hopes for the new program:

"I see R-CAP as a vehicle to bring together low-income people in reform efforts. We will help bridge the gaps between local, state, and federal governments to provide these critically needed facilities."

WINDOWS OF THE SOUL

Eyes have been called the windows of the soul. Clarity, expression and size—all of these are supposed to reveal character. A child's eyes seem innocent. But small, closely-placed eyes may also indicate deception. Some even say that you can tell a criminal by his eyes.

Calling it nonsense, even scientists find it hard to dispel the old wives' tales that have persisted for centuries.

Eyes, in a certain sense, can be the windows of the soul—precious windows through which you look at life. Don't judge another man by his eyes. Look instead through eyes of understanding and compassion, for in God's sight we are all equal. If your inner vision has been a bit faulty lately, why not start going to church next Sunday?

THE MAN BORN BLIND

Background Scripture:

John 9

Devotional Reading:

Isaiah 35:5-10

The story of "The Man Born Blind" is one that could just as easily be taken from the pages of a newspaper as the Gospel According to John. People have not changed all that much since the day when Jesus healed a "blind" man.

It is a very dramatic and significant story. John regards it as more than just another healing, rather as a "sign" that points to the coming of the Messiah, the one who would restore to man the sight of a vital truth about Jesus Christ: "I am the light of the world" (9:5).

Who Sinned?

What a glaring contrast between this sublime pronouncement and the revealing, self-incriminating questions people pose to him. The first of these comes from his own disciples: "Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?" (9:2). People then as now are always preoccupied with sin when they find someone in trouble. So it was with John and his friends and so it is even today, despite Jesus' forthright reply: "It was not that this man sinned, or his parents, but that the works of God might be made manifest in him" (9:3). His disciples, typically, were focusing upon human sin when they should have been concentrating on the glory of God. We still do that today, don't we?

When the man had been healed by Jesus, his friends and neighbors looked at him and asked, "Is not this the man who used to sit and beg?" The answer should have been obvious, but how typical and contemporary are the replies. "Some said, 'It is he,' others said, 'No, but he is like him'" (9:9). Because they were not prepared to believe he could be healed, they refused to acknowledge the obvious fact that that was precisely what had happened. Today we would say the young man had been incorrectly diagnosed or that his blindness had been psychosomatic or that the whole thing was a clever fraud.

One Thing I Know

Next comes the inevitable question from the Pharisees: "how were your eyes opened?" (9:10). Notice, the emphasis is upon "how," not "who." They knew "who," but what they wanted was some way of discrediting him. "This man is not from God, for he does not keep the sabbath" (9:16). Instead of rejoicing over the miraculous healing of a blind man, the Pharisees did then best to find fault with the healer. A look, however, would have disclosed the obvious: How can a man who is a sinner do such signs?

We can see the frustration of the Pharisees mounting, for instead of discrediting Jesus, he seems to be gaining ground. "Give God the praise," they order. "We know that this man is a sinner" (9:24). The young man's answer is a masterpiece of sincerity and courage. "Whether he is a sinner, I do not know; one thing I know, that though I was blind, now I see" (9:25).

Turns, the Pharisees confront Jesus. Are we also blind? (9:40). And for once they have asked the right question!

Laurel Man Announces Candidacy

Kent Sullivan, 35, of Howard County has announced his candidacy in the Democratic primary for the Sixth Congressional District seat occupied by Rep. Beverly Byron.

Born in Baltimore and raised in Mechanicsburg, Pa., Sullivan holds a master's degree in educational administration from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and a bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

He has worked as a teacher and educational research associate for the National Institute of Education, where he was employed six and one half years, resigning last month to become active in politics. He has resided in Laurel for 10 years.

Sullivan was Connecticut state coordinator for former New York Mayor John Lindsay's 1972 presidential campaign, but has never run for a political office. He feels a "perspective from a generalist point of view will be refreshing," and he plans to lead an "unconventional, meaningful" campaign on a personal basis through discussions and public meeting. He voices opposition to "theatrical, superficial campaigns of politicians who tend to be expedient in dealing with issues." He hopes to determine what problems are foremost in the minds of the constituency of the district and later put together a platform of issues.

Sullivan is a registered Democrat but feels that the Republican philosophy of fiscal restraint and concern for the individual is a good one.

He is concerned with the "deterioration of schools and disinterest and apathy of students," public scepticism in politics, and the individual's right to decision-making. Sullivan feels that "legislation which is passed at the federal level should be made public and goals should be presented to the people. He would like to develop a plan to "take a real look at the military and make it attractive," and he feels the federal government should develop an incentive program geared toward 100-percent employment of people who are able to work, stating that "society and the individual cannot afford welfare."

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

The new coordinator for Community Schools in Aurora is Michael Fike. He has announced that there will be a cross-country ski school on Thursday evening, February 21, from 6 until 9 p. m. The cost for this class includes all equipment. This is a one-session school, there will be no further classes to attend. All those interested are asked to come warmly dressed, especially remembering feet and hands, for the three hours will be spent outdoors.

Also, he would appreciate hearing from those who would have suggestions for specific topics in the classes.

Elections for representatives to the Preston County Health Council will soon be coming up. Those who are interested in serving in this capacity from Union District should contact Jean Winters at 735-5783 or leave word at the Egdon Clinic. The duties involve committee work and board meetings, presently scheduled monthly.

The book, "Big Doc and Little Doc", a story concerning Egdon natives, Dr. William Lewis Werner and Dr. Harry R. Werner is now being reprinted by McClain Printing Company at Parsons at the request of Dr. Marshall R. Werner, son of Harry and Emily, who was born in Thomas and left with his parents when he was twelve. He is a medical doctor in Akron and the paperback book of 160 pages with pictures is available from McClain Printing Company, Parsons, WV 26287, or from Marshall R. Werner, M.D., 655 West Market Street, Akron, OH 44303.

The story, written by Dr. Harry Werner and his wife, Emily Dare (Shillingburg) Werner, a native of Gorman, begins with the summer of 1904 when Dr. Harry was between his second and third years in medical school and stayed with his brother, Dr. Will, in Thomas. The story takes place mostly in Tucker County as he practiced in Thomas until 1919 when he left and went to Akron, Ohio, to practice.

'79 Gasoline Use Lowest Since '75

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported recently that gasoline consumption in the state during 1979 was less than during any calendar year since 1975. A total of 1,030,658,658 gallons of gasoline was used in Maryland in 1979, 5.6 percent less than the 2,044,724,066 consumed during 1978.

For the month of December 1979, a total of 159,187,905 gallons of gasoline were consumed, or 10.5 percent less than the 177,809,793 gallons used during December, 1978.

The December fall-off in gasoline consumption is especially significant because of the normally heavy travel during the holiday season, and the relatively mild weather during December," Mr. Goldstein said.

The declining gasoline consumption continues to hold motor fuel tax revenues about eight percent below collections for the same period last year. For the first seven months of Fiscal Year 1980, motor fuel tax revenues amount to $111,177,289, compared with $120,966,493 collected during an identical period of Fiscal Year 1979.

RESA Advisory Board To Meet

The council will also discuss formal procedures on evaluating ARC Voc-Ed Programs, the enrollment and funding of residents in each county in Maryland Higher Education, Fall, 1978, and coordination of 211B demonstration projects.

The executive director will present a status report of the Fund for Improvement of Post-Secondary Education immediately before the group luncheon.

YOU ASKED FOR IT Many of you have written or phoned in asking specific questions about purchasing or caring for your carpeting. Space will not permit us to answer all of them, but we will periodically pick the most representative questions and devote a column to them.

I have new carpeting in my living room and hallways. Recently a friend told me that some types of vacuum cleaners cause carpet damage. Is this true? Ans. Certain vacuums are better for your carpet than others. I recommend a brush and beater type of vacuum for today's carpets. Most uprights are of this type and some canister and tank types have attachments which use this principle. If you would like to discuss the specific type of vacuum cleaner we recommend, please call us at 334-9598 (Roderick's Carpet Branch Shoppe).

All three of the alcoholic beverage tax sources exhibited growth, but tobacco tax collections declined by 7.0 percent.

Officers Attend Security Seminar

MOON DISCOVERED

As it passed Jupiter last July, the Voyager 2 space craft photographed a bright streak that appeared between the spacecraft and the planet. NASA experts believe that the streak was an unknown moon appearing as a streak because of the motion of the spacecraft. This newly discovered moon has a calculated diameter of 30 to 40 kilometers (18 to 25 miles). It is about 57,000 kilometers (36,000 miles) above the clouds of Jupiter and makes one revolution around the planet every 7 hours.

MOON

Friday at 7:14 p.m., the Moon will pass through its First Quarter phase. This is the time at which the Moon is 90 degrees east of the Sun. The Moon will set at 11:16 p.m. today. Moonset next Tuesday will be at 4:12 a.m.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn will be the planets visible to the unaided eye during the week. Venus will be above the horizon in the west for about 3½ hours. It will be very bright. Mars and Jupiter will be visible among the stars of Leo most of the night. Tuesday, Mars will be closer to Earth than at any other time this year. At that time, it will appear larger than at any other time. Only 100 million kilometers (62 million miles) will separate Earth and Mars on Tuesday. Jupiter will be exactly opposite the Sun on Monday. Saturn will rise with the stars of Virgo, about 3 hours after sunset.

DAYLIGHT INCREASES

By next Tuesday there will be 15 minutes more daylight than there will be today. Sunrise was at 7:04 a.m. today. Sunset will be 10 hours 54 minutes later at 5:58 p.m. Tuesday, the Sun will rise at 6:56 a.m. and it will set at 6:05 p.m.

Today is the 51st day of 1980. At noon today, the sun will be at the same position that it was last October 23rd.

Rotarians Celebrate 75th Year

ROTARIANS CELEBRATE — Members of four county Rotary clubs, their wives and guests celebrated the 75th anniversary of Rotary International at the Grantsville Holiday Inn last Thursday night. Approximately 150 persons attended. Master of Ceremonies for the event was Oakland Rotarian, Maurice Brookhart, pictured at left. The featured speaker was Dr. Donald Tressler, District Governor of Rotary International District 735.

Approximately 150 area Rotarians, their wives and guests held a four-club celebration of Rotary International's 75th Anniversary on February 14 at the Grantsville Holiday Inn.

The four western-most clubs of Friendsville, Grantsville, Lonaconing and Oakland took the opportunity to combine St. Valentine's Day and Rotary International's 75th Birthday at the same event. Maurice Brookhart, of the Oakland club, served as Master of Ceremonies and introduced the featured speaker, Dr. Donald Tressler, of State College, Pa., who is District Governor of Rotary International District 735.

Dr. Tressler commented on the importance of Rotary Clubs joining together in a meeting such as this and that Rotary International was the largest Humanitarian Service Organization in the world today.

The official anniversary of Rotary is Saturday, February 23, 1980, and was originally formed by Paul Harris of Chicago, Illinois in 1905. Mr. Harris believed that business people could form such an organization and meet on a regular basis in order to serve their communities by the joint efforts of their members.

Dr. Tressler was presented a gallon of Garrett County maple syrup as a token of the four clubs' appreciation.

The event was also highlighted by organ music by Larry Ames, a professional organist from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Those instrumental in planning the event were Bob Hadley, Lonaconing; Don Newman, Grantsville; Ross Selby, Friendsville; and Jack Fridinger, Oakland.

Club presidents of the four western-most Rotary Clubs in Maryland are: Ward Livengood, Friendsville; Earl Yoder, Grantsville; William Hadley, Lonaconing; and Dr. Paul Deal, Oakland.

The Austrian Netherlands declared its independence as Belgium on Dec. 13, 1789.

DIET AND DRUG INTERACTION

The drugs or medicines you take, both prescribed by a physician and over-the-counter (OTC) drugs, can increase your need for nutrients, particularly for vitamins and minerals. Nutritionists, pharmacists, physicians and other health care providers are now becoming more aware of food/drug interactions. Individuals both consumers and professionals need to be alert to ways that some commonly used drugs can affect their nutritional status. Some examples of ways that drugs can influence a person's nutritional status are listed below:

*Drugs can cause a period of poor food intake because of appetite loss, nausea, vomiting, or sore mouth.

*Drugs can interfere with the absorption of nutrients from the intestinal tract.

*Drugs can interfere with the action of certain vitamins.

*Drugs can cause a loss of nutrients due to diarrhea.

*Drugs can cause a destruction or elimination of nutrients with body wastes.

Take the following precautions when you use drugs:

—Limit the use of Over-the-Counter drugs.

—Carefully follow directions on how drugs are to be used, both those given by your physician and those on warning labels of OTC drugs.

—Pay special attention to the kind of timing of food eaten.

—Do not risk universal use of drugs with other drugs, especially Alcohol.

—Eat a complete and balanced diet.

You may be at risk of becoming nutritionally deficient if you:

—Are a growing child or a pregnant woman.

—Are getting along in years.

—Have been taking drugs for a long time.

—Have some chronic health problems.

—Are already nutritionally deficient because of poor diet.

—Have poor health habits, such as alcohol or other drug abuse, or smoking.

Diet and drug interaction should be of concern to everyone. Ask your physician or pharmacist about the drugs you are taking and how they interact with food. They will be willing to answer any questions you might have. Also, a chart on different drugs and how they react with various foods is available from the Extension Office in the Courthouse. If you would like to obtain one of these charts, stop by the office or call 334-2145.

Lyz Grant, Jeff Flanagan Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland, was the setting for the February 2 marriage of Lyz Grant and Jeff Flanagan. Rev. John Grant, uncle of the bride, performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, Dr. Bowie Linn Grant, and given away by both of her parents. She wore a full-length gown with a full chapel train which had been worn by her mother 32 years ago. The lace headpiece had been worn for three generations of the bride's family. A white Bible, a three generation tradition, was adorned with silk lilies-of-the-valley and carried by the bride.

The groom wore a black tuxedo and a boutonniere which matched the bridal bouquet. The couple exchanged antique white gold wedding bands.

The maid of honor was Nancy Roberson who wore a full-length brown velvet skirt with a lace blouse and a cummerbund. She carried an arm bouquet of dried flowers.

Bridesmaids Becky Morris and Valinda Skeweris, friends of the bride, wore full-length green velvet skirts with lace blouses and cummerbunds.

They carried arm bouquets of dried flowers. The bridesmaids skirts were made by the bride.

Best man was Rob Skeweris, cousin of the groom, who wore a beige tuxedo and a dried flower boutonniere. Ushers were Tom Skeweris and Kevin Flanagan, cousin and brother of the groom, respectively. Skeweris wore a light green tuxedo and Flanagan wore a beige tuxedo. Both wore dried flower boutonnieres.

Guitar music was performed throughout the ceremony by Bowie Grant, brother of the bride. Songs included were "Lady" (used as the wedding march), "If", "Kathy's Song," and "Gentle On My Mind."

The mother of the bride wore a peach colored dress, as did the mother of the groom. Both wore orchid corsages. The grandmother of the bride also wore an orchid corsage.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony at Cornish Manor.

The wedding cake consisted of three tiers of chocolate with a running water fountain in the center. The cake was served by Mary T. Richardson, aunt of the bride.

After a honeymoon in Ocean City, the couple moved into their home in Fort Pendleton.

League Of Women Voters Celebrates 60th Birthday

Nine members of the Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters of Garrett County went to Annapolis last week to attend the celebration of the 60th birthday of the League of Women Voters of Maryland, and the League of Women Voters of the U.S.

Past presidents of the state League gave a brief resume of the history of the organization, a non-partisan group which works to provide information for voters in order that there might be an informed electorate.

Resolutions of congratulation and appreciation were presented by Benjamin Cardin, Speaker of the House of Delegates, and James Clark, Jr., president of the Senate.

Then active Board members of Leagues all over the state were guests of Gov. and Mrs. Harry R. Hughes at a reception at their official home in the Government House. Mrs. Hughes paid tribute to the work done by volunteers, and the Governor presented Lois Stoner, president of the LWV of Maryland, with a resolution of congratulation and a bouquet of yellow roses, the flower of women's suffrage.

Attending from the LWV of Garrett County were Dorothy Leighton, president; Dayle Dabney, 1st vice president; Barbara Flinn, 2nd vice president; Lynne Elminger, secretary; Pat Peck, treasurer; and Board members Tim Dugan, Vicki Novak, Sara Ramsey, and Mildred Dunbar.

The League is open to all citizens of voting age interested in non-partisan information for voters and in studying the issues facing us today. Men as well as women are eligible to become a full voting member. For membership information, persons should contact Barbara Flinn, 334-3228, or Dorothy Leighton, 334-3315.

Some 11 million Americans now regularly jog or run, more than twice as many as five years ago, according to National Geographic.

Youth Employment Training Program To Be Launched

The initial meeting of the Co-operative Extension Service Youth Employment Steering Committee was held recently in Oakland. The committee was designed to assist in developing local youth employment opportunities, with particular emphasis on summer employment in hospitality and recreation services in Garrett County. A training program, funded through CETA, will be set up by the committee for 25 to 50 youths between the ages of 14 and 20. Training coordinators are Janet C. Wunderlick, Extension Agent for Community Resource Development, and Alice E. Hevner, Extension Agent for 4-H and Youth.

Members present at the meeting were Tom Graham, President of Garrett County Promotion Council; Ben Thorn, Vocational Education Evaluator, Garrett County Board of Education; Mark Wheeler, Herrington Manor State Park; Rick Briggs, Counselor, Garrett Community College; Dick Stanton, First National Bank of Oakland; Dave Perry, Small Business Association, Frostburg; Dan Elminger, Western Maryland Consortium; Sarah Smith, Institutional Foods Instructor, Southern High School; Lawrence Little, Extension Agent, 4-H and Youth; Teresa Switzer, Recorder; and Kathy Railey, The Republican. Michelle Lavelle, CETA and Bonnie Wilt, Youth Representative of CETA, are also listed as members.

Ms. Wunderlick stated that the program was designed to reduce high unemployment in this area. The training coordinators submitted a proposal to Dan Elminger of the Western Maryland Consortium. In response to that proposal, CETA has granted approximately $7,000 in funding for this project, said Ms. Wunderlick. The money will be used to pay instructors, taking into consideration their academic credentials, to provide materials and supplies, and to pay financially disadvantaged enrollees up to minimum wage while they are receiving their training.

Ms. Hevner said the overall goal of the project is for participants to go into a work experience with a positive attitude. The design of the project is tentatively a 40-hour training program which would include 12 hours of practical experience. Other aspects covered will be career preparation, including the promotion of Garrett County, hospitality and assisting tourists; and business skills, such as writing resumes, job interviews, banking, pricing marketing and the establishment of a business.

Mention was made that the 40 hours of training should be completed by June, in order for participants to find summer employment. The group decided the project should be launched by the middle of March.

The training coordinators stated that 21 hours of each course will be devoted to specific skills, and the remainder of course hours will concentrate on general employment preparation. Sarah Smith suggested five job-training skills, such as responsibility, promptness, and others, which could be taught in this area.

Practical employment training and a vocational exploration program will also be offered, to teach students basic employee and business skills and to allow enrollees to sample various occupations, Ms. Wunderlick said.

Elminger stated that the grant was designed to provide $250 per enrollee. He added that this is a pilot project, and if it is successful CETA would like to see the program expanded.

Goldstein Urges

Maintenance Of 15-Year Bonds

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said recently that the present 15-year term of the state's general obligation bonds is in the best financial interest of the state and the taxpayer. In an appearance before the Appropriations Committee of the Maryland House of Delegates, Mr. Goldstein opposed a bill which would lengthen the term of Maryland's general obligation bonds to 30 years.

The Comptroller noted that similar proposals had been defeated twice before and stated that both major bond rating agencies recently made note of Maryland's rapid retirement of debt in awarding the state the coveted Triple A bond rating. The ratings were made by Moody's Investor Service and Standard and Poor's just prior to Maryland's most recent general obligation bond sale, held January 23, 1980.

The Triple A bond rating is important because it generally means the state will have to pay a lower interest rate when it sells bonds. The lower interest rates help to keep the state property tax rate low because it is one source of funds used to pay the principal and interest costs of general obligation bonds, Goldstein said.

Comptroller Goldstein noted that other Triple A rated states which offer bonds for a term longer than 15 years generally pay higher rates of interest. Minnesota sold $110 million in Triple A rated 20 year bonds the same week Maryland held its most recent sale of 15-year bonds. The Minnesota interest rate was 6.34 percent, while Maryland received a low interest bid of 6.19 percent.

The Comptroller also noted that, had Maryland's most recent bond sale been conducted with 30-year bonds instead of 15-year bonds, the taxpayers would have paid an additional $99,397,000 in interest costs. "This additional interest means that either the state property tax would have to be increased or additional funds made available from the Governor's budget or a combination of both. Regardless of the method used to pay the additional interest costs, it means an additional burden on our taxpayers," Mr. Goldstein said. The Comptroller stated that Maryland has credibility in the marketplace and a bond that is accepted by bankers, bond rating agencies and investors. "Now is not the time to change any parts of Maryland's winning combination," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. George Montgomery, Hagerstown, former residents of Deer Park, submitted a poem which was written by their grand-daughter, Carla Lynn Coats. Carla is a seventh grade student who lives in Damascus and possesses a deep concern for the political situation in Iran.

THE HOSTAGES

The world has seen many problems
Since the day that it began
But little can compare
With our troubles in Iran.

Sixty-three were taken hostage
Only thirteen were set free
To prove to the world that they must deal
With Ayatollah Khomeini.

The scheme that they were planning
Because they want the Shah,
Is to put our men on trial
Right in a court of law.

The Shah has left our country,
Our men are being held
So what else can we do but wait
And only time will tell

We Americans are united,
On this we take a stand
You keep your oil, we'll keep our grain,
And on this you can rely,
Before we bow to terrorists,
We'd rather fight and die.

by Carla Lynn Coats

Reminiscences of Garrett County winters inspired Oakland's most renowned poet to write a "Winter Dawn."

WINTER DAWN

Black bare branches
Starkly
Against the cold,
Crystal white snow,
A kaleidoscope
Of sounds

Garrett County Will Celebrate Health Fair Week

At a recent meeting of the Garrett County Health Fair Committee, a decision was made to hold two health fairs in Garrett County to serve the northern and southern sections of the county, during National Health Fair Week, April 14-21, 1980. The meeting was presided by Dr. William Pope, representing the Garrett County Health Department. Persons in attendance were Fran Pope, representing Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad; Charlotte Bock, Garrett County Memorial Hospital; James Ooster, Grantsville Health Center; Dave Ramsey, Maryland Institute of Emergency Medical Services; K. Elswert, St. Peter's Church; Marilyn Metheny, the Garrett County Commission on Aging; Charley Miller, the American Heart Association; Jean Coviello, St. Peter's Church; Gary Teats, Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad; Pauline Faucett, American Cancer Society; and Kathy Bailey, The Republican newspaper. Representatives of the National Health Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations, Baltimore, were not present at this meeting.

Dr. Pope reviewed the concept of the health fair, stating that the program was developed by a private, non-profit organization (NHSCVO) in Washington, DC. He added that the organization is working in cooperation with three sponsors at the state level, Maryland Blue Cross/Blue Shield, American Red Cross, and W.B.A.L.-TV, Baltimore. He stressed the fact that health fairs are entirely voluntary for each county. Dr. Pope added that the NHSCVO is working with a Pittsburgh TV station, and he suggested the committee may choose to advertise screening tests offered and locations on Pittsburgh TV, due to the county's location.

Dr. Pope stated that the committee must follow basic guidelines set up by the NHSCVO. The core of the health fair consists of a minimum number of screening tests, Pope said. The objective, he added, is to provide education in health care and early signs of illness. He also stated that a training session is required for all screening volunteers.

Humans are born with only two instinctive fears: The fear of falling and the fear of a loud noise. Many children grow up with a fear of the dark, but that is a fear picked up from their parents or someone else.

Dr. Pope said that volunteer participation does not end with the screening tests and education, as a "follow-up" is required of all participants, at which time all tests will be reviewed with each individual by a professional nurse, and

By Robert L. Stear, DVM
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

Each year dog and cat owners purchase large quantities of worming compounds to control intestinal parasites in their pets. Often pet owners decide worms are present by observing their pets eating grass, rubbing their hindquarters along the ground, or suffering from diarrhea. However, these symptoms can be characteristic of all sorts of diseases, including indigestion, protozoa infections and others. The only reliable indication of a worm infection is identification of the worm or its eggs in the feces. Your veterinarian is best qualified to do this by a microscopic examination.

Coccidiosis is a major parasitic infection often mistaken for worm infestation. It is caused not by worms but tiny one-celled animals called coccidia, that invade the small intestine of young animals and destroy tissue as they multiply.

Coccidia thrive in dirty, overcrowded and damp living quarters where animal feces are allowed to accumulate. Young animals can ingest the parasite eggs as they groom their feet after walking across a dirty run. Pets also become infected by swallowing eggs or larvae deposited in food by flies and other insects.

Once infected, pets show symptoms of coccidiosis that are frequently confused with those of other intestinal diseases. Chronic diarrhea (often blood-tinged) is the key sign. The diarrhea causes the pet to become dehydrated, with listless eyes and no appetite. In more severe cases, the pet may show cold symptoms along with a slight fever.

Should you recognize the warning signs of the disease, medical treatment should be provided by your veterinarian. Haphazard administration of home remedies could worsen the condition. Worming your pet certainly is of no benefit. Many pets die each year when their owners treat the disease improperly or delay seeking treatment from a veterinarian. The proper medication must be provided in a dose determined on the basis of your pet's age, weight and general condition.

If the pet survives the primary infection without treatment, it can become a carrier for the disease. Suspected carriers must be treated, and their quarters and runs cleaned with a disinfectant.

Strict sanitation is the major factor in controlling and preventing coccidiosis. Kennels should be dry and clean; runs should receive sun part of each day and feces removed daily. Shaded, moist ground, although comfortable in warm weather, increases survival of coccidia eggs and is not a good location for your pet's living quarters.

necessary recommendations will be made to primary care sources. Months later, he added, persons with special problems must be called to assure an active attempt to correct the problem through recommended medical treatment.

Pope explained that participants may select the tests they wish to take. Chemistries are offered through the National Laboratory and participants must pay $6 for 12 tests, or $7 for 16 tests, Pope said.

He emphasized the requirement that education regarding a particular aspect of health must be provided at each station, and he added that the lack of education has, in the past, been a criticism of screening tests.

Dr. Pope designed a plan which was accepted by the group, whereby each health fair could last six hours, and volunteers could work in two, three-hour shifts, in which case the committee would need an estimated 44 volunteers, 22 for each shift, to keep the fair going.

Pope pointed out that some aspects of the fair will require specialized personnel and questionnaires, and he recommended a referral list be drawn up by the committee for people whose tests come back positive. He also identified the areas which would deal strictly in education, excluding the screening test. The group then discussed each station at the fair, and the type of volunteers suited for each aspect of the project.

The group unanimously agreed to hold one fair on a Friday afternoon and evening for the benefit of northern Garrett County, and the second fair on the following Saturday, preferably at a location in Oakland, for the southern section of the county.

Two possible sites were recommended for northern Garrett County, and four possible sites were recommended for southern Garrett County, on the basis of first choice, second, and so on. Dr. Pope stated that he would approach the proposed sites before the next meeting.

The group recommended the contacting of numerous organizations to aid in the project, and a suggestion was made to provide special exhibits for fair participants.

Representatives stated that the Garrett County Health Department and the Garrett County Memorial Hospital could act as a sponsoring organization in the coordination of the fair, offering the majority of supplies and services.

The committee will meet again this evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Garrett Community College Auditorium.

Auxiliary attending were Mrs. Lula Weeks and Mrs. Goldie Powell.

The next regular meeting of VFW Post 10077 will be held on Sunday, February 24, in the post home in Deer Park. Refreshments will be served.

"RENDER UNTO CAESAR WHAT IS CAESAR'S" — Heavily armed officials from the U. S. Marshall's Office and Internal Revenue Service secured the private and business property of James Dwight Snyder, Oakland, last Thursday when officials enforced a warrant for seizure of certain property to satisfy a tax liability. An estimated 30 to 40 officials surrounded the area, some carrying machine guns and M-16 rifles. See story.

Marshals and IRS Officials Conduct Seizure Of Property

An estimated 30 to 40 officials with the U. S. Marshall's Office and the Internal Revenue Service entered the private and business property of James Dwight Snyder of RD 2, Oakland, and his wife, Halie M. Snyder, last Thursday and enforced a court order for entry and seizure of property to satisfy a sizable tax liability. The majority of the men were armed and came with a moving van, the area was secured. Officials took $5,700 in cash from the residence, a copy-machine, an adding machine, a tractor valued at approximately $400, and a truck.

Domenic J. LaPozzina, of the Public Affairs Office for IRS, Baltimore, stated that the couple owes the IRS $73,910.94, from tax years ending 1971 and 1972. When asked how the IRS arrived at that figure LaPozzina said he could not comment, as the IRS is prohibited by law to discuss the personal tax case of any citizen.

He said that two tax liens were filed by the government with the Garrett County Clerk of Circuit Court in Oakland and the order of entry was approved by U. S. Magistrate Paul M. Rosenberg on February 19. These liens, based on assessments for previous tax years, along with Section 6321 of the IRS code, entitled a federal seizure of property by the officials. LaPozzina added that the taxpayer would not be evicted from his land and would not be arrested, unless he demonstrated resistance to the seizure.

LaPozzina said that this procedure is a "last step and is not a routine way of doing things." "Only after repeated attempts to contact the taxpayer and reach a proper understanding, do we conduct a seizure," he said. Mr. LaPozzina said the property, which is still being inventoried, will be held until the taxpayer agrees to pay the liability. If he does not pay, LaPozzina said, the property will be auctioned until the necessary amount of revenue is obtained by the federal government.

According to Snyder and a person in his home at the time of the entry, the officials arrived at Snyder's business, his residence, and a neighbor's property at about the same time, approximately 9 a.m. Mr. Snyder said he heard a knock at the door, and before his wife could answer eight to 10 armed men entered the residence and split up in separate groups, searched the house room by room, and apparently began tagging certain items in the home. Snyder, his wife Halie, their daughter and one other person were there at this time. According to a witness who was with Snyder at the time of the entry, the officials entered the home "with their guns pointed." Snyder estimates 30 to 40 armed men were on his, and other surrounding property that day. A moving van crew and a locksmith were brought to assist in the seizure, and the U. S. Marshals assured that only

Barn Destroyed By Fire Friday

A barn located on Maynard Ridge, approximately three miles northeast of Bittering, was completely destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. Firefighters from Bittering and Grantsville were summoned to the scene at 2:45 p.m. after an official of the Delta Mining Company working at a strip mine nearby noticed the fire and phoned in the alarm.

Ira "Tip" Yaste, chief of the Bittering Fire Department, said that the roof of the structure was caving in upon the arrival of firefighters. The barn, believed to be over 100 years old, was owned by Mrs. Lucretia Stanton, who was not home at the time of the fire.

Yaste said the building contained various types of machinery, an antique automobile and 1000 bales of hay, none of which could be saved. He said, however, an adjacent milk house was saved. There were no animals in the structure.

Chief Yaste stated that the fire was most likely caused by lightning, as there had been a severe electrical storm in the area immediately preceding the fire.

Bittering VFD responded to the scene with two pieces of equipment and 12 men, while the Grantsville VFD responded with two pieces and ten men. The Northern Rescue Squad was also dispatched. There were no injuries. Accident firefighters were placed on standby.

Firefighters remained on the scene until 5:45 p.m. The blaze was investigated by the Maryland State Fire Marshal's office.

Bolden Supports Limiting Growth Of State Budget

State Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden (R-Garrett/Allegheny) announced this week his support of a Constitutional amendment and bill putting a limit on the rate of growth of Maryland's state budget. "This is a responsible, practical approach to the problem of continually rising government spending," Delegate Bolden said.

The measures are part of a package proposed by a special joint committee on tax and spending limitations. The bill ties the rate of growth of the budget to the percentage increase in the personal income of Maryland residents.

"In 13 of the last 15 years, the budget increased faster than the personal income of the taxpayers," Delegate Bolden added. "If this limit had been in effect, spending would have been held down and growth of the job-producing private sector encouraged."

He noted that the limitation would simply restrict future budget expansion and wouldn't be a Proposition 13-style, across-the-board slash in programs and services. "No essential programs or services should have to be eliminated," Bolden said. "If approved by the General Assembly at its current session, the Constitutional amendment would go on the ballot this fall as a referendum question and take effect if approved by the people."

The package also includes measures permitting the legislature to dispose of surplus funds, possibly through a rebate to taxpayers; limiting the rate of increase of state jobs; and abolishing state jobs which are funded, but unfilled after 16 months.

Delegate Bolden noted that 13 states have adopted spending limits and the neighboring states of Pennsylvania and Virginia are considering limits at the current sessions of their legislatures. "Studies have shown that the high-tax states lose jobs and

Dr. Jerry Ryscavage Selected As Next School Superintendent

The Garrett County Board of Education Tuesday unanimously voted to appoint Dr. Jerry Ryscavage, Oakland, as superintendent of Garrett County public schools, to succeed William H. Buser whose term expires June 30, 1980.

Ryscavage, who has been assistant superintendent of administrative services in the county school system for seven years, will officially begin his four year term of office July 1, 1980.

The Board made the official vote before the staff of the Board of Education and members of the press at a special meeting in the Board's meeting room Tuesday afternoon.

Before the vote, Chairman Herbert Harman told those attending that the Board had reached its decision after reviewing 22 applications and interviewing four candidates. "The Board was very impressed with the quality of the candidates we had," Harman stated. He noted the wide press coverage of the county's financial difficulties this year could have been detrimental to the search for a superintendent but proved not to have been.

Harman later commented on the major reasons for the Board's selection of Ryscavage. After working with Ryscavage for seven years, Harman stated the Board has developed "tremendous confidence" in him. He has demonstrated an ability to handle difficult problems," Harman added.

According to Mr. Herget, the channel each morning offers "a.m. Weather," a 15-minute national weather show aired at 6-6:45 a.m. In-school programs are broadcast throughout the day until 3:34 p.m. at 4 p.m. the station offers "Seaside Street," followed by the evening PBS schedule, which offers such programs as "Wall Street Week," "Masterpiece Theater," "Up on the Farm," and "Governor's Press Conference."

Mr. Herget stated that the Garrett County Board of Education is "enthusiastic" about the new station, due to the large number of in-school educational programs to be offered on Channel 36.

The Maryland Center for Public Broadcasting is a state agency which presently broadcasts Channel 31 in Hagerstown, Channel 22 in Salisbury, Pa., Channel 67 in Owings Mills. The state transferred 10 acres of land at Eagle Rock to PBS for the translator tower. Herget said that the center is constructing a self-supporting tower to avoid cutting down several trees.

A second translator tower will be constructed in Frederick, and Herget said the center has set a goal to cover the entire state. Channel 36, UHF, can be received on televisions with cable, according to Mr. Herget. To date Bettersvision does not carry Channel 36, but Herget stated that when PBS contacted Bettersvision at an earlier date "they seemed very enthusiastic about it." Persons with cable will not, according to Herget, have to disconnect their cable to view the channel, but will need at least an indoor antenna connected to a UHF terminal. He said the signal should be very strong in Oakland. However, persons living in parts of the county where transmission is blocked by a mountain, perhaps, may need an outdoor antenna to get full reception of Channel 36, he added.

The Maryland Public Broadcasting Service is reaching "new heights" in an attempt to expand public television viewing throughout the state. This translating tower, which is being constructed at Eagle Rock, is the first of two new towers to be erected in Maryland. The tower will be 205 feet high and will re-broadcast Channel 31 out of Hagerstown for viewing in Garrett County on UHF Channel 36. The center hopes to be "on the air" in four weeks.

Teaching Values . . .

One of the most difficult tasks of parents is passing on to their children a good sense of values, those ways of thinking and behaving that are believed to be desirable and worthwhile. One of the reasons it is so complicated is that the values of each generation seem to be different, or at least continually challenged and questioned.

A recent article in Woman's Day magazine, entitled "The Values You Cherish," contained recommendations for parents to aid young people in developing a permanent set of personal values, some of which we feel deserve repeating.

1. Don't hesitate to express your own values. Despite competition from movies, books, television, music, and the attitudes of peers, children still look to their parents for guidance in establishing their own values.

2. Reinforce the values you want your child to have and be the kind of person you want your child to be. Children are experts at recognizing an inconsistency between what a parent says and what a parent practices. Young people can learn far better from example rather than by lecturing.

3. Take advantage of everyday opportunities to involve youngsters in discussions that relate to value choices. Too often, parents make the mistake of not including their children in value discussions. Children need practice in critical thinking in order to develop their values.

4. Help young children gain a sense of important values from stories that expose them to behavior outside their own experiences. One of the easiest ways to do this is read or tell stories to children which contain clear distinctions between desirable and undesirable values.

5. Get to know the values of your children's friends so you'll be better able to cope when they conflict with your own. Rather than to force an adolescent to choose between your values and those of peers, it is far better to simply re-emphasize your own values.

6. Spouses should try to agree on basic values so children aren't confused by conflicting views.

One distressing bit of information in the article was the result of a recent Gallup poll, which showed that two out of three adults interviewed said schools should be the primary teacher of moral behavior. Not only is this an absurd belief, but indicates a major cop-out by parents when their children don't turn out the way they hoped they would. Blaming teachers and the school system is an easy, popular, but misguided, action in most cases.

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the editor must not exceed 300 words. Only the first 300 words of letters exceeding this limit will be printed. Letters must also be signed.

Editor:

A simple proposal is currently before the Maryland General Assembly which would save more energy than all the State government's energy saving programs combined.

H.B. 309 by Delegate Winegrad (D-Anne Arundel) and S.B. 134 by Senate President Clark (D-Howard) would require deposits on all beer and soda containers sold in Maryland.

Marylanders, by returning their bottles and cans would save 4.3 trillion BTUs per year, the equivalent of home heating oil used in heating 300,000 Maryland homes.

Six states have actual experience with MDL; not one has repealed its law. Last November 84% of Maine voters voted against repeal of their deposit-refund law.

There is a lot of talk in America about energy independence, but not much action. Kicking the throwaway habit through MDL would really strike back at our shrinking energy and resource supply.

If you think the General Assembly should vote on this issue, you must persuade your delegates and senators to get the bill out of committee.

Sincerely yours,
Ajax Eastman,
Chairman

Note: The following letter exceeded 300 words.

Dear Editor,

I certainly applaud the decision by our commissioners to refuse Mr. Brodak's spozoning request, and have yet another bar put in the lake area. The attitude of the commissioners as indicated by your article on the issue, however, raises serious questions in my mind.

First this: If Garrett Co. does indeed have a democratic system of government which represents the rule of the majority, why are the commissioners bending over backwards to expedite the desires of one party, in violation of the legal desires of the majority? It is evident that the residents of the area in question are unilaterally against changing zoning laws which were laid down to protect their rights. Why aren't the commissioners striving to aid these people? Why are they rising in support against the majority? Why are they rising in support against the laws which were laid down by the public for the public? Whom do they serve? Perhaps voters should ask themselves this question.

Secondly: Who wants another bar on Rt. 219? Mr. Brodak obviously does, for reasons we need not guess. Perhaps someone will posit the argument that a cocktail lounge will provide a service desired by tourists, and thereby increase the flow of people and funds from out of the county. I reject that for two reasons. First, people have been coming to Garrett Co. for vacations because it is unique. It is not like the cities and suburbs they live in. They can "get away" to a better environment. They have come here because Deep Creek Lake is not like the city, and if we continue to build the kind of establishments that any resident of any big city finds scarring his downtown area, soon we will be like the city. Not only will people from outside not see any reason . . .

Sincerely,
Rev. David C. Long

Letter to Editor:

Parents and future parents of the McHenry-Accident Elementary School district: Do you want your children to attend an open-space school or a traditional school? The final decision will be made in a few weeks.

Parents and teachers that have been contacted prefer the traditional classroom.

Dr. Buser wants an open-space school. However, he will be gone in June. He already has four open-space monstrosities, or monuments, in the county. Why add another disaster to his credit?

Open-space did not work for ADULTS at the community college. Why should little children suffer.

Name withheld by request.

Conduct Seizure

family members entered the secured property. Maryland State Police from McHenry conducted traffic in front of the residence and business, which are side by side. Sources say a majority of the officials were from Baltimore.

LaPonzina said the number of officials sent was determined by the U. S. Marshals, the area of land to cover and the amount of property to be seized. He added that "when resistance is anticipated, steps are taken to assure the safety of the IRS officials, innocent by-standers and all persons involved." He said the U. S. Marshals were present to enforce the entry and the court order. The Marshals were carrying machine guns and M-16 rifles. IRS officers, special agents and inspectors were present to seize the property. Only the IRS special agents were armed, said LaPonzina. Other IRS officials apparently were not.

Various taxpayers have expressed concerns to The Republican regarding the cost to the federal and state government to accomplish the one-day task. LaPonzina said the large force of officials was apparently necessary and the money was being spent to receive taxpayers' money and to satisfy a tax liability.

Snyder said his problems with the IRS began in the 1960's when he was audited. At this time, he said, "I gave them everything (records) I had." Apparently the IRS accused Snyder of not paying tax on meat taken out of his store and eaten by his family. Snyder said the meat was "rungs up as a cash sale on the register," whereby the tax would be paid, but he added that he had no way of proving this. According to Snyder, he was then charged double tax for that item during that year.

The following year, he said, he was owed a $500 refund from the IRS and never received it. The year after that occurred, he said, Snyder obtained a code of ethics of the IRS, and he said that "income tax is a voluntary tax, according to this code." He added that he filed his 1971 and 1972 income tax returns, which is, he said, required by law, but chose to take the Fifth Amendment concerning specific information or questions. He apparently withheld certain figures on the form, which he said is a legal procedure, according to a Supreme Court ruling in the Garner vs. United States case, which said, according to Snyder, that any information which a taxpayer wishes to withhold on income tax forms does not have to be recorded. Snyder did not pay anything for 1971 and 1972. He said "I was mistreated and got fed up."

Some time ago, Snyder said, the IRS confiscated his entire bank account. Snyder said he asked the IRS for a tax court, which, according to legal sources is the right of every citizen, and Snyder said he was "flatly refused." This particular tax court would be for tax year ending 1971, for which he was charged $48,679.71 with interest. Snyder said this figure was determined through total receipts or total deposits in his bank, and he added that he was not given any exemptions, deductions, or depreciation for his place of business or for equipment, but charged tax on these total receipts. He did receive a tax court for the year ending 1972, for which he was charged $12,138.14 with interest. He said that in tax court he was not allowed depreciation of equipment and buildings. Snyder added that he believes the tax court is not a judicial court, but an administrative court, and he feels certain that, according to his research, all but two tax court judges are former IRS employees.

At this point Snyder said he sued the IRS and both cases have been for two years, and are now pending in Federal Appeals Court, one to force the IRS to provide Snyder with a tax court, and the other apparently to appeal the 1972 tax court. He added that during the 1972 tax court he was asked for information, but said "I was not required to give them information or submit under the Fifth Amendment."

Snyder said that the action taken Thursday apparently resulted from his being sent a certified letter, which he never received, he said, due to illness, and the letter was returned to the IRS. He was told that the letter was a type of 90-day notice. He said he did not know that this action would be taken, an action, which according to legal sources, could not be taken by a private citizen, and is one which can be taken by the IRS before court settlement. Snyder does, however, have the right to contend the seizure in court, and he intends to file papers today.

In addition to a moving van brought to the property, officials also came with three wreckers and a specific warrant to obtain a mobile home and an automobile, according to Snyder, which are owned by Snyder's daughter and titled in her name. Snyder said the officials surrounded and searched a neighbor's property with a warrant, but did not locate the mobile home or the car.

The locksmith rendered his services when Snyder was asked to open a safe which was found on his property. He said he did not know the combination, the locksmith apparently opened it in a matter of minutes, and the officials found nothing but the directions to the safe. He added that property which did not belong to him and his wife, the only two names listed on the liens, was confiscated. The tractor is owned by a trust comprised of Snyder's family and others, he said. A truck which was taken, Snyder added, is owned by his mother.

Snyder said the IRS has put a seal on his safe deposit box, indicating that the box cannot be entered unless IRS officials are present, at which time, he said, "they can confiscate anything they desire." He added that "the IRS can take any amount of money from any bank account they desire without due process of law, and they do not have to establish that the citizen owes them a tax."

Snyder said he would be "happy to pay" his taxes and that taxes should be paid, but he feels that "taxes should be equal, uniform and just."

Dwight Snyder said that he has received physical support from friends, neighbors and customers, who have donated equipment, machinery, and other supplies to his cabinet shop, and he said they have "put the shop back in full operation." He concluded by saying "at the moment things look good."

The IRS was unable to comment on various points regarding the case, as they are barred by law to discuss private tax returns to protect the privacy of the citizen involved.

Dr. Ryscavage

tried to tailor the program accordingly. Harman also stated that Ryscavage has demonstrated an ability to work with the Board and that he is "well-liked and well-respected in the community."

Ryscavage, who was present during the Board's vote and who had been notified of the Board's decision Saturday, told the group his major goal during his term will be to assure that all children in the public school system have full opportunity for total development and "to allow their potential to come through." He stated his dedication to the special education program and to a gifted and talented program, as well as to the majority of students in the schools who would not be served by either program.

He stated he believed Garrett County's present educational program was an excellent program but that it was similar to other counties in its weaknesses. "I don't think Garrett County is different from other counties which tend to do well with early childhood education." The areas needing improvement in Garrett and other counties, he added, are in the middle schools through to the high schools.

He stated one of the challenges of his job will be working with the county commissioners in trying to justify the financial needs of the school system. "As the biggest user of tax dollars," he stated, "we will always be in competition for the limited dollar."

Ryscavage, who comes from a family of educators — his father was a school superintendent in Connecticut and his mother was a teacher — stated he hopes that he will leave the job as positively as he is now entering it. He listed his seven years' experience in the county school system and his ability to work with people as two of his strengths that will aid him in his work. His experience as superintendent of administrative services, he noted, also gave him a good background in the "nuts and bolts" part of the system.

Though he has been a teacher, he lists the area of instruction and curricular programs as one area in which he will need to "grow the most."

Ryscavage, 42, was born in Connecticut where he obtained his high school and undergraduate college education. He received his Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Arts from Central Connecticut State College, New Britain, Conn., in 1959. He studied for his Master's degree in Guidance at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, where he received his degree with a minor in College Personnel Work in 1961. In 1972 he was awarded a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Educational Administration from the University of Maryland, College Park.

His work in education was interrupted between 1961 and 1965 when he served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy.

He taught Industrial Arts to seventh, eighth and ninth graders at Aberdeen Junior High School, Aberdeen, from 1965 to 1968.

From 1972-73 he served as long range planner at the University of Maryland before accepting the position of assistant superintendent for administrative services in 1973.

Recently Dr. Ryscavage served as second vice-chairman of the Regional Education Service Agency Advisory Council/Board of Directors.

He is a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland, and the Oakland Rotary Club. He also works with the House of Hope, Oakland.

Ryscavage resides with his wife, Mary, and three children on Crooks Crest, Oakland.

Ryscavage noted that all three of his children, ages nine, 15 and 17, attend the county public schools which adds to his interest in the system. His wife is a part time teacher in the Kitzmiller Elementary School.

The transition from the administration of Dr. William H. Buser, who announced his retirement December 13, to that of Dr. Ryscavage will be almost unnoticeable, Ryscavage stated, because of the close working relationship he and Buser have had in the past. Buser has pledged his assistance in making the transition as smooth as possible.

The first opportunity the public will have to meet Ryscavage will be Wednesday, March 5, during a public presentation of the FY '81 Board of Education budget proposed by the superintendent.

Commissioners

Consider Tax

Exemption Request

The Long Stretch Youth Homes, Inc., Garrett Bus System and the courthouse electric bill were among items on the agenda for the county commissioners Tuesday.

William Platter of Long Stretch asked the commissioners for a tax exemption on real estate rented and used by the youth home in rehabilitation programs such as auto mechanics and animal husbandry. Jerry Moyer of the state assessor's office told the commissioners that certain state regulations must be met before the state would allow an exemption. The commissioners must await the state's decision that regulations are met before they can take action.

Also on Tuesday, the commissioners held a public hearing for the Garrett County Bus System before confirming their approval for the purchase of two new buses at $50,000 each. Bonnie Zimmerman, system administrator, noted that bus travel in the county had greatly increased over the past month. Use of the bus system in the county, she added, follows a nationwide trend toward increased bus travel. When the two new buses arrive, the three buses presently in the system will be restricted to backup use.

Gary Mullich discussed with the commissioners the recent leak of misinformation to the public concerning the electric bills at the courthouse. A local radio station announcer quoted the courthouse electric bill for one month at $14,000. Mullich pointed out that the average monthly bill for the courthouse is $7200. He also mentioned that he was initiating a drive to reduce use of electricity throughout the courthouse.

Tom Jones, county development director, briefed the commissioners on the progress of the Kitzmiller water project. He stated plans are progressing toward running a water line from Mt. Storm to Kitzmiller and possibly to Shalimar.

The commissioners reappointed D. Lester White and Robert E. Lee to the Garrett County Commission On Aging.

Tim Dugan, county planning director, and Ray Alexander of the Tri-County Council informed the commissioners of funds available to Allegany and Garrett County for rehabilitation or to remedy a situation created by mining. The objective of the funds is to provide assistance for development of energy impacted areas. Dugan and Alexander mentioned the funds could be applied to housing if the county could substantiate an increase in population due to increased production of coal.

School Budget For FY81 To Be Presented Mar. 5

William H. Buser, Superintendent of Garrett County public schools, announced Tuesday that the superintendent's FY81 budget request will be presented to the public Wednesday, March 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Southern Middle School.

Buser made the announcement during a special meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday to appoint Dr. Jerry Ryscavage as superintendent of county schools to succeed Buser who ends his term June 30, 1980. Ryscavage, presently serving as assistant superintendent of administrative services, will present a portion of the budget during the public meeting.

The Board of Education will not formally accept the budget until it has considered comments from the public.

The superintendent is asking for an increase in the local share of the budget partially due to the cut in the budget by the county commissioners for the 1980 fiscal year.

low-tax states gain them," Delegate Bolden commented. "Adopting a spending limit would put Maryland in a better position for attracting new investment and jobs." He also said the existence of spending limit would help hold taxes down.

"We have the 13th highest tax burden in the nation and this is too high already," he concluded.

Seven Arrested By State Police

Maryland State Police in McHenry arrested seven persons last week in connection with grand larceny and fugitive warrants.

Tfc. C. H. Hinant arrested two persons this week who waived extradition to Maryland from Pennsylvania, in connection with charges of grand larceny, unauthorized use of livestock, and receiving stolen goods. The offense, which involved the theft of a Charolais calf, occurred in Grantsville in August of 1978, and charges were filed by Irvin Edward Hetrick.

Michael James Mitchell, 21, and David Ralph King, 27, both of Listonburg, Pa., were arrested in McHenry on Monday and taken to Garrett County District Court for immediate trial. According to Tfc. Hinant, the defendants were convicted of grand larceny by Judge Lewis R. Jones and were fined $100 plus court costs, and ordered to make restitution to Hetrick for losses suffered by the offense.

In a separate incident, Terrence Michael White, 22, Oakland, a fugitive wanted for burglary charges in West Virginia, was arrested last Wednesday by Cpl. Elmer D. Selby. White was tried Thursday in a W. Va. court.

Court Injunction On Hutton Man's Property Expires

A Garrett County Circuit Court injunction against the property of Ronnie Stewart, Hutton, imposed in early January, expired Monday, but Stewart has agreed to take no action to reverse the effects of the injunction prior to a court hearing.

The injunction had been placed against Stewart's property January 9, when Judge Fred A. Thayer was satisfied a fence constructed by Stewart which crossed into the existing Taney Road was a barrier and that there was substantial and immediate public need to use the existing roadway.

The injunction allowed the county roads department to remove the fence on a temporary basis pending a hearing to finally determine the actual boundaries of the roadway. Stewart has agreed not to replace the fence before the hearing.

The road was taken into the county road system March 18, 1969, with an 18-foot right of way. Stewart contends that the right of way was for the road as recorded on the plats, not for the existing road which has changed over the years with use. The county maintains the road as it existed was taken into the system, not what was recorded on paper.

The hearing date for the case is expected to be set in the next week.

Stemple Found Guilty Of Escape From Confinement

An Oakland man who had been apprehended by Maryland State Police September 21, after he had escaped from Oakland Police while enroute to the Allegany County jail was convicted of escape from confinement in the Garrett County Circuit Court Monday.

Fire Severely Damages House In Bloomington

A flue fire, caused by a wood-burning stove, resulted in extensive damage to a bedroom and the attic of David Basye's residence, Bloomington, Sunday morning.

Leon Marple, chief of the Bloomington Volunteer Fire Department, said the house is located next to the department's fire hall.

The fire was discovered by Basye's wife and she called the Civil Defense Emergency Communications Center. Bloomington firemen were alerted about 10:10 a.m.

Marple said flames were showing when firemen entered the structure and they had to ventilate the roof and cut into a wall to get to the fire.

Bloomington answered the alarm with four trucks and 20 men. Mutual aid was provided by Westernport and Piedmont fire companies which sent a total of five trucks and 23 men.

The cascade truck from Shaft also answered the alarm along with three men and Barton sent a tank truck to the scene. The Tri-Towns Rescue Squad also answered the alarm. Luke volunteer firemen stood by at their station.

Dale Hill, fire investigator for Allegany and Garrett counties, also was at the scene.

Correction Noted

In an article in last week's edition regarding traffic accidents it was incorrectly reported that Jeffrey Chandler Bell, an auto accident victim, was transported to the hospital by Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to that call and transported Mr. Bell to Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The Republican regrets the error.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by Carolyn & Butch Helbig

Who say "A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

COLOR AND YOU

Did you know that the color scheme you choose for your home says a lot about the kind of person you are? That's right—color preference reveals a great deal about individual personalities. Are you boldly dramatic? Do your tastes reveal a more conservative person? Do they show a touch of non-conformity?

A brilliant, flaming red is usually preferred by a daring individual—someone who has a flair for the dramatic. Cool shades of green and blue often indicate a level headed person who has his feet planted firmly on the ground. And let's not forget the happy people who choose the pleasing sunshine shades of gold and beige.

Since carpeting is the basis for the color scheme of any room, the carpeting you choose will say a great deal about you. Within the basic color groups: blues, greens, reds, grays, beiges and brown, you'll find a multitude of exciting carpeting shades and hues from which to choose.

Selecting the right color and perfect carpeting for your home can be fun. Always remember to put your best colors forward. Make your choice express the real you.

You're sure to find carpeting to match your own unique personality from our magnificent selection.

"I don't need a will because my wife and I own everything jointly."

Are you sure?

Many people believe that a will is unnecessary if they own everything jointly with their spouse. This is often a misconception which can lead to problems after you are gone.

Joint ownership can result in a large federal estate tax bill which could have been reduced or avoided with careful planning, rather than leaving everything to chance. Aside from creating unnecessary tax burdens, joint ownership can lead to family problems years from now which are not imaginable today.

Our Trust Department can review your property, and the way it is owned. Then, together with your attorney, we can build an estate plan which will minimize your estate tax and avoid potential family problems. Call us today at 334-9471. No obligation, of course.

Regional Blood Service Receives Superior Ratings

A recent national study highlighted the Johnstown Regional Red Cross Blood Services, of which the Garrett County chapter is a participating member, as one of the most cost-efficient blood collection, production and distribution agencies within the American Red Cross organization. The study was conducted by a special American Red Cross task force and based on operational data submitted by the 57 participating regional Red Cross Blood Services across the nation.

According to Fred R. Pullen, volunteer chairman of the Johnstown Region's Blood Services Committee, the criteria on which regions were rated included the areas of component production, cost per unit produced, regional staff productivity, and donor participation. The Johnstown region received superior ratings on all but donor participation, where the region was ranked 51 out of 57, due to the small percentage of blood donations each year compared to the population of the geographic area of the region, reaching into western Pennsylvania and parts of Maryland, Ohio and West Virginia.

Dr. Mario Ritter, Medical Director for the region, commended area hospitals and physicians for their efficiency in ascertaining specialized blood needs and their growing utilization of the wide range of blood products processed at the component center in Johnstown.

According to Mrs. Norma Hesen, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter, an increased effort at type specific recruitment has been made by volunteer donor recruiters to meet those needs for specific types which can be anticipated.

"Whenever our chapter holds a blood donor day we make a special effort to recruit donors who have a bloodtype which is in low supply," Mrs. Hesen said. "By keeping in close contact with the regional headquarters in Johnstown, we are aware of these special needs and can try to meet them so the needed blood products will be available for patients in our area hospitals."

The Johnstown region has also managed to achieve the lowest cost per unit of blood produced in the American Red Cross.

"The only obstacle in meeting blood needs," Mr. Pullen continued, "arises when there is a shortage of volunteer blood donors throughout the region. No degree of efficiency can make up for blood that is simply not there."

In the recent study, the Johnstown region ranked quite low in the percentage of donations per geographical population — roughly 3.6% overall.

"With a regional population of over two million," Mr. Pullen commented, "it is amazing that only 74,100 blood donations were made last year. This clearly indicates a need for many new donors and an expansion of existing sponsor groups, if we are to continue to meet a growing patient need for specialized blood products." Mr. Pullen concluded, "This is the only way to ensure that elective surgeries will not be postponed in the coming year due to uncertain blood supplies."

"It is without doubt, however," Mr. Pullen said, "that our region ranks high among the American Red Cross blood services organizations across the country. We will use this study not as an excuse to relax and pat ourselves on the back, but rather as an assessment of regional needs and an incentive to work continually at providing a cost-efficient, consistent, and adequate regional blood service to meet the patient need.

Marylanders Filing State Tax Returns Faster Than Ever

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced recently State income taxpayers are filing their returns faster than ever, and one-quarter million refund checks are already on their way to taxpayers' home.

Comptroller Goldstein noted that nearly 28 percent more refund checks have been issued than at this time last year. "A total of $36.9 million has already been refunded to State income taxpayers. That's nearly 28 percent more than the $29.3 million that had been returned at this time last year," he said.

Two primary problems have developed in tax return processing so far this year. "For the first time this year, a Homeowners' Property Tax Credit Application is included in the tax packet. Please be sure to keep this form separate from your State income tax return. There are separate envelopes provided in the tax packet for each form. The property tax form should be returned to the Maryland Department of Assessments and Taxation, and your Maryland income tax return should be returned to the State Income Tax Division," Mr. Goldstein stated.

The second problem affects retired and totally disabled individuals with taxable pensions of $5,700 or less.

Believe it or not, the habits of eating that babies develop carry over into adulthood. It is your responsibility as parents to help your child develop good

In memory of Viola O. Bittinger, who passed away March 4, 1979. She was a very special person to all of us and always there whenever we needed a helping hand. Her love for us will always be remembered.

Safely Home

I am home in Heaven dear ones.
Oh, so happy and so bright.
There is a perfect joy and beauty
In this everlasting light.
All the pain and grief is over,
Every restless tossing passed.
I am now at peace forever,
Safely home in Heaven at last.
Did you wonder I so calmly
Trod the valley of the shade,
Oh, but Jesus' love illumined
Every dark and fearful glade.
And He came himself to meet me.
In that way so hard to tread,
And with Jesus' arm to lean on,
Could I have one doubt or dread.
Then you must not grieve so sorely,
For I love you dearly still.
Try to look beyond earth's shadows,
Pray to trust our Father's will.
There is work still waiting for you.
So you must not idly stand,
Do it now while life remaineth.
You shall rest in Jesus' land.
When that work is all completed,
He will gently call you home.
Oh, the rapture of that meeting.
Oh, the joy to see you come.

Several Injured In Auto Wrecks

Maryland State Police, McHenry, have responded to numerous injury-related auto wrecks in recent weeks, along with Garrett County Rescue Squads.

Several persons were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a two-car accident on Sang Run Road, 2 miles east of Hoyes Run Road.

The mishap occurred February 16 at 9:55 a.m. when a truck collided with a vehicle carrying seven persons. Gerald Wayne Harman, 22, Accident, was westbound on Sang Run Road and John Francis Owens, 27, Gaithersburg, was eastbound, when Owens vehicle skidded on the snow-covered road as the operator applied his brakes. The Owens vehicle collided with the truck driven by Harman, which left the right roadside upon impact and struck a C&P Telephone utility pole.

Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to the scene and transported Owens and passengers Mary Lynn Carlsen, 34, Silver Spring; Kevin Martin Carlsen, 10; Kathleen Ann Waters, 34, Rockville; Kelly Marie Coughron, 10, Germantown; John David Doboski, 10, Silver Spring; and James Michael Coughron, 11, Germantown, to the hospital in Oakland. Owen, Ms. Carlsen, Ms. Waters, Kelly and James Coughron, and John Doboski were all treated and released.

Harman was alone and apparently unhurt. Maryland State Police report that the roadway had not been salted or plowed at the time of the accident, and no charges were filed.

The 1972 Ford 9000 truck driven by Harman is owned by Wagner Trucking Company, McHenry. It was disabled and damaged on the left side and front right parts. The Owens vehicle, a 1980 Chevrolet Van, was also disabled, suffering front damage.

Two persons were injured last Wednesday following an accident on Route 219 near Will O' the Wisp.

Katherine Louise Lipscomb, 28, McHenry, was stopped southbound on Route 219, yielding right of way to northbound traffic and waiting to make a left turn into a driveway. Leila Gertrude Speicher, 66, Accident, failed to detect the turn signal on the Lipscomb vehicle stopped in front of her, and ran into the rear of it.

Garrett County Central Alarm handled communications and dispatched Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad to the scene at 8:55 a.m. with an equipment truck and Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department was called to respond.

The drivers were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where they were both treated and released.

Ms. Lipscomb was charged with operating an unregistered vehicle, and Ms. Speicher was charged with travelling at a speed greater than reasonable. The Lipscomb vehicle, a 1969 Chevy Corvette, was disabled and damaged in the rear. Ms. Speicher's 1979 Plymouth Valiant was disabled, suffering front damage.

In a separate incident, Trong Bui Thi Hebb, 28, Oakland, escaped serious injury when his 1978 Ford F-100 overturned February 9 at 12:30 a.m.

Hebb was travelling north on U. S. Route 219, 2 miles north of Foster Road, and was passing several vehicles. The operator observed an approaching car, swerved to the right, ran across the northbound lane in front of a vehicle, left the roadway and overturned, rolling through a barbed wire fence.

Maryland State Police responded and administered first aid, but the driver refused treatment or transportation to a hospital. Hebb was charged with passing the left without clear visibility.

His car was damaged on its roof and the fence, owned by Claude Wagner, suffered moderate damage.

Five persons involved in a single vehicle accident on February 16, were apparently not seriously injured. The mishap occurred on Deep Creek Drive near U. S. Route 219 at Keyser's Ridge, at 11:58 a.m., when Randolph James Roles, 19, Baltimore, was travelling south on the extremely icy roadway, lost control of the car, ran off the right side of the road and struck a Potomac Edison electric pole.

Passengers in the vehicle were Douglas Carroll, 18, J. Collins, 18, and John Griffith, 18, all of Baltimore, and Steve McCain, 18, Sykesville. First aid was reportedly administered to Douglas Carroll by a private citizen.

Roles was charged with driving without a license. The 1971 Ford LTD was disabled and damaged in the front.

Richard Allen Smith, 18, Mt. Lake Park, escaped unharmed when his vehicle overturned on Oakland-Sang Run Road, 100 feet north of Bray School Road, on February 15 at 2:20 a.m.

Smith was southbound on Oakland-Sang Run Road when he apparently fell asleep, ran off the right shoulder and travelled 120 feet before his car struck a snowbank, overturned and continued another 69 feet on its top. The driver was charged with negligent driving by Maryland State Police.

Passengers were reported during a mishap last Wednesday at 9:45 a.m. at the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and U. S. Route 219.

Frank Thomas Crowe, 59, Frostburg, was westbound on U. S. Route 40, when Jay Wilson Henry, 74, Marion, Pa., who was southbound on Route 219, failed to stop and yield right of way, striking the vehicle operated by Crowe, and knocking a sign post into the large window of a building. George Leroy Deal, 29, Salisbury, Pa., was a passenger in the Crowe vehicle, which is owned by Phoenix Construction Company, Cumberland.

Henry was charged with improper entry to an intersection and his 1980 Chevy C-10 was damaged on the right side and right rear. The 1975 Ford F-150 was damaged in the front portion.

The window, owned by John Rosenberger, was destroyed.

A head-on collision involving possible injury occurred February 15 at 8:45 a.m. on Maryland Route 135, 10 feet west of Maryland Route 496.

Loren William Leonard, 24, Norfolk, Va., travelling west on Route 135, made a left turn at the intersection with Route 496 and crossed the center of the highway, striking a vehicle Passengers in the Murphy vehicle were Ralph Eugene Murphy, 14, and Juanita Hope Lewis, 60, both of Oakland. Ms. Lewis was apparently injured slightly.

Leonard was charged with improper entry to an intersection. His 1972 Ford Gran Torino was damaged in the front. Ms. Murphy's car, a 1969 Chevy Nova, was disabled, damaged in the front.

Two persons were hurt Monday, resulting from a one-car mishap which occurred at 3:55 a.m. on U. S. Route 48, 22 miles east of Blooming Rose Road.

John H. Gruninger, 18, Morgantown, W. Va., was westbound on U. S. Route 48 when he stated he fell asleep, ran into the center median, struck a guardrail and overturned.

Kristie Lynn Stubblefield, 20, Morgantown, was a passenger in the vehicle. Both were apparently injured slightly.

Gruninger was charged with negligent driving, and his vehicle, a 1982 GMC 100, was damaged on its roof.

Litter Control Law Enforcement Less Vigorous

PIKESVILLE, MD. (UPI) — State Police still are enforcing the 1972 Litter Control Law prohibiting motorists from throwing trash from moving vehicles, but enforcement is less vigorous than in the past, officers said Monday.

The law prohibits the throwing of trash or dead animals from moving vehicles. Violators can be fined up to $250 and have a point assessed against their driving records, but police must see the offense occur.

State Police said the law was enforced vigorously after its enactment, but now littering motorists face penalties only on state highways.

"We haven't taken any of the signs down," said Lt. John Sawa. "There's still as many signs on the highways stating the law to motorists as when we first started it. You just don't hear as much about it now."

Sawa said police would rather assess a point on driving records rather than going through the court system by fining the motorists.

The severity of the penalty depends on the type and amount of litter thrown away by the motorists, he said.

Gasoline Prices Expected To Hit $2 Per Gallon

Groups that monitor Maryland gasoline prices gave mixed reviews Monday to a prediction that prices could reach $2 a gallon by year's end. Some called it an unfounded guess, others contended it was on target.

Vic Rasheed, president of the Greater Washington-Maryland Service Station Association, discounted the prediction by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Energy Committee, as a mere guess.

"It is impossible for anyone to accurately predict how much the price is going to increase," he said. "But if you take the last few months as a gauge, I think it's safe to say it's going to increase some."

Rasheed's view was supported by William Zorzi, spokesman for the Auto Club of Maryland.

"I don't think anybody knows how high it's going," Zorzi said. "That is a number's game I'm not going to play."

"He is using that as an argument for what people don't want — rationing. And I don't think that makes sense. If gas goes up to $2, there will be plenty of it."

Zorzi suggested Jackson was trying to grab media attention. "How about $5 a gallon by the end of the year," he scoffed. "That would make a better headline."

But Charles Gladstone, spokesman for the Maryland arm of Rasheed's group, said current trends show Jackson's forecast is accurate.

"We predicted that about six months ago," he said. "I think you're going to find that as long as the oil companies are making these tremendous profits, the OPEC countries are going to be raising prices. It's a never ending spiral, I'm afraid."

Gladstone and Rasheed also had differing views on how to control use of gas — with Gladstone favoring a gas tax and Rasheed calling for an end to decontrol and use of gas rationing.

But the two agreed rising gasoline prices will put a serious crimp in the profits of service stations and other businesses.

"Our economy could be crippled to the point where some industries might fall if gas gets to $2 a gallon," Gladstone said. "You may see a recession that could run right on into a depression."

Rasheed said big oil companies are making enormous amounts of money at the expense of the public and service station owners.

"Basically, the consumer is the subject of a monumental ripoff and the oil companies are laughing all the way to the bank," he said.

Distinguished Scholar Program Is Announced

The Maryland State Scholarship Board has announced the procedures to be followed in administering the Distinguished Scholar Program. This program is entering its third year of operation, and its purpose is to recognize the top academic scholars in Maryland's public and private secondary schools, and to encourage these students to consider, and possibly attend, a post secondary educational institution in the State of Maryland. Unlike most of the other State Scholarship Programs, the Distinguished Scholarship does not consider the student's level of financial need, the Board said.

The Directors of Guidance of each senior high school in Maryland have been mailed Distinguished Scholar Program materials, and each high school can nominate a maximum of five students for consideration. The five students nominated by the July 15 application deadline must be entering the senior year of high school in September, 1980; and they must have a grade point average over the past three years of at least 3.70 on a 4.00 scale. High schools will no doubt contact the top academic students to determine the students' possible interest in competing for a Distinguished Scholar Award, but interested students should feel free to contact the guidance office for additional information, according to the Board.

Distinguished Scholar selections will be announced in September after the recipients begin their final year of high school. Recipients of these 1980 awards will receive $500 annual grants for post-secondary study starting in the 1981-82 academic year, provided they attend a school in the State of Maryland.

The U. S. Department of Energy has announced the opening of the 1980 Appropriate Energy Technology Small Grants Program. The purpose of this program is to solicit ideas from citizens about energy conservation and the use of alternative energy resources.

During the 1979 program, 83 grants with a total amount of $980,000 were made to applicants in Region III. The average grant awarded in last year's program was approximately $12,000. Persons in Region III, which includes Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, and Washington, D. C., are encouraged to apply for grants of up to $50,000.

The deadline for submitting grant applications for the 1980 program is April 30, 1980.

For additional information or to request a grant application form, interested persons should call: 800-523-0612.

Southern Seniors To Present "Big ... Bad ... Mouse!"

The Senior Class of Southern Garrett High School will present the two act play "Big ... Bad ... Mouse!" Thursday and Friday, February 28-29, for the public at 8 p.m. in the Southern Cafetorium.

The play, an English farce written by Philip King and Falkland L. Cary, is set in the Supply Department office for the Chuklitz Firm, a staid, conservative firm where workers are expected to keep their noses clean and to the grindstone.

All is business as usual as pretty Fiona Jones, played by Pam Bittinger, makes passes at pale-faced Harold Hopkins, played by Gregg Carrico, who seems prone for trouble. The Supply Department is supervised by Mr. Price-Hargraves, a pompous man played by Jeff Colaw who has difficulty maintaining control of affairs or himself. His right hand is Miss Spencer, a spinster played by Sarah Stover whose devotion to her boss is unquestionable until she reveals her true desires in the course of events.

The smooth running of office affairs is disrupted when the much ridiculed Mr. Bloomer, a quiet neat man played by Skip Warnick who works in the same office as Mr. Price-Hargraves, is accused of a dastardly act by Doris Povey, the 18-year-old niece of Miss Spencer played by Chris Clark. Even Lady Chesapeake, the formidable matron of the firm played by Sheila Dunham, gets in the act as she both denounces and admires Bloomer. When the play ends, no one is quite sure if all has been resolved or if it should be.

The group of actors is under the direction of Dan Ledden, a veteran of the Garrett County Playhouse. Student directors are Linda Mott and Mason Proudfoot.

Hardestys Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar T. Hardesty, formerly of Oakland, now residing St. Petersburg, Fla., recently celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary with an open house, held at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Suzy Davis, St. Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardesty were married on February 12, 1930 in Oakland.

Mr. Hardesty was for many years a contractor and builder in Oakland, having built, among others, the Oakland Library, Hinebaugh Apts. on 4th Street, the gymnasiums at both the Southern and Northern High Schools, Route 40 Elementary School at Grantsville and Denett Road Elementary School. In 1959 he sold his contracting business to the late William Shirer and retired to St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardesty have two daughters, Mrs. Marie Crunkleton and Mrs. Suzy Davis; two grandchildren, Mrs. Denise Watterson and Brian Davis; and one great-grandchild, Jeni Rebecca Watterson, all of St. Petersburg.

Registration For Preschoolers To Be Held Again

The Garrett County Board of Education announces that the comprehensive preschool registration program which began three years ago as a joint venture with the Garrett County Health Department will be held again this year. This program is for all children entering kindergarten or first grade for the first time in September, 1980, according to Albert A. Coviello, Supervisor of Pupil Services.

This registration program, which will be held in all elementary schools during March, April and May, has been developed to help identify strengths and needs of children and to identify early any problems that may interfere with a successful start in school, Coviello said.

Parents must register any child who will be six years old before January 1, 1981, and may register any child who will be five years old before January 1, 1981.

Parents of children who meet the above qualifications are asked to fill out the registration blank appearing in today's issue of The Republican and mail it to the designated address. All parents registering children for school will receive a letter notifying them of the date, time, and place of their appointment for the preschool registration program, according to Coviello.

Parents are requested to bring their child's birth certificate and immunization record and to provide important information for the school's records during the registration. In addition, each child registering for the school will be screened in the areas of vision, hearing and motor development. Additional services will include height, weight and health appraisal, Coviello concluded.

Paugh Sentenced To Two Years In County Jail

In Garrett County District Court last week Walter Lee Paugh, Deer Park, was sentenced to two years in jail, recommended to the Garrett County Jail, after he pled guilty to attempted robbery with a deadly weapon and possession of a concealed deadly weapon.

The charges, filed by Deputy M. Van Evans, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, resulted from a December 30 incident on Route 38 near Kitzmiller. Paugh had obtained a ride from Howard Davis, Swanton, and while in the car, Paugh pointed a 22 caliber handgun at Davis and demanded his vehicle. The defendant was overpowered by Davis and was arrested the next day by Deputy Evans. The defendant was released on $2500 bond.

Terms of the two-year sentence ruled by Judge Lewis R. Jones include the defendant's admission to Massey Unit of Finan Center for examination and treatment while in custody at the Garrett County Jail.

Paugh was also charged by Deputy Evans with assault with intent to rob. The charge was dismissed by State's Attorney James L. Sherbin.

In a separate case, Marvin E. Wiley, Jr., Grantsville, was found guilty of two counts of reckless driving, filed by Gary W. Kamp and Keith A. Kamp, both of Lonaconing.

The incident occurred December 1 when the defendant and the complainants, all three in separate cars, allegedly had an altercation while eastbound on U. S. Route 40 near the Ford Garage, and later at White Oak Tavern. When the persons involved left the tavern the defendant reportedly followed Gary Kamp, pulled in front of his vehicle and stopped. Keith Kamp reportedly then pulled in front of the defendant's vehicle, which struck Keith's car in the rear backed up and struck Gary's car in the front and left the scene, according to the complainants.

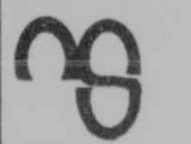

The complainants stated that damage to both vehicles amounted to $250. Wiley was also charged with two counts of malicious destruction of property. The defendant pled not guilty to the four charges and was found guilty of reckless driving. He was sentenced to a $100 fine.

Douglas Gene Upole, 18, Mt. Lake Park, pled guilty to a disorderly conduct charge filed by Deputy L. E. Gnegy, Garrett County Sheriff's Department. According to the complainant, Upole was causing a disturbance at a residence on Church Street in Deer Park on January 26, and was arrested when he refused to quiet down or leave.

The defendant was sentenced to a $25 fine.

Two sentences were ruled by Judge L. R. Jones last week following pre-sentence investigation. Rebecca J. Perry, Mt. Lake Park, who pled guilty to five charges of bad checks at a December 18 trial, was sentenced to 60 days in jail and a $75 fine. Checks written by the defendant amounted to $286.66. The jail sentence was suspended and the defendant was placed on supervised probation for 18 months, and was ordered by the court to pay $45 in court costs, $75 in fines, and to make restitution of $25.50 to Loch Lynn Service Station, $162.96 to Sandy's Levis and Lace and $98.20 to Clayton's, all payable within 60 days.

The checks were written during the month of October to obtain gas, merchandise and cash.

In a separate case Barbara Ann Elliott, 19, Oakland, who was found guilty of unlawful possession of a controlled dangerous substance, was sentenced last week following a pre-sentence investigation. Judge L. R. Jones ruled that the guilty verdict be changed to probation, and the defendant was placed on supervised probation for 12 months, with special attention to the prohibition of possession of a controlled dangerous substance.

Ms. Elliott was charged by Tfc. Ernest J. Upole, Maryland

State Police, McHenry, following an August 4 incident when the defendant was stopped for a traffic violation by the complainant. While obtaining her registration card, a plastic bag containing suspected marijuana was exposed, according to the complainant. Further investigation reportedly revealed a pipe with residue and additional bags of suspected marijuana.

The defendant had pled not guilty to the charge and a second charge of possession of controlled paraphernalia at a December 17 trial. She was found not guilty of the second charge.

THE HUDSON RIVER

When you've seen great ships sail into a broad river and make their way to the sea, you forget that every river has its source.

Far up in the Adirondack Mountains of northern New York a mountain stream tumbles its rocky way to the valley... so begins the mighty Hudson.

Human might and greatness are the same. They begin in a small way as the individual makes the right decisions, embraces the important values, chooses the course of his life.

A strong religious faith can go a long way in helping us find our true destiny. Christians believe as we worship together that what we are today is but a point along the way to what God intends us to become.

NICODEMUS

Lesson for March 2, 1980

Background Scripture: John 3:1-21, 7:32-52, 19:38-42

Devotional Reading: Ezekiel 36:26-37

We often associate the name of Nicodemus with timidity. We remember well that "This man came to Jesus by night" (John 3:2). And we know why he was a Pharisee, "a ruler of the Jews," in all probability a member of the Sanhedrin. We smile somewhat cynically when we think of this powerful man coming to Jesus secretly so that no one would know of his interest in the Nazarene.

Born Anew

We remember also that he was slow to comprehend what Jesus was saying to him. Told that he must be "born anew," Nicodemus replies, "How can this be?" And we know why he was a Pharisee, "a ruler of the Jews," in all probability a member of the Sanhedrin. We smile somewhat cynically when we think of this powerful man coming to Jesus secretly so that no one would know of his interest in the Nazarene.

The writer of John's Gospel becomes so intent upon Jesus' response that he fails to tell us anything more of Nicodemus until Chapter 7. Here we find the Pharisees and chief priests—probably the Sanhedrin—discussing charges against Jesus and Nicodemus.

challenging them. "Does our law judge a man without first giving him a hearing and learning what he does?" (7:51).

It is hardly a ringing confession of faith in Jesus as the Christ, yet we begrudgingly admit that at least Nicodemus spoke up in public for justice. Even that took some courage, although we would like to have seen courage enough for Nicodemus to testify for Jesus.

That's what we would have done, had we been Nicodemus, isn't it?

Are you sure?

Nicodemus also?

There is but one more mention of Nicodemus in John's Gospel and it is very brief. In John 19 we are told that Joseph of Arimathea, another prominent Pharisee, asked for Jesus' body and placed him in his own newly cut tomb. And John adds, "Nicodemus also, who had at first come to him by night, came bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes" (19:39). And that is all that is mentioned there is of Nicodemus in the New Testament.

Although some legends tell us that he was subsequently baptized by Peter and John and was banished from Jerusalem as a Christian after the martyrdom of Stephen.

Whether or not the legends are true, if we think about it, we find that there is more to admit in this man than most of us might have suspected. For the truth of the matter is that his story could easily be our story. Although we like to think that we would have been courageous spokesmen for Jesus had we lived then, it is more likely that our witness would be, at first, timid, like his. And in the three passages in John's Gospel we can see a line of steady growth from a man who timidly comes to Jesus by night to a disciple who publicly honors the master's Nazarene. It has taken some time, but Nicodemus has surely been "born anew."

Baptist Women's Circle Meets

The Women's Missionary Circle of the Mt. Lake Independent Baptist Church held its February meeting at the church with sixteen present.

Letters were received from the following missionaries: Verne Kirby in Alaska; Gary and Donna May, working with the American Indians in North Dakota; the Coopers in New England; Tommy Tillman, who is working in Central America; the Baker family from Australia; the Carters; and Shepherds, Inc., a home for retarded children and adults in Wisconsin. Thank-you letters were received from Carl Doppel, a student at Hyles-Anderson College, Charlie and Nancy Hesse, students at Liberty Baptist College, and Bob and Bonnie Breneman, who recently spent some time working with missionaries in Central America.

The group decided to make a gift of throw pillows for the Johnny Jones family. They will be visiting the church in the near future and are presently on furlough from the country of Chad in Africa. It was also decided to begin a scrapbook with pictures of quilts and other gifts to missionaries who visit the church. Flannel graphs have also been purchased and are being given to the Bakers in Australia.

Those attending the meeting were Ruth Paugh, Joyce DeVone, Holly Doppel, Dot Schrimshire, Wilda Fitzwater, Sally Coddington and guest, Norma Frazee, Nancy Umbel, Katie Wagner, Mary White, Linda Linhart, Diane Deal, Joy Wagner, Judy Shroat and Jane Hinebaugh.

Correction Noted

In an article in last week's edition concerning the new hot lunch facility at Garrett Community College, under the direction of Appalachian Adult Activities Center and Country Oven Bakery, it was incorrectly reported that the facility is partially funded by a state grant.

The Center in Oakland is funded by a state grant, but the new facility at GCC is funded strictly by profits made through the facility. We regret the error.

Preceding the program the group read the ritual and recited the Pledge of Allegiance and the American Creed. The President General's message was read by the Regent, Mrs. Robert Ruckert. A nominating committee was appointed to select a slate of officers for the coming year.

Shanklin, Geare Are Promoted By Insurance Firm

The Board of Directors of Beall, Garner, Screen and Geare, Inc. announced following their February annual stockholders' meeting the election of Page Shanklin to a vice-president's post and the appointment of J. Scott Geare to assistant manager of the Oakland office.

In addition to his other duties, Shanklin will now assume responsibility for marketing and development in Western Maryland and the West Virginia Panhandle. The Directors, in announcing his election, noted that since Mr. Shanklin joined the firm's Oakland branch in 1975, the office had experienced significant growth, including three major expansions of the physical plant and the steady addition of personnel.

Formerly employed by The United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, Shanklin has achieved professional recognition as a Chartered Property Casualty Underwriter and president of the Allegany-Garrett County Independent Insurance Agents' Association.

He is president of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club and is active in promoting Garrett County business and tourism.

J. Scott Geare was appointed assistant manager of the Oakland office and will assume responsibility for branch operations in addition to continuing as a Commercial Lines Producer. Since his employment by the agency in fall of 1977, he has achieved academic recognition at The United States Fidelity and Guaranty School, The Hartford Advancement Center, and through earning an excellent rating in Insurance Institute National Examinations.

Geare was a broadcaster before joining the firm, and was well known in the Northern Shenandoah Valley for his business and cultural programs and political reporting. A native of Western Maryland, he serves on the vestry of his church and has achieved recognition as an advocate of community volunteer organizations.

Other elections by the Board included the following: John E. Geare, chairman; J. Glenn Beall, president; Robert G.

Garner, executive vice-president; Ronald J. Screen, treasurer; Coleman P. Brown, III, vice-president — engineering; Frederick J. Hill, vice-president — comptroller and Martha Rogan, corporate secretary. The board re-appointed Bruce White as manager of personal lines and Bruce Reuter as manager of the Frostburg office.

GCC Trustees Approve Tuition Structure Changes

The Garrett Community College Board of Trustees Tuesday, February 19 approved changes in the tuition structure for the 1980-81 academic year which will mean an increase for some students and a decrease for others.

The new structure, which will increase the college's tuition income seven percent, was changed, says Gobel Jessup, Dean of Administrative Services, to equalize the costs of education for all students. The previous structure recognized a difference between the part-time student and full-time student, according to Jessup, by actually charging the part-time student more per credit hour than a full-time student. The new structure reduced the tuition per credit hour for part-time students and increased the tuition for full-time students so that part-time and full-time student taking 12 hours would be paying an equal amount.

The seven percent increase, Jessup noted, is in line with increase requests from other funding sources such as the county and state. He also stated this is the first tuition restructuring since the college first opened.

GCC, which operates on the zero base budgeting principle, has one of the lowest tuitions in Maryland.

In other business Tuesday, the Board of Trustees approved the appointment of Richard Morris and William Goldsborough to the Garrett County Vocational Advisory Council.

The Board also reappointed Gary Fratz to another term on the GCC Board of Trustees.

Vet Tech Program To Be Evaluated For Accreditation

The American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) will send a team to evaluate the Veterinary Science Technology Program at Garrett Community College for accreditation March 9-11 announced Dr. Donald L. Ruhl, president of GCC.

The college has been working to meet accreditation requirements of the AVMA since the program began during the 1977-78 school year. Upon accreditation, students graduating from the two year program will be eligible to take exams to become a licensed veterinary technician, a requirement for employment with a veterinarian. Because of the program's status with the AVMA, as a correspondent preparing to meet requirements, students who have graduated from the program have been allowed to take the licensing exam.

Randall Harman, chairman of the math/science division at GCC, noted that enrollment in the program has increased in its three years of existence.

There are still plans for expansion of the facilities, which are housed in the Garrett County Animal Shelter. Harman stated the next addition will be rooms for an incubator and for storage space for equipment. Other plans include inclosing runways where the animals are exercised to provide for year round use and additional laboratory and classroom space.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Bernard W. Carl. Wedding music was presented by Miss Terri Winters, with a wedding solo by Rod McWilliams.

Escorted to the altar by the groom, the bride was attired in a gown of Qiana knit, trimmed with embroidered Venice lace. The blouson bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline defined with matching lace and full bishop sleeves. Venice lace also accented the waistline of the accor-dian pleated skirt. Lace en-circled the hemline sweeping to a chapel train. A camelot head-piece of matching lace and seed pearls held an elbow mantilla of lace edged bridal illusion. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of pink and white silk roses, white silk carnations and baby's breath accented by white streamers with love knots. The brides jewelry were diamond earrings and a pearl necklace.

Maid of honor was Miss Darinda Cooper, Aurora, sister of the bride. Bridesmaid was Miss Ginger Roth, Horse Shoe Run, friend of the bride. Both girls were attired in matching rose colored satin gowns accented with spaghetti straps. Sheer rose floral printed blous-on jackets covered the gowns.

Each carried a bouquet of pink silk roses, white silk carnations, baby's breath accented by pink streamers. The gowns were made by the bride.

Serving as best man was Rick Bachtel, Red House, brother of the groom. Bruce Warsaw, Red Oak, Maryland, uncle of the groom, along with Rick Bachtel served as ushers. Both were suited in traditional wedding suits of light gray jackets with dark gray pinstripe pants. White and pink boutonnieres were worn.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social room. Mrs. Olive Martin and Mrs. Barbara Shaffer, both of Loch Lynn, served the wedding cake. Miss Kim Frankhouser, Terra Alta, attended the guest book.

The bride is a 1977 graduate of Aurora High School and attended Allegany Community College, Cumberland. The groom is a 1971 graduate of Southern High School and is employed by McHal Electric Corporation, Fairmont, W. Va. The couple resides near Red House.

County Arts Council Meets

The Garrett County Arts Council met Sunday under the new leadership of Frances Acton, Deep Creek Lake, who replaced Jim Willis as president.

The group approved a funding request from Robert Rodeheaver, Instructional Supervisor for the Garrett County Board of Education, to help fund five performances by Theodore Brown in county schools. Brown impersonates artist Vincent Van Gogh and composers Wolfgang Mozart and Ludwig Beethoven. He both plays music by the two composers and creates a painting in the style of Van Gogh.

The council also began making plans for a membership drive, for a showcase for county artists and craftsmen, for organization of a drama group, and for a directory of area artists, musical groups, dance groups and craftsmen.

Individuals or groups wishing to be included in a directory or to participate in compiling it, should contact Frances Acton, 387-4018.

Two Graduate From Banking School

Don R. Parsons, Jr.

Two employees of The First National Bank of Oakland were graduated from the 1980 National Installment Credit School in February. The school is sponsored by the Installment Lending Division of The American Bankers Association (ABA).

Don R. Parsons, Jr., Assistant Cashier and Assistant Manager of the Barton Office, and John R. Livengood, Jr., Collection Department, were among 270 bankers to graduate from the two-week, resident session at the University of Oklahoma. The school utilized lectures, casework and seminar discussions to educate new and experienced bank employees in consumer lending. The faculty comprised banking officials, businessmen, attorneys, government officials, and academicians.

Mr. Parsons is a graduate of Catherman's Business School and has been with First National Bank since 1970. He is married to the former Carol DeVore, and the couple resides near Deer Park.

Mr. Livengood is a 1977 graduate of Southern High School. He has been with First National Bank since July 1977. He is the son of John R. Livengood, Sr. and Mrs. Jean Wilt. He resides near Swanton.

County Forest Board Meets

The Garrett County Forest Conservancy Board met on February 13 at Camp Hickory to discuss arrangements for Arbor Day, and to discuss the 1980 Forest Conservation Workshop to be held at Camp Hickory in August. Also on the agenda was a report on the winter meeting held in Annapolis in January.

The Forestry Board will use April 26, the date celebrated as National Arbor Day, for their Arbor Day activities. The traditional Maryland Arbor Day will be on April 2, the first Wednesday in April, which coincides with the spring break for the Garrett County Schools. Classes will be in session on April 26, which will allow the students to become involved in the Arbor Day activities.

Plans for the 1980 Forestry Board Workshop were discussed and the program was tentatively scheduled for the week of July 27 through August 2. This workshop is designed to provide conservation-minded high school students, grades 10-12, from across the state, with an insight into the various careers available in conservation related fields.

The Board members also discussed the state wide Association meeting which was held on January 23 in Annapolis. Four members of the Garrett Forestry Board attended the meeting which involved discussions of the problems and issues facing the Maryland Forest Service. Each local Board was given a problem or issue and asked to develop several possible solutions to the problem. This method of problem solving enables the public to have input into the State's decision making processes, insuring the maximum benefit to the taxpayers of Maryland, according to the Board.

Real Estate

By DON CARSTENS
Deep Creek Realty

DO YOU REALLY OWN LAND?

Do you really own the land you live on? Yes, but not unconditionally. There's no question that you, your family, and heirs have strong historic rights to your own land. You can build on it, dig in it, keep others away from it, sell it, give it away, or borrow on it.

But your rights do not override certain public rights. A utility company may buy rights-of-way for power lines. The telephone company may have the right to a five-foot easement for poles along your back lot line. Similar easements are purchased or granted for local electric power lines, underground sewer piping, natural gas lines, and water supply piping.

You should know about all easements, rights and claims made on your land while you are living on it. This is the reason for a title search prior to purchase. When it's completed, you'll know if your title to the property is, or is not, free and clear of all "encumbrances" and, if not, what they are.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS TO ASK WHEN BUYING A GARDEN TRACTOR

Ariens feels that buying a garden tractor is something that deserves time and thought. Deliberate comparisons between various makes should be made before a decision is reached.

The following questions are those you should ask any dealer when making your tractor comparisons:

1. How long does it take and how easy is it to put on and take off your mower deck? (NOTE - ask for a demonstration)
2. Do you need to remove the mower deck before attaching a tiller or front blade on your tractor?
3. How are attachments driven with your tractor? How many belts are needed?
4. Do you have an efficient two-stage snow thrower or are you limited to a single stage?
5. What is the capacity of your tractor's gas tank? How many hours of grass cutting can I get with one tank-full?

The answers to these questions and others you'll want to ask will be very revealing. Ariens welcomes a thorough comparison and is confident that their Garden Tractors will be stand-out quality favorites when you've made it.

Take this list with you when you make your rounds. You'll be glad you did. And, while at your Green Acres Garden Center, ask about our "Easy Payment Plan."

Goldstein Details Western Maryland Tax Collections

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has released a detailed statistical report showing that sales tax revenue generated in the western Maryland area amounted to $49,514,245 in Fiscal Year 1979. "This is an 11.4 percent increase over the $44.5 million generated during the previous fiscal year in this area, which includes Allegany, Frederick, Garrett and Washington Counties," Mr. Goldstein said.

According to the just issued

Annual Report of the Maryland Retail Sales Tax Division, the area also accounted for 7.04 percent of the total state sales tax revenue collected in Fiscal Year 1979, down slightly from its share of 7.06 percent in Fiscal Year 1978. However, Frederick County's share jumped to 2.39 percent, up from 2.33 percent the previous year. Washington County's share was 2.62 percent, Allegany's 1.60 percent and Garrett's .43 percent.

With collections of $16,794,336, Frederick County posted a 14.9 percent increase over previous year's collections, which was tops in that category in its region and second among all Maryland subdivisions. Washington County maintained its position as the largest sales tax producer in the western Maryland region, generating $18,403,360, up 10.5 percent over Fiscal Year 1978. Allegany County's collections of $11,281,115 showed a 7.4 percent gain, while Garrett County generated $3,035,444, up 12.7 percent.

Comptroller Goldstein noted that the largest single source of revenue in the four County area was the general merchandise category, which includes revenue from taxable purchases made in department, variety, and discount stores, among others. "Consumer buying in this category generated $11,060,226 in sales tax revenue from the western Maryland area," Mr. Goldstein said. While the general merchandise category was the leading revenue producer in Allegany, Frederick and Washington Counties, Garrett County's top revenue generator was the food and beverage category, which includes revenue from taxable purchases made in supermarkets, independent grocery stores, restaurant and night clubs, package liquor stores and taverns, seafood packers, poultry producers and others.

Maryland sales tax collections totaled $703,002,753 in Fiscal Year 1979. Statewide, the general merchandise category was the biggest revenue producer—$143 million, while the food and beverage category came in second, generating $135.2 million.

Sites Established For County Health Fairs This Spring

Members of the Garrett County Health Fair Committee met last week at Garrett Community College. Five members were present at the meeting.

The group has determined definite sites for two county health fairs, which will be held during National Health Fair Week, April 14-21. The first health fair will be Friday, April 18, during the afternoon and evening, at the Grantsville Health Center and Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad building in Grantsville, to serve the northern end of the county. A second fair is scheduled for Saturday, April 19, during the day, at the Oakland Center of Garrett Community College, to serve the southern end of the county.

Sub-committees were formed by the group, under the direction of Sarah Fredlock, Garrett County Health Department, and members were appointed to serve on such committees as Public Relations, Maintenance Crew and Transportation.

Definite screening tests and educational programs to be offered at the health fairs were determined. Specific components of each fair will be Registration, Health Risk Analysis/questionnaire, Height and Weight, Blood Pressure, Hematocrits and Chemistries (blood tests for a small fee), Tuberculosis, Vision Screening, Glaucoma, Hearing, Oral Screening for Cancer (Dentistry), Female Cancer Education, Occult Blood Education, and Counseling and Referral, which is mandatory for all participants. Participants may choose the screening tests they wish to take, and all tests are offered free of charge, with the exception of blood tests which must be sent to a laboratory.

Members of Garrett County Rescue Squad will demonstrate CPR, and the Diabetic Association will set up a booth for diet education for diabetics. Mention was made that the Lung Association may offer Carbon Monoxide testing for smokers or Vital Capacity testing in conjunction with the Tuberculosis test.

The committee determined that approximately 44 volunteers will be needed to run the health fairs, including Registered Nurses, community volunteers, Rescue Squad members and Lab Technicians, to serve in specific areas of the health fair, according to qualifications and tests. All screening and educational volunteers are required to attend a training session set up by the National Health Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations (NHSCVO), a non-profit organization in Baltimore, which determines guidelines for health fair committees throughout the state. A tentative date for the training session is set for the last week of March.

The Garrett County Health Department and Garrett County Memorial Hospital, acting as local sponsoring organizations, will furnish the majority of supplies and volunteer services.

Sub-committees are expected to meet individually before the next meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, March 12 at 7 p.m. in the Garrett Community College auditorium, McHenry. Sub-committees should come to the meeting prepared with a list including names and phone numbers of volunteers for each area and basic action outlines for each sub-committee.

Ms. Fredlock said, "We hope to have everything ready to go by the end of March." Interested volunteers should contact Sarah Fredlock, Garrett County Health Department, at 334-8111.

Deputy Recovers Stolen Property

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department responded to a theft which occurred last Wednesday evening in the parking lot of Par-Matt Lanes, Oakland. Paul Edward Giotfely, Oakland, reportedly parked his flat-bed pick-up truck in the parking lot at 6 p.m. When he returned to the truck at approximately 11:30 p.m., he discovered a truck tire and wheel had been removed from the bed. The stolen property was valued at $35.

The following morning Deputy Gney discovered the tire and wheel along Oakland Avenue just east of the Par-Matt Bowling Lanes, and the property was returned to Mr. Giotfely.

Four arrests were made by the department last week.

Susan Boyce was incarcerated on February 19 for a bad check charge. She was released the same day on $100 bond. Carol Upole, 34, was arrested last Friday, charged with battery, and released on her own recognizance.

Steven Wayne Lower, 24, was incarcerated on Saturday when he was charged with breaking and entering and destruction of property. Lower was released on his own recognizance.

Phillip Lough, 48, was arrested in connection with a Bench Warrant. He was released on $500 unsecured bond.

Hearing Loss Is Not A Sign Of Old Age

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

True, all hearing problems are not alike . . . and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid. But audiologists report that many can. So, send for this free model now, and wear it in the privacy of your own home. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 32277, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

TV TATTLE

Lorne Greene a la Landon

Michael Landon, star of NBC's "Little House on the Prairie," is a talented actor, writer, director and producer — and a sucker for impressionists. "I can watch a guy do impressions of other people all night long," says Landon, who admits to having once tried it himself, not quite successfully. "I tried to do Lorne Greene, and I hurt myself very badly."

Kate Mulgrew signed

Kate Mulgrew has been signed to star in "Mother Seton," an "ABC Theatre" presentation currently in production for the 1980-1981 season. Ms. Mulgrew, who impressed theater critics with her performances as Desdemona in "Othello" and Emily in "Our Town" before starring in her own television series, will play the title role in the true story of Elizabeth Seton, the first American to be declared a saint by the Catholic Church.

Patrick Wayne to host

Patrick Wayne has been chosen to host "The Monte Carlo Show," a series of 24 one-hour variety spectacles for worldwide syndication. Patrick, the son of the late John Wayne, began his show business career at the age of 11. He is a veteran of more than two dozen films and has numerous TV credits, including his own series, "The Rounders." He most recently co-starred in NBC's "Shirley." The entire series, an international showcase, will be produced in the glamorous setting of the French Riviera city of Monte Carlo.

New holiday special

Garrett Morris, known to TV viewers as one of the original Not Ready for Prime Time Players on "Saturday Night Live," has been signed to create the featured voice of the Easter Bunny in "Easter Fever," a new animated special being produced for syndication. It's the story of the Easter Bunny, an irreverent character, who is ready to retire after many years as one of the world's most beloved legends. Surrounded by his many friends, the Easter Bunny is "roasted," much in the tradition of the Friar's Club tributes, as they convince him of his worth to children and adults alike, and plead that he keep on spreading his message of believing in one's own imagination.

Indiana town honors homegrown 'sheriff'

A prophet may be without honor in his own country, but it's another story if you come from Bedford, Ind.

An old Bedford boy, Claude Akins, star of NBC's "The Misadventures of Sheriff Lobo," recently found this out when his home town declared January 28 as Claude Akins Day and sent Deputy Chief of Police Phil Holiday all the way to Los Angeles to present the citation and other civic honors.

It was a complete surprise for Akins, who received the honors in his "Only County Office" on Stage 35 at Universal Studios. Chief Holiday gave him the citation, a huge key to the City of Bedford, an honorary badge in the local police department and a retired policeman's badge, honoring the actor's father, the late Ernest Akins who was on the Bedford police force for 22 years.

"You know, it was really a thrill," Akins later told his sidekick, Mills Watson (who plays Deputy Perkins). "Here this nice guy flies all the way out here to honor me. It meant an awful lot to me. But I was really sad that my dad couldn't have lived to see this day. I think the badge in his memory touched me more than the honor for me. He would have been tickled."

Hearing that Chief Holiday, who was accompanied by his wife and his wide-eyed 10-year-old daughter, Raegan, was without a car, the affable star lent them his car for the entire time they were in Los Angeles.

"Well, why not?" Akins laughed. "I knew he wouldn't be breaking any laws! Besides, that was an awfully nice thing Bedford did for me."

IN FOCUS

Humphrey Bogart was 'the last of a breed'

On opening night in "Swiftly," a 1922 Broadway play starring Frances Howard and Hale Hamilton, a supporting actor got so scared he walked off stage to get a glass of water, leaving everyone to ad-lib on stage. "Hamilton was rather upset," the actor said later. "So were the critics."

It was like that for Humphrey Bogart in the beginning — shaky starts and a nervous stomach. However, that particular incident was an early indication of a certain kind of nervousness that bespoke a man who believed in "doing things just like you feel like doing and taking the consequences." Bogart's emergence as a major box-office personality, from his Broadway years in drawing-room comedies to his success in motion pictures, is traced in "Bogie," a special that dramatizes the life of the legendary actor, Tuesday, March 4, on CBS. Kevin O'Connor and Kathryn Harold star as Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall in the drama, which focuses on Bogart's dilemma of trying to balance his popular on-screen image as a tough guy and his gentler but complex off-screen personality.

Bogart's acting abilities and disposition on stage improved after his unsteady start in 1922, but for the next 15 years he seemed doomed to play country-club juveniles in drawing room comedies, making his entrance wearing a blazer and carrying a tennis racket. It was during one such production that Twentieth Century-Fox scouts saw him and brought him to Hollywood, where he spent most of 1931-32 "getting nowhere fast." Bogart decided that he could never be a leading man in motion pictures because of his split upper lip (pierced by a splinter when he was serving on board a Navy ship) and returned to Broadway.

If Arthur Hopkins, who was producing a new play by Robert E. Sherwood, "The Petrified Forest," had not lacked someone to play the tough gangster part of Duke Mantee, Bogart might have wound up playing "Tennis, anyone?" types for the rest of his career. Bogart won the Mantee role because of his world-weary voice. Later, he appeared in the movie version, which resulted in his becoming one of Hollywood's most celebrated hoods in subsequent parts.

In his first 34 pictures, Bogart was a jailbird in nine, was electrocuted or hanged in eight and riddled by bullets in a dozen. Though he was something less than a tough guy off-screen, audiences were attracted to his "man's man" on-screen personality. His gradual emergence as a box-office star began with "High Sierra" and continued through "The Maltese Falcon" (which brought him an Oscar in 1952) and "Casablanca."

For his tough-guy roles Bogart donned his "cosmetics." He would let his beard grow, dangle a cigarette from his lips and adopt the clipped, salty accent of the underworld. An uncontrollable muscle tic above his left eye, his square jaw and a hangover pallor also helped define the gangster demeanor. Cosmetics and tough-guy image notwithstanding, what his fans and friends apparently loved most about Bogart was a quality he possessed on screen and off: honesty. He was true to himself.

Lauren Bacall, his fourth wife, once said, "Bogie was the last of a breed. No man was more part of the scene. To never sell your soul, to have self-esteem, to be true to yourself, were the values in which he believed."

There was something else about Bogie. He was an iconoclast, with a keen sense of realism and humor about his tough-guy image. He once said to Raymond Massey as they watched their doubles duel it out in a hazardous film sequence, "Ray, I'll bet you $10 my double is braver than yours."

STARVIEW

Success: It requires more than just talent

By RUTH THOMPSON

In a wistful, though amusing, sketch in the off-Broadway revue, "Scrambled Feet" by author-comedians Jeffrey Haddow and John Driver, John and the show's leading lady, Evalyn Baron, play exacting hopefuls who dropped out. She's a housewife, he's joined his father's business. Are they less happy, equally happy... or maybe even more happy than if they'd followed that first dream?

What about their real-life counterparts? Did they lack sufficient talent? Maybe not, according to a one-time self-evaluation by the great Bette Davis.

She's celebrating her 50th year as an actress with this week's CBS movie, "White Mama," which casts her as a woman who befriends a black youth and is, in turn, befriended by him. It's a big role, fulfilling with emotion, just what you'd expect of a superstar who outlived her glamour days and moved into a new reign as a character actress.

Her delivery — dipping each word in acid and plunking them down deliberately one by one — is standard stuff for impersonators.

The late George Arliss, an early benefactor of Davis, said her talent and spark were evident when she was very young. But Bette Davis herself said that she believes many of those who came to the starting gate when she did had not just as much natural talent, but more. What she had in greater degree, she reasons, was persistence. She was driven by some inner force to work, work, work and perfect herself. And the talent grew.

Gene Kelly, in a television interview a few years ago, said with silky good cheer that he was grateful to the fate that had let him live his life as an artist, to make his living (and also gain much fame and money) doing what he wanted to do. But as he talked on, it was evident that in addition to his talent as a dancer, he, too, was driven by an inner force to keep perfecting himself and to keep reaching for new goals, in his case as a choreographer.

Davis and Kelly each had a mother who was sufficiently star struck to encourage their offspring. The early dancing lessons for Gene were Mrs. Kelly's idea, and Bette Davis' mother had enough showbiz know-how to manage her daughter's budding career.

What about those whose parents not only said "no," but urged joining the family company or just settling into local lifestyles?

Henry Winkler said one of the toughest obstacles in his life was persuading his successful exporter-importer father that there was no point in his joining the family business because he could never make a success of something for which he had no liking. What he liked — loved — was acting, and no financier ever worked harder to learn his trade than Henry did. It must have strained his nerves, not to mention his father's faith in Henry's judgment, that Henry didn't finish his graduate work at Yale until he was 27. By then he was so well equipped that he played four different characters in one season on Mary Tyler Moore's show, and nobody realized it. Then of course he did The Fonz so well on "Happy Days" it's taken a bit of doing to kick the typecasting.

Omar Sharif's story is similar to Winkler's. He had to prove to his father that he was a flop as a lumber salesman before he got a green light from the family to try acting.

MONDAY

On the last night of her life, a proud matriarch (Geraldine Fitzgerald) realizes she is still haunted by the man who stranded her at the altar decades ago, on "The Jitters of Granny Weatherall," Monday, March 3, on PBS.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Soap pads ranks, plot; others go on location

By NANCY M. REICHARDT
HOLLYWOOD — Back at the beginning of February, "The Young and the Restless" began their one-hour version of the show by adding actresses Cindy Fisher (who has appeared on "SFT" and "DOOL" in the past, as well as a short stint on "YGR") as Kathy Bruder, and Bond Gideon as the new (and sexy) Jill Brooks, who replaces Brenda Dickson.

While "Y&R" was adding new characters, the producer (Cathy Abbi) and head writer (Ann Marcus) of "Love of Life," gave to their word, left viewers wondering just what happened to their favorites on the show. For instance, we'll never know if Betsy lived or died after her collapse in the court room, where she testified on Ben's behalf. The Tom, Meg and Liane triangle was left unsatisfied, and poor Bruce never did learn that Amy was his daughter from a college affair. "Love of Life" aired its last show February 1. Ah well, that's soap opera! More of those ever popular location scenes were taped in mid-February for the benefit of viewers of "Another World," which took Janice, Mitch, Rachel and Mac to Santo Domingo (riots in St. Croix, Virgin Islands, necessitated a last-minute location change) to wind up Janice's poisoning plot against Mac.

At the same time "As the World Turns" introduced a new character, Swedish shipping magnate James Stenbeck, to the audience via remotes done at the same island location. Not to be outdone, "Guiding Light" also returned to the islands for some more romance and adventure scenes.

Rita M. Walter (Carol Stallings on "ATWT") and her husband Norman have penned their autobiography entitled "No Shadow of Turning," which is described as a "love story." You can get a copy of the book (published by Doubleday-Gallilee) at your local bookstore.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

BURT S. AGEE — Please tell me the year Burt Reynolds was born and also where I may write him? Thank you. — Veronica Perez, Chicago, Ill.

Burt was born in 1936, which makes him 44 this year. He was born in Waycross, Ga., but raised in Florida. He has a production office, Burt Reynolds Productions, 8730 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90069. You can write him there. However, Burt is one of those traveling actors, who might be appearing at his Jupiter, Fla., dinner theater or making a film in Europe. He might even be in the office the day your letter arrives. He is actually there occasionally. I heard of a writer calling and wanting to talk to him. She called his assistant, who wasn't in. Burt answered the telephone and took the message; the writer never knew she was talking to Burt himself. No, it wasn't me.

CRYING UNCLE. What was the character's name that David McCallum played on "The Man From U.N.C.L.E."? I recall Robert Vaughn played Napoleon Solo. Also, how old is McCallum today? — J. MacDonald, Alexandria, La.

David played Ilya Kuriak. He was born in 1933, making him 47 this year.

FONDA HIM — I am having a big argument with a friend I say many years ago Henry Fonda starred in a Western TV series, and my friend says I'm crazy. I don't think I am. — Michael Thomas, Lubbock, Texas.

You're not crazy at all. Fonda played a character named Simon Fy in a series called "The Deputy." Fonda was the marshal, and the deputy was Clay McCord, played by Allen Case. It was a 39-minute series on NBC from Sept. 12, 1959 to Sept. 19,

'Roughnecks' in production

Harry Morgan and Vera Miles are among the actors signed to star in Metromedia's "Roughnecks," a two-part four-hour syndicated miniseries scheduled for a May premiere. Set in modern-day Texas, the saga recounts the exploits of a breed of roughnecks, known as the "super crew" matched against sabotage and intrigue in their attempt to achieve the deepest drill for geothermal energy in history. Once a vast geothermal energy field (super heated water and methane gas) is confirmed beneath ranch land and the operation gets underway, violent confrontations are set off between the drillers and cattle ranchers.

King and MacGraw celebrate new film

By CIN. V. ADAMS

NEW YORK — Overheard at the party honoring the new comedy, "Just Tell Me What You Want," star Alan King. "And would you believe, an old bum like me gets the broad." The "broad," by the way, is Ali MacGraw. Seeing them together, I found it interesting that Ali's hair is grayer than Alan's. Hugh Hefner's daughter, Christie Hefner, is putting out the first "Annual" for Playboy magazine. John and Yoko Lennon bought the very societyish Brownie McLean's Palm Beach palazzo lock, stock and cash.

In "Dressed To Kill" Angie Dickinson gets raped in the back of a taxi. The cabbie got $15 for the rental of his cab. He's thinking also of putting up a plaque on the back seat.

While the wife of a deli owner I know shrunk off 30 pounds in Florida's classy spa, Palm Aire, her sauna mate swooled off 20. The sauna mate was Elizabeth Taylor. Steve Martin's going to star in an original comedy for Warners. He's also going to write it. He'll probably laugh at it, too.

Designer Mary McPadden's jazzy classy party at her loft honoring the 100th anniversary of the St. Louis Symphony and its young conductor Leonard Slatkin grabbed the Jacob Javitses, Byron Janises, Pat Mansel, Diana Vreeland and those types who can tell a cadenza from a credenza.

Bette Midler has 90 pairs of spiked heel shoes. A lady who peddles organic cosmetics — whatever they are — got a call from Gwyneth Jones. The $90 order for health creams and strawberry and avocado packs also included lecithin, vitamins and an apricot astringent. The King Cole Room of the St. Regis Sheraton is staging a tribute to producer Cheryl Crawford.

At a party I watched Sylvia Miles telling anybody who'd listen about what her future movie is about, plus I noticed Howard Cosell was practicing smiling, plus I heard Eli Wallach patiently explaining why he wasn't earning fortunes with his TV savings bank commercials. Because. "Unfortunately I don't get residuals. I get a flat fee."

Take stock in America.

On Sept. 8, 1971, a group of inmates took over D-yard at New York's Attica prison. Quickly gathering hostages, the men demanded prison reforms and set out to expose what they considered inhuman living conditions. "Attica," a gripping two-hour dramatization based on Tom Wicker's acclaimed book, "A Time to Die," which recreates the incidents surrounding one of the most harrowing prison revolts in American history, will be aired Sunday, March 2, on ABC. It stars Henry Darrow, Charles Durning, Joel Fabiani, Morgan Freeman, George Grizzard, David Harris, Roger E. Mosley, Arlen Dean Snyder, Glynis Turner and Anthony Zerbe.

MY BOOK OF YOU

I'd like to write a book of yesterdays
Belonging to you and me
And I would put it on display
For all the world to see

I'd write down every memory
You and I ever shared

And yes — all the world would see
That you really did care

Some pages would be cried on
But that's what my book's about
Some of them would even be gone
For I would rip them out

But only the pages of sad memories
I keep within me yet
Things I want no one to read
Things I'd like to forget

I'm sure I would receive no fame
Nor gain any glory
But that's the price one pays
When attempting to write a TRUE love story

Appeals Court Hears Testimony In Tichnell Case

The seven-member panel of the Maryland Court of Appeals has given no indication when it will decide whether Richard D. Tichnell, 33, should be put to death for the murder of Garrett County deputy sheriff David Livengood, according to an Associated Press report.

Tichnell is the first person to be sentenced under the state's new capital punishment law which took effect in July, 1978.

The court heard arguments Monday from both sides in the appeal hearing for Tichnell who claims he was acting in self-defense when he shot Livengood. He shot the deputy seven times after he and his partner, Roberto Heczk, broke into Davidson's Army & Navy Discount Store, Oakland to steal guns.

Heczk was convicted of the same shooting early this year, but was sentenced to life in prison.

Tichnell had a choice of being sentenced by the judge or the jury and chose the judge. Judge Richard M. Pollitt sentenced him to the gas chamber.

Tichnell's lawyer, Clark E. Frame, of Morgantown, WV, spent most of his time Monday arguing to the court that his client was improperly convicted and sentenced.

Tichnell had testified that when Livengood arrested him, the deputy ordered him to lie on the ground and brought his police dog to watch him. He told the jury that when he moved slightly, the dog attacked, biting his face, injuring his eye and tooth.

He stated he then ran to his car to get a first aid kit but was pursued by Livengood, who thought he was trying to get away. Tichnell said after the deputy fired at him two or three times, wounding him in the shoulder, he got his gun from

Quick Action By Area Firefighters Keeps Fire Damage To Minimum

Several structure fire kept Garrett County firefighters busy over the weekend, the first of which was reported at 6:10 p.m. Friday when a neighbor noticed fire in a trailer owned by Leo Coddington located off Route 219 outside of Accident.

Firefighters from Grantsville, Bittinger and Salisbury, Pa., along with the Northern Rescue Squad, responded to the scene and arrived at 11:25 p.m. The trailer was owned and occupied by Mrs. Nora Beal, 85, and was located on River Road, Grantsville.

Mrs. Beal, who lives alone, had been up when she heard an explosion in the vicinity of a kerosene furnace located in the hall of the trailer.

The fire was contained to the furnace area, but some spread under the trailer, weakening the flooring.

Robert H. Shimer, fire investigator for the Maryland State Fire Marshal's office, said the fire was most likely the result of a malfunction in the fueling system. The loss was reportedly covered by insurance.

Garrett County air cascade truck was dispatched to the scene from Oakland and Eastern Garrett firemen were placed on stand-by at Grantsville's station.

County fire departments have also responded to several fire fires over the past week, none of which resulted in significant damage.

When Mr. Kight went upstairs to investigate, he opened the door to a bedroom, saw the fire, and quickly closed the door. He then called Garrett Central Alarm.

A spokesman for the Oakland Fire Department said a mattress, carpet, floor and wall of the room were damaged, while the remainder of the second floor sustained some smoke damage.

The cause of the fire was not determined, however, it was not believed to be of a suspicious nature.

The Southern Rescue Squad was also called to the scene. There were no injuries. Firemen remained at the scene until 7:40 p.m.

On Sunday at 11:19 a.m. Friendsville and Accident firefighters were called to a house fire along Old Gravel Hill Road, off Route 33 near Addison, Pa. Damage was confined to one

Sanitary Board Studies Proposals

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission Thursday reviewed engineering proposals from two local engineering firms for Phase III of the Mountain Lake Park Water Rehabilitation Project.

Proposals were submitted by Franklin Associates and Western Maryland Associates for rehabilitation of the Mt. Lake Park spring source, water storage, and transmission lines, for a ten-inch crossing of the Youghiogheny River and the railroad, and an extension of the water system to Oak Park.

Dick Nace, administrator for the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., recommended the commission split the work between the two firms to speed progress and because the projects are all to be included in Phase III of the rehabilitation project, scheduled to begin this Spring. He suggested that Franklin Associates be awarded the contract for design work on the Oak Park extension and the river and railroad crossing and that Western Maryland Association be awarded the contract for design work on the water source, storage, and transmission line rehabilitation. The commission agreed to study the proposals and make a decision of contract awards at the next meeting.

Nace reported that a Broad Ford Group Home for the Handicapped will be built on Broad Ford Road in Mt. Lake Park and will require water service. He mentioned several alternatives for providing water service including the idea

Nursing Homes Quarantined Due To Virus

Cuppitt-Weeks and Dennett Road Manor Nursing Homes are temporarily closed to visitors and volunteer workers, except in special cases when permission to visit has been granted by an official at the nursing home.

The closing, which began Monday, was ordered by the nursing home doctors and is expected to continue for a 10-day period. It became necessary because of contagious flu virus which has apparently spread throughout each home, presumably brought into the homes by a visitor.

Griggs had been apprehended by Pennsylvania State Police July 26 near Somerset, Pa., 13 hours after the rape of the 69-year-old Grantsville woman occurred.

He apparently had spent the preceding week with his grandmother in the Kitzmiller area, and had left there after an argument with a family member.

According to police he gained admission to the victim's home around 3 a.m. on the 26th, leaving about 5 a.m. after he had viciously beat her with his fists and repeatedly raped her.

At 7:30 a.m. the victim managed to call a minister in LaVale, who notified the LaVale barracks of the state police. He also called the Northern Garrett Rescue Squad which transported the woman to the Cumberland hospital.

Jury Convicts Griggs Of First Degree Rape

The Garrett County Petit Jury Tuesday night found Thomas Wayne Griggs, 21, of Akron, Ohio, guilty of first degree rape, assault and battery, and unlawful and perverted sexual practice of a 69-year-old Grantsville area woman.

The jury delivered the guilty verdict at 10:45 p.m. Tuesday in the Garrett County Circuit Court after two hours deliberation.

The case went to the jury at 8:45 p.m. after closing arguments from prosecuting attorney Donn Weiers, assistant state's attorney, and defense attorneys D. Robert Esten and David N. Shaffer, both of Oakland.

Judge Fred A. Thayer, who presided over the trial, ordered a presentence investigation and remanded Griggs to the custody of the Garrett County Sheriff without bail pending sentencing. Griggs is being held in the Garrett County jail.

Testimony in the case began Monday afternoon after the selection of the six man, six woman jury was completed. Jury selection began Monday at 9:30 a.m. with the questioning of seventy prospective jurors.

Called to the stand for the prosecution were the plaintiff, Dr. Leland Ransom, Cumberland obstetrician; Tlc. I. M. Carter and Sgt. Howard Graham of the state police and the defendant's grandmother, Hazel I. Griggs, Kitzmiller. Also testifying for the prosecution was Dr. Anthony deMonecas, psychiatrist, who testified that Griggs was sane during commission of the offense.

The defendant had entered a plea of not guilty for reason of insanity. The defense called psychiatrist Dr. Allen Greenberg and Dr. John Henderson and psychologist Dr. Morris Roseman all who testified presented testimony to prove insanity at the time of the crime.

Prior to the trial, Griggs had received two hearings. One on February 19 was to hear a motion to dismiss the case which was denied. The second on February 29 was to hear a motion to suppress evidence. In that hearing, it was ruled that items acquired as a result of Griggs' arrest in Pennsylvania would not be allowed as evidence. The judge also ruled that a statement of the defendant would be inadmissible as evidence.

Griggs had been apprehended by Pennsylvania State Police July 26 near Somerset, Pa., 13 hours after the rape of the 69-year-old Grantsville woman occurred.

He apparently had spent the preceding week with his grandmother in the Kitzmiller area, and had left there after an argument with a family member.

According to police he gained admission to the victim's home around 3 a.m. on the 26th, leaving about 5 a.m. after he had viciously beat her with his fists and repeatedly raped her.

Commissioners To Begin Interviews For Administrative Clerk Position

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners will interview five applicants for the position of administrative clerk left vacant October 5 when Marshall Rickert resigned. The commissioners reviewed a total of ten applications Tuesday afternoon, selecting five for interviews.

The applications had been submitted to the commissioners before the Friday, February 29 deadline, over half of them county residents. The commissioners have not indicated when they will announce their decision.

Lester Hunter, chairman of the board noted the commissioners hope to appoint a clerk soon because they are beginning to work on the county budget for FY81. He further commented that the budget preparation process will continue as scheduled regardless of when a clerk is appointed.

In other commissioners' business, Raymond Alexander of the Tri-County Council and Tim Dugan, county planning director, met with the commissioners to discuss the federal funding program for Energy Impacted Areas. The program, to be administered through the Tri-County Council, would provide funds for rehabilitation or to remedy a situation created by mining.

The objective of the funds is to provide assistance for development of energy impacted areas. Because the deadline for application for funds is April 1, 1980, Alexander and Dugan requested suggestions from the commissioners for a priority list of items eligible for funding. Some items discussed included site acquisition for housing and purchase of abandoned strip mines for solid waste disposal.

Herb McCrabe, county roads administrator, submitted bids from contractors for gas, tires, asphalt, sand and stone for the commissioners to review. The commissioners stated the awarding of bids would take place during the Tuesday, March 11 meeting.

Dick Nace, administrator for the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., informed the commissioners the Sanitary Commission had decided to oppose a bill introduced in the Maryland House of Delegates that would prohibit discharge of chlorinated water into state designated natural trout streams. He stated the commission was working with other Western Maryland organizations to prepare a statement of opposition to be presented at the Senate hearing of the bill.

Nace also presented the commissioners a copy of a letter from Don Gustens stating his resignation from the Sanitary Commission for professional reasons. He had been appointed to the commission July 29, 1977 and would have ended his term July 17, 1980.

Brad Kinard, Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., met with the commissioners to tell them of the progress of the Rural Community Assistance Program, which will provide technical assistance to rural counties and small towns particularly in sewerage and water projects. He also told the commissioners of a newly formed state corporation, the Rural Development Corporation, which will emphasize providing aid to small towns in sewerage and water projects, housing, transportation, economic development, health care, and energy. He stated there would be a meeting Friday of concerned agencies to discuss the two programs.

Measurable Snowfall Hits Garrett County

Police Arrest Pittsburgh Man For Auto Theft

Patrick Walter Levy, 20, Pittsburgh, Pa., was arrested last week by Maryland State Police, McHenry, and charged with the theft of a pickup truck owned by David James Gangler, McHenry.

The theft was discovered when Gilbert Earl Harvey, a landowner near the Gangler residence, reported that someone was in his field with a vehicle. The call was made at 4:38 a.m., and when State Police officers investigated the call, Levy was found driving a pickup truck and was unable to produce a registration card for the vehicle. Upon investigation, officers learned that the truck had been stolen from the Gangler residence.

The truck was returned to its owner and Levy was taken into custody.

A theft of skis was reported to the McHenry Barracks last Friday by Dieter Baer, ski instructor at the Wisp in McHenry. Baer had apparently placed his skis against the side of the McHenry house near his office window at 1:30 p.m. At 2:30 p.m. the instructor discovered his skis had been taken by unknown persons. Taken were a pair of competition skis, bindings with brakes and ski poles, all valued at $39.

There are no suspects at this time.

Garrett Memorial Hospital Rates For Fiscal '79 Lowest In Maryland

According to figures released this week by the Health Services Cost Review Commission of Maryland, the cost per equivalent in-patient day for Fiscal Year 1979 at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital was the lowest among the state's 94 hospitals. The indicator of cost per equivalent in-patient day is a monitoring tool used by the Cost Commission to compare inpatient and outpatient costs converted through a sophisticated formula to inpatient terms.

The hospital with the second lowest rates in the state, Carroll County, showed a figure 11.7 percent higher than rates at Garrett Memorial. The hospital with the highest EIPD rate was Johns Hopkins.

Several Escape Unharmed From Auto Accidents

Several persons escaped injury in recent auto accidents investigated by the Maryland State Police, McHenry.

A vehicle driven by Ralph William Jenkins, 24, Grantsville, was totaled in a one-car wreck last Thursday at 2:25 a.m. According to police reports, Jenkins was eastbound on U. S. Route 40, 16 mile west of River Road, when his 1970 Chevy Chevelle ran off the roadway onto the right shoulder, and its right front wheel entered a snow bank, pulling the vehicle into a guardrail and causing it to overturn.

Jenkins was unhurt. He was charged with negligent driving.

In a separate incident Jeffrey Linn Orr, 19, Oakland, involved in a single vehicle accident on U. S. Route 219, 300 feet north of Foster Road, was apparently not seriously hurt. The accident occurred on February 23 at 2:40 a.m., when Orr was southbound on U. S. 219, ran off the left side of the roadway, struck a culvert and overturned.

Orr was charged with failure to drive on the right side of the roadway. His 1976 Ford Capri was disabled.

Severe weather apparently was the cause of an accident on Sang Run Road last Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Michael James Malarkey, 30, Terra Alta, W. Va., was proceeding west on Sang Run Road, 10 feet west of Oakland-Sang Run Road, when the operator was apparently blinded by severe wind and blowing snow, and his vehicle struck a bridge and went down over an embankment.

Malarkey escaped unhurt. His 1976 Chevy Custom was disabled and damaged in the right front, left side, and undercarriage portions.

Two persons escaped serious injury during a single car mishap last Wednesday at 2:15 p.m., on Maryland Route 495, 25 mile south of Durst Road.

Wayne E. Platter, 24, Grantsville, was traveling north on Maryland Route 495, 25 miles south of Durst Road, when his vehicle hit a snow-covered portion of the roadway, and the operator lost control of the car. The vehicle struck an embankment and flipped over into the roadway on its roof.

Thomas Bowser, 21, Accident, was a passenger in the 1974 Dodge. The car was totaled.

Gibson came in second and received the silver medal. While in Colorado, they visited Robert Nordeck, formerly of Oakland, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Nordeck.

Bob Lohr participated in the Alpine Ski Festival this past weekend in Davis, W. Va. He came in second in the Timberline cup race on Saturday and came in first in the slalom race Sunday. The combined results of the two races gave him the best time making him the winner of the Governor's Cup. Scott Lohr raced in the Timberline Race and came in second in the 9-12 year age group. He came in first in the Alpine slalom race.

Sheriff's Office Investigates Varied Complaints

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department received numerous complaints last week involving theft, breaking and entering and destruction of property.

A caretaker at Thousand Acres reported that the summer dwelling of Daniel Yellott, Reisterstown, was apparently broken into and several items were removed from the dwelling. The time of the incident is unknown and the caretaker stated that he noticed the crime on February 25. Upon investigation of the building, deputies found it to be secure and could see no sign of forced entry.

The caretaker and Yellott collectively reported four pairs of skis, one vacuum cleaner, various household items, tools, assorted liquors and a chain saw were missing from the dwelling. Total loss value is estimated at $1,775.

In a separate incident, Raymond Bittinger of Swanton reported a theft which occurred in a wooded area on Swanton Hill Road sometime between February 23 and 25. According to Bittinger, someone cut the lock from the battery box of his John Deere dozer and removed a 12 volt battery and a tool tray containing various tools. The subjects also took from a truck parked beside the dozer, three load binders, four log chains and a sledge hammer. Total loss value of the theft is approximately $364.

A breaking and entering was reported by Charles Perry, Pittsburgh. The crime occurred at his cottage on Rock Lodge Road at an unknown time. It was discovered on February 22.

Entry was made into the cottage through the rear kitchen door by pulling the latch out of the wall while the locks were still locked. A window near the door knob was broken. No evidence of ransacking was discovered, and Perry has not yet determined what, if anything, is missing.

Three destructions of property were reported in the past week to the Sheriff's Department.

Loren V. Hawk, Kitzmiller, stated that sometime between February 25 and 26 unknown persons broke his passenger door window while his vehicle was parked in the parking lot of Old Route 135 Farmers' Market. The subjects apparently entered the vehicle and tampered with an 8-track tape player, but were unable to remove that equipment. Loss value of the window is approximately $20.

Two persons reported destruction of property to mailboxes.

Ellis Ellifritz, Mt. Lake Park, stated that, during the night of February 22 or the early morning hours of February 23, unknown subjects struck his mailbox with a vehicle, destroying the post and damaging the box.

Loss value is estimated at $20.

Wendall Treadway, Swanton, advised the Sheriff's Office that sometime during the night of February 23 someone shot two holes in his mailbox. Investigation of the holes led officers to believe that a 22 calibre gun was used. Loss value is approximately $30.

Additional arrests made by the Sheriff's Department last week were Frances Ryan, 24, arrested Saturday for driving without a license and driving while intoxicated; and Samuel Jacob, 30, who was brought to Garrett County Jail to await a District Court trial for a breaking and entering at Montgomery Ward earlier this year.

Ms. Ryan was released on her own recognizance.

Overcharging For Gasoline Found Throughout State

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced this week that a survey of most of the state's retail service stations conducted February 19-23, 1980, found overcharging at 567 locations. "That means consumers were being overcharged at 21% of the stations where enough information was available for our auditors to determine the maximum allowable price under federal regulations," Mr. Goldstein said.

Auditors from the State Comptroller's Office visited 3,173 of Maryland's 3,389 retail service stations to see if prices being charged were within price guidelines set by the U. S. Department of Energy. No other state has attempted such a massive price survey.

"We were able to actually determine the allowable price ceilings at 2,677 stations. In 496 stations, the necessary information was not available," Mr. Goldstein said. "The price violations were scattered throughout the state, but many rural counties had the highest percentage of stations in violation. We will be turning over the results of our survey to the Maryland Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division and the U. S. Department of Energy."

There are 67 registered stations in Garrett County. Of that total, 62 were surveyed and nine were found to be overcharging, or 17%. Eight of the stations were overcharging from 1/2 to 3.9 cents and one was overcharging from 4 to 8 cents per gallon.

Washington County had the lowest percentage of stations in violation of price regulations, with only 11%. Kent County ranked highest with 35% of its stations overcharging. In absolute numbers, Baltimore County had the most stations exceeding maximum allowable prices — 71. Baltimore County also has the largest number of retail stations of any Maryland subdivision. Talbot County had the fewest stations in violation, with only 7 exceeding price ceilings.

"Eighty percent of the violations were less than 4¢ over the allowable price," Mr. Goldstein said.

Federal regulations currently allow dealers a maximum 16.1¢ price mark-up on each gallon of gasoline. The maximum mark-up may be added to the price paid by the dealer, the federal and state taxes and transportation charges.

Girl Scout Week Is Proclaimed By Commissioners

Garrett County Commissioners proclaimed next week, March 9 to 14, as Girl Scout Week for this year. The theme of the week is "Girl Scouting, where the future begins." Troops participating are from Southern Garrett County, including six Brownie Troops, six Junior Troops, two Cadette Troops and one Senior Troop. The local troops are affiliated with Girl Scouts of Southwestern Pennsylvania.

Participating troops will worship together in a non-denominational church service this Sunday at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's United Methodist Church on Oak Street in Oakland. The service will mark the beginning of Girl Scout Week. Girls are to assemble in the fellowship hall of the church at 1:30 p.m. and should bring one dozen cookies each. Families of Girls in Scouting and former Girl Scouts are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served immediately following the service in the fellowship hall.

P.T.A. Launches Fund-Raising Sales Project

The Broad Ford Elementary School P.T.A. is sponsoring a fund-raising project this week to raise money for field trips and supplies that, according to the P.T.A., are not provided for in the school budget.

P.T.A. members will be calling on residents in the Broad Ford district to place orders for "Country Collection of Spice Shakers," containers filled with spices. The containers are available in two designs and may be used when the spices are gone.

The P.T.A. is launching this project because of the Board of Education policy prohibiting solicitation for fund-raising by elementary school children.

Persons wanting to place orders should contact P.T.A. members or call the Broad Ford School office at 334-9445.

Garrett Memorial Offers Patient, Family Services

Mrs. Ann Abrahamson

The Garrett County Memorial Hospital Administration has announced the formation of a Department of Patient and Family Services at the hospital and the appointment of Mrs. Ann Abrahamson as the Director of Patient and Family Services. Mrs. Abrahamson, a Garrett County native, received her BA degree from Boston College in 1970, and her MSW degree from Arizona State University in 1975. She is licensed by the State of Maryland for clinical practice. She, along with her husband Craig and three-year-old daughter Courtney, has resided in the Oakland area since 1977.

A Department of Patient and Family Services is responsible for the psychological and social well-being of the hospitalized person and his family. This type of social work service became established in 1965 when Richard C. Cabot, a physician at the Massachusetts General Hospital gave thought to the interaction of the individual and his environment as it affected the outcome of medical treatment. Dr. Cabot's convictions led him to establish the first hospital department of social work. He found that the result of the social, psychological and environmental information that the social worker collected and interpreted for him was that he was able to give more effective medical treatment to his patients.

The Department of Patient and Family Services at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital will strive to be continually responsive to the differing and changing needs of the patient, his family and the health care institution that serves them, according to Mrs. Abrahamson. "It is the goal of our department to enhance the effectiveness of the hospital and the medical care program it exists to support. It is not possible for a person to lose a limb, to endure a terminal illness or lose the means of earning a living without being profoundly affected socially and psychologically," states Mrs. Abrahamson. "It is the responsibility of our department to integrate the patients' social and medical care and to assist in finding financial resources for the patient in need."

Mrs. Abrahamson is available at the hospital Monday through Thursday and at other times by appointment. She is also the Director of the Child Abuse Program in Garrett County and teaches a course in Sociology at the Garrett Community College.

Education First . . .

Enough cannot be said about the importance of education. Although the lack of an education does not necessarily mean that a person will be a failure, success, in most cases, comes easier with a good education.

All education, of course, is not achieved within the walls of a classroom. However, a progressive, sound school system, from Kindergarten through grade 12, obviously helps provide a progressive, sound basis for education in the minds of young people.

As all county education systems, the Garrett County Board of Education has its problems. Most of the problems are financial, however. The majority of personnel composing the Board of Education, teachers and administrators, are competent and dedicated to the cause of good education.

The budget for the Board of Education for the next school year will be the topic of a public meeting this evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Southern Middle School. It will provide a golden opportunity for persons with complaints, suggestions and questions concerning the budget. We strongly urge persons, especially parents with children in the school system, to attend this meeting.

Some of the proposed increases in the budget which will be discussed will be for: the hiring of more teachers to reduce class size; the purchase of more textbooks, student supplies and equipment; covering the cost of heating, electricity and school building maintenance; expanding the program for talented and gifted students; and a 6% increase in teachers' salaries.

While nobody enjoys having to spend more dollars for anything, we feel all of the above proposed increases are either desirable or, as in the case of fuel costs, mandatory. The cost of education, like everything else, is increasing. But let's make cuts in as many other budgets as possible before cutting the school system's and thus, lowering the quality of our children's education.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Sincell,
The purpose of this letter is two-fold.

First, I want to compliment the Garrett County Board of Education on the recent selection of Dr. Jerome Ryscavage as the next Superintendent of Garrett County Schools.

During his tenure in the Garrett County school system Dr. Ryscavage has proven to be an asset to the local educational process from all that I have heard. He is known to be quite honest and fair in his relationship with students, teachers, parents, and administrators. Having spent seven years in the local educational system, he certainly has acquired knowledge and understanding not only of its strong points, but also of its problems.

Certainly one of the major problems is a top-heavy administration. Although no one to whom I have talked seems to know exactly how many administrators there are in the county system, it would be interesting to compare the ratio of teachers to administrators with the student-teacher ratios. In this era of declining enrollment and reduced funding for education, it is difficult to imagine that Garrett County needs two assistant superintendents of schools, whose salaries, combined with that of the superintendent, total nearly $100,000 per year.

Which brings me to the second purpose of this letter. I strongly urge the Board of Education to recognize this golden opportunity to begin to decrease the bureaucracy by simply not appointing anyone to fill the vacancy, and to use the tax money more productively within the system, as, perhaps, for three additional concerned, dedicated teachers.

Sincerely,
Jennie Mandrovsky
Oakland

Dear Mr. Sincell,
I have been reading The Republican for about 3 1/2 years. When the papers are out on Wednesday I turn past the first few pages and find the section entitled "Letters to the Editor" and skim the columns.

It is my opinion, after this much time, that the criteria you set for publishing some letters is too lenient. I feel that it is the responsibility (i.e. your responsibility) of the Editor to publish responsible points of view concerning issues that affect a majority of the citizens of Garrett County.

I have found that there have been quite a few letters published that serve no other purpose than venting petty aggravations and some others have bordered on the edge of being slanderous, if not actually being so. Of course, the vast majority of persons writing letters fitting this description will hide behind the cloak of anonymity, never to be heard from again — maybe. It sounds somewhat childish and cowardly, doesn't it?

Yes, people do need a forum for expressing their views and opinions, but it must be done in a responsible fashion. Except tional capacity — the capacity to agree.

Richard F. Trickett, Jr.
McHenry, Md.

Editor:

I have heard many times of people being involved with someone very special and how that person has had a great effect on others. Sometimes you don't give that someone as much recognition or thanks that is deserved, and you finally realize it when you use what you've learned elsewhere. This letter is to give every ounce of praise I have to Southern High Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Tom Woods.

As a starter under Tom Woods my junior and senior years I learned a lifetime of things. Coach Woods taught me how to have a winning attitude toward life in general, how to achieve and go beyond set goals, how to work hard and in the process led me to experience what it was like to be successful. All these factors are major elements in every person's life and I am very grateful to have had one of the best to teach me.

I'm a freshman in college now and am finding out why Tom Woods is so successful in every aspect of his life. Everything he has taught has applied and will continue to apply to my life, and has helped tremendously in facing the hardships of college.

Coach Woods, I know I didn't say it before but I want to say "thank you" — for everything.
Sincerely yours,
Patrick Gregg

to utilize an eight-inch main in Broad Ford Road which would become part of an eight-inch line the full length of the road which would provide fire protection and service to that area.

Commission member Don Carstens suggested that the commission approach the town of Mt. Lake Park for written agreement between both parties. Nace agreed to discuss the matter with Mt. Lake Park Mayor Russell Alexander and Town Council President Leo Martin as well as to obtain both an engineering proposal for the suggested project and a recommendation from a Farmers' Home Administration concerning ways to fund the project.

In other Commission business, Nace reported that a revised application has been submitted to the Environmental Health Administration based upon the engineering proposal of Rummel, Klepper and Kahl. He emphasized that the action does not indicate acceptance of the contract of agreement between the Commission, Trout Unlimited, Cold Water Coalition, and the EHA.

Jack Turney, Commission attorney, reported that a hearing on the discharge permit is being scheduled to hear oral argument by Trout Unlimited's lawyer against finding of fact. This hearing will determine whether the hearing officer's original opinion will stand or fall.

his car and killed the officer. Frame said Tichnell's testimony, if true, proved that he was acting in self-defense and did not warrant the death penalty.

State Attorney General Stephen Sachs, who argued the case Monday, told the court that the jury had heard the same evidence and the same arguments by Frame and had found Tichnell guilty of murder.

He presented an alternate scenario that could also be justified by the evidence.

Although he acknowledged he could not prove it, Sachs suggested that Tichnell returned from his car, saw Livengood had arrested his companion and tried to ambush the deputy sheriff.

He said it was possible the dog then attacked Tichnell, who stabbed him with a sword. That, Sachs said, could then have touched off a gun battle in which Livengood was killed.

The court heard two and a half hours of testimony and then took the case under advisement.

THE ARTS

by Kathy Railey

The Saar Philharmonic Orchestra will be presented by the Tri-State Community Concert Association on Monday evening, March 10, at Fort Hill Auditorium, Cumberland.

The Saar Philharmonic was organized in 1973 by a merger of the Radio Orchestra of the Saar Valley with the Saar Chamber Orchestra. Since that time it has continued to perform for radio and TV broadcasts and has appeared in concert in major German cities, in Music Festivals in France and Italy, and on tour as far away as Australia. 1980 marks its first appearance in the United States.

Hans Zender has conducted the orchestra for the past nine years. Born in Frankfurt in 1936, he received his musical education in conservatories in that city and in Freiburg, where he specialized in piano, composition, and conducting. He has also studied in Italy. He began his professional career in 1959 as Musical Director of the Freiburg State Theatre. Five years later he became conductor of the State Theatre at Bonn, and in 1969 he moved to Kiel, where, among other duties, he organized the music festivals in conjunction with the 1972 Olympic Games. He has also served as guest conductor for orchestras in Berlin, Zurich, and London.

The orchestra is comprised of more than 70 musicians who have a varied repertoire. For their Cumberland appearance, they will present the Schubert Symphony #3 in D Major; the Haydn Cello Concerto, Opus #1, for which Ulrich Heinen will be soloist; Les Ombres Doulbes, by Olivier Messiaen; and the Schumann Symphony #4 in D Minor.

During the three weeks of the orchestra's American tour, they will appear in Washington, Pittsburgh, Chicago, and New York. The Tri-State area can count itself fortunate to be included in this crowded itinerary.

Three $1,000 prizes are being offered for the best poster designs through a Poster Competition sponsored by the Maryland State Arts Council together with the Department of Economic and Community Development's Office of Tourist Development and Division of Public Affairs. The competition is being promoted to encourage painters, designers, illustrators, and graphic artists to render two-dimensional images for the following themes: Winter Skiing in Western Maryland, Maryland's Atlantic Seashore, and Chesapeake Bay.

This year's contest will exclude photography. Currently, there is an abundant supply of Tourism posters featuring photographic images and the state wishes to publish posters utilizing other media.

The competition is open to resident Maryland artists. The deadline for entry is April 10, 1980. Jurors will be selected from the Arts Council's Visual Arts Panel, from the Office of Tourist Development, and from the Division of Public Affairs. For applications and further information, persons should contact Oletha DeVane at the Maryland State Arts Council, 15 West Mulberry Street, Baltimore, MD 21201, (301) 685-6740.

District Court Docket Finds Three Guilty

In Garrett County District Court last week three persons were found guilty of offenses, one was found not guilty, and 10 cases were declared Nolle Prosequi.

Dale A. Sines, Kitmiller, pled not guilty to a battery charge filed by Albert L. Garlitz, Kitmiller, resulting from a December 21 incident. Sines was found guilty of battery by Judge Lewis R. Jones, and was sentenced to a $25 fine.

In a separate case, Johnny Jason Thomas, Jr., 20, Crellin, pled guilty to three counts of malicious destruction of property filed by Deputy D. W.

Tucker and Sp. Deputy Michael Stem, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, Oakland.

The incident occurred on January 12 when the defendant reportedly smashed a window at Joe's Place in Oakland after he was asked to leave the establishment. He was arrested by Sp. Deputy Michael Stem on that date, and while in the holding cell, he apparently beat on the glass of the cell and broke off a commode seat.

Judge L. R. Jones ruled probation before judgment, and the defendant was placed on supervised probation for 24 months and ordered by the court to make restitution for damages and to seek counseling and employment as recommended by the Department of Parole and Probation and the Garrett County Health Department. Thomas was found not guilty of a fourth destruction of property charge.

In a bad check case, Sandy S. Clark, 36, Oakland, pled guilty to charges filed by Sandy Flanagan, Oakland, in connection with a check written to Sandy's Lewis and Lace for goods and merchandise, valued at $61.94. The check was written in December of 1978.

Ms. Clark was sentenced to 30 days in jail. The jail sentence was suspended and she was placed on unsupervised probation for 12 months and ordered to make restitution to Ms. Flanagan within 30 days.

Nine additional bad check cases were declared Nolle Prosequi by State's Attorney James L. Sherbin.

United Methodist Campaign Efforts To Peak In March

The month of March will climax the intensive phase of the Major Funds Campaign for the West Virginia Conference of the United Methodist Church which includes Garrett County United Methodist Churches. Besides the attempt to raise $5,500,000, the intensive phase has been a time for United Methodist Churches in the West Virginia Conference to study the needs of the conference and make recommendations.

A general mailing, a dinner program, and the organizing of visiting teams to call on all families of the United Methodist Church in the West Virginia Conference will conclude the intensive phase.

Each of those families will be given an opportunity to make a pledge. Monies raised will benefit the conference pension program for retired ministers and their dependents, the cost of maintenance of West Virginia Wesleyan College facilities, and improvements to the conference education center at Spencer, W. Va.

The major funds campaign is under direction of professional leadership from the office of Finance and Field Service of the Board of Global Ministries of the United Methodist General Conference.

The first commitments for the campaign were made by 439 ministers of the conference who pledged a total of $278,000. Lay leaders have commented that the campaign goal will be exceeded if the 178,000 members of the West Virginia Conference pledge support in the same manner as the ministers.

Lutherans believe IN THE RESURRECTION OF THE BODY

Miracle, did you say? It surely is! That's the glory of the Christian faith. Death is not the end. Hope is not limited to this life.

The Christian lives in sure and certain hope of the resurrection of the body, because Christ—who arose from the dead—promises this same resurrection to every one of his followers.

Explain it, you say? Who can explain a miracle? Lutherans make no attempt to explain the mechanics of the resurrection of the body. It's a matter of faith. Their only touchstone is Scripture.

Christ has promised, "I go to prepare a place for you. And when I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, that where I am you may be also."

In what manner will this be? St. Paul offers a glimpse saying, Christ "will change our lowly body to be like His glorious body." . . . and that means a resurrection, a new body, one that is everlasting and will never suffer. Thus resurrected the Christian will praise God eternally.

Would you like to know more of this confessional and ecumenical church? A cordial welcome will be yours.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by Carolyn & Butch Helbig Who say "A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

Truckload Remnant Sale Continues

UPSTAIRS-DOWNSTAIRS

When buying carpeting, an important rule to remember is: Always choose the best carpeting you can afford, especially for the heavy traffic areas of your home. Since stairways are often the most walked on areas of all, this rule is particularly important when buying carpeting for this area. Here are some hints to help you protect your stairway carpeting.

Buy an extra foot of carpeting for stairways. Have the extra length folded in under one or two risers at the top of the stairs. Periodically, shift the carpet down and place the less worn carpet on the treads. To keep your carpeting attractive longer, remember to make the shift before the carpeting becomes too worn. Don't wait too long.

Padding is another important consideration when buying carpeting for your stairway. Since proper underpadding actually increases the life of your carpet, we recommend a very heavy padding for your stairway.

We here at Roderick's will be glad to assist you with the purchase of carpeting and padding for your stairway. Stop in and see us soon. Phone us at 334-9598 or 334-3187.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

Rams To Face Indians

Huskies Lose Opener In Class C Tourney Action

The Northern Huskies saw their season end last night as they fell to the Mt. Savage Indians 80-71 in the opening round of Maryland Class C championship action, held at Allegany High School in Cumberland, Md. Savage will face Southern tomorrow evening at Allegany, as the Rams drew a by in the first round.

Mt. Savage's Mike Clauson got his team off to an impressive beginning by hitting three buckets in the first few minutes, along with another by Chuck O'Baker, which gave the Indians an 8-0 lead. The Indians increased that lead to 20-7 by the end of the opening stanza. O'Baker was the star of the second period, netting 16 of his total 24 points and leading his team to a 44-30 margin at the half.

Northern's Bill Bender, one of the area's leading scorers, was held scoreless until 5:47 in the second period, but finished with 25 points on eight goals and nine of ten at the line. Teammate Dick Bender paced the Huskies with a 29-point performance on ten goals and nine of 11 at the line.

Both Benders began hitting in the third period and at one point, the Huskies trailed 60-49. The Indians maintained their rather comfortable lead, however, ending the period with a 64-51 edge.

A Northern rally seemed evident in the fourth period, as Bill Bender connected with four quick baskets and brought the Huskies to within seven, 66-59. However, four fouls on Bender and Darrell Schrock caused Coach Harry Speicher to have them back off on defense and the Indians maintained the lead until the final buzzer.

Besides O'Baker, Walters, Bob Fuller, Clauson, and George Dorn all reached double figures for the winners, with 16, 16, 14 and 14 points, respectively. Brad Yoder also netted double figures for Northern, hitting ten markers.

One highlight for the Huskies fans was to witness Bill Bender break the all time career scoring mark, held previously by Gary Reichenbecher, who graduated in 1969 and played for West Virginia University. Bender broke Reichenbecher's record by 23 points.

The loss was the third to the Indians by Northern this season.

Mt. Savage outshot the Huskies 34-23 from the floor, however, the Northern team sunk 25 of 30 free throws, compared to a ten of 13 effort by the Indians.

Deer Harvest Figures Released

by Al Bourgeois, District Wildlife Manager
Official statewide deer harvest figures for the 1979 hunting season were recently released from the Wildlife Administration in Annapolis.

Data collected from check stations throughout the state revealed that a total of 12,729 deer (whitetailed and sika) were checked in during the regular firearms season. In addition, 1,070 deer were bagged during the archery season, while 414 deer were reported killed by muzzleloader hunters. When combined, these figures indicate a total deer harvest of 14,213 in Maryland during the 1979 hunting season.

The four western counties (Garrett, Allegany, Washington, and Frederick) accounted for 28% of the regular firearm harvest, 50% of the archery harvest and 64% of the muzzleloader harvest statewide. Garrett County had the fourth largest harvest (1,138) during the regular firearms season, behind Dorchester (1,487), Worcester (1,224), and Allegany (1,189) counties. However, a significant portion of deer harvest in Dorchester County was Sika deer, which are not found in Garrett County.

Comparisons for archery season revealed that Garrett County had the third best reported kill (123), behind Washington (154) and Allegany (136) Counties. During the muzzleloader season a total of 60 deer were harvested in Garrett County, second only to Washington County which harvested 100 deer.

Final analysis of this fall's deer harvest for Garrett County showed that several large bucks were checked in. Size determination was based on weight and antler size during the regular firearms season and on antler size only for the archery and muzzleloader seasons.

During archery season the largest deer reported was a 17-point buck, followed by a ten-point, two eight-points, and two seven-point bucks. The biggest deer shot during the muzzleloader season was an eight-point buck. Next largest deer was a six-point, and three four-point bucks.

A record 948 antlered deer were harvested during the regular rifle season. The ten largest bucks checked in (based on weight and antler development) were as follows:

Largest rack, a 15-point, 153 lbs.; heaviest deer, a 12-point, 175 lbs.; followed by a 12-point, 168 lbs.; a 12-point, 157 lbs.; a 12-point, 146 lbs.; an 11-point, 172 lbs.; an 11-point, 155 lbs.; a ten-point, 170 lbs.; a ten-point, 161 lbs.; and a ten-point, 160 lbs.

Bill To Limit Number Of Gas Stations Opposed By Owners

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Gasoline station owners said Tuesday a bill to permit oil companies to operate a limited number of stations in Maryland would create the unfair competition that the state's divestiture law sought to abolish.

Opponents of the bill, including the 1,300 member Greater Washington-Maryland Service Station Dealers Association, argued that the measure in effect repeals the state's divestiture law, which was passed to prevent major oil companies from controlling retail gas prices through company operated stations.

Sen. Harry McGuirk, D-Baltimore, said he sponsored the bill to protect against the possible loss of 32 million gallons in gas that he said would be diverted to other states if several oil company-operated stations closed.

Citgo and several other oil companies have threatened to close about 55 stations they still operate in Maryland rather than turn over the outlets to independent managers.

The divestiture law required conversion by July 13, 1979, but several oil companies received extensions because of the gas shortage and to give the state more time to work out a plan with federal officials to protect Maryland's total gas allocation.

McGuirk said he is not convinced the state would not lose the allocations if the stations closed.

"If the 32 million gallons of gas were to be transferred out of Maryland, the total loss to the state of Maryland is estimated to be $9.5 million," McGuirk argued.

Assistant Attorney General Charles Monk told the Economic Affairs Committee chairman that federal energy officials pledged to issue an order to prevent the allocation loss if stations did in fact close.

He said allowing the oil companies to maintain control of the stations effectively repeals the divestiture and penalizes those oil companies which in good faith turned over operation of their stations.

It also would "effectively would permit the oil companies to control retail price competition" in the metropolitan areas, Monk said.

Monk said the divestiture law's prime objective was to attack and abolish that type of price control.

The competitive edge given to oil company-operated stations under the law "is not only detrimental to the Maryland gasoline consumer, but also to the concept of fair competition in the retail gasoline industry," Monk said.

House Turns Down Contraceptive Bill

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The House rejected Tuesday a bill that would have made contraceptives more available and that was hailed by proponents as a method of reducing unwanted pregnancies.

The bill, which would have removed restrictions on the location of coin machines that dispense prophylactics, was the target of both serious discussion and sexual double entendres during one of the longest debates on the House floor this year.

It failed 67-50, four votes shy of the required constitutional majority of 71.

Twenty of the 23 female House members who voted on the bill voted for it.

Delegate Hugh Burgess, D-Howard, sponsor of the measure, said it was aimed primarily at making contraception devices more available to teenagers who otherwise may be too shy to purchase them in a drug store.

"It would preserve the anonymity of the buyer," he said.

Referring to teens aged 14 to 17, Burgess said, "That's the one group where the most unwanted pregnancies occur and that's why I put this bill in."

Others said the contraceptives would help prevent the spread of venereal disease.

But opponents said making the machines more available — currently they are restricted to bars and restaurants that have alcoholic beverage licenses — would promote promiscuity.

They also argued the machines would, as one delegate said, "be available virtually everywhere under the sun," that they would dispense sexual novelty items in addition to prophylactics, and that much younger children than intended would probably be exposed to the birth control devices.

Delegate Lorraine Sheehan, D-Prince George's, responded by asking, "Who are we kidding? You think kids don't know about sex?"

To prove her point, she said the lawmakers need only look "at the junior high school kids who are pregnant."

To the suggestion that the machines might be placed in schools, the Prince George's County legislator said, "To think that a school board is going to put it in the schools is absolutely ludicrous."

Delegate Torrey Brown, D-Baltimore, disputed the contention of some opponents that availability of contraceptives somehow would promote or stimulate sexual activity.

"I guarantee you that is not true," he said.

Three Die In Chester Fire

CHESTER, MD (UPI) — Three people died Tuesday in a three-alarm fire that swept through a home in Chester, Queen Anne's County fire officials said.

Fire officials blamed the fire on a faulty space heater located in the second floor of the house near the stairs.

The blaze on Cox's Neck Road was reported at 1:44 p.m. and was declared under control at 3:07 p.m., fire officials said.

State Police identified the victims as Flossy Pully, 56, Rudel Askins, 43, and Jerome Green, 36.

Eldersburg Police Arrest Gunman

ELDERSBURG, Md. (UPI) — An man who allegedly shot his wife during a quarrel and then briefly held officers at bay was arrested Tuesday by state police.

Police said assault charges were pending against John Lucas, 37, in the shooting of his wife, Jane, who was flown to the University of Maryland shock trauma center.

Hospital officials said Mrs. Lucas was in critical condition with head and back wounds.

Charges against Lucas would depend upon whether his wife survives treatment, the spokesman said.

Police received a call at 12:45 p.m. about a domestic argument in Emerald Valley, near Eldersburg, and shortly afterward were called again with a report that the woman had been shot.

"They had a quarrel," a police spokesman said. "Our trooper arrived to find her laying there with a gunshot wound."

He said Lucas, who was armed with a pistol, at first refused to be taken into custody.

"Lucas kept walking away," the spokesman said. "The troopers did not crowd him. They just backed off and talked to him. Finally, he gave up."

Lucas was arrested at 1:20 p.m.

Police said he apparently had blood on his face and was taken to a local hospital, but it was not immediately clear if he had been injured.

Serious Crimes Show 8 Percent Jump In State

PIKESVILLE, Md. (UPI) — The number of serious crimes in Maryland increased 8 percent in 1979, Maryland State Police said Tuesday.

One of every 16 people in Maryland was a crime victim and a serious crime occurred every two minutes last year, spokesman Bill Clark said.

It was the third consecutive year the number of reported crimes in Maryland has increased, and the largest jump in that period. The last time crime decreased in the state was 1976, when police recorded a 3 percent downswing.

All seven index crime categories showed increases over 1978 ranging from 6 percent to 21 percent. The number of murders was up 21 percent, while rape (11 percent), aggravated assault (10 percent) and robbery (7 percent) also showed substantial increases.

All areas in the state reported increases in crime. The number of crimes in southern Maryland was up 19 percent, the biggest jump. The Eastern Shore reported a 17 percent increase, Western Maryland was up 14 percent, the Washington suburbs were up 8 percent and the Baltimore area recorded a 7 percent increase.

State Police Supt. Thomas Smith said the figures indicate there is a need for more policemen on the streets, and noted state police are 80 to 90 troopers short of their authorized strength.

But Smith said he had no plans to cut back substantially on Maryland's speed enforcement program, considered one of the nation's toughest. More than 700 people died on Maryland highways last year.

"People are just as dead from motor vehicle accidents as they are from crime," he said. "I would hate to take away anything from our speeding program, although we have reassigned some people."

A police class that began last month will graduate in July. But Smith said his force is still losing people over the long run.

The crime statistics are based on information submitted by law enforcement agencies to the Maryland Uniform Crime Reporting program. The state supplies the information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a nationwide crime report.

Bill To Aid Mentally Retarded Criminals Passed

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The Senate Tuesday passed and sent to the House a bill that will allow mentally retarded persons to be included among those who may plead innocent by reason of insanity to crimes.

The bill, which was killed during its first Senate vote, corrects a quirk in state law that does not include mental retardation in the legal definition of mental disorders.

The legislation passed the Senate 34-11 after somewhat lengthy debate in which Sen. Jerome Connell, D-Anne Arundel, charged that the bill "would open the doors for a floodgate of insanity pleas."

Connell, a defense lawyer, argued that attorneys who have a client with a low intelligence would abuse the law by posing as a mentally retarded person.

"We think the law is dangerous," Connell stormed.

But the chief supporter of the bill, Sen. John J. Bishop, R-Baltimore County, argued that the measure would rectify an injustice that has unnecessarily placed many mentally retarded persons in penal institutions.

He said some attorneys do not attempt an insanity plea because the current law does not provide for such a plea for mentally retarded persons.

"What is happening more frequently is there are any number (of mental retardants) who are spending time in the penitentiary when they should be in mental retardation facilities," Bishop said.

Under the newly-passed bill, the state Mental Retardation Administration would be required to place mentally retarded persons found innocent by reason of insanity in the proper facilities.

POW License Tags Available

GLEN BURNIE, Md. (UPI) — Groups ranging from disabled veterans to the Shriners have them. Now another group — former prisoners of war — can get special license tags.

The state Motor Vehicle Administration is making license tags reading "POW," followed by a number, available to former POWs. The MVA printed the tags at the request of the Maryland chapter of the American Ex-Prisoners of War.

The plates will cost the same as regular license plates — $20 for smaller cars and $30 for larger ones.

The special plates were the idea of James Meagher of Salisbury. Meagher was captured in the Battle of the Bulge in 1944 and spent five months in a German POW camp.

Meagher said there are more than 2,000 ex-POWs living in Maryland. He thinks the state should provide the tags free of charge, but a bill proposing that idea was defeated in the General Assembly last year.

POWs haven't responded to the tags with great enthusiasm. A spokesman at the MVA headquarters said he has received only one application, but says he can understand why.

"If I were in combat and I had been captured, I don't think I would want to advertise the fact," he said.

Officer's Action Said Justified In Shooting Death

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A police officer was justified in fatally shooting a man who attacked him with a hammer, officials said Tuesday.

Bernard Earl, 36, of Baltimore, was fatally shot Monday night in an East Baltimore house. Police went to the home when Earl's girlfriend complained he was "tearing the place apart."

Two policemen entered the house and ordered Earl to drop the hammer. When he instead advanced on the officers, Patrolman Carl Klemke shot Earl once in the chest.

Earl was pronounced dead on the scene. Homicide detectives said Klemke was justified in shooting him because the officer believed his life was in danger.

State May Drop Charges Against Calvert County

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md. (UPI) — Calvert County Commissioners Tuesday approved the state's offer to drop a conflict of interest case if three commissioners involved stop doing business with the county.

Assistant Special Prosecutor Gerald C. Ruter had agreed Feb. 29 not to press charges against three members of the Board of Commissioners — including the president — if their private businesses no longer sell goods to the county.

Ruter said there was no criminal intent because the three were unaware that a 1939 state law forbids commissioners from doing business with the county.

"They had absolutely no idea such a law existed," he said. "All the dealings were at arm's length. There was no price gouging, no secret deals, no intent to violate the law."

Circuit Judge Perry G. Bowen ordered the investigation Jan. 24 following reports that board President Mary D. Harrison and Commissioners Garner T. Grover and H. Gordon Trueman had done business with the county for up to 18 months.

Mrs. Harrison's lumber company sold the county $1,939 in supplies. Trueman's hardware and lumber firms provided $10,205 in goods and his propane gas company sold the county $1,134 worth of gas. The Calvert Independent newspaper, which employs Grover, sold the county $5,728 in advertising and supplies.

In a prepared statement, the board said Mrs. Harrison and Trueman had agreed to cut business ties with the county and the newspaper would sell only required legal advertising to the county.

"They voluntarily stopped selling to the county when they were advised of the conflict of interest law," the statement said. "They will not do business with the county in the future as long as they are in office."

"The prompt clearance of the commissioners is both a vote of confidence for local government in Calvert County and for the efficiency and objectivity of the special prosecutor's office."

Health Officials Urge Approval Of DES Program

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Health department officials urged approval Tuesday of legislation to establish a screening program designed to identify women who may have been given a potentially dangerous synthetic hormone known as DES.

The drug, diethylstilbestrol, was given to millions of women between 1941 and 1971, usually to prevent miscarriages, but also for women who suffered from slight bleeding or who had diabetes.

In recent years, the drug has been linked to forms of cancer and gynecological diseases in women who were administered DES pills.

"It was given pretty widely, like candy, back in the early '50s," said Dr. Edward A. Sawada of the cancer division of the state Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Sawada asked the Environmental Matters Committee to approve the legislation that would create an information program concerning DES, under which potential DES victims and their offspring would be identified and then routinely monitored for possible dangerous side-effects from the drug.

One problem with DES is that some women may have been administered the drug, but may never have known it, said the bill's sponsor, Delegate Joan Pitkin, D-Prince George's.

The bill, which had no opposition in committee, has 20 co-sponsors, 16 of them women.

Little is known about the drug's effects on males, although some non-cancerous changes have been detected, including lowered sperm count.

According to a nationwide group called DES Action, the risk of getting cancer from the drug is rare, probably less than one in 1,000. And, if cancer is found in time, it can be treated.

The effects of the drug could show up in women in the age group between 14 and 30, Sawada said.

Preliminary Approval Given Bills To Raise Fishing, Hunting Fees

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Fishermen and hunters will have to pay $10 a year for their licenses under bills given preliminary approval Tuesday in the House of Delegates.

The new license fees would replace the existing $4.50 fee for anglers and the $8 charge for the hunters.

The two measures, affecting about 130,000 hunters and 120,000 fishermen, are expected to raise between $300,000 and $400,000.

That, said Bernard F. Halla, director of the state Wildlife Administration, should be enough to cover the increasing cost of fish and wildlife management programs for at least the next four years.

Without the increases, Halla said certain wildlife programs, such as operation of an expensive new fish hatchery in Southern Maryland, would be financially impossible.

The House gave its tentative approval to the two measures on a voice vote, but only after Delegate Raymond Beck, R-Carroll, attached an amendment that would eliminate a $2 stamp that hunters had previously been forced to purchase before hunting on publicly-owned land.

That irritated the hunters, who felt they had already paid for the land once through their taxes. The stamp raised about $91,000 last year, Halla said.

Another irritation, a $5.50 big game stamp, would be reduced under the bill to $3.50.

Funds raised with the license fees are used to protect fish, deer and other wildlife, including endangered species, and to operate the Department of Natural Resources' enforcement program.

Nevertheless, some lawmakers felt the proposed increasing the fishing license fee only to $8, but his amendment was defeated.

"There's no reason why fishermen shouldn't start paying their fair share of the bill," said Delegate Michael Weir, D-Baltimore County.

Halla said because of current revenue limitations, he has been forced to cut back on certain operations, including allocating only a certain amount of money per month for vehicle use by field agents.

"You can't protect the resources if you're restricting what they're doing," he said.

In a related action, the House reconsidered its action of last week in which a bill involving the hunting of antlerless deer was defeated, and reversed itself, passing the measure on a 92-to-22 vote.

The bill would require counties where hunting of antlerless deer is permitted to set aside half of its permits for such hunting for non-county residents.

Proponents said the hunting of the antlerless deer could be effectively used as a conservation technique to control the size of deer herds.

Senator Mathias Out Campaigning At 5 a.m.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., officially began his campaign for a third term Tuesday with an early morning visit to a Baltimore steel mill.

Mathias stood outside the gates at Bethlehem Steel Corp.'s Sparrows Point plant and greeted employees arriving for work at 5 a.m. After two hours, he headed back to his Washington office, aide Jack Eddinger said.

Five relatively unknowns have filed to challenge Mathias in the May 13 Republican primary: John Brennan of Davidsonville, Gerald Warren of Crofton, Jack Holden of Temple Hills, Roscoe Bartlett of Frederick and V. Dallas Merrel of Silver Spring, who was sponsored specifically by anti-abortion groups.

Twelve Democrats have entered the race, headed by state Sens. Edward Conroy of Prince George's County, Robert Douglass of Baltimore and Victor Crawford of Montgomery County.

Fourth Load Of Toxic Wastes To Be Transported

SHARPTOWN, MD (UPI) — A fourth shipment of toxic wastes will leave Sharptown on an Anne Arundel County site Thursday morning if weather permits, the Coast Guard said Tuesday.

Coast Guard spokesman Mike Waller said two truck loads to move to a federal storage site in Curtis Bay Thursday will be the next to last shipment of waste oil laced with polychlorinated biphenyl, a cancer-causing substance known as PCB.

The shipment is the last of the waste oil from a tank that contained the greatest concentration of the almost indestructible chemical, nearly 310 parts per million.

He said there would be additional truck loads of material used to rinse out rusting tanks along the Nanticoke River, where the contaminated waste oil has been stored. Waller said it was not known how many shipments of rinse would be made.

He said crews have had persistent trouble in removing some waste because it is gooey and clogs pumps. In one tank, a third of the 10,000 gallons of waste oil was as thick as "asphalt or bubble gum," Waller said.

Crews from O.H. Co., of Findlay, Ohio, have been called in to rinse out the tanks with a substance that attracts PCBs, Waller said. Officials hope that will solve the problem.

"We have been having a lot of problem with sludge," he said. "We have to go tank by tank and learn as we go along."

Groups Criticize Policy To Reduce Home Heating Aid

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — A new state policy of sharply reducing heating aid to poor families and elderly persons using natural gas, electricity, wood or coal is unfair, two advocacy groups have charged.

The policy, begun last week by the Office of Community Services, cuts aid to new applicants using anything other than kerosene or oil by $100 per season, from $250 to $150.

But new applicants who use oil or kerosene will continue to get $250.

The Legal Aid Society and the Baltimore Welfare Rights Organization say the move is unfair because about a third of the poor use wood, coal, electricity or natural gas.

But state officials said the change was made because many jurisdictions had nearly used up their allocations and winter is not over yet.

The state pointed out that heating with kerosene and oil is more costly and that about 46,000 families have received heating assistance this winter.

Here's where I am, God

Know why there are so many public phones in airports? Everybody has to let someone know where he is . . .

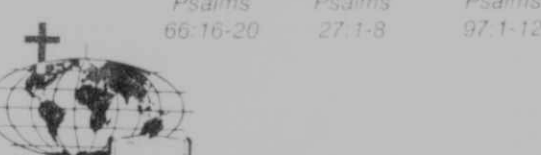

Yes, we are dependent on one another for all kinds of support: "Please pick me up" or "I'll meet you in an hour" or "I'm finished here and moving on" or "What are my new instructions?"

One of the truths our churches stress is that we are dependent on God for support. We need a quality of support that is far above that which we have come to expect from one another.

Next Sunday when you see people on their way to church remember why there are so many phones in airports. Millions of us pray to God . . . to let Him know just where we are . . . to ask His support in fulfilling our present mission . . . or discovering our next.

JUDAS ISCARIOT

Lesson for March 9, 1980

Background Scripture: John 12:3-6, 13:21-30, 18:1-8
Devotional Reading: John 15:1-11

It was that "money box" that was the undoing of Judas Iscariot! Jesus had chosen Judas to be the keeper of the disciples' funds, but instead of Judas managing the money, it seems that the money managed him.

We must assume that Judas was not born a villain, but that he became one. When Jesus called this man to him, he no doubt saw something in him that would be helpful to him in his mission. Jesus probably admired his ability to take care of money. Some people seem to be talented in the handling of funds and Judas was likely one of these. So, Judas was not doomed to become a traitor, but in time he allowed money to distort his perspectives.

Satan Entered Him
We see some indication of this in the fact that the disciples of Jesus seemed not to suspect Judas of being a thief until after he had demonstrated his treachery by betraying the Master. Even at the Last Sup-

Marsha L. Sink Becomes Bride Of Steven C. Core October 20

First Assembly of God Church in Silver Spring was the setting for the October 20 wedding of Marsha Louise Sink to Steven Craig Core. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Darrell Dement.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Sink of Mt. Rainier and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzwater of Swanton.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie A. Core of Waldorf.

Escorted to the altar by her parents, the bride wore a gown of white chiffon accented with lace insets over polyester knit, and a sweeping chapel train. The bride had full bishop sleeves with wide lace cuffs, a Camelot headpiece with matching lace and finger tip veil. She carried a white Bible covered with a silk yellow rose arrangement.

Serving as her sister's matron of honor was Yvonne Mockabee. A friend, Linda Orndorff, served as maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Norma Fitzwater, Marilyn Mayfield and Cheryl Smith, cousins of the bride, Rebecca Blizard and Louise Smith, friends of the bride. The attendants wore matching rosewood polyester princess style dresses with flowered capelets and carried cascades of silk fall flowers to match the flowered capelets.

The flower girl was Tara Wolfe, cousin of the bride. She wore a white polyester dress accented with lace overlay and carried a basket of silk flowers to match the bridesmaids. The ringbearer was Joshua Mockabee, nephew of the bride. He was also dressed in white and joined hands with Tara as they preceded the bride up the aisle.

The dresses and flower arrangements for the bridal party were made by the mothers of the bride and groom. Ernie Core, father of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Jeff Core, Charles Core, Ralph Mockabee, Wayne Anderson, Chris Miller and James Smith.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a white ruffled shirt and yellow rosebud boutonniere. The groomsmen wore ginger tuxedos with matching shirts and boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride chose an apricot A-line dress with white lace capelet. She wore a silk rose corsage of fall flowers. The mother of the groom chose a beige dress with matching lace capelet. She also wore a silk rose corsage of fall flowers.

Mrs. Barbara Beall, organist, provided traditional wedding music before and after the ceremony. Soloist Dorinda Hill sang "The Wedding Song" accompanied by Wayne Anderson on the guitar. Glenn Walton sang the "Lord's Prayer" accompanied by the organist.

Presiding at the guest book was Debbie Moyer, friend of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church fellowship hall. The five-tier wedding cake was baked and served by Norma Fitzwater and featured the same fall color scheme with a flowing fountain. In charge of the reception were Ruth Mayfield and Lorena Smith, aunts of the bride, and Gloria Patterson and Jeannie Altoft, friends of the bride. Lynne and Melody Sink, cousins of the bride, assisted at the punch bowls. The bride's attendants also assisted the reception.

A candlelight rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the Cedarville Assembly of God Church.

The bride is a graduate of Northwestern High School, Hyattsville, and is employed by Giant Food, Inc. The groom is a graduate of Thomas Stone High School, Waldorf, and is employed by the Prince George's Board of Education.

Southern States Sales Volume Up

Southern States Cooperative's sales volume for the first six months of the 1979-80 fiscal year showed a $57,200,000 increase, as compared with the same period last year.

This was reported by James

Coleman of the cooperative to the regional board conference of local agricultural leaders and young farmers held recently at McHenry.

A total of 19 of these meetings are being held this month by the cooperative across the states of Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Coleman told the session that the cooperative's volume reached $266,900,000 for the first half of the year as compared to $209,690,000 a year ago. Net savings before income taxes and equity income totaled $1,566,000, up $1,106,000 from last year.

Total feed volume of 278,000 tons for the period was up 8,000 tons, or 3 percent over last year's volume for the first half of the fiscal year; fertilizer volume was 228,000 tons, up 29,000 tons over a year ago; seed volume was $5,424,000, up $540,000; farm supply volume was $33,400,000, up 8.4 percent over last year, while petroleum volume was 127,000,000 gallons, down 5.5 percent from a year ago. This decrease was due primarily to the shortage of gasoline.

Grain marketing volume as 13,427,000 bushels, up 19 percent over a year ago. This volume increase, coupled with higher prices, brought about a $12,586,000 increase over last year.

The session also heard a report by Robert Custer of the local Farm Credit office on "Financing Agriculture 1980's."

Also participating in the session were William T. Milleson a member of the cooperative's board of directors and A. H. Booth the association's regional manager.

Attending the session were: John F. McCallister, manager of Southern States Oakland Cooperative, and Board members Cecil Kight, Lee E. Shillingburg, George R.

Zimmerman and Ellwood R. Sanders; Jesse H. Harsh, manager of Grantsville Service, and Stockholders' Committee members Harley Brenneman, William H. Kamp, William Merrill and Simon Tice, and young farmers George Shawley II of Bittinger and Richard Brenneman of Accident. Others were Donald Fratz and Wayne Fratz of W. H. Fratz, Inc., and Advisory Board member Robert W. Bender.

Funds Awarded For Child Safety Restraint Project

The Maryland Department of Transportation (MDOT) has granted over $25,000 in federal funds to the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene to develop a program to increase the use of children's safety restraints in automobiles.

According to the National Safety Council, traffic accidents are the leading cause of death for children ages 1-15. In a five-year study in Maryland, 86 of the 89 children who died in traffic accidents were not using seat belts or car seat restraints.

Michael Eriksen, specialist with the Health Education Center of the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, states that "Maryland infants under a year old are six times more likely to be killed in accidents than children ages 1-14."

The new grant from MDOT's Division of Transportation Safety will be used for a pilot Child Restraint Loaner Program at several sites in conjunction with pre-natal clinics at local health departments. Parents will be able to borrow child car seat restraints and use them beginning with the ride home from the hospital. Officials will monitor use of the child restraints as the children are brought back to health department clinics for follow-up care. Results of the pilot loaner program will determine if a statewide program would increase the use of child restraints, thereby reducing the infant death rate in automobiles.

The loaner program will be coupled with educational programs to increase parent awareness of the dangers to children riding in cars unrestrained. A state survey of existing child restraint programs and resources will also be conducted.

Running through the 'Taxi' run-throughs

Judd Hirsch & Danny DeVito

The bottled "no ticket" affair for the Hollywood happens at 4:30 p.m. on those days it's run-through time — like a dress rehearsal — for the "Taxi" series episode that will be aired on Tuesday, March 11. The show is a live-action comedy that airs Tuesdays on ABC.

But it is at the run-through that some of entertainment's biggest names drop in to watch the show in action. Every phase of the business have visited the set, and it's a weekly habit for Robin Williams ("Mork & Mindy") or stars from other productions on the lot like Henry Winkler ("Happy Days") and John Pappas ("A.C. 3000").

Director John Badham ("L.A. 51") and producer John Hirsch ("Three's Company") was guesting on a series of run-throughs, a few stages from the set. The assistant director who was looking for Rittner for a makeup call finally found him on the "Taxi" set.

The entire moment luminaries quietly enter the ducky set and watch the show. The Friday afternoon ritual has the "Taxi" producers, writers and secretaries, etc., descend on the stage to take their places at the rail of the show. The show is the call of director James Burrow. As each scene is completed, the assistant director cries out, "Principals to the rail!" It is there that all — actors, production people and writers — after a quick move there of change a line here.

It is creative committee in the ultimate. This line-tuning makes for a happy cast because they are offered the opportunity to make creative contributions. It is the modus operandi of the producers that made "The Mary Tyler Moore" show "a perennial hit, and it is the stuff of legend."

Look for the show's last season. It is these production values and the excellence of the actors that the other stars come to see. But also, as one writer sums it up, "The show is just a helluva lot of fun."

NBC's new series about wartime life, "From Here to Eternity," premieres with a special two-hour presentation on Monday, March 10. William Devane, Barbara Hershey, Roy Thinnes, Kim Basinger and Rocky Echevarria star in the saga about military men and civilians caught up in the turmoil of Hawaii in 1941. In the premiere episode, Hawaii is put on military alert when a ship carrying non-combatants to the mainland is torpedoed. Jefferson Davis Frewitt (Don Johnson), on board the rescue ship heading for a reunion with his brother in the Army, learns that the brother is dead and the Army is keeping the details of his death shrouded in mystery. (NOTE: The series begins in its regular time slot on Wednesday, March 12.)

SOAP OPERA WEEK

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

HOLLYWOOD — The big news on the West Coast is that Elizabeth Harrower has been replaced as head writer on "Days of Our Lives." Taking up the "DOOL" writing chores will be Nina Lavinia. The former "Days of Our Lives" executive story consultant for such films as "Born Free" and "Sara," as well as "Three for the Road." This is her first attempt at head-writing a soap opera. Ms. Lavinia's soap opera debut will be appearing this month. Another executive ext was made by Wes Korny. Al Rabin will take over the show's executive producer spot.

On the East Coast, (Steve Altrich) from "The Doctors" was all set to appear in the Paper Mill Playhouse production of "Winslow Boy" when the theater burned to the ground while the company was in rehearsal. The big day for their opening. However, David was thrilled when actress Claire Trevor approached him and said how much she enjoyed watching "TD" every day. As a result of that meeting, Miss Trevor was accepted, much to the delight of the show's cast.

Speaking of "TD," Nicholas Walker (Brad Huntington) is appearing in New York in the production of "Major Barbara" when he's not emulating on the small screen in his new role. Nicholas, who was born in Bogota, Colombia, began his acting career at the age of 15. He is a 25-year-old, preppy English boy, something that's right up his alley, since Nicholas has spent a lot of time in UNITED THEY STAND — Beau Bridges and Helen Shaver (center) star as Richard and Libby Chapin, and Rossie Harris (left) and Justin Dana portray their two young sons, Dylan and Nicky, in NBC's new comedy-drama series, "United States," which will air Tuesday's beginning March 11. "United States," created by Larry Gelbart ("M.A.S.H."), does not refer to the nation; the series is the story of a married couple, and the title refers to the state of being united in a relationship. Southern States Membership Day Set For Saturday

Report of elections of local Board of Directors, Farm Home Advisory Committee members and operations reports will highlight the Southern States Cooperative's membership day for Southern States Oakland Cooperative on March 8. The event will be held at the store and will begin at 10 a.m. The business session is slated to start at 1 p.m.

"The Membership Day," according to manager John F. McCallister, "will give patrons and members the opportunity to become better acquainted with our facilities, products and services. The local election is being held prior to the meeting with members voting by mail ballots. Members who have not marked their mail ballot should do so and deposit it in the ballot box prior to the beginning of the meeting, so their vote will be counted. All stockholder members are particularly urged to attend the business session."

Ellwood R. Sanders, Oakland, will serve as chairman of the local meeting.

Wayne Harman, Clarksburg, a member of Southern States Cooperative's regional staff, will report on the over-all Southern States operations. His report will also include the showing of a movie entitled "From This Land — a Tribute to the Family Farmer," which was produced by the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives and the American Institute of Cooperation.

Theme of the meeting will be, "Southern States, Your Family Farm Partner."

There will be special recognition for local board and Farm Home Advisory Committee members who retire this year. Nominees for the local board are: Lawrence Bernard and Howard Green, Oakland; George Ringer, Terra Alta; and Sam Steyer, Deer Park.

Hornbeck Named To Second Term

David W. Hornbeck has been named to a second four-year term as state superintendent of schools by the Maryland State Board of Education.

Board president William G. Sykes said the Board's unanimous decision was based on Hornbeck's performance in advancing Project Basic and for superior accomplishments in in-service programs for school principals, special education, education of inmates in correctional institutions, pre-school education, programs for gifted and talented students, adult education, and equal opportunity.

Hornbeck joined the state education agency in 1976 after serving as executive deputy secretary of education of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. He makes his home with his wife and two sons in Baltimore City.

Head Start Food Workshops Slated

Nearly 400 teachers from Head Start centers across Maryland will leave their classrooms for days this year to learn about food and health and how to teach nutrition to youngsters. Food service workers and administrative staff will also join this statewide effort to improve nutrition education for 5,700 children in 100 Head Start centers across the state.

"Most of us — including public school teachers — are misinformed about nutrition," says Marie Lipari, who heads the Nutrition Education and Training (NET) project. "Our two-day workshops are designed to help teachers separate nutrition myths from facts and instill good eating habits among the state's Head Start children."

NET is a nationwide program to teach nutrition to teachers, food service workers and children from preschool to high school. The Maryland NET project is run from an office at the University of Maryland's College Park campus by Lipari, who is a Cornell University graduate, and other nutritionists, educators and food service experts. Many Maryland counties will host NET workshops beginning in February.

The Garrett County workshop will be held April 21 and 22. The contact person is Coleen Ingram, 334-3981.

Workshop topics will include food additives, labeling, and advertising, and childhood hyperactivity and the Feingold

Diet. Teachers and cooks will learn how to plan nutritious meals and snacks for children, and how to teach children about food and where it comes from. Workshops also will stress basic concepts of the U. S. Senate's "Dietary Goals," the Surgeon General's 1980 report "Healthy People," and the Agriculture Department's recently published "Dietary Guidelines" — all of which advise Americans to eat fewer foods high in fat, salt, and sugar in order to avoid six of the ten leading health problems in America which are believed to be diet related.

EXPANDING YOUR LEARNING AT HOME

Are you interested in saving gas, in making good use of your extra time, and in learning some valuable money-saving information? If your answer to this question is "yes," then you will probably be interested in the following two learning activities.

1. Plugging leaks in family spending newsletter.

For many years people have found it possible to casually manage their money and still have money left over at the end of the month. Those days are now gone. With prices continually on the rise, it is each consumer's responsibility to carefully manage their money. Perhaps the best way to do this is to set up a money management system. If you are interested in doing this, but are not sure exactly how to go about it, I think you will be very interested in the series of newsletters entitled "Plugging Leaks in Family Spending." This is a series of 12 newsletters which will be mailed to you monthly and will provide you with suggestions for managing your money as well as with check points along the way to see how you are doing. This series will be a big help in getting your finances well under control.

"I HAD AN ICH."

Executive Shopper: Food Buying.

A new "learn-at-home" course is now available to help consumers analyze their own shopping habits and take better control of the spiraling food cost situation. This course contains basic information on getting the most from every food dollar. It will help you better understand the supermarket, to analyze and change habits while shopping, and to develop a plan for better shopping while in the market. This five-lesson course will help you become a better grocery shopper as you save money.

The newsletter and "learn-at-home" series are both available, free of charge, from the Garrett County Extension Service. If you would like to receive one or both of these, please call 334-2145; write P. O. Box 112, Oakland, MD, or stop by the office in the new courthouse.

You will then be on your way to expanding your learning at home.

Grants Awarded To Combat Speed, Alcohol Violations

Grants totalling $361,500 in federal funds were recently awarded by the Maryland Department of Transportation (MDOT) to implement and continue alcohol and speed related traffic enforcement programs throughout the state.

Statistics show that two-thirds of all traffic accident fatalities in Maryland involve drivers who have been drinking. Alcohol and speed enforcement programs are part of a statewide effort aimed at increasing police capability to identify, apprehend and convict drunk drivers.

The programs focus on locations where there have been many alcohol and speed related accidents. In Baltimore City, a $63,200 grant to the Police Department will continue enforcement efforts, in which officers patrol identified high-risk locations, three days a week. A $39,000 grant to Baltimore County will be used to manage three traffic teams working on selective enforcement activities.

The Allegany County Sheriff's Department has been granted $71,500 to organize and train special traffic teams. Part of the MDOT funding will also be used to provide the traffic teams with a computer terminal for obtaining immediate information on driver and vehicle status from the Maryland Inter-Agency Law Enforcement System.

The Prince George's County Police Department received $37,800 to purchase equipment to videotape intoxicated defendants, particularly those who refuse to take breathalyzer tests. The videotapes will be used as court evidence to increase the number of convictions of those driving while intoxicated.

A grant of $30,000 to the Frederick County Police Department will be used to purchase a Mobile Breath Alcohol Testing unit. The Mobile unit will shorten the time to process intoxicated defendants, and will also allow for on-the-scene videotaping of the defendant.

These grants are made by the MDOT's Division of Transportation Safety as part of a continuing effort to decrease alcohol-related deaths and injuries on Maryland roads. Under the grant program, the Division of Transportation Safety will commit $3.4 million in federal funds for highway safety projects during fiscal year 1980.

Kitzmiller School Reading Program Proves Successful

by Kathy Bailey
Kitzmiller Elementary School teachers, library aides and students have dedicated the "Project of the Year 1979-80" to extracurricular activities designed to encourage or strengthen reading of all areas for students of all ages. Reading for personal enjoyment and fulfillment is being encouraged, in addition to basic reading classes, in various ways. Each teacher has developed a method to entice reading, and the school's library aides help the children to select books based on individual interests and abilities. Bulletin boards are used throughout the school to recognize students for their reading and to encourage them to read even more. Barbara Conway, Title I reading resource teacher, said the program is effective and provides children the opportunity to share with others things which they enjoy.

Ms. Conway said the basic idea of the program stems from Goal Number Five of the Maryland Reading Goals, taken from "Maryland Reading Scope and Sequence for Grades 1-12," a publication of The Division of Instruction, Maryland State Department of Education. Goal Five is entitled "Select reading as a personal activity," and continues by stating, "The essence of this goal is the students' personal enjoyment and appreciation of the reading process whereby they can and do read. The development of such an attitude must not be left to chance, but instead it must include the continuous building of reading interest, desire and habit as an integral part of all reading instruction throughout the state."

"THE SATISFIED LISTENER BECOMES AN EAGER READER" — This is the feeling of Kent Huber, kindergarten teacher at Kitzmiller Elementary School. The entire school is involved in a program to encourage reading for pleasure, beginning the program in kindergarten by reading books to the students every day, to make the children comfortable with books.

Class reading contests are held at Kitzmiller school and some classes are broken down to competition within individual reading groups.

read to the children, on the premise that "the satisfied listener becomes an eager reader." Most of the Kindergarten children can not read, but Mr. Huber feels if children are comfortable with books, this could have a beneficial effect on their later reading habits.

First and second grade teacher Mrs. Dolores Sharpless conducts a running contest with her students, whereby the student selects a book to read from the school library or the classroom library, he practices the book silently and the book is then read aloud to Mrs. Edith Harvey, classroom aide. The book title is then recorded under the student's name on a chart. The first student to read 10 books wins a prize, and the contest begins again. Mrs. Sharpless said she has noticed an increased interest in reading and her students are purchasing more books from reading clubs than students have purchased in the past.

Mrs. Mary Ryscavage, second and third grade teacher, checks books from local libraries for student use, and asks her students to select a book on a specific topic. A new topic is indicated to the class each month. Some topics include Halloween, Thanksgiving, The Christmas Story, Poetry, Biographies of Famous Americans, and Mysteries. The student must then read the book or a portion of the book to a family member. The student keeps a record of the books read, and the family member who listens to the reading signs the record page. The child who has read the most books for the month wins a prize.

Rogetta Paugh and Rocky Beeman, both third graders, tied for first place during the first contest, when they both read 252 books. Mrs. Ryscavage feels the reading habit has caught on so well that she no longer holds a contest, noting that every child in her class read at least four poetry books during the January/February contest.

Third grade instructor Mrs. Linda Smith sets aside 10 minutes each day and requests that students select a book, story, riddle, nursery rhyme, cereal box or anything readable, to read orally to the class. The children may select the topic and length and three students per week are chosen for recitation. This method, according to Ms. Conway, eliminates fear of speaking in front of a group, and the children seem to participate more enthusiastically when they have the option of what to read.

Mrs. Peggy Gosnell, who teaches third, fourth and fifth grades, also conducts a monthly reading contest, whereby the student reads the book silently and the instructor questions him about the book. The student then records the book title and the child who reads the most books during the month wins a prize. One student in Mrs. Gosnell's class had read 33 books for this month's contest, as of February 19.

Fourth and fifth grade teacher Miss Judy Burrell combines interest in reading with math in a "Book Off", which is an auction of books using play money. Students in Miss Burrell's class are given a set amount of play money at the beginning of the year. Several students are selected to "sell" their library books each week. An auctioneer is chosen for each "Book Off" and the student selling gives a short description of the book to the class. Other class members then bid to "buy" the book, entitling the highest bidder to sign it out next. The highest bidder then pays the seller and if the buyer does not have enough money to pay, the book is re-sold and he must wait for a cheaper book or sell one of his own to obtain more money. This method also provides a sort of "real life" exposure to business and money managing.

Sustained silent reading, a voluntary program, allows students to select books to read and the amount of reading to be accomplished. This method was learned at a Title I State Workshop, said Ms. Conway.

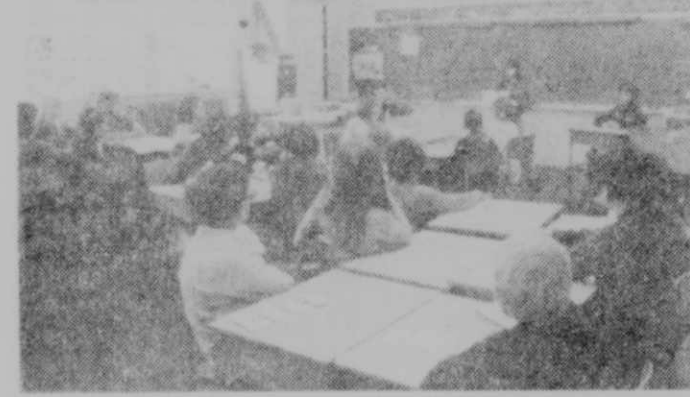

David Miller, former local Title I teacher, now with the State Department of Education as a Title I Specialist for this area, remarked favorably toward the program on his last visit to the school.

Ms. Conway said parents of Kitzmiller school children have mentioned that their children are visibly more interested in reading, thanks to the program initiated by the staff members at the school. The statistics are surprising for elementary school children, indicating the mounting success of the Kitzmiller reading program.

Students in Judy Burrell's fourth and fifth grade class take part in a "Book Off," which is the auctioning of books for play money. Rhonda Tasker is shown describing and attempting to "sell" her book. The "buyer" is entitled to sign that book out next from the library. Woodie Futch, pictured as the auctioneer, is prepared to accept "bids" from prospective buyers for the book being sold.

Straight Talk About Aging

By Dr. Matthew Tayback, State Director on Aging
SOCIAL SECURITY: BASIC RETIREMENT BENEFITS

Some 34 million Americans count on getting their Social Security checks every month. Around 109 million more work under the Social Security System, pay taxes to support it, and hold every expectation of eventually receiving benefits of their own.

Those are big numbers, big enough to make Social Security the most important financial protection plan in the country — yet, in spite of the fact, very few people have any real understanding of how the system works, of what it means to them.

In an effort to add to that understanding, we would like to discuss three major aspects of Social Security protection. Today, we will review the system's basic "mechanics" and some of the things to expect when you retire. In the future columns, I'll cover family benefits and survivor benefits. So then, on to retirement.

If you leave your job at age 65 and have worked long enough to have qualified for Social Security coverage (about ten years if you were born after 1928), you will receive a full 100 per cent of the benefits to which you are entitled.

Benefit checks will be mailed to you (or automatically deposited in your bank account if you so desire) on the third day of the month following the month for which the benefit is due. If the third falls on a weekend or Monday holiday, checks are delivered the Friday before the third.

Let me give you an example of that. The benefit for that month, January, would normally be paid February 3, but because that date falls on a Sunday, the checks will be rescheduled to arrive on Friday, February 1.

(Incidentally, the April 3 check may be the most welcome of all. It serves as a reminder that your Social Security benefits are entirely free of income taxes!)

We mentioned age 65. That is not a required age of retirement. If you choose, you may retire as early as age 62. If you do, however, your monthly benefit will be smaller — and it will remain so permanently, for the rest of your life.

How much smaller will it be? If you retire at 62, your benefit will be 80 per cent of the amount you would have received at 65; at 63, 86½ per cent; 64, 93½ per cent. But you can calculate even narrower intervals if you remember that your benefit will be reduced by 5/9ths of one per cent for each month that you elect to receive it prior to your sixty-fifth birthday.

On the other hand, you may choose to work beyond age 65. If you do, your benefits will be correspondingly larger. If, for instance, you have reached or will reach 65 between 1971 and 1982, your benefit will increase by one per cent per year (or 1/12th of one per cent per month).

If you reach 65 during or after 1982, the increase will be three per cent per year (or ¼ of one per cent per month). Be aware, however, that this increase ceases to grow when you reach 72, regardless of how long past that age you choose to work.

What, though, if you decide to continue working — at a part-time job, say — after you have applied for and begun to receive your Social Security retirement benefits? Many people do just that. If you decide to do likewise, you will be subject to an Earnings Limitation, a ceiling which the Social Security Administration puts on the amount you can earn without jeopardizing your benefits. Put another way, if you earn more than the Earnings Limitation, your benefits will be reduced — and they will be reduced rather sharply: by $1 for every $2 you earn over the Limitation.

Last year, 1979, the Limitation was $4,500. This year, for anyone receiving benefits who is 65 or over, it will be $5,000. Next year it rises by $500, and in 1982 it will be $6,000. Note that there is no earnings limit on the amount you can make in any one month. It's the annual Earnings Limitation which you may not exceed without penalty.

Naturally, everyone wants to know just how much he or she will be getting from Social Security after retirement. That's a question which has almost as many different answers as there are retirees, because what each worker gets is based on his or her age, length of career, and yearly earnings, among other things.

To work out your personal benefit amount, contact your nearest Social Security office and ask for the necessary calculation tables. Or you can write directly to the Social Security Administration, P. O. Box 57, Baltimore, MD, 21203.

Keep that address handy, because you'll need it again when you apply for your retirement benefits. Yes, that's right, apply. The Social Security folks will not come to you with your first benefit check in hand. You must file an application in order to receive it. And you should do it early, at least three months before the date you'll be eligible to start getting your benefits.

Next time we will discuss the benefits that are available to you and your wife when you retire.

A brief reminder that the Medicare hospital insurance deductible is now $180 for those benefit periods which began on or after January 1. The 1979 deductible — $160 — was raised as a result of a review of hospital costs by the Federal government which showed such costs continue to rise significantly.

La Leche League To Meet Tuesday

The family and the breastfed baby will be the topic at the March La Leche League meeting scheduled for Tuesday, March 11, at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Susan Murray in Mitchell Manor.

All women, especially expectant mothers, are encouraged to attend this meeting as several aspects of childbirth will be discussed, according to Ellinor Hamilton, group leader. Individual childbirth and hospital experiences will be related along with the importance of early maternal-infant bonding, and the family's relationship to the breastfed baby. Women need not have definitely decided to breastfeed to be welcome at the meetings. Ms. Hamilton said. Mothers with babies are encouraged to bring them along.

La Leche League offers many services, including a lending library and information sheets covering every aspect of breastfeeding, all approved by the league's medical advisory board. Ms. Hamilton said. A 24-hour telephone service is also available for nursing mothers who have problems or want encouragement.

Persons desiring more information about the league should call Ms. Hamilton at 826-8343.

JOG TO HAGERSTOWN — Students in grades three, four and five at the Grantsville Elementary School, under the direction of John Helmick, recently completed a jogging project, covering a distance equivalent to the distance from Grantsville to Hagerstown. Gym laps of 58 meters were compiled and charted along a map of Route 40 from Grantsville to Hagerstown for a six-week period, from January 6 to February 14. Pictured above and below are members of the classes of Mrs. Struntz, fourth and fifth grades; Mrs. Thompson, fourth grade; Mrs. Kolb, fifth grade; Mr. Warne, third and fourth grades; and Miss Opel, third grade.

Level Of Home Heating Assistance Being Decreased

The Maryland Department of Human Resources has announced a change in the maximum level of assistance available under the Maryland Energy Assistance Program (MEAP).

Because of heavy program usage in certain parts of the state and the need to ensure the availability of funds for the rest of the winter, the maximum payment is being changed from $250 to $150 for households not heating with oil or kerosene. The maximum payment for households heating with oil or kerosene will continue to be $400, according to the Department.

The change from $250 to $150 will be effective March 1 and will apply only to those households coming in for the first time on or after March 1. Non-oil/kerosene households have received less than $250 in assistance before March 1 are still eligible to return for further assistance up to the $250 maximum.

The program, which is administered by various local agencies throughout the state, has been in operation since early December 1979. The State believes at this change, which will help program last through the remainder of the heating season, still preserves the equity of the program. Oil and kerosene costs have increased well over 60% since last winter; thus the same $400 maximum will be continued for persons heating with those fuels. However, prices for other fuels have increased from 4% to 17% since last winter. It is the $250 maximum for these fuels which is being reduced, the Department concluded.

Almanac

Today is Wednesday, March 5, the 65th day of 1980 with 301 to follow.

The moon is moving toward its last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter. Those born on this date are under the sign of Pisces.

American Lithographer James Ives of the Currier and Ives team was born March 5, 1806.

Also on this date in history: In 1770, British colonial troops killed five civilians in the so-called "Boston Massacre."

In 1963, the Soviet Union announced Premier Josef Stalin had died at the age of 73.

In 1966, a British airliner crashed into Japan's Mount Fuji, killing all 124 people aboard.

In 1977, President Carter discussed his problems and policies in the course of answering questions from 42 callers from 26 states on a nationwide radio broadcast from the White House.

A thought for the day: Soviet Communist leader Josef Stalin said, "In the U.S.S.R., work is the duty of every able-bodied citizen, according to the principle: He who does not work, neither shall he eat."
